

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 2, 1915

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Another milestone has been reached by the old reliable family weekly, the Quincy Patriot. Although seventy-eight years old, and with this number has entered upon its seventy-ninth year, it is still vigorous and a welcome visitor not only in the homes of Quincy's old families but equally so with the new comers who appreciate the large amount of good clean readable news matter from every section of the city. In the Patriot may be found all the news of the week in condensed form; something for every reader. Advertisers appreciate the Patriot as the means of reaching a great many readers which means business for them.

In the nearly eighty years of its existence there have been many other papers started, some for a short time, others longer, but all have eventually dropped out. Daily papers have started which naturally should have crowded the weekly but through all year in and year out, the Patriot has come calmly and serenely on the even tenor of its way.

CHRISTMAS AT ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S.

At 6.30 Christmas eve the carol service of St. Chrysostom's Sunday school was held in the church after which the school sang carols. A large tree illuminated with colored lights in the new parish house where Santa Claus was impersonated by the superintendent of Sunday school, Herbert F. Price, who distributed to every scholar a gift from the tree as well as Sunday school workers and the Missionary committee of the women's guild. The tree was decorated with the red and white bunting from the red and white bunting of the morning, written by Rev. Walter C. Roberts and were appreciated. After a brief intermission the mystery play was given.

It certainly was one of the best if not the best affair ever undertaken by the parishioners and a most fitting way in which to open the doors of the new parish house to be of great value to every one in any way connected with the church. The participants showed that they had studied their parts intelligently. The long flowing lines of the oriental costumes were picturesque.

The play deals with the Christmas story in a beautiful way. Nothing has proved more appealing, century after century than the words "She laid him in a manger because there was no room in the inn." The acting of the play seemed to make the audience feel that it brought the Christ child nearer to them, the hope for men which would seem to warrant such a birth in Bethlehem. The youngest ones sat with rapt attention during the performance.

It was given under the direction of Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis, Jr. The cast was as follows: Joshua, H. Kneeland Ellis, Jr.; Simon, J. Willard Hallett; Rachel, Mrs. J. Willard Hallett; sons, Roger Allen and Roger Ellis; daughter, Miss Marion Hallett; Joseph, George Harte; Mary, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson; three shepherds, Archibald H. Briggs, David J. Fulton, Herbert P. Price, three wise men, Herbert V. Pollett, Herbert H. Price, George Harte; angel, Marion; attending angels, Mildred Bean, Glendora Ellis, Hester Mac Fague, Charlotte Fox, Annie Low, Inez Parlee, Evelyn Price, Ethel Poch and Irene Ray.

The soloist was Mrs. Frederick S. Waite, who sang "O you King and 'Away in a Manger.' Organist, Miss Louise Allison Ross. Members of the choir singing carols included Gladys Parlee, Bernice Hobson, Dorothy Wetmore, Edith Low, Elsie Thompson, Laura Pratt, Mildred Willmore, Beatrice and Margaret Buzzell.

Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra had the entire direction of the musical part. George J. Poch set up the Christmas tree and Mrs. Poch and Miss Eibel Vogler decorated it.

MARY RICHARDSON KEITH. Mrs. Mary Richardson Keith, mother of Arthur Keith, geologist, died at her home in Twentieth street, Washington, D. C. Monday evening.

Mrs. Keith was the daughter of Jacob Richardson of Boston, and was born July 30, 1836, in Woburn, Mass. She was graduated from Antioch College, at Yellow Springs, Ohio, in 1859, an unusual honor for a woman of her day, her class being the first of women to complete a collegiate course in the country. She was the widow of Harrison A. Keith who was prominent in educational and municipal affairs of Quincy, Mass. Mrs. Keith was deeply versed in history and music, and especially interested in botany and horticulture, as well as other scientific affairs.

She is survived by two sons, Arthur Keith, an unmarried son, over whose home in this city she presided, and George P. Keith of Hudson, Mass.

Arthur Keith is well known in Washington, where he has lived for twenty-five years, being a geologist of prominence, attached to the Geological Survey.—The Washington Times.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING.

The Calvary Baptist church Sunday school held its annual business meeting this week in the church and the following officers were elected: Superintendent—Mr. F. G. Pettie. Asst. Supt.—Mr. Thomas Cottrell. Secretary—Mrs. Smith.

Asst. Secretary—Mr. Robert Elder. Treasurer—Mr. Harold A. Wadsworth. Chorister—Mr. Robert Faragher. Accompanist—Miss Grace Williams. Supt. Primary—Mrs. Kidder. Asst. Supt. Primary—Mrs. Cottrell. Supt. of Home Dept. and cradle roll—Miss Alice Tilley.

All interested in Lighting Fixtures for their homes and public buildings should not fail to see the display of McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, an exhibition of lighting fixtures to meet all decorations including the new Electric light and most delicate indirect light known.

BRIEFS

L. Brewster Walker of New York spent Christmas with his parents on Thayer street.

Mrs. D. M. McFall of 46 Edgemere road spent the week for Mattson, Ill., to spend the winter.

Miss Edna Smith, formerly of Quincy, whose engagement was announced a few weeks ago, spent Christmas with her fiancé's parents in Norwood.

Wor. H. Everett Crane of Rural Mass. lodge is arranging an entertainment for the meeting of the lodge next week.

The public schools which have been enjoying a ten days' vacation re-open for the first term of the new year next Monday.

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge I. O. O. F. remembered the "shut ins and sick members" with potted plants for Christmas.

The residents along the route of letter carrier John J. Cuniff presented him with a $20 gold piece as a Christmas present.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the National 52nd Wollaston Bank will be held in the banking rooms Tuesday at 3 P. M.

The first football game booked for next season by Quincy High school is with Brockton and will be played in that city on Nov. 12.

The State has given Dr. Abele authority to grant written permits for moving live stock for breeding purposes in Quincy.

Miss Annie L. Prescott who has been confined to the house a week with a sprained ankle is able to drive out.

Mrs. Isabelle R. Souther will entertain the past president of Wollaston Relief Corps 103 next Tuesday afternoon.

Lillian E. Harwood, wife of Charles P. Harwood died at her home at 110 Granite street Tuesday in her 62nd year.

The third meeting of the young women's auction bridge club will be held today with Miss Elizabeth Atwood of Putnam street.

Miss Louise Wilson of East Squantum street and Miss Dorothy Kilton are planning soon to enter the Peter Brigham hospital to train as nurses.

Mrs. George G. Saville of Saville avenue has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Walker of Medfield, this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Herman L. Keene and Mrs. Mabel Keene of Francis court have returned from Winthrop, Me., where they went to spend the Christmas holidays.

The Quincy Choral society will resume rehearsals of the Stabat Mater and Gloria on Tuesday evening, Jan. 5th at Hancock hall. New singers will be welcome.

Miss Grace Brown of Elm street is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brown, having come from a boarding school in Norton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamm announce the engagement of their daughter, Lola Gertrude, to Walter Eugene Anderson. Both young people live in Quincy.

Naval Constructor William McKenney, U. S. N., who has supervised submarine construction at the Fore River shipyard the past two years has been ordered to the Washington navy yard, and will leave here on Jan. 12.

John A. Wood of School street has been entertaining her grandson John Robertson of Portland, O., a student at the Lawrence school, New Jersey. Mr. Robertson left Monday to visit friends in Pittsburg before returning to school.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna E. Nelson, wife of Ernest Nelson of Wellesley Hills, who died suddenly at the Boston hospital Wednesday, will be held from the home of her father John Nelson of 30 Cranich street today.

Alex. Robertson suffered a fractured collar bone in the game at Newton Wednesday night between the Quincy and Newton representations. Robertson when about to shoot was thrown to the side of the court and immediately fell in a sharp pain. He finished the game however.

Warren Eastman Robinson of Arlington, formerly a teacher at the Quincy High school, has recently married Miss Anna Louise Johnson, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Brunswick, Me. Mr. Robinson is at present Master of science in the Boston Latin school.

Mrs. Joseph S. Evans of Edgemere road entertained about twelve of her neighbors Thursday in honor of the coming of the New Year. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed until midnight and at that magic hour, the guests and hostess enthusiastically welcomed the New Year out under the stars.

Through the courtesy of the Electric Light and Power Co., the flashlight and worn out desk lights in the council chamber on the desks of the presidents and clerk of council and on the press table have been replaced by handsome brass desk lamps. These lights are furnished with a green glass shade which throws a soft light on the desk.

Chief Billings of the fire department urges that during the cold spell persons should not use a fire or flame of any kind in thawing out water pipes. He says that the best method is to use hot water, and by so doing damage will be minimized. In cases of persons using a flame of any kind fire may result, or if not, pipes may burst.

The "New Year's Party" of the Junior Society of Sons and Daughters of the Revolution will be held at Hotel Vendome, Boston, this afternoon, Jan. 2, from two until five o'clock. The entertainment will be given by the Junior Society of Sons and Daughters of the Revolution and will be followed by refreshments and dancing. Mrs. Mary E. Jackson, State Junior director, is chairman of the affair.

The Socialist Labor party held its Christmas Tree exercise in the City and Protection hall last evening with a large attendance. The tree was in the hall and was decorated with a large attendance. The tree was in the hall and was decorated with a large attendance. The tree was in the hall and was decorated with a large attendance.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Paul Zerrahn, nee Brown, and little daughter, Ethel, returned to Springfield Monday after spending Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brown of Elm street.

Mrs. Samuel Hayden and son William who have been spending a month with relatives and friends in Quincy, have returned to Canton, Maine. They formerly resided in Quincy and have many friends here.

Wollaston friends of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Smith of Cherry avenue helped them observe the second anniversary of their marriage Thursday evening. An informal and pleasant evening being passed.

Nine tables competed at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. The two high scores were made by Councilman-elect George A. Bolster and County Commissioner John F. Merrill.

About six dozen of the colored bulbs on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library were stolen after the arrival of the New Year and almost under the watchful eyes of the City Square guards.

Mrs. Mary Dame, widow of G. B. Dame, who has made her home the past seven years with Mrs. Margaret Burke at 2 Hancock court, died suddenly at 3 o'clock Friday morning after a few hours illness. Death was due to pneumonia. She was in her 80th year.

The body of Mrs. Mary R. Keith, widow of ex-Mayor Harrison A. Keith who died in Washington was brought to Quincy this morning at 11 o'clock for interment at Mt. Wollaston. Brief services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First parish church.

An old country Swedish festival at which recollections of the homeland were refreshed by the Swedish customs was observed, was held in John Erickson hall New Years eve under the auspices of the Scandinavian Brotherhood of America, Quincy lodge. About 150 were present.

Arthur E. Baxter the old time Republican, election officer in precinct ward one, and a well known resident of City square prizes among his Christmas gifts a card. The card is engraved representing the garden of Kikori.

It conveyed the following message: "With hearty Christmas greetings and all good wishes for the New Year from Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller."

After a rest over the holidays the Ainty Whist Club met with Mrs. Rosella Wardwell, 25 Mill street Thursday afternoon. Much merriment was caused by the dress worn by the hostess, it being her wedding gown of twenty-two years ago that day. A good time was enjoyed.

All wished the hostess a Happy New Year. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Hayden of Spear street.

Miss Jennie Gaston a well known Braintree young lady, and James Woods Nell, a Fore River employee, were married in this city New Years eve. The ceremony was performed at 6.30, by Rev. Benjamin F. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church, at his home. The couple were attended by friends. Mr. and Mrs. Nell will reside on Broadway, Quincy Point.

A watch night service was held in the vestry of Washington street Congregational church Thursday evening from 9 o'clock until midnight. The programme which was enjoyed by many consisted of a victrola recital, games and refreshments served by the Junior Ladies Aid. At 11.30 an impressive watch night service began and at 12 o'clock ended with the Doxology.

Charles Hammett, 15 years, Thompson street, went through the ice of Towns river Thursday while attempting to skate across the channel and would have drowned but for the long rescue by Rev. Stephen C. Lang Ernest Foster and School committee member Arthur B. Foster.

A medal was presented Captain "Bill" Ellis at the New Year festivities of the Wollaston Yacht club for brave service as a life saver. Thereby being hung about the neck.

Captain Ellis took out a smelting party on his yacht "Gracilla" one day this fall, October 11th to be exact. One of the crew, a "near" friend of the captain, decided to wash his hands in the ocean. The deck was slippery and over he plunged. Just in the nick of time Captain Ellis emerged from the cabin and taking in the situation at a glance caught at the fast disappearing trousers, thereby saving the victim from a watery grave.

Fellow yachtsmen got wind of the incident and awaited only the proper time for rewarding this act of "heroism." The affair Thursday evening was presented. It is a huge affair of copper, about a foot long and is inscribed as follows: "Carnegie Medal. Presented to Captain Bill Ellis for saving the life of Siebble, October 11th, 1914." The medal was awarded by a yacht club member and the whole affair came as a surprise to the captain. Captain Ellis is an ardent yachtsman and is known as a royal good fellow among a large circle of friends.

CLAN MACGREGOR ENTERTAINS. Clan MacGregor No. 5 O. S. C. held its annual entertainment and dance at Quincy Music hall Thursday evening. It was largely attended.

At 8 o'clock, Chief Angus D. Martin explained the good work being done by the Clan, stating that in two years $18,000 had been paid in this city to the beneficiaries of deceased clanmen and that $7,000 had been paid to the clanmen in sick benefits and donations. His remarks were well received.

After the entertainment the hall was cleared for dancing, the grand march commencing at 10.45. The dance continued until 2 o'clock. The floor director was John A. Clark, assisted by Alex. Mayer. Music was supplied by Provost's orchestra. The dance was as usual well attended, everybody participating and enjoying themselves to the fullest extent.

Shortly after midnight Miss Ruth Smith effectively rendered Tennessee's poem, "Ring out the Old, Ring in the New," and as the passing of the old year and the coming of the new is an important event with the Scottish people, it is needless to say that her reading was well received.

By five minutes of the midnight hour the floor was clear and as the hands on the clock reached the hour out went the lights and good bye was said to the year 1914.

The cabaret over the general dancing was in order until 2 o'clock. The dancers however still retained possession of their noisy favors, which they used for dancing. At the close of the party a special car left for Wollaston.

Charles E. Decker of Wollaston, a former newspaper man, has taken over the real estate business of Charles H. Johnson and will continue in the same office in the Adams building.

Mr. Johnson gives up his real estate and auction business in order to give his entire time to his increasing duties as Trust officer. He will move his office to the Adams building in the Hancock Chambers. Mr. Johnson has occupied the Adams Building office for nearly 20 years and has put through there many a politician including Mayors and majority candidates called for advice.

The Christmas Tree festival of the Norwegian Society of Quincy, held New Year's eve in Protection hall, was the biggest event of its kind since the organization of the society nine years ago.

The Christmas Tree festival of the Norwegian Society of Quincy, held New Year's eve in Protection hall, was the biggest event of its kind since the organization of the society nine years ago.

A large Christmas tree, profusely decorated with the national colors of the United States and Norway and with its branches heavily laden with presents, stood in the centre of the hall. Henry Johnson, chairman of the committee, played Santa Claus and distributed the gifts as well as candy, peanuts and fruit.

WEST QUINCY

Sunday evening Rev. P. S. Nelson of the Hall Place M. E. church, will preach the second in his series of sermons on the way we look, subject "Looking forward." A cordial invitation is extended to any and all who so desire to attend these services.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Hall Place M. E. church, is to be held next Friday evening, by District Superintendent Dillon Bronson, D. D. Quaker Circle is to give an interesting entertainment in the Hall Place M. E. vestry, Wednesday evening, Jan. 13th.

The West Quincy fire apparatus was called out at 3.30 Christmas afternoon for a slight chimney fire at St. Mary's parochial residence. There is an open fire place in the L of residence, which was built during the time of Rev. P. Roach and it is thought that some sparks worked out through the bricks and started a fire among the claps.

The West Quincy fire apparatus was called out at 3.30 Christmas afternoon for a slight chimney fire at St. Mary's parochial residence. There is an open fire place in the L of residence, which was built during the time of Rev. P. Roach and it is thought that some sparks worked out through the bricks and started a fire among the claps.

St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. Society is planning for the annual banquet to be held on Jan. 21. Lawrence Donovan is chairman of the committee in charge. A number of prominent men will be the invited guests.

Edward Finn has been elected president of Div. 4, A. O. H. of West Quincy. Other officers are: Robert Griffin, vice president; Arthur D. Murphy, treasurer; Daniel Scully, secretary; and John Reynolds, financial secretary. The date of installation has not been announced.

Richard Ryan of Common street has returned to Connecticut, where he is employed, after a visit with his folks.

Luigi Pagnano, well known Italian resident of West Quincy died at his home on West street, Tuesday, after a long illness. The funeral was held at three o'clock Thursday. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery. He is survived by a wife and family.

Mr. E. MacFarlane, who has been assigned his position as chauffeur for Burleigh & Martin.

John Miller of Hall Place returned Tuesday from the Brookline Hospital where he underwent a delicate operation.

Patrick Garity of Centre street has returned home from the Quincy Hospital where he has been recovering from pneumonia.

Ave Maria Council, C. of C. will hold its annual ladies' night Wednesday evening in St. Mary's hall. Charles Buckley is chairman of the committee in charge.

Joseph Rogers of Copeland street has severed his connections with the Quincy Motor Co. and has leased a garage on Edison Park.

One hundred couples danced the old year out at St. Mary's hall as the guests of the Manhattan Social Club. The affair was the first under the auspices of that recently formed organization. Music during the evening was by Morrisette's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman and Mrs. Clifton H. Young of East Elm avenue spent the week end with Mr. Coleman's brother Charles H. Wilkins and Mrs. Wilkins of Watertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Burpee A. Banks of Royal street are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, born December twenty-fourth.

The C. H. society held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. MacDonald at 25 East Elm avenue. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The feature of the occasion being the announcement, by the hostess of the engagement of Miss Ella Frances Winship to John Dwight Seaver. This came as a great surprise to the friends of Miss Winship and she was showered with congratulations and good wishes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cornelius Thomson and Mrs. MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Tobin and daughter Constance of Brockton, spent Christmas with Mr. Tobin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Tobin of Rawson street.

William F. Donaher of 300 Common street, night watchman at the plant of the Boston Gear Works at Norfolk Downs had a narrow escape from serious injury at 4 o'clock Sunday morning when a hot water boiler in one of the upper rooms exploded with a loud report sending pieces of copper and shrapnel flying in all directions. The boiler was struck on the shoulder but fortunately escaped serious injury.

Mrs. J. F. Todd, mother of a large family, passed away at her home at 107 Blake street Tuesday afternoon after a short illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall of Faxon road spent the week end with friends in Sandwich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walter and family of Wollaston spent the holiday week end with Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, and Mr. Murray, of Faxon road spent the week end with Mr. Hamilton's sister, in Manchester, N. H.

Miss Laura Bean of Tilton Seminary, Tilton, N. H., is spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bean of Billerica, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street, entertained friends from Pawtucket over the holiday and week end. Mrs. George W. Hill of Walker street is kept to her home with the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Holt have moved to their new home in Milton. William Harding of New York, spent the holiday and week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harding of Botolph street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy of Hampden street, left for New York to stay until early spring.

Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, is closing her home for the winter months and will take apartments in town.

Mrs. Matthew McGrain of Squantum spent Christmas with friends in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bostwick entertained Mr. Perley Bostwick and Mr. Seymour Bostwick Christmas.

Paul Lovejoy spent the holiday and week end at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy are closing their home this week and will take apartments in town for the winter months.

Mrs. Mary Larsen, formerly of Quincy, died last week of appendicitis at the home of her sister in Chester.

Mrs. Larsen leaves a husband, who lives in Canada, and a baby son, Frank. She lived in Quincy for the time she arrived in this country from Sweden until a few years ago, when she went to live in Canada with her husband. Because of the severity of the climate she was obliged to return to Massachusetts where she has been since, making her home with her sister. Mr. Larsen is an engineer on a Canadian railroad.

WOLLASTON

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Bennett of Beale street were Christmas guests of Mrs. Chester A. Cleveland of Dorchester.

Edward F. Parlee and daughter Miss Nettie A. Parlee of Division street, Montclair were in Chelseaford last week, where they attended the wedding of Harvey Parlee and Miss Edith Davies, the groom being the nephew of Mr. Parlee.

The engagement was announced this week of Miss Ella Frances Winship of North Central avenue and John Dwight Seaver of Belleville, Ohio.

The Walter Men's class meets Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion. Prelude: "National Constitutional Prohibition." Lesson subject: "God's patience with Israel." Men invited to this strong and growing class.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wales of Warren avenue entertained at bridge last Tuesday evening. After refreshments were served by the hostess several vocal selections were rendered. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett, 311, and Mrs. William Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Price and Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Kingsley.

The Young People's Religious Union next Sunday evening will hold a musical service in charge of Miss Priscilla Robinson.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Clafin, a well known Wollaston resident, was held Tuesday from her home at 25 Elmwood avenue, where services were conducted by Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Baptist church.

The music pupils of Miss Margaret Louise Holbrook were entertained at the home of their teacher Saturday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent playing games, later the evening ice and fancy cakes were served. A Christmas tree bearing a gift for each one present was enjoyed. Guests were present from Boston, Norfolk, Downs, Montclair and Bellevue Park.

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, pastor of the Wollaston Congregational church, will act as chaplain at the inauguration day exercises at City Hall next Monday noon.

The music lovers in Quincy should take advantage of the opportunity presented by the Wollaston Glee Club in their concert given Jan. 12, 1915 in School Hall, Beale street, to hear a real grand opera star at a most rare price. Miss Clara Sabin has been one of the leading dramatic contraltos of this noted company of stars and is going to appear in three numbers beside one selection with the Glee Club. The Glee Club has also a very carefully prepared program to give under the leadership of Mr. Crowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher A. Wyatt of Taylor street, who are just leaving the parish to make their home in Brookline, have given to St. Chrysostom's church a cabinet organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman and Mrs. Clifton H. Young of East Elm avenue spent the week end with Mr. Coleman's brother Charles H. Wilkins and Mrs. Wilkins of Watertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Burpee A. Banks of Royal street are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, born December twenty-fourth.

The C. H. society held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. MacDonald at 25 East Elm avenue. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The feature of the occasion being the announcement, by the hostess of the engagement of Miss Ella Frances Winship to John Dwight Seaver. This came as a great surprise to the friends of Miss Winship and she was showered with congratulations and good wishes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cornelius Thomson and Mrs. MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Tobin and daughter Constance of Brockton, spent Christmas with Mr. Tobin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Tobin of Rawson street.

William F. Donaher of 300 Common street, night watchman at the plant of the Boston Gear Works at Norfolk Downs had a narrow escape from serious injury at 4 o'clock Sunday morning when a hot water boiler in one of the upper rooms exploded with a loud report sending pieces of copper and shrapnel flying in all directions. The boiler was struck on the shoulder but fortunately escaped serious injury.

Mrs. J. F. Todd, mother of a large family, passed away at her home at 107 Blake street Tuesday afternoon after a short illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall of Faxon road spent the week end with friends in Sandwich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walter and family of Wollaston spent the holiday week end with Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, and Mr. Murray, of Faxon road spent the week end with Mr. Hamilton's sister, in Manchester, N. H.

Miss Laura Bean of Tilton Seminary, Tilton, N. H., is spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bean of Billerica, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street, entertained friends from Pawtucket over the holiday and week end. Mrs. George W. Hill of Walker street is kept to her home with the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Holt have moved to their new home in Milton. William Harding of New York, spent the holiday and week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harding of Botolph street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy of Hampden street, left for New York to stay until early spring.

Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, is closing her home for the winter months and will take apartments in town.

Mrs. Matthew McGrain of Squantum spent Christmas with friends in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bostwick entertained Mr. Perley Bostwick and Mr. Seymour Bostwick Christmas.

Paul Lovejoy spent the holiday and week end at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy are closing their home this week and will take apartments in town for the winter months.

Mrs. Mary Larsen, formerly of Quincy, died last week of appendicitis at the home of her sister in Chester.

Mrs. Larsen leaves a husband, who lives in Canada, and a baby son, Frank. She lived in Quincy for the time she arrived in this country from Sweden until a few years ago, when she went to live in Canada with her husband. Because of the severity of the climate she was obliged to return to Massachusetts where she has been since, making her home with her sister. Mr. Larsen is an engineer on a Canadian railroad.

Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, is closing her home for the winter months and will take apartments in town.

Mrs. Matthew McGrain of Squantum spent Christmas with friends in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bostwick entertained Mr. Perley Bostwick and Mr. Seymour Bostwick Christmas.

Paul Lovejoy spent the holiday and week end at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy are closing their home this week and will take apartments in town for the winter months.

Mrs. Mary Larsen, formerly of Quincy, died last week of appendicitis at the home of her sister in Chester.

Mrs. Larsen leaves a husband, who lives in Canada, and a baby son, Frank. She lived in Quincy for the time she arrived in this country from Sweden until a few years ago, when she went to live in Canada with her husband. Because of the severity of the climate she was obliged to return to Massachusetts where she has been since, making her home with her sister. Mr. Larsen is an engineer on a Canadian railroad.

Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, is closing her home for the winter months and will take apartments in town.

Mrs. Matthew McGrain of Squantum spent Christmas with friends in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bostwick entertained Mr. Perley Bostwick and Mr. Seymour Bostwick Christmas.

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Charles O. Rogers of Clive street has returned from a visit to Worcester.

Bruce Rogers of Norwich, Conn., has returned to his home after spending a week with his cousin, Beatrice Rogers, of Atlantic, who accompanied him to his home for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert have returned to their

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 2, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	10.5	11.5	12.5	13.5	14.5	15.5	16.5
ALMANAC	17.5	18.5	19.5	20.5	21.5	22.5	23.5
ALMANAC	24.5	25.5	26.5	27.5	28.5	29.5	30.5
ALMANAC	31.5	32.5	33.5	34.5	35.5	36.5	37.5
ALMANAC	38.5	39.5	40.5	41.5	42.5	43.5	44.5
ALMANAC	45.5	46.5	47.5	48.5	49.5	50.5	51.5
ALMANAC	52.5	53.5	54.5	55.5	56.5	57.5	58.5
ALMANAC	59.5	60.5	61.5	62.5	63.5	64.5	65.5
ALMANAC	66.5	67.5	68.5	69.5	70.5	71.5	72.5
ALMANAC	73.5	74.5	75.5	76.5	77.5	78.5	79.5
ALMANAC	80.5	81.5	82.5	83.5	84.5	85.5	86.5
ALMANAC	87.5	88.5	89.5	90.5	91.5	92.5	93.5
ALMANAC	94.5	95.5	96.5	97.5	98.5	99.5	100.5
ALMANAC	101.5	102.5	103.5	104.5	105.5	106.5	107.5
ALMANAC	108.5	109.5	110.5	111.5	112.5	113.5	114.5
ALMANAC	115.5	116.5	117.5	118.5	119.5	120.5	121.5
ALMANAC	122.5	123.5	124.5	125.5	126.5	127.5	128.5
ALMANAC	129.5	130.5	131.5	132.5	133.5	134.5	135.5
ALMANAC	136.5	137.5	138.5	139.5	140.5	141.5	142.5
ALMANAC	143.5	144.5	145.5	146.5	147.5	148.5	149.5
ALMANAC	150.5	151.5	152.5	153.5	154.5	155.5	156.5
ALMANAC	157.5	158.5	159.5	160.5	161.5	162.5	163.5
ALMANAC	164.5	165.5	166.5	167.5	168.5	169.5	170.5
ALMANAC	171.5	172.5	173.5	174.5	175.5	176.5	177.5
ALMANAC	178.5	179.5	180.5	181.5	182.5	183.5	184.5
ALMANAC	185.5	186.5	187.5	188.5	189.5	190.5	191.5
ALMANAC	192.5	193.5	194.5	195.5	196.5	197.5	198.5
ALMANAC	199.5	200.5	201.5	202.5	203.5	204.5	205.5
ALMANAC	206.5	207.5	208.5	209.5	210.5	211.5	212.5
ALMANAC	213.5	214.5	215.5	216.5	217.5	218.5	219.5
ALMANAC	220.5	221.5	222.5	223.5	224.5	225.5	226.5
ALMANAC	227.5	228.5	229.5	230.5	231.5	232.5	233.5
ALMANAC	234.5	235.5	236.5	237.5	238.5	239.5	240.5
ALMANAC	241.5	242.5	243.5	244.5	245.5	246.5	247.5
ALMANAC	248.5	249.5	250.5	251.5	252.5	253.5	254.5
ALMANAC	255.5	256.5	257.5	258.5	259.5	260.5	261.5
ALMANAC	262.5	263.5	264.5	265.5	266.5	267.5	268.5
ALMANAC	269.5	270.5	271.5	272.5	273.5	274.5	275.5
ALMANAC	276.5	277.5	278.5	279.5	280.5	281.5	282.5
ALMANAC	283.5	284.5	285.5	286.5	287.5	288.5	289.5
ALMANAC	290.5	291.5	292.5	293.5	294.5	295.5	296.5
ALMANAC	297.5	298.5	299.5	300.5	301.5	302.5	303.5
ALMANAC	304.5	305.5	306.5	307.5	308.5	309.5	310.5
ALMANAC	311.5	312.5	313.5	314.5	315.5	316.5	317.5
ALMANAC	318.5	319.5	320.5	321.5	322.5	323.5	324.5
ALMANAC	325.5	326.5	327.5	328.5	329.5	330.5	331.5
ALMANAC	332.5	333.5	334.5	335.5	336.5	337.5	338.5
ALMANAC	339.5	340.5	341.5	342.5	343.5	344.5	345.5
ALMANAC	346.5	347.5	348.5	349.5	350.5	351.5	352.5
ALMANAC	353.5	354.5	355.5	356.5	357.5	358.5	359.5
ALMANAC	360.5	361.5	362.5	363.5	364.5	365.5	366.5
ALMANAC	367.5	368.5	369.5	370.5	371.5	372.5	373.5
ALMANAC	374.5	375.5	376.5	377.5	378.5	379.5	380.5
ALMANAC	381.5	382.5	383.5	384.5	385.5	386.5	387.5
ALMANAC	388.5	389.5	390.5	391.5	392.5	393.5	394.5
ALMANAC	395.5	396.5	397.5	398.5	399.5	400.5	401.5
ALMANAC	402.5	403.5	404.5	405.5	406.5	407.5	408.5
ALMANAC	409.5	410.5	411.5	412.5	413.5	414.5	415.5
ALMANAC	416.5	417.5	418.5	419.5	420.5	421.5	422.5
ALMANAC	423.5	424.5	425.5	426.5	427.5	428.5	429.5
ALMANAC	430.5	431.5	432.5	433.5	434.5	435.5	436.5
ALMANAC	437.5	438.5	439.5	440.5	441.5	442.5	443.5
ALMANAC	444.5	445.5	446.5	447.5	448.5	449.5	450.5
ALMANAC	451.5	452.5	453.5	454.5	455.5	456.5	457.5
ALMANAC	458.5	459.5	460.5	461.5	462.5	463.5	464.5
ALMANAC	465.5	466.5	467.5	468.5	469.5	470.5	471.5
ALMANAC	472.5	473.5	474.5	475.5	476.5	477.5	478.5
ALMANAC	479.5	480.5	481.5	482.5	483.5	484.5	485.5
ALMANAC	486.5	487.5	488.5	489.5	490.5	491.5	492.5
ALMANAC	493.5	494.5	495.5	496.5	497.5	498.5	499.5
ALMANAC	500.5	501.5	502.5	503.5	504.5	505.5	506.5
ALMANAC	507.5	508.5	509.5	510.5	511.5	512.5	513.5
ALMANAC	514.5	515.5	516.5	517.5	518.5	519.5	520.5
ALMANAC	521.5	522.5	523.5	524.5	525.5	526.5	527.5
ALMANAC	528.5	529.5	530.5	531.5	532.5	533.5	534.5
ALMANAC	535.5	536.5	537.5	538.5	539.5	540.5	541.5
ALMANAC	542.5	543.5	544.5	545.5	546.5	547.5	548.5
ALMANAC	549.5	550.5	551.5	552.5	553.5	554.5	555.5
ALMANAC	556.5	557.5	558.5	559.5	560.5	561.5	562.5
ALMANAC	563.5	564.5	565.5	566.5	567.5	568.5	569.5
ALMANAC	570.5	571.5	572.5	573.5	574.5	575.5	576.5
ALMANAC	577.5	578.5	579.5	580.5	581.5	582.5	583.5
ALMANAC	584.5	585.5	586.5	587.5	588.5	589.5	590.5
ALMANAC	591.5	592.5	593.5	594.5	595.5	596.5	597.5
ALMANAC	598.5	599.5	600.5	601.5	602.5	603.5	604.5
ALMANAC	605.5	606.5	607.5	608.5	609.5	610.5	611.5
ALMANAC	612.5	613.5	614.5	615.5	616.5	617.5	618.5
ALMANAC	619.5	620.5	621.5	622.5	623.5	624.5	625.5
ALMANAC	626.5	627.5	628.5	629.5	630.5	631.5	632.5
ALMANAC	633.5	634.5	635.5	636.5	637.5	638.5	639.5
ALMANAC	640.5	641.5	642.5	643.5	644.5	645.5	646.5
ALMANAC	647.5	648.5	649.5	650.5	651.5	652.5	653.5
ALMANAC	654.5	655.5	656.5	657.5	658.5	659.5	660.5
ALMANAC	661.5	662.5	663.5	664.5	665.5	666.5	667.5
ALMANAC	668.5	669.5	670.5	671.5	672.5	673.5	674.5
ALMANAC	675.5	676.5	677.5	678.5	679.5	680.5	681.5
ALMANAC	682.5	683.5	684.5	685.5	686.5	687.5	688.5
ALMANAC	689.5	690.5	691.5	692.5	693.5	694.5	695.5
ALMANAC	696.5	697.5	698.5	699.5	700.5	701.5	702.5
ALMANAC	703.5	704.5	705.5	706.5	707.5	708.5	709.5
ALMANAC	710.5	711.5	712.5	713.5	714.5	715.5	716.5
ALMANAC	717.5	718.5	719.5	720.5	721.5	722.5	723.5
ALMANAC	724.5	725.5	726.5	727.5	728.5	729.5	730.5
ALMANAC	731.5	732.5	733.5	734.5	735.5	736.5	737.5
ALMANAC	738.5	739.5	740.5	741.5	742.5	743.5	744.5
ALMANAC	745.5	746.5	747.5	748.5	749.5	750.5	751.5
ALMANAC	752.5	753.5	754.5	755.5	756.5	757.5	758.5
ALMANAC	759.5	760.5	761.5	762.5	763.5	764.5	765.5
ALMANAC	766.5	767.5	768.5	769.5	770.5	771.5	772.5
ALMANAC	773.5	774.5	775.5	776.5	777.5	778.5	779.5
ALMANAC	780.5	781.5	782.5	783.5	784.5	785.5	786.5
ALMANAC	787.5	788.5	789.5	790.5	791.5	792.5	793.5
ALMANAC	794.5	795.5	796.5	797.5	798.5	799.5	800.5
ALMANAC	801.5	802.5	803.5	804.5	805.5	806.5	807.5
ALMANAC	808.5	809.5	810.5	811.5	812.5	813.5	814.5
ALMANAC	815.5	816.5	817.5	818.5	819.5	820.5	821.5
ALMANAC	822.5	823.5	824.5	825.5	826.5	827.5	828.5
ALMANAC	829.5	830.5	831.5	832.5	833.5	834.5	835.5
ALMANAC	836.5	837.5	838.5	839.5	840.5	841.5	842.5
ALMANAC	843.5	844.5	845.5	846.5	847.5	848.5	849.5
ALMANAC	850.5	851.5	852.5	853.5	854.5	855.5	856.5
ALMANAC	857.5	858.5	859.5	860.5	861.5	862.5	863.5
ALMANAC	864.5	865.5	866.5	867.5	868.5	869.5	870.5
ALMANAC	871.5	872.5	873.5	874.5	875.5	876.5	877.5
ALMANAC	878.5	879.5	880.5	881.5	882.5	883.5	884.5
ALMANAC	885.5	886.5	887.5	888.5	889.5	890.5	891.5
ALMANAC	892.5	893.5	894.5	895.5	896.5	897.5	898.5
ALMANAC	899.5	900.5	901.5	902.5	903.5	904.5	905.5
ALMANAC	906.5	907.5	908.5	909.5	910.5	911.5	912.5
ALMANAC	913.5	914.5	915.5	916.5	917.5	918.5	919.5
ALMANAC	920.5	921.5	922.5	923.5	924.5	925.5	926.5
ALMANAC	927.5	928.5	929.5	930.5	931.5	932.5	933.5
ALMANAC	934.5	935.5	936.5	937.5	938.5	939.5	940.5
ALMANAC	941.5	942.5	943.5	944.5	945.5	946.5	947.5
ALMANAC	948.5	949.5	950.5	951.5	952.5	953.5	954.5
ALMANAC	955.5	956.5	957.5	958.5	959.5	960.5	961.5
ALMANAC	962.5	963.5	964.5	965.5	966.5	967.5	968.5
ALMANAC	969.5	970.5	971.5	972.5	973.5	974.5	975.5
ALMANAC	976.5	977.5	978.5	979.5	980.5	981.5	982.5
ALMANAC	983.5	984.5	985.5	986.5	987.5	988.5	989.5
ALMANAC	990.5	991.5	992.5	993.5	994.5	995.5	996.5
ALMANAC	997.5	998.5	999.5	1000.5	1001.5	1002.5	1003.5
ALMANAC	1004.5	1005.5	1006.5	1007.5	1008.5	1009.5	1010.5
ALMANAC	1011.5	1012.5	1013.5	1014.5	1015.5	1016.5	1017.5
ALMANAC	1018.5	1019.5	1020.5	1021.5	1022.5	1023.5	1024.5
ALMANAC	1025.5	1026.5	1027.5	1028.5	1029.5	1030.5	1031.5
ALMANAC	1032.5	1033.5	1034.5	1035.5	1036.5	1037.5	1038.5
ALMANAC	1039.5	1040.5	1041.5	1042.5	1043.5	1044.5	1045.5
ALMANAC	1046.5	1047.5	1048.5	1049.5	1050.5	1051.5	1052.5
ALMANAC	1053.5	1054.5	1055.5

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 2, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at

The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kirtland,
J. P. O'Rourke,
C. F. O'Rourke,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Branches & Martens,
Branches & Martens,
Peter L. Littlefield,
H. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. L. Hammers,
South Terminal Station,
Quincy,
City Square,
38 Hancock St.,
near Quincy Depot,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Atlantic,
Atlantic,
Quincy Adams,
West Quincy,
West Quincy,
Brewer's Corner,
East Milton,
Boston.

THE GLAD NEW YEAR.

Harriet Prescott Spofford.

When cold is strengthening, days are lengthening.
And sharp and nipping frosts are here.
Be it sunny weather, or snow's white feather,
We thank the Lord for the glad
New Year.
Home-bound or rover, the wide world over,
We hail the dawn as a time of cheer,
New day-dreams weaving and still believing
Blessings must come with the glad
New Year.
When'er returning, it brings a yearning
For lovelier lives and a nobler sphere.
The heaven seems nigher and we climb higher,
And thank the Lord for the glad
New Year.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE.

Quincy held its first municipal community Christmas tree Christmas eve and so great a success was it that the tree probably will become a yearly feature at Christmas time.
The tree as a fine specimen as could have been desired, was set up on the corner of the grounds of the Town Clerk Public Library and when illuminated it cast a glow of many colored lights about the square, making a pretty scene.

The fine white snow which began to fall shortly after 5 o'clock continued throughout the evening. The tree was in charge of the Quincy Committee of the Quincy Women's club the idea being suggested and carried out by Mrs. Theo. Ruggles Kitson and Mrs. John D. Mackay of the committee.

A dozen or more automobiles and auto trucks gathered in front of the First Parish church shortly after nine o'clock and a few minutes later with their loads of "caro" singers accrued for a tour of the city. In many houses, especially in the Wollaston district, they were greeted by thousands of candles that burned brightly in the windows of houses along the route.

The hour for illuminating the tree was set for 10 o'clock and half an hour before that time people began to gather in the vicinity of Washington. Coddington and Temple streets. The fine white snow was then falling and although the air was cold none seemed to mind. It was a joyful, happy crowd
The spirit of Christmas seemed to have taken possession of everybody.

Twenty minutes before the hour of lighting the tree the air resounded with the music of four buglers, from the Boston Opera Company, who were stationed in the belfry of the First Parish church high above the ground.
The music coming from out of the darkness high in the air was doubly effective.

There was a little delay in lighting the tree, owing to the lateness in the arrival of the automobiles containing the carol singers. As soon as they arrived the cluster of four lights on the little concrete triangular spot at the junction of Washington and Codding-ton streets were turned on and the lights began to glow on the tree.

The first to show was a large five pointed star on the very topmost branch of the tree.

Then one by one long strings of colored lights extending from the top of the tree to its base were turned on until the tree was one glow of light.

The carol singers who had gathered about the base of the tree, led by the four buglers, sang Christmas carols in which the audience joined. The carols were sung under the leadership of Amos D. Albee of Wollaston and included:

"It came upon the midnight clear,"
"O, come all ye faithful" (Adelstein)
"Hark the Herald Angels sing,"
"O Little town of Bethlehem"
"Joy to the world"

Mrs. J. Frank Moore had charge of the musical program.

At the conclusion of the carol singing the crowd separated but the tree was kept illuminated until after midnight.

Before and after the tree, open house was kept by the Quincy Y. C.
A. and the festivities of the evening were enhanced by a large star of red lights which sent forth its greetings from the belfry of the Bethany church.

FIRE WHISTLE TOO SLOW.

Nervous Man Pulls In Box 66 Again
In Few Minutes.

One of the oldest runs the firemen have had this season was made Saturday night in response to an alarm from Box 66. The alarm clock struck 8:11 and was immediately followed by a second alarm from the same box making it appear to the layman that a serious fire must be in progress.
This meant a run of over three miles in the face of a cold easterly wind for Chief Billings and the crew of the Central station to the chemical. On arriving however the fire did not prove to be a very serious one. It was on the roof of the house of George Burr, corner of Billings road and Prospect street. It was caused by sparks from burning wood in an open fire place falling on the roof.
When asked by the chief why he pulled the box twice he replied that he did not hear the bells and whistles
the first time.

Earlier in the afternoon the Central station apparatus responded to an alarm from Box 81 at 4:34 Saturday afternoon. This was for a slight fire in a bedroom at the house of William J. Anderson at 158 Phillips street and was caused by a baby playing with some matches.

CITY COUNCIL.

"Gentlemen, it is sometimes trying to endeavor to steer both ends. It is not always easy to do so satisfactorily to all. I have endeavored to be fair and impartial, both in room and here. I hope the like of this year will never occur again. It is a somewhat embarrassing position. There are matters which have to be attended to and the city council must do its part.
We have only collected about half of the taxes this year. There is no other alternative than to ring the bell. Our mayor will be obliged to do the same thing and I believe he will have the backbone. One thing is certain, however, we must collect our bills.
Gentlemen, I thank you for the support you have given me during the past year."

This spoke President Whiton of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce. He closed Monday evening, when the business session of the city council was held. The meeting was held in the council chamber and the city council at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was held in the council chamber and the city council at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was held in the council chamber and the city council at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was held in the council chamber and the city council at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was held in the council chamber and the city council at 7:30 p.m.

Rising votes of thanks were also extended to the clerk of the council, the city messenger and city auditor for their efficient service, to the press for its impartial and fair reports and to the retiring members.

A rising vote of thanks was also extended to the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co. for the handsome new lights with which it has equipped the desks of the president, clerk and press.

The meeting was a brief one for there remained but little business for this last meeting of the year. Mayor or-elect Campbell came to the meeting and occupied a seat at the right of President Whiton. Two of the new councilmen were present, Fuller and Prescott. The absent members were Councilmen Bass, Corcoran and Sodergren.

A venire was received for the drawing of eight traverse jurors and the mayor, city clerk and Councilman Little drew the following: William A.
Carey, Angus D. Martin, Timothy F.
Ford, Joseph C. Aulback, James Geelie, Horace S. Crookshank, Gustaf A.
Lundberg and Henry P. Miller.

Communications were received from the commissioners of public works, asking for transfer in the appropriations of his department which were laid on the table until later, when Councilman Bailey offered orders transferring the sums of $225, $75, and $140 to the appropriation for removal of snow. They were adopted.

The finance committee reported an order appropriating $107.25 to refund the heirs of Fanny C. Adams for a double tax assessment.

Ought to pass on the order appropriating $250 for awards and claims of the city solicitor's department. Adopted.

Ought not to pass on the order increasing the salary of the City Treasurer from $1,800 to $2,000 a year. (Accepted.)

Ought to pass on the order taking land at Norfolk Downs for a school lot by right of eminent domain. Rules suspended and order passed.

The special committee appointed to perambulate the line between Brainere and Quincy submitted its report which was placed on the table.

The committee on public buildings referred to the next city council the matter relative to establishing a public landing and relative to the Ward Four playground, and rejected the matters relative to a playground in Ward One and at Hough Neck.

The matters on the table relative to a trip to Toronto and relative to making Hough Neck a separate ward were taken from the table and placed on file.

In the calendar the orders granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Plymouth and Granite streets, the Telephone Co. a location for poles on Fenno street, and the Street Railway and Electric Light Co.
a joint location for poles on Hancock street were passed.

Business was now concluded and Councilman Bailey moved that Councilman Hadlock be accorded his usua l honorarium to adjourn, which he did and at 8:15 the council of 1914 adjourned sine die.

ELECTS ANNUAL OFFICERS.

Joseph Haller Becomes President of
I. O. B. Lodge.

Pride of Quincy Lodge 442, I. O. B. held its annual meeting Sunday evening and elected the following officers who will be installed the second Sunday in January.

Past President, George Schwartz.
President, Joseph Haller.
Vice President, A. S. Berkowitz.
Financial Secretary, H. Grosbarky.
Recording Secretary, Jacob Gross-man.

Treasurer, A. Herwitz.
Advised Guard, David Lubarsky.
Conductor, Louis Stone.
Trustees, Ben Mason, H. Edelstein,
J. Fleischman.

IS REAL ATHLETE.

Yatch Fob of Councilman-Elect
Slade Means Something.

Did you ever notice the silver medal councilman-elect James H. Slade as he yatch fob? It brings to mind bicycle races when the old fashioned high wheeled type was in use.
Mr. Slade secured the medal for winning such a race on Boston Common, July 4, 1887, against the best in the state.

In those days Mr. Slade was an all round man in sport and today is considered one of the authorities on football, base ball, tennis, billiards, and running. The only recent sport Mr.
Slade has not taken up with his usual enthusiasm is the modern dances, but he isn't lost on the floor by any means.

Will live in Quincy.
A wedding of interest to many Quincy people, especially in the Atlantic section was solemnized at Bloomfield, N. J., recently when Miss Florence S. Cummings, a former teacher at the Quincy school in Atlantic, became the bride of Herman Wilhelm Kuchmeister, employed in the custom service at Boston.

Miss Cummings was a teacher in the Quincy school for several years.
Four years ago she resigned from the Quincy schools to accept a position as a special teacher in Bloomfield.

K. T. ENTERTAINMENT.

Quincy Commandery Knights Tem-plar had as guests at its regular conclave Monday evening, Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of Bethany church, who addressed them after the business session. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, chaplain of Rural lodge, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, chaplain of Wollaston lodge, Rev. Rufus B. Tobey, prelate of Whitton, Mayor-elect Chester J. Campbell, City Solicitor Walter S. Pinkham and several knights members of the
city council.

The entertainment committee for the evening included Sir Edward H.
Bushnell, Sir George B. Dexeimer, and Sir Frank F. Taylor. The program opened at 7:30 and at the business session the Christmas general order of the Right Eminent Grand Commander, W. O. Wellington of Woll-aston, Mass. of the Grand Commander of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The work of the evening was the Order of the Temple which was exemplified by Em. Sir John Morgan and officers of Quincy Commandery.

At the close of the business session a lunch was served in the banquet hall after which the meeting was turned over to the entertainment committee of the evening. The program it presented was a pleasing one and included vocal solos by Dr. Frank E. Dawes and Albert A.
Hayden with Herbert Y. Follett as accompanist.

Rev. Mr. Willmott was then introduced and gave the Sir Knights a most interesting talk. "No such organization as this can exist unless it is alive to the needs of men and is doing something. There are some things that those who come from a foreign country see which are threatening our Republic, and about which we ought to be alive."

There are three fundamental things, which I will class as the free press,
the free school, and the free church. Never has there been a great Democracy without these three elements. We have lost the free press in a large measure, for the press today is governed in a large measure by the demands of its advertising columns. The days of the free press, such as the Horace Greeley standard, are gone from America."

"To our free schools America owes more than we can imagine. Schools where the mind is untrammelled where the teachers are free to teach without fear of censure from any church.
As one coming from another land, where only recently such free schools existed, I can appreciate the free schools of America. We must guard with most zealous care, our schools and fight to keep them free from the church. They should be free to look out on the world. It is just as the trust in the church governed by a Protestant church as by a Catholic church. This is a free country where it is just as insistent that the Catholic has the same right as the Protestant, but we must be careful for the sake of all that the state holds the reins of education."

Speaking for the third element, the church, Rev. Mr. Willmott said: "This organization should stand squarely for some church. For the sake of the future of America you should support one church. There has never been a great Democracy unless it was inspired by a free church. We must uphold with all our strength such a church as the Protestant church.
The bulwark of freedom is still in the Protestant church. It is your duty as an American citizen to have a moral standard and back of this moral standard must be a religious basis.
The things that cause a Democracy to fall in a day are the rot of immorality.
Keep your religious life of that which will give America its birth."

"While it is strong we have nothing to fear. You men of the Masonic order ought to darken the doors of a church once every Sunday if you can not do any better."

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath said, "I can only add a word to what Mr. Willmott has said. We are facing a remarkable situation. I am glad that we are celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of peace between Canada and the United States. I am gratified at the spirit of harmony and understanding that exists between the United States and Canada. While true we must not be on our guard, there is a feeling that there is an undercurrent of forces that will never submerge these institutions. In Massachusetts there is a body of men who believe in the very principles brother Willmott has brought out. I believe with all my soul that they will stand for the welfare of the nation and the world. In closing his brief remarks
Dr. Sneath made an appeal to the Sir Knights to stand by the church to the interest of the best and noblest things for the world. "If you are true to Masonry you will be true to the church."

Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson
when called upon said "I can say amen" to what has been said. No man can be a good citizen of the world who is not a good citizen to his country. No man can do what he is capable of doing who stands outside a Christian church. The great free press is indifference and self-indignence. The great need of our country is to close the great moral forces to the support of these churches, helping to maintain these principles of Democracy. We betide the land if the strong moral forces of our forefathers are dying."

In conclusion Em. Com. Morgan thanked the speakers for their interesting talks. He had greatly enjoyed the evening and he felt sure that the other Sir Knights had also done so. A rising vote of thanks was then extended the speakers.

TREE AND FESTIVAL.

Universalist Church Have Enjoyable Evening.

The Christmas tree and festival of the Sunday school of the Universalist church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came the singing. There were more carol songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

The Christmas tree and festival of
the Sunday school of the Universalist
church was held Tuesday evening in
the vestry and an enjoyable evening
the members of the school had.

They were somewhat disappointed
however at the non-appearance of
Santa Claus. His majesty had promised to be present but evidently the
bad weather prevented for he failed
to show up. The tree was held just
as the same.

During the first part of the evening
the school sang Christmas carols and
there were readings by Harold Stod-
ard and Carl Oster. Then came
the tree and the presents for the children. Following the tree came
the singing. There were more carol
songs, and at the close each member of the school was presented with
a box of candy.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEET.

The school committee took formal action Tuesday evening in the matter of fire drills in the public schools.
The matter came before it in a petition from W. O. Wellington of Woll-aston who petitioned that the drill be so changed that children would be given an opportunity to put on their outer wraps. The petition was unanimously turned down, after the four physicians on the board had expressed themselves against changing the present rule.

Supt. Barbour stated this morning that in turning down the petition
"the board believed it unwise to do anything that will delay the children getting out of the building in the shortest possible time. It is understood however that fire drills will be held during the warm part of the day and never in stormy or inclement weather."

This action of the committee has aroused some protest by those who feel that the safety of the children is endangered by partial abolition of the fire drill. They argue that much of the value of the drill is removed by this method.

They claim that if the fire gong rings in stormy weather that the children will know it is no drill, which confronts them, but the terrible reality and a panic is likely to ensue.

The only reference made to the action of the city council in purchasing the Love lot for a new school building in the annual report, submitted by the special committee appointed to write the report, was the statement that the city council had voted to purchase a lot other than that recommended by the school committee.

The report also said that the school committee was not to blame for the existing conditions at the Adams school and that it should not be criticized because the lot was selected in opposition to the wishes of the school committee.

The report was not given out for publication at this time but later will appear in print. The superintendent was also authorized to report in print.
The financial statement for the year showed that the board had a balance of $17.1 of its regular appropriation, a balance of 16 cents on the appropriation for independent evening schools, and a balance of 92 cents on its appropriation for independent evening schools. The report showed the total appropriation for the department to have been $190,885 to which was added $767.50 received from tuition and rent of halls.

The expenditures were as follows:
Administration, $6,083.33; instruction
$147,088.94; text books, $2,902.46;
stationery, $6,319.80; operation of plant, $2,275.98; maintenance, $19,814 miscellaneous, $2,517.29; evening schools, $2,662.25; total $191,650.79;
balance $17.1.

Appropriation for independent industrial schools $7,780, expended $7,779.94; balance .06. Industrial evening schools appropriation $1,550; expended $1,549.08, balance .92.

All members were present.
Chairman Mackay reported that he had arranged a leave for five years with Henry M. Faxon for the land adjoining the Coddington school yard for a school playground, the terms of which were that the school committee was to pay the taxes.

The use of the Wollaston school hall was granted to the Wollaston Woman's club for a public lecture on peace by Prof. J. Hudson, Feb. 4.

The Young Women's club was granted the use of the High school for a meeting to be held Jan. 16 in the interest of promoting a recreation room for working girls and other girls who desire to use it.

A petition was received from Samuel D. De Forest Janitor of the John Hancock school asking that he be retired on a pension. The petition was accompanied by the certificates of three physicians stating that he was physically unable to perform the duties of his office. He also presented evidence that he had complied with the statutes. It was voted to endorse his request and forward it to the City Council.

It was voted that the Adams evening school be continued for an additional term of 40 weeks, provided the attendance continues as large as at present. It was also voted to continue the trade classes for another 20 weeks.

It was voted that the attendance office be notified that beginning with the new year's term that he will be required to give his whole and undivided time to the duties of his office.
The salary for the office was fixed at $1200.

At the present time he is receiving a salary of $800 for attendance office and $300 for census taker.

MRS. MARY A. CLAFFIN.

Mrs. Mary A. Claffin, one of the oldest residents of Wollaston died at her home at 9 Elmwood avenue, Saturday. She was in her 88th year.

Mrs. Claffin was born in Boston and came to this city about 35 years ago.
She was the mother of Rupert F.
Claffin, cashier of the Granite Trust
Co. of this city; James A. Claffin and of the late Frederick A. Claffin.

Mrs. Claffin led a quiet and retired life. She was very popular in the neighborhood of her home and was called "Grammy" by all the children of the vicinity. The funeral was held Tuesday.

At the funeral of Mrs. Alfred W. Je-linek from the Memorial Congregational church Tuesday afternoon
there was an unusual number of beautiful floral tributes.

A ladies' quartet composed of Mrs.
A. H. Hall, Mrs. W. Norton Stetson,
Miss Margaret Read and Miss Jordine
Davison sang two selections.

The pastor Rev. T. W. Davison in his remarks said that the community was shocked at the suddenness of this death. That there were few homes in Atlantic City where Jeinek had not been touched in some way as a teacher of arts and crafts. She was a woman of unusual ability, and in her many activities she gave her time to Atlantic and Quincy.

The interment was at Forest Hills Cemetery.

QUINCY ADAMS STATION.

Under the resolve passed by the city council, relative to having the ticket office at Quincy Adams kept open on evenings, Mayor Whiton had the evening last week with Supt. Hobbs of the New Haven railroad and as a result of this conference he has been notified that the ticket office at this station will be kept open hereafter on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

The closing of the ticket office on other evenings, he has been informed is only a temporary matter, which is being done along the entire line of the railroad in the interest of economy.

Would you believe it?
Many remember when patrolman
James Murray, day officer in the census, held professional jump records.
In those days Marlboro was considered a sporting center. It was the home of Hutchins, who with William B. Rice organized the Rice &
Hutchins Co., shoe manufacturers.
Hutchins was a champion wrestler and a leader of a troupe of athletes. The census representation came over to him in the form of William B. Rice to see "Young Jim Murray" do his favorite barrel jump, a most sensational stunt and one that is not sensationally duplicated. Incidentally patrolman
Murray was a record back jumper.

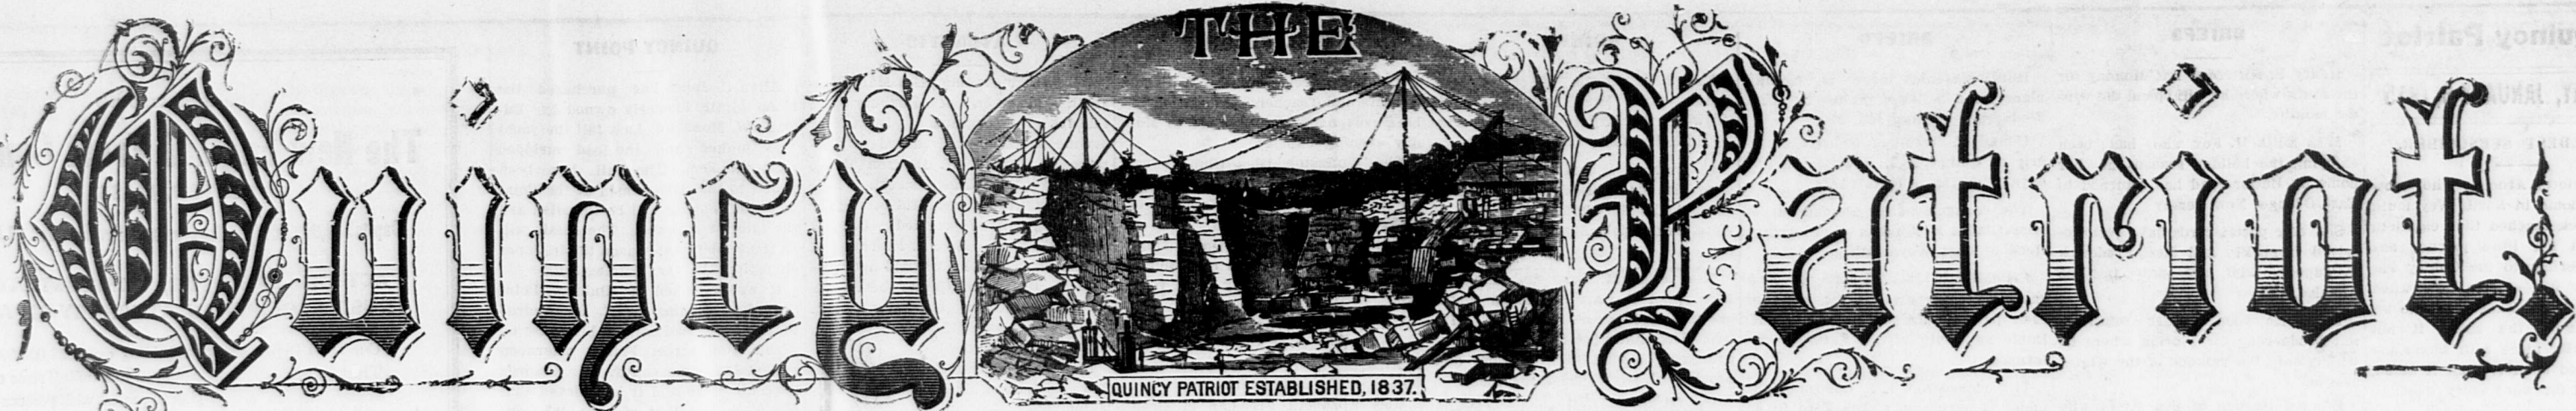

PRELIMINARY MEETING.

The meeting preliminary to the organization of a machine gun company with mounted scout detachment of 19 men was authorized by Brig. Gen.
Charles H. Cole was held in Union hall Tuesday evening and resulted in 15 making applications.

Lieut. George M. Downes who is to command the company had charge of the meeting and gave information relative to the requirements for enlistment.

Lieut. Downes said it was the intention of the military department of the state to meet the law requiring the addition of a machine gun company and chose Quincy because of its territory and high standard of its citizens.

The company will be attached to the 6th Infantry under command of Col. Warren E. Sweetser of Wollaston and will include two commissioned officers, four machine guns, 16 pack mules,

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 2.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 124 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone, Quincy 425.
Quincy 1510.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A contribution of fifty cents will be made in a year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduced rate of $1.50 will be made when a year is paid in advance.

WEEKLY OBSERVER

Weeky Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LANDS FOR SALE

AT

MERRYMOUNT

Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

TEL. 847-W.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.

TEL. FORT 591

JOHN W. McANANEY

Courtseller At-Law

Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1887 by

W. PORTER

Life Insurance offered in reliable and safe

stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 1015 State Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

A. M. JAMESON

Real Estate and Insurance

OFFICE AT RESIDENCE

12 WARREN AVE., COR. WINTHROP AVE.

Quincy, Mass.

WOL

Houses and Building Lots for sale

and Apartments for rent.

Tel. 121-M. Quincy. Mar 9 1914

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.

Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses paid in 94 years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital, $2,000,000.00

Surplus, $1,174,475.00

Reserve for Policyholders, $1,174,475.00

Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $1,174,475.00

Reserve for Other Claims, $1,174,475.00

Total Assets, $2,423,950.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1914.

Amount at Risk, $2,108,610.00

Cash Assets, $254,308.25

Total Liabilities, including

Re-insurance, $194,245.15

Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,914,362.85

Unpaid Losses, $36,480.38

Total Available Assets, $1,950,842.47

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policies, 10 per cent; on three-year policies,

9 per cent; on one-year policies, 8 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secy.

DIRECTORS:—Don Gleason Hill, Dedham;

Stephen M. Wald, Dedham; Thomas A.

Trapp, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brookfield; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W.

Wiggin, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph;

Robert M. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifford P.

Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

ORGANIZED 1855

Home Office, 18 Central Street,

Boston, Mass.

Statement from Report of Triennial Examination of Company made by the Massachusetts

Children Cry for Fletcher's

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Pavorine, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant, it contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels,
assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep.
The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS

Order Your

STORM PORCHES

-- AND --

STORM WINDOWS

At Once.

Everything in wood and woodwork.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

FIRE AT GERMANTOWN.

The alarm from Box 12 at 11:33

Sunday morning was for a lively blaze in the cottage of E. B. Warren at 170 Palmer street, and came near resulting in the death of Mrs. Warren.

The cottage is sheathed on the inside with card board and the fire evidently started from a blanket that was being dried out back of the kitchen stove.

Mr. Warren was standing on the veranda of the house when he heard his wife, who is an invalid and unable to help herself, scream. Rushing in he found the interior of the cottage ablaze. With great difficulty he managed to carry her out through the smoke and flame to a neighbors house. He then ran and sounded the alarm. Mrs. Warren was badly frightened but suffered no ill effects from her experience.

By the time the fire department arrived the interior of the cottage was blazing fiercely but fifteen minutes lively work had the fire out although all of the card board sheathing on the inside was burned off and studding somewhat charred. Chief Billings estimates the loss at $500. This is the second time this cottage has been on fire, the first time being about a year ago when it was badly gutted.

BE MODERN

in your bath. Be good to yourself. Enjoy your morning plunge in an open plumb-ing Porcelain Lined bath tub.

We have them to suit

your pocketbook.

We also do Steam, Hot Water

and Furnace Heating.

GIVE US A CALL

Why wait until Fall to have your Heater cleaned?

Let us do it now when we can get the repairs quickly and give

HYMN OF PEACE.

God of the nations, near and far,

Ruler of all mankind,

Bless thou thy peoples as they strive

The paths of peace to find.

The clash of arms still shakes the sky,

King rallies still with king;

Wild through the frightened air of night

The bloody tocsin rings.

Oh clearer far the friendly speech

Of scientists and seers,

The wise debate of statesmen and

The shouts of pioneers.

And stronger far the clasp'd hands

Of scientists and seers,

Who in a hundred tongues repeat

The common creeds and songs.

From shore to shore the peoples call

In loud and sweet acclaim;

The land of land and sea is lit

With Pentecostal flame.

O Father, from the curse of war

Play thou this release;

And, O, oh, speed thy blessed day

Of justice, love, and peace.

THE LAVENDER LADY'S VOW.

"Now, Judge Seymour," the Lavender Lady sat erect in her kitchen rocker, to gaze severely at her grim and watery guest scorching himself at the cook stove—"you might as well give up. When you threw away that sort of lavender fifteen years ago with a snarl wrinkled up, I warned

you that whatever you offered me from that time on I should throw back to you exactly the same way.

You've been trying all this time to make me break that vow just to show which of us two was the best fighter.

I believe you made a bet about it

—the judge winned and the Lavender Lady smiled grimly—"that time you offered to do enough free-laving to get me back that meadow lot Old Man Harris cheated me out of. But that didn't take, you recollected and this won't, let me tell you!"

The judge glowered at her a few minutes before he spoke. He always hated to be reminded of that bet, an abuse into which he had been betrayed. The Lavender Lady's exasperated defiance of him and the narrowing of mischievous neighbors who kept about the quarrel over the lavender offering which had broken her engagement.

"I was previously aware of the fact that you were the most contrary woman in the country, Esther," he began, stiffly, "but I did think you'd listen to reason when your honor is at stake. I've just told you old Man Harris is going to foreclose and turn you out. Now

I offer you two thousand dollars for the house. That will enable you to pay off the mortgage and have about five hundred dollars over for yourself. In that case you wouldn't have to move, would you?"—significant emphasis on the word—"to have you for tenant. And I'd just as leave make the rent a little lower for you than you'd have to further down in the village. Now, there's my offer and I'll stump you to get as good a one from anybody else."

"But you know, judge," rejoined Esther, "that when I come to charity, the town is bound to take care of me."

"What do you mean by charity?"

snapped the judge. "I swan if you haven't got as cranky notions in the back of your head as you had in the days when you threw me over because I didn't like the smell of lavender well enough to wear it in my buttonhole. Good heavens, the fact that I wanted you to marry me, and my hands this afternoon just before

I came over here," explained the judge, a shade more mildly.

"Well, what of it?" demanded the Lavender Lady immovably. "I shan't need any furniture when I haven't got any house, shall I? It's no use your staring so hard at that oven door, Judge Seymour!"—Esther's voice always had a faintly mocking note when she called him by the title which could inspire such awe in the mind of all the townspeople except himself—"and speaking of the oven reminds me that I must look at the beans. I can't afford to burn up my Saturday night beans while I listen to all this law."

The judge hitched his chair away from the stove. His brow was black, for he had clearly set his whole mind on making her yield this time. But a sudden gleam of wisdom entered into him as he watched her heading in front of the oven door.

"These beans smell like home,"

Esther, he said. "A single woman

—she can always make a home for herself. I ain't never had any home since mother died, in spite of my building a house as big as a barn."

Esther looked up at him, and forgot for a moment that shadowy sprig of lavender that had been lying on the ground in her memory for fifteen years.

The Quinoy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1915

OUR OLDEST SUBSCRIBER.

Miss Charlotte Arnold, who now makes her home in North Weymouth and this week reached the eightieth milestone in her life's journey has been a subscriber to the Quinoy Patriot all her life. Even now when her eyesight is not what it used to be, she enjoys it just the same, if not more so. Her niece with whom she lives is called upon to read it aloud, almost word for word every week.

JOINT INSTALLATION.

A large audience witnessed the joint installation of the newly elected officers of the Sons of Veterans ladies' auxiliary and Col. Abner B. Packard, camp Sons of Veterans, at Faxon hall Wednesday evening. That part of the floor space nearest the platform was set as a lounge room, the platform being occupied by White's orchestra, which furnished music during the early part of the evening and during the installation ceremony as well as for dancing which closed the evening. In the audience, aside from many visitors from the Auxiliary and Sons of Veterans camp from East Weymouth, were many veterans of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., including Commander Chauncey M. Marston and Past Commander George L. Phillips.

The installation of the officers of the Auxiliary was the first to be held, the work being performed by Mrs. Estelle Richards of East Weymouth who was assisted by Mrs. Mabel Canning as guide, Mrs. Fannie Smith as assistant and Mrs. Mabel Vogele as pianist. The officers installed were: President—Mrs. Ethel French. Vice President—Mrs. Idella Savage. Secretary—Mrs. Mildred Dextheimer. Treasurer—Mrs. Minnie Glover. Patriotic Instructor—Mrs. Cora Johnson.

Past President—Mrs. Alice McNeil. Chaplain—Mrs. Annie E. Merritt. Guide—Mrs. Emma Stoddard. Assistant Guide—Mrs. Delphine Kidder. Color Guards—Mrs. Luella Thayer and Mrs. Emeline Phillips. Inside Guard—Mrs. George E. Stratton.

Outside Guard—Mrs. Ella Larkin. Guide Advocate—Edward P. Prouty. Press correspondent—Mrs. Emma Blagdon. Trustees—Mrs. Alice McNeil, Cora Johnson and Mrs. Delphine Kidder.

The work of installation was performed in a most excellent manner and at its conclusion the installing officer and her assistants were presented with souvenirs that to Mrs. Richards being a fancy pin cushion and to the others boxes of confectionery.

The officers of the auxiliary made a fine appearance. All were gowned in immaculate white, while over the shoulder was the sash of red, white and blue.

The installation of the officers of Col. Abner B. Packard Camp Sons of Veterans immediately followed the work being performed by Frank Z. White of Dorchester, past senior division commander, who was assisted by Co. A of the Sons of Veterans Reserve, under the command of Capt. Frank M. Chubbuck, who acted as color guard.

The officers installed were as follows: Commander—William R. French. Senior Vice Commander—Walter M. Packard. Junior Vice Commander—Lester A. Porter.

Treasurer—Charles Stratford. Secretary—William Talbot. Patriotic Instructor—T. L. D. Gurney.

Chaplain—Samuel D. DeForest, Jr. Musician—L. C. McNeil. Inside Guard—A. S. French. Outside Guard—George Stratford.

Guide—Fred Foley. Color Guard—Albert Farnham. Council—Edward P. Prouty, Frank M. Chubbuck and Samuel D. DeForest, Jr.

A pleasing event took place immediately following the installation, which was the presentation to Edward P. Prouty, the retiring commander, of a handsome sword, in appreciation of his efficient work in behalf of the camp during the past year.

Light refreshments were then served, the evening closing with dancing until midnight.

MAPLE LODGE.

Maple lodge, K. L. of H., installed its officers, initiated three candidates, voted four in to membership and received a visitation from grand officers in Protection hall Wednesday evening. The attendance was large and at the close all joined in the social hour, during which refreshments were served under the direction of Miss M. Lizzie Farnham.

The officers were installed by District Deputy Grand Protector, Mrs. Carrie Prescott of Somerville. Her suite included Grand Guide C. W. Prescott, Grand Chaplain, Mrs. L. A. E. Harding, Grand Past Protector, Mrs. C. J. McHugh, Grand Vice Protector, Mrs. Thomas Gard and Grand Sentinel, Mrs. Mary Hall.

The regular meeting followed the installation at which a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of Annie M. Chick, for 20 years a member.

The officers installed were: Past Protector—Mrs. Sarah C. Williams. Protector—Mrs. Annie G. Grignon. Vice Protector—Mrs. Bertha McCurdy.

Chaplain—Mrs. Electa E. Field. Secretary—Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher. Treasurer—Mrs. Alberta Hewson. Guide—J. Irving Fletcher.

Grand—Mrs. Margaret Webster. Sentinel—Miss Alice E. Caldwell. Trustees—Mrs. Rose Reed, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, Mrs. Mary Power. Representatives—Mrs. C. Alice Litchfield, Mrs. Sarah C. Williams. Alternates—Mrs. Rose Reed, Miss M. Lizzie Farnham.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

BRIEFS

Henry P. Kittredge left Monday for the south where he will spend the winter months.

Miss Edith H. Fox who has been enjoying the holiday season at her home on Butler road has returned to East Orange, New Jersey.

Souvenir postal cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Tupper, who are now in Los Angeles, Cal.

Frank Hayward of East Braintree left Wednesday for Florida where he will remain the balance of the winter season.

Edward Hayden of Sea street who was severely scalped the hands and arms a few days ago, is reported to be more comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Spooner of Revere road left Tuesday for New York where they will remain for a week or more. They plan to attend the automobile show.

Seth Arnold Eldridge of Quincy avenue sailed two weeks ago for England to make a long visit to his uncle John Morgan Richards of Steephill Castle, Isle of Wight.

At a meeting of the Quincy Police Relief association held Monday evening it was voted to send Chief Burwell down south for a few weeks to recuperate. His physician has ordered him to seek a warmer climate.

Mrs. Charles C. Dalley of Washington street entertained at luncheon Wednesday. Her guests were Mrs. Alf Swensen, Mrs. Karl Thomas and Mrs. Theodore Penley all of Wollaston.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Dame, an aged nurse of this city who died following a short illness from pneumonia, will be held Sunday afternoon at the undertaking rooms of John Hall.

Quincy Commandery Knights Templar are arranging to put in a number of lockers in the asylum, so that the Sir Knights will not have to take their uniforms home evenings after the conclaves.

Mrs. E. A. Glover passed her 73rd birthday quietly in her home at Adams Block Monday being remembered with many birthday greetings and a beautiful bouquet from her two grand sons Floyd Perkins and Roy Carlson Macdonald.

Work dredging the channel of the Fox River on the Weymouth side which has been going on under the direction of the Directors of the Port of Boston has been completed so that there is now eighteen feet of water in the channel at mean low water.

The leveling of a revolver at Arthur Hultman, assistant court officer, brought to a sudden stop his pursuit of the man discovered in an attempt to break into his home at 1372 Hancock street at midnight Tuesday which resulted in the escape of the culprit.

Mrs. John J. Crain, of Waterford, Conn., formerly of Quincy, is in town for a few days the guest of friends.

Mrs. Crain came up from Connecticut to attend the "Revels," under the impression that they were to be held this week. Finding that they were not until next week she decided to remain over and renew acquaintances.

Eight tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club. The two best scores were made by George P. Wood and William Chapman. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served after the tournament. The monthly meeting of the club will be held Saturday evening.

The wholesale larceny of jewelry valued at $1300 from the store of T. L. Williams at 1475 Hancock street, was slipping in the bud at 8:30 Sunday evening by patrolman Daniel Doran who discovered an Italian in the store and forced him at pistol point to climb out through the window he entered and submit to arrest.

A burglar entered the house of Mrs. Henry E. Hardwick on Revere road about eight o'clock Sunday evening but was scared away before he was able to do any looting. Although the family rushed to the kitchen when they heard him strike against a partly open door they were unable to get sight of him as he escaped.

Upward of 300 Quincy residents are to attend the sixty-first annual celebration of the Burns anniversary to be conducted by the Burns Club of the city at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hodgdon New Years eve. Just before the arrival of the new year "Jack Horner" pies were cut and each member was given a cow bell, all of which were used with marked effect. Refreshments were served.

A plea for co-operation by the men's club of the city in his endeavor to give Quincy a good, clean business administration was made by Mayor E. A. Adams, formerly of the Makaria Fraternity of Bethany church at its regular weekly meeting Sunday noon. His honor, who was then introduced to an audience for the last time as Mayor-elect Campbell, made no mention of political affairs until nearly the close of his talk.

Miss Marie Bass was made a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society of Radcliffe college at the midwinter meeting last week. Although most colleges have a chapter of this society, there was none at Radcliffe until 1914, when the Iota chapter was established and those of the past graduates who had high academic standing were elected to membership.

Miss Bass received the degree of A. B. with distinction in three years at the college of the high school of Quincy and a graduate of Radcliffe college, has also been honored with the Phi Beta Kappa key.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

A house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Hurley of 190 Glendale road Wednesday evening. Games of all kinds were enjoyed until a late hour. Misses Celia Conners and Marion Duffy played the piano while John Curtin and Annie Conners rendered several pleasing solos and duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Louise Conners, Mary Conners, Marion Duffy, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Charles Millett, Philip Garity and Thomas Fallon.

BRIEFS

Rural Masonic lodge is making plans for a ladies night to be held Wednesday evening Jan. 27.

Henry W. Tirrell of Webster, formerly of Quincy, is in town for a few days renewing acquaintances.

The engagement is announced of Miss Gladys M. Lincoln and Arthur Reed of East Weymouth.

Kendall and Jack Doble gave a small dancing party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doble on South street, Saturday afternoon.

The submarine L-1, one of eight under construction at the Fore River shipyard will be launched on Jan. 19. The sponsor for the craft has not yet been chosen.

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill is in Providence, R. I. for a week, the guest of Mrs. George Andrews Tidale at The Slade Mansion, Elmwood.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Eggleston who recently returned from Seattle, Wash., where Mr. Eggleston looked after the interests of The Electric Boat Co., are to make their home at 70 Chestnut street.

Donald Crane, son of City Clerk and Mrs. Emory L. Crane, and John J. Nolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan of Adams street, have returned to Hamilton, N. Y., to resume studies at Colgate University.

The regular meeting of the School Masters' club was held at the High school Wednesday evening with a good attendance. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Wadsworth an agent of the Board of Education, who works among the rural schools.

Timothy J. Carey, agent of the State Board of Charity, gave a talk on the work of that board before the members of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, Thursday evening. Mr. Carey spoke in place of Manuel Perry who is out of town on business.

The Maple lodge delegation returning from Boston Tuesday night had an unpleasant experience. The 11:25 P. M. car left 15 minutes late, having been held up for connection with the Dudley street car, with the result that it arrived too late at City Square to catch the last Quincy Point and East Milton cars.

Mag-John, Thomas B. Matthews, M. V. M. retired, who has been a patient in the Corey Hospital Brooklyn for the past three months is at his home on Fenno street, Wollaston Park. General Matthews was operated on several times and is rapidly improving. He expects to be at his Boston office within a few weeks.

The second term of the trade classes opened this week with an excellent attendance. All classes "that" were carried on through the fall are to be continued except the class in cooking, which has completed its course.

The Adams evening school on Monday night had an attendance of 176 which is within 3 of its highest attendance mark of the winter.

The third meeting of the young women's auction bridge club was held Saturday afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Atwood of Putnam street extension. Just before the refreshments Miss Atwood presented the highest score, Mrs. Fred C. Howe of Butler street, with a pretty hand-embroidered blue linen bag. The next meeting will be held with Miss Louise Abernethy of Elm street, Braintree.

The members of Lois E. Gray Sewing circle, with their mascot Robert Haughton Dextheimer met with the president Mrs. Emma Blagdon at her home on Thursday. Sixteen were present. A most beautiful dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. Charles Hobart, the president's mother. After dinner the meeting was called to order and officers chosen for the coming year.

The funeral for Annie Chick, widow of Orrin Chick, was held from her home on Newcomb place Thursday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church.

A large delegation of members of Maple lodge, K. L. of H., with which the deceased was affiliated for 20 years, attended the services. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Burke who have been married fifteen years New Years eve observed the anniversary Saturday by giving a most delightful informal dance at the King home on Adams street from four until seven o'clock. There was a considerable number of callers during the hours of receiving. Dancing, a social hour, music and refreshments made up the entertainment.

Saturday evening, Miss Maude Macfarlane entertained at her home on Merrymount road in honor of Miss Edna Lewis Smith whose engagement to George Gay of Norwood was recently announced. There was a dancing during the evening, followed by a large number of callers.

A surprise party was tendered to Mrs. Matilda Doyle at her home, 149 West street, Thursday evening. Over thirty guests were in attendance. Guests were present from Braintree, Weymouth, Milton, Neponset and Mattapan. Games of all kinds were enjoyed.

George Koutland is spending a few weeks with his parents on Copeland street.

Mrs. Herbert Smith has been entertaining Mrs. Charles Carswell and Miss Ethel Lloyd of Gardner.

The tax collector's sale of the property of the City of Boston at Squantum, which was to have been held Tuesday, was again postponed until next Monday. It is probable that the sale will never be held as it is expected that the City of Boston will come to time and pay up.

The pupils of the Quincy pianoforte school gave the first B. A. D. C. concert in the hall, Wednesday evening under the direction of Claude Hackleton. Assisting him was Mrs. Hackleton.

Those who took part were Ruth Mitchell, Victor Brown, Edith Gardner, Eleanor Knight, Virginia Knowlton, Raymond Connell, Katherine A. McDonald.

The program included compositions of the masters and several duets.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

Those interested in brightening their homes will not fail to see the exhibition of electric and gas lighting fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston.

BRIEFS

Mrs. S. E. Lewis, sister of Mrs. Mackay and Mrs. Bass and well known in this city, is to pass the winter in Passadena, California.

Lysander S. Richards and daughter Miss Eleanor Richards have left their Marshfield Hills home and are at Hotel Brunswick, Boston for the winter.

Mrs. Alice M. Carr and daughter Miss Janet P. Carr of Thayer street are anticipating a most delightful trip. Honolulu being the objective point and a visit to the son and brother who is in business there.

Mrs. Annie Mattison, widow of Frank Mattison, died Thursday at the Cullis Home for Consumptives in Roxbury. She was in her 32nd year and formerly lived at 46 Smith street. She leaves three children.

Rev. T. J. Farmer of East Boston preaches at the Universalist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in exchange with the pastor, Mr. Farmer is state president of the Y. P. C. U. and at 4:30 will meet with all who are interested in the Y. P. C. U.

Timothy J. Shea, 44 years 18 Spring avenue, a teamster for the city, received a broken leg in the gravel pit near the city stables at 1:30 today when about half a cubic yard of loam slid off the side and struck him on the leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Shander nee Dorothea Power, of Braintree returned this week from a visit of two weeks at Mr. Shander's home in Mattapan, Illinois. Mr. Shander's mother gave a luncheon for the bride last Tuesday, at which Mrs. D. M. McFall of this city was a guest.

A neighborhood meeting is to be held by the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in the chapel. Miss Hyland will be the soloist and an address on "The Floating Hospital" will be given by the superintendent. A social hour will follow.

Miss Charlotte Arnold of North Weymouth, was entertained at the home of her niece Mrs. Joshua P. Holbrook on the anniversary of her eightieth birthday Monday Jan. 4. The other guests at the dinner in her honor, were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sampson, Arthur Graves Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Holbrook and Miss Carrie E. French. Miss Arnold was born in Quincy and resided here fifty years or so, when she moved to North Weymouth and has since made her home with relatives there.

Wollaston friends of Rev. and Mrs. Pratt Wright Pratt formerly of the Unitarian church are pleased that they are coming back to the States again, having been transferred from Alberta to Norfolk, Virginia. Mrs. Pratt is the niece of Mrs. E. C. Butler of Russell park.

Miss Gwendolyn Ellis entertained a number of young friends New Years day. Guests from out of town were Miss Ruth Adams of Somerville, Master Lloyd and Ruth McLaughlin of Roxbury, Misses Jane and Emily Whitten of Weymouth, Miss Violet and Master Ian Walker of West Somerville, Misses Elizabeth and Marjorie Small, Miss Hester McFague and Miss Mary McDonald of Wollaston helped make up a very happy coterie of young folk.

Miss Juanita Metherall of Safford street will be hostess to the Delta Sigma Club on the evening of Jan. 11. An entertaining program will be given at the regular meeting.

The first alarm of fire of the new year was sounded from Box 52 at 12:50 Sunday morning. It was for a fire among some rubbish in the cellar of the house of Michael F. Kings at 183 Arlington street.

Wollaston Masonic lodge exemplified the first degree upon a number of candidates at its regular communication Tuesday evening.

Wollaston residents will be interested to learn of the marriage of Harry Moulton Brown of 34 Berlin street and Elizabeth Lois Metherall Bates, both of Wollaston, which took place at Reading, Mass., on Dec. 31. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Joseph E. Barnes, who became known with the marriage returned filed at the office of City Clerk Crane this morning.

The Patriot would like to hear from some one who could write a Wollaston news item such as persons, afternoon social affairs, each week for the paper. Good pay on space to the right one either man or woman.

The election of officers brought up a lively contest and discussion and resulted as follows: President—Henry F. Mosses, Vice President—George H. Baker, Secretary—W. H. Davis, Treasurer—Jesse L. Sparr, Directors—Harry B. Beale, James H. Packard, W. E. Young, Russell T. Greene, and W. E. Barnes.

After the election a committee was appointed to cooperate with similar committees of the different associations of Quincy and ask for a hearing by the gas and electric light commissioners to see if Quincy cannot have as cheap gas and electric lights as other cities around Boston.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

James Kell the secretary of the Norfolk Downs Association was present as a delegate and asked the Atlantic Association to appoint a committee to cooperate with them and the other associations for improved race delivery and collections in Norfolk Downs and Atlantic.

WOLLASTON

The next meeting of the Wollaston Parents and Teachers Association has been postponed from Jan. 11 to Monday evening Jan. 25.

The Wollaston Club is certainly offering an attractive program for their concert next Tuesday evening at New School hall. The opportunity of hearing an Opera singer of note right at home is rare and all music lovers will surely avail themselves of this chance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Waterhouse of Wollaston are at Alamonte Springs, Florida, where they are spending the season at The Alamonte.

Miss Elizabeth Freeman of Grand View avenue who went over to New York for the holidays is to make an extended visit with her sister Mrs. Chester William Nimitz of Brooklyn, by reaching next morning.

Samuel W. Corbell of Newton street returned Thursday from Auburn, Maine after a three weeks visit with his sons family, the Robert Nelson Corbells.

Miss Jean I. Gorham of Beale street returned this week, after spending Christmas in New Braintree with the Joseph H. Titus and Dorsey family, and Mrs. Leonard L. Titus of Holyoke.

The Waltham Men's Class meets Sunday at 12:15 in the Wollaston Baptist Church Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion: "Prelude: The Arguments Against National Prohibition." Regular Lesson subject Deborah and Hark delivered Israel. All men invited to this strong and growing class.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises Sets	Rises Sets	Rises Sets	Rises Sets	Rises Sets	Rises Sets	Rises Sets
Jan. 9, 1915	7:10 4:30	6:50 4:20	6:30 4:10	6:10 4:00	5:50 3:50	5:30 3:40	5:10 3:30
Jan. 10, 1915	7:15 4:35	6:55 4:25	6:35 4:15	6:15 4:05	5:55 3:55	5:35 3:45	5:15 3:35
Jan. 11, 1915	7:20 4:40	7:00 4:30	6:40 4:20	6:20 4:10	6:00 4:00	5:40 3:50	5:20 3:40
Jan. 12, 1915	7:25 4:45	7:05 4:35	6:45 4:25	6:25 4:15	6:05 4:05	5:45 3:55	5:25 3:45
Jan. 13, 1915	7:30 4:50	7:10 4:40	6:50 4:30	6:30 4:20	6:10 4:10	5:50 4:00	5:30 3:50
Jan. 14, 1915	7:35 4:55	7:15 4:45	6:55 4:35	6:35 4:25	6:15 4:15	5:55 4:05	5:35 3:55
Jan. 15, 1915	7:40 5:00	7:20 4:50	7:00 4:40	6:40 4:30	6:20 4:20	6:00 4:10	5:40 4:00
Jan. 16, 1915	7:45 5:05	7:25 4:55	7:05 4:45	6:45 4:35	6:25 4:25	6:05 4:15	5:45 4:05
Jan. 17, 1915	7:50 5:10	7:30 5:00	7:10 4:50	6:50 4:40	6:30 4:30	6:10 4:20	5:50 4:10
Jan. 18, 1915	7:55 5:15	7:35 5:05	7:15 4:55	6:55 4:45	6:35 4:35	6:15 4:25	5:55 4:15
Jan. 19, 1915	8:00 5:20	7:40 5:10	7:20 5:00	7:00 4:50	6:40 4:40	6:20 4:30	6:00 4:20
Jan. 20, 1915	8:05 5:25	7:45 5:15	7:25 5:05	7:05 4:55	6:45 4:45	6:25 4:35	6:05 4:25
Jan. 21, 1915	8:10 5:30	7:50 5:20	7:30 5:10	7:10 5:00	6:50 4:50	6:30 4:40	6:10 4:30
Jan. 22, 1915	8:15 5:35	7:55 5:25	7:35 5:15	7:15 5:05	6:55 4:55	6:35 4:45	6:15 4:35
Jan. 23, 1915	8:20 5:40	8:00 5:30	7:40 5:20	7:20 5:10	7:00 5:00	6:40 4:50	6:20 4:40
Jan. 24, 1915	8:25 5:45	8:05 5:35	7:45 5:25	7:25 5:15	7:05 5:05	6:45 4:55	6:25 4:45
Jan. 25, 1915	8:30 5:50	8:10 5:40	7:50 5:30	7:30 5:20	7:10 5:10	6:50 5:00	6:30 4:50
Jan. 26, 1915	8:35 5:55	8:15 5:45	7:55 5:35	7:35 5:25	7:15 5:15	6:55 5:05	6:35 4:55
Jan. 27, 1915	8:40 6:00	8:20 5:50	8:00 5:40	7:40 5:30	7:20 5:20	7:00 5:10	6:40 5:00
Jan. 28, 1915	8:45 6:05	8:25 5:55	8:05 5:45	7:45 5:35	7:25 5:25	7:05 5:15	6:45 5:05
Jan. 29, 1915	8:50 6:10	8:30 6:00	8:10 5:50	7:50 5:40	7:30 5:30	7:10 5:20	6:50 5:10
Jan. 30, 1915	8:55 6:15	8:35 6:05	8:15 5:55	7:55 5:45	7:35 5:35	7:15 5:25	6:55 5:15
Jan. 31, 1915	9:00 6:20	8:40 6:10	8:20 6:00	8:00 5:50	7:40 5:40	7:20 5:30	7:00 5:20

There was a drop in low Thursday as evidenced by several white patches on Goffe street.

Why not be generous and loan Petrolman to the Maine people for a few days. "Dan" ought to be able to stop those holdups there.

It is to be noted with gratification that John D. Mackay will lead the school committee for another year. Although compelled to make some personal sacrifice in order to fill the office of chairman Mr. Mackay has agreed to do so.

Four "Keep to the right" signs were placed in and about City square Monday in places where the travel is the heaviest and if heeded will do much to prevent accidents. The signs have been placed as follows: one near the fountain in City square, one at the junction of Washington and Coddington streets, one at the junction of Hancock and Depot street and the fourth on Hancock street at the head of Granite street.

It is a cause for gratification that Joseph L. Whiton is again to occupy the presidency of the city council. He is a man of good sense, proved on many occasions, a man with the best interests of the city at heart. He can be depended upon to co-operate to the fullest extent with his honor and yet remember that first of all he is the head of the deliberative branch of the city government. Quincy has two efficient influences for good and progress in the coming year, Mayor Campbell and ex-Mayor Whiton.

PAUL REVERE POST.

Past Commander James H. Webb for the eighth time installed the officers of the 21 surviving members of Paul Revere post, G. A. R., in Grand Army hall Thursday night. Assisting him was Past Commander George L. Phillips as officer of the day.

Among those present at the exercises were Martin Murray of the 22d Regt. N. Y., and William H. Easton of the 12th Regt. Penn., both of whom joined within the past few weeks thus giving the local post the honor of being the only one in the state which had an initiation the past year.

Appointive officers for the relief and sick committees will be announced at the next meeting. Chowder was served at the conclusion of the exercises and cigars, presented by C. C. Hearn, were distributed.

Nothing of importance was proposed at the business meeting relative to the post surrendering its charter and affiliating with Sylvanus Thayer post of Braintree. The officers installed:

Commander—Mark E. Hanson.
Senior Vice Commander—Thomas King.
Junior Vice Commander—Charles P. Costa.
Quartermaster—Francis P. Loud.
Adjutant—James H. Webb.
Chaplain—Wayman Nightingale.
Sergeant—Wm. W. Pierce.
Officer of the Guard—William Bird.
Surgeon Major—Dr. C. M. Manton.
Quartermaster Sergeant—Calvin T. Iyer.
Patriotic Instructor—George L. Phillips.
Drummer—Wyman B. Nightingale.
House Committee—Francis P. Loud, Charles Costa.

BOOKS ON COSTUME.

For the past few years the library has been besieged the week before Twelfth Night with people wishing to get ideas for costumes to wear at the Revels. This is now a well established annual event, with charitable purpose, and for the entertainment of Quincy people. It is to meet this demand that we have gathered together some of those books which may suggest ideas on costume. These books are at the end of the reading room on the West wall. They contain illustrations of costumes of all kinds and nationalities and of different periods of English and American history. There are also two reference books which may be obtained by inquiring of the desk assistant. One is McClellan's "Historic Dress in America" and the other is Longman's "Historical Illustrations."

In addition to the collection of books placed in the reading room, some who have it in mind to wear a costume representing that of some country will find it helpful to consult the card catalog, looking under the name of the country for books which are illustrated. This information is given on the subject cards and if the illustrations are colored this fact is also mentioned.

ACKNOWLEDGES DONATIONS.

The Associated Charities of Quincy acknowledges with grateful thanks donations of money and supplies received from churches, societies and private individuals for the relief of the poor at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Donations of food and clothing were sent to the office and money to be used for relief at the discretion of the secretary. This money was used sometimes for dinners, sometimes for children's shoes, and sometimes for coal. One gift of $8 provided coal, shoes and rubbers and a dinner consisting of the following: roast pork, potatoes, onions, condensed milk, apples, oranges, mince meat, butter, sugar and tea. As in a large number of families men are out of work and there is a shortage of coal, kindness and generosity of those who helped us in caring for the poor and the unfortunate, is greatly appreciated.

The co-operation of different societies and the fact that lists were compared and duplication avoided made it possible to aid a large number of families. It is a fact worthy of note that one woman to whom a second dinner was sent by a society refused to receive it, saying that she was already provided for and one woman sent word that she did not need a dinner, which had been promised her and that it could be sent to some family who would not have any.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE.

The organization of the South Shore interscholastic league, which includes the fastest high school teams of Norfolk and Plymouth counties, was completed at Quincy Thursday. A base ball schedule was prepared. The matter of extending the league to football and probably to basketball was discussed.

John E. Cosgrove of Weymouth was elected president and Frank L. Mansur of Quincy High was elected secretary-treasurer. The board of governors to direct the league will include both those officers, Arthur E. Staff of Brockton High school, E. Reginald Nash of Milton High and Thomas Pickett of Rockland High.

The league, the first of its kind on the south of Boston, was proposed by H. W. Gammons while he was principal of the Rockland high school. He lost no time in acquainting the high school committee with his idea and the preliminary meeting was held Nov. 19th, at Rockland. Details were completed as speedily as possible and the final steps were taken at Quincy High school Thursday afternoon.

A constitution was practically adopted and a complete schedule has been prepared. It is expected that the league will give athletics the biggest boost they ever received on the South Shore.

None of the four teams, excepting Brockton has had a league experience and it is understood that they are to withdraw from the Southeastern league with which they now are affiliated. Each team plays two games around the circuit. The schedule follows:

May 5 Weymouth at Milton.
May 11 Rockland at Milton.
May 14 Quincy at Brockton.
May 15 Rockland at Weymouth.
May 18 Milton at Brockton.
May 19 Weymouth at Quincy.
May 22 Milton at Quincy.
May 25 Brockton at Quincy.
May 26 Quincy at Weymouth.
May 28 Quincy at Rockland.
May 29 Brockton at Weymouth.
June 1 Brockton at Rockland.
June 2 Quincy at Milton.
June 4 Milton at Rockland.
June 5 Weymouth at Brockton.
June 8 Milton at Quincy.
June 8 Rockland at Quincy.
June 11 Weymouth at Rockland.
June 11 Brockton at Quincy.
June 15 Brockton at Milton.

OLD FASHIONED SING.

Never was "America" sung with more spirit and feeling than at the concert which followed the regular communication of Rural Masonic lodge Thursday evening. As the words, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," were sung by nearly three hundred voices, it reminded one of the great choruses sung at the Peace Jubilee in Boston in '76.

The communication was one of the largest attended for a long time, even exceeding the number present on visitation nights. Not only were many of the past masters of Rural lodge present, but also Mr. George L. Farrar of Orphans Home lodge, as well as many of the rural who are not affiliated with Rural lodge. The regular communication was opened at 8:15 and the business of the evening was completed a little after 8 o'clock. Chairs were then brought into the lodge room which proved none too large to accommodate those present.

Then came the concert, which was preceded by a song in English, the most enjoyable heard in a long time. The artists to contribute were Miss Edith S. Roundabout, violinist, Mrs. Alice Barton Willard, soprano soloist, Miss Marie J. Clouser, reader and Miss Agnes Olsen accompanist.

At the close of the concert, Mr. H. Everett Gray said in view of what was going on in Europe countries, it would not be out of place to sing "America." If someone would volunteer to play, Miss Olson, one of the artists, immediately volunteered and the brethren led by Bros. Albert L. Hayden and Clement Nash, sang with feeling.

The concert over the brethren adjourned to the main hall where there for half an hour there was a genuine "Old Fashioned Sing" with Elmer E. Ricker at the piano. Lieut. Downs, who is forming the gun company in Quincy, was introduced, just long enough to make a statement about the Quincy company which was formed. He said that he had some more good material for the company and extended an invitation to those eligible to attend the next meeting.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

One of the greatest galaxies of stars ever gathered on one programme will be the Keiths at the Theatre for the week of January 11th Emma Carus, one of the cleverest and most popular musical comedy favorites on the American stage, assisted by Carl Randall, the remarkable young dancer, will appear after an absence of over a year. Miss Carus is this season presenting an entirely new and original act. She introduced some wonderful modern dancing, assisted by Mr. Randall, who enjoys an international reputation as a dancer. Their engagement is positively limited to one week only. Another strong attraction will be Hughie Jennings, the famous manager of the Detroit Tigers. He and the well-known comedian, Ben Smith, in their new comedy, "The New Mascot," will appear at the Theatre. The Theatre will be open every performance, and after his famous whistle and "Hi-Yah" coaching cry. Although he has given up active playing, Hughie Jennings remains one of the greatest drawing cards in professional baseball. The visits of the Keiths to the theatre are an event looked forward to in the various American league cities by thousands of fans. Other strong attractions will be Percy Wendell and Dolly Connolly; Madam Doree's company, from Grand Opera, with a new comedy, "The Girl of the Year," and "The Monk of the Mountain," Bullard-Brahms, the dancing lancers, and many other equally strong features.

Have you read the Mayor's inaugural address? If you have not you have failed in your duty as a citizen of Quincy, if you have it will repay a re-reading. Short, to the point, imbued with sound sense, it is a notable document.

L. A. FAGEN

Cabinet Maker
Repairer of Furniture
Antique a Specialty
First Class Work Guaranteed
69 Uermian Avenue, Corner Washington Street
Telephone 1628-M

TWELFTH NIGHT IN OLDEN TIMES

Twelfth Night is so called because it is the twelfth after Christmas. It comes on the eve of Epiphany, the church festival which celebrates the first appearance of Christ to the Gentiles. ("Epiphany" is derived from the Greek and means "manifestation" or "appearance.") These three days were the three wise men from the East, who, according to the legend were three kings, Jasper, Melchior and Balthazar. They followed the guidance of the wonderful star and came to Bethlehem, where they found the Holy Child and his mother and they laid their gifts at his feet and worshipped him.

In England, the religious side was not much emphasized, but the eve of Epiphany or Twelfth Night was a time of great joy and merrymaking. The Twelfth Night cake, a large and elaborately decorated confection, had a bean and a pea baked in it. When the company was assembled, the cake was cut and the pieces distributed among the guests. He who drew the piece with the bean in it, was the king of the revels; she who held the piece containing the pea, was the queen. It was usually arranged before hand that these honors should fall upon the host and hostess.

Then the newly-elected king was raised high on the shoulders of his friends and with a piece of chalk marked three crosses on the rafters of the ceiling so that the evil spirits would keep away. So the Bean King was chosen and by custom supported this character until midnight. Sometimes "Twelfth Night" cake was distributed, having in each piece the picture and name of some member of a royal court, such as, a page, a maid of honor, a jester, and so on. The guest was required to assume and keep throughout the evening the part that the card he drew named for him. Thus a mock court was formed and every one was expected to play the part of the king, queen, jester, and so on. Extreme and ludicrous penalties were imposed on those who failed to obey the king of the revels and fulfill all his royal commands. And often the Bean King proved himself a veritable Lord of Misrule and required all sorts of mirth-provoking performances from his loyal and obedient followers.

Other customs were not lacking; there were pies filled with live frogs that hopped out when the crust was cut; there were egg shells, very fragile, filled with rose water, which with the company pelted one another.

Twelfth Night was celebrated with great splendor at court, in the universities, and at the Inns of Court, where the young lawyers studied. Among the people of lower rank and in the country also, it was an occasion for festivities. In Staffordshire, for instance, the young men would perform the "Hays," their traditional dance, and a huge pot of ale and plenty of cakes were on hand by general contribution at the inn for the refreshment of all comers.

Shakespeare's play "Twelfth Night" was produced in 1602 at some festivities in the hall of the Middle Temple, in celebration of Twelfth Night. In this play old Sir Toby expresses the spirit of the season when he remarks to the steward, Malvolio, who does not enjoy a rollicking good time, "Dost think, because thou art virtuous, there will be no more cakes and ale?" Quincy people revive this old time spirit of jollity when they go in costume to the "Revels" and enjoy the merriest time of the whole year.

WOLLASTON GLEE CLUB.

The Wollaston Glee club has the unique distinction of being the oldest musical club, in point of years of continuous work, in Quincy. The first meeting of the club was on March 25, 1901, with a membership of ten; at present there is an active membership of thirty and an associate membership of one hundred.

Article II of the Constitution reads: "The purpose of this organization shall be to awaken an interest in music and to disseminate a knowledge of music throughout the community," and the club has faithfully endeavored to carry out this ideal. This has necessitated devotion of time and energy by all members of the club in order to give the community something better musically each season.

There have been three directors during the life of the club, Messrs. Walter Arnold, William Lester Bates and John A. Crowley. The latter is now serving the club to the satisfaction of everyone.

It has been the custom of the club to use its money in presenting to its patrons the very best musical talent possible at concerts; that this custom is satisfactory to the public is shown by the increased size of the audiences at each succeeding concert.

The Glee Club each season gives two concert stores in Wollaston and one or more outside. They have had the pleasure of assisting at concerts for worthy causes, notably for the Y. M. C. A. building fund. The San Francisco earthquake sufferers, and the organ fund for the Park and Downs church.

The benefits of the Glee club are open to all men who have some knowledge of vocal music, and any such are cordially invited to communicate with any member or officer of the club.

The season of 1914-15 promises to be a most interesting and enjoyable one. The first concert is to be given Jan. 12, 1915, at the Metropolitan Opera Cos., assisting. At this concert the program includes "Awake my Love," Gerike, "The Cruel Heart," Herbert, "Tis a long way to Tipperary," Judge, "The Monk of the Mountain," Bullard-Brahms, the dancing lancers, and many other equally strong features.

JOHN GILBERT.

John Gilbert, a 75 year old Wollaston resident, died suddenly at dinner at his home at 124 Elm avenue, Tuesday evening.

IN YE OLDEN DAYS.

Editor Quincy Patriot:

"When fond remembrances present them to view," not "the old oaken bucket, the moss covered bucket, or the iron bound bucket that hung in the hall because it didn't have the good fortune of using one when a boy, but Old Scots pond that stood by the hills, and Belcher's pond to show our skill as we skated and slid with the girls on the sled and saw fixed stars when we tumbled and bled.

Although it must have occurred between 65 and 70 years ago, there are some of my schoolmates living in Quincy now who can remember what a sensation there was when John Pickering, an engineer on the Old Colony Road, ran off the bridge with his engine into the Neponset river.

He was sent by the superintendent of the road on his engine alone with an important message to Plymouth. The Quincy Women's Clubhouse Monday afternoon and announced the following donors during December: Mrs. E. M. Freeman, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Miss Julia Underwood, Mrs. Herbert Barker, Mrs. Frank Crane, Mrs. Henry M. Paxon.

Junior Friday, and a pleasant meeting Monday afternoon with Miss Georgia C. Lane of Providence, Mrs. Albert H. Wright was chairman of the afternoon the study of South America being continued with Lake Titicaca and Bolivia as special subjects. As souvenirs of the meeting each club member received a cute little calendar with water-color, the handwork of the hostess.

Mrs. Hannah T. Osgood of Boston who spoke Wednesday at the meeting of Quincy Alliance in the First Parish church parlor was a guest at luncheon before the meeting of Mrs. John D. Mackay at her home on Greenleaf street.

Mrs. Florence Buck is to speak on "Religious Experiences of a Little Child," at the meeting of Wollaston Alliance on Wednesday afternoon Jan. 13 in the Wollaston Unitarian vestry. Tea will be served.

Mrs. T. Lyndon Gurney is to be chairman for the meeting Jan. 14th of the Atlantic Shakespeare Society, when Act 3 Part 2 of "King Henry The Fourth" will be taken up for study.

Monday afternoon the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. of Wollaston is to meet with Mrs. F. C. Blake of 36 Elm avenue. Miss Susan B. Willard of Hingham is to speak on "Building of Bunker Hill Monument." Later in the month the Chapter is to entertain at headquarters in the Pier building, Boston, in conjunction with Old State House Chapter of Melrose.

There is to be a luncheon at the Copie-Plaza hotel, Boston Saturday Jan. 16 at one o'clock in honor of Mrs. Cara Rogers Bleakley, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution. The luncheon is given by the Massachusetts D. A. R. reception for Mrs. Bleakley follows the luncheon at three o'clock at the Society rooms in Hotel Westminster, after which the regular January business meeting will be held.

Next week's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club is to be under the auspices of the Philanthropy committee and will be open to the public. It will be held at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, Jan. 23. Tickets for the Revels on the 15th at Music hall and also for the opera Mikado on Feb. 10, are in good demand showing interest of club members and friends in these events.

The Kathryn Crane Memorial club has been able to present the visiting Nurses committee the sum of $55, being the proceeds from the afternoon dance held at Alpha hall, Dec. 29 and wishes to express its appreciation of the hearty and generous co-operation which made possible this gift.

The January program of the Quincy Women's Club has been made up as follows: Regular meeting Jan. 13 at home of Mrs. Hobart, 62 Mill street at 2 P. M.; public work Jan. 20 at clubhouse at 2 P. M. with Mrs. Bradford Hayden as chairman; regular meeting Jan. 27 at home of Mrs. Arnold, 77 Arnold street at 2 P. M.

The regular meeting of the Squamun Women's club was held at the apartment of Mrs. S. H. Adams Ashburton place, Boston. The president Mrs. Hiram Morse, presiding. After the business meeting the hostess served a charming lunch. Among those present were Mrs. Matthew M. Grain, Mrs. Helen McGowan, Mrs. May Duff, William Reed, Mrs. Gustav Wunderlich, Mrs. Charles Bostwick, Mrs. James Foster, Mrs. Sturgis Wood, Mrs. William Donovan, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. C. F. Westlake, Mrs. Hiram Morse.

The Quincy Young Women's club held its "Baby Party" in the High school gym Wednesday evening with a large attendance. All present were in baby costume. The program included the games of childhood after which there was general dancing. Among those present was Miss Minnie Packard, president, who came from Lexington, and Mrs. George E. Pfaffman of the Quincy Women's club who takes a deep interest in the junior club affairs.

Mrs. Hannah T. Osgood was the speaker at the meeting of the Quincy Branch of the National Alliance in the chapel of the First Church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Osgood's subject was "Postoffice Missions" and it was a most interesting talk. Following the address chocolate and cakes were served, the hostesses being Mrs. Wilson Marsh and Mrs. Alice Sanborn.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

By invitation of the Ladies Physiological Institute a conference of the public health department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is to be held at Tremont Temple Boston Jan. 14 at 10 A. M. Dr. Walter B. Lancaster will give an illustrated lecture on "Conservation of the Eyesight" and Dr. D. H. Kress on "The Effects of Cigarette Smoking." At the 2 P. M. session Mrs. W. L. Putnam will speak on "Prenatal Care," Dr. C. E. Gary on "The Effects of Occupational Diseases upon the Woman in Industry," Dr. J. E. Goldthwaite on "Different Physical Types."

The Quincy Day Nursery met at the Quincy Women's Clubhouse Monday afternoon and announced the following donors during December: Mrs. E. M. Freeman, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Miss Julia Underwood, Mrs. Herbert Barker, Mrs. Frank Crane, Mrs. Henry M. Paxon.

Junior Friday, and a pleasant meeting Monday afternoon with Miss Georgia C. Lane of Providence, Mrs. Albert H. Wright was chairman of the afternoon the study of South America being continued with Lake Titicaca and Bolivia as special subjects. As souvenirs of the meeting each club member received a cute little calendar with water-color, the handwork of the hostess.

Mrs. Hannah T. Osgood of Boston who spoke Wednesday at the meeting of Quincy Alliance in the First Parish church parlor was a guest at luncheon before the meeting of Mrs. John D. Mackay at her home on Greenleaf street.

Mrs. Florence Buck is to speak on "Religious Experiences of a Little Child," at the meeting of Wollaston Alliance on Wednesday afternoon Jan. 13 in the Wollaston Unitarian vestry. Tea will be served.

Mrs. T. Lyndon Gurney is to be chairman for the meeting Jan. 14th of the Atlantic Shakespeare Society, when Act 3 Part 2 of "King Henry The Fourth" will be taken up for study.

Monday afternoon the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. of Wollaston is to meet with Mrs. F. C. Blake of 36 Elm avenue. Miss Susan B. Willard of Hingham is to speak on "Building of Bunker Hill Monument." Later in the month the Chapter is to entertain at headquarters in the Pier building, Boston, in conjunction with Old State House Chapter of Melrose.

There is to be a luncheon at the Copie-Plaza hotel, Boston Saturday Jan. 16 at one o'clock in honor of Mrs. Cara Rogers Bleakley, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution. The luncheon is given by the Massachusetts D. A. R. reception for Mrs. Bleakley follows the luncheon at three o'clock at the Society rooms in Hotel Westminster, after which the regular January business meeting will be held.

Next week's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club is to be under the auspices of the Philanthropy committee and will be open to the public. It will be held at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, Jan. 23. Tickets for the Revels on the 15th at Music hall and also for the opera Mikado on Feb. 10, are in good demand showing interest of club members and friends in these events.

The Kathryn Crane Memorial club has been able to present the visiting Nurses committee the sum of $55, being the proceeds from the afternoon dance held at Alpha hall, Dec. 29 and wishes to express its appreciation of the hearty and generous co-operation which made possible this gift.

The January program of the Quincy Women's Club has been made up as follows: Regular meeting Jan. 13 at home of Mrs. Hobart, 62 Mill street at 2 P. M.; public work Jan. 20 at clubhouse at 2 P. M. with Mrs. Bradford Hayden as chairman; regular meeting Jan. 27 at home of Mrs. Arnold, 77 Arnold street at 2 P. M.

The regular meeting of the Squamun Women's club was held at the apartment of Mrs. S. H. Adams Ashburton place, Boston. The president Mrs. Hiram Morse, presiding. After the business meeting the hostess served a charming lunch. Among those present were Mrs. Matthew M. Grain, Mrs. Helen McGowan, Mrs. May Duff, William Reed, Mrs. Gustav Wunderlich, Mrs. Charles Bostwick, Mrs. James Foster, Mrs. Sturgis Wood, Mrs. William Donovan, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. C. F. Westlake, Mrs. Hiram Morse.

The Quincy Young Women's club held its "Baby Party" in the High school gym Wednesday evening with a large attendance. All present were in baby costume. The program included the games of childhood after which there was general dancing. Among those present was Miss Minnie Packard, president, who came from Lexington, and Mrs. George E. Pfaffman of the Quincy Women's club who takes a deep interest in the junior club affairs.

Mrs. Hannah T. Osgood was the speaker at the meeting of the Quincy Branch of the National Alliance in the chapel of the First Church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Osgood's subject was "Postoffice Missions" and it was a most interesting talk. Following the address chocolate and cakes were served, the hostesses being Mrs. Wilson Marsh and Mrs. Alice Sanborn.

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Connell, chief operator at the Fore River shipyard, entertains the members of Samoset club at her home on Richmond street Wednesday next Thursday evening. A social program will be given after the business meeting. The membership includes young women of Quincy and Weymouth.

CLUB EVENTS.

club next Tuesday afternoon at the clubhouse will be in charge of the Philanthropy committee, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, chairman. There will be a fine group of speakers on various phases of social and philanthropic work.

Miss Jenny M. Purchase secretary of the Quincy Associated Charities will present a brief report of the relief work for the Salem fire sufferers which she did for the Quincy Women's Club.

Miss Lillian P. Richards, vice president of the Massachusetts Association of Women Workers will have something interesting to tell about girls club form her experience all over the state.

Fred Johnson secretary of the Boston Associated Charities will speak on the problem of the unemployed.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1915

LOYAL ORANGE LODGE INSTALL.

The installing staff of the Massachusetts Loyal Orange Lodge, under the direction of Master E. R. Brown, installed the elected officers of the Quincy lodge into office in Protection hall Tuesday night.

Included in the staff were Deputy Master John Black, Secretary William McDougal, Financial Secretary D. R. McLeod, Treasurer, Daniel McKell, Chaplain Roland Bailey, Foreman of Committee Colin Gowin, Director of Ceremonies Ellis Pelley and Inside Guard A. Watts.

The program of the evening included speeches by the visitors and by Andrew Stewart, who retires as worthy master after six years service. Committee reports showed the lodge to be in prosperous condition. Songs were rendered by J. Bailey and William Laver.

Many visitors were present and refreshments were served. Those installed were:

Worthy Master—David Wright.
Deputy Worthy Master—Joseph Heron.
Recording Secretary—Herbert Spraul.

Financial Secretary—Albert Sunnerburgh.
Treasurer—Gus Lumberg.
Chaplain—W. B. Jones.
Director of Ceremonies—George Jones.

First Conductor—David Johnson.
Second Conductor—John Reynolds.
Inside Tyler—William McKell.
Outside Tyler—Charles Archibald.
Chairman of committee on law—Richard Rendle.

Committee on Law—John Peters, John Gregory, John Arbuckle, Thomas Davison.
Finance Committee—William Ellis James Peabody.

CABARET AND DANCE.

Quincy lodge of Elks held its first cabaret show in music hall on Wednesday evening and found the weather its rival, for although enough ice was sold to keep the hall at a comfortable temperature, the attendance was somewhat less than the 220 provided for.

The program included a "big time" vaudeville show with several of the best known of the popular cabaret singers on the bill. The appetizing menu was served by a bevy of pretty girls and was under the direction of Maurice Cohen.

The committee in charge of the evening consisted of: Dr. J. H. Maloney, John D. Hildebrand, Edward Larkin, John R. S. Ross, Charles Hannon, and J. N. Shaffer, the latter "hooking agent and stage manager."

The program opened with an overture by Strachan's orchestra, as guests were seeking themselves followed by vaudeville.

As the luncheon part of the program was brought to a close the favors were distributed, the special remembrances to the ladies being silver vases pur of odd design.

The Elks' toast was given with the hall in semi darkness at 11 o'clock by Edward J. Fagan after which the guests resumed dancing until midnight.

The girls who served at the tables were the Misses Eugenie LeClair, Helen Mitchell, Gertrude Bullock, Hannah Sandberg, Grace Humphrey, Gertrude Fraser, Annie Sullivan, Catherine Shea, Gertrude Callahan, Ida DuTemple, Catherine Cronin, Mary Beale, Margaret Burke, Agnes Monahan, Ruth Hildebrand, Bertha Josselyn.

INSTALL OFFICERS.

The Loyal League of Clans MacGregor No. 1 installed officers Tuesday evening at Clans MacGregor hall. Past President Mrs. Margaret Gannon acted as installing officer, performing the installation ceremonies in a very impressive manner. She was assisted by Marshal Mary Summers.

The following are the officers elected and installed during 1915:
Past Pres. Margaret Gannon, Pres. Margaret Ross, Vice Pres. Della Grassick, Chaplain, Mary Muckle, Rec. Sec. Marjorie Milne, Fin. Sec. Jennie C. Fyfe, Treas. Margaret Collins, Con. ductors, Russell Melvin, Josie Daw, Guards, Mary Evans and Christina McMillan, Trustees, Elizabeth Miller, Annie McKenna, Margaret Hall, Plan. Sec. J. McMillan. Mr. McMillan was counsel for the plaintiffs.

Miss Ellen Loretta Reid, one of the most popular clerks at the Quincy Savings Bank and John Francis Walsh, proprietor of the Walsh Drug Co., chain of stores have filed an inventory of marriage at the City Hall. The marriage will take place next Tuesday at Weymouth and will be one of the social affairs of the season.

Mayor Campbell was an interested spectator at Monday night's meetings of the city council, occupying a seat on the raised platform at the right of President Whitton. This seat has always been reserved for the executive but up to this year the executives have preferred to occupy one of the seats reserved for the city officials.

QUINCY POINT

The alarm from Box 173 Monday morning was for a mysterious fire in the entry way of the house of I. Cutler at 42 Winthrop Park. There was some clothing hanging in the entry and it is supposed that the fire started in some way among this clothing.

The firemen confined the blaze to the entry, and the damage was but slight. Mr. Cutler claimed that he had a fire coat hanging in the entry, but the firemen found no trace of it and there was considerable mystery as to how and where it disappeared to. The loss was slight.

Joseph Sullivan, whose left foot was badly crushed Tuesday at the Fore River shipyard by a bar of iron, weighing nearly a ton is slowly recovering at his home in South Weymouth.

The alarm from Box 73, at 10:05 Tuesday evening was for a fire in the plumbers shop of William A. Turner at the corner of Washington street and Broadway. The fire evidently started from a torch on one of the workmen's benches and was working on the side of the building in the chimney when discovered. The firemen made a fire of the building, which is a chemical store. The damage was slight.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, nee Nina Bates are settled in their attractive new home on Monroe road which has been building for them during the fall and early winter months.

BRIEFS

The young women's auction bridge club of this city met this afternoon with Miss Louise Abernethy of Elm street, Braintree.

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Forrester of Hancock street, who has been ill with scarlet fever is convalescent.

Miss Sara Thomas who has been ill with pneumonia is convalescent.

A Christmas party will be held at Christ church parish house on the evening of January 27 for the senior members, teachers and officers of the Sunday School.

The annual meeting of the Corporation of the City Hospital of Quincy is to be held in Union hall Monday evening at eight o'clock for the election of officers and other business.

One hundred and twenty dollars for the use of tuberculosis work in Quincy is the result of the sale of Christmas Red Cross seals in Quincy during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Wilkie of "The Prescott," Spear street returned Thursday from a business and pleasure trip to New York and are now on a trip to Portland, Maine.

The alarm from Box 727 at 5:25 Saturday afternoon was for a slight fire in the forge shop at Scammell's plant on Quincy avenue. The fire evidently started from sparks from the forge.

A civil service examination for the position of janitor and engineers having charge of schools, as well as marine engineers will be held Feb. 12, at the state house, Boston.

Walter Walker, who has been a draftsman at the Fore River shipyard has resigned and leaves next Sunday to accept a position with the Lake Torpedo Boat Co. at Bridgeport, Conn.

Mrs. Bernard Reilly of Bedford street returned home Saturday from a visit to New Orleans where she has been visiting her parents since before Christmas.

Prof. Daniel Evans of Andover Theological Seminary of Cambridge spoke on "Racial Antipathies" before 100 men of the Bethany church Brotherhood in the chapel Wednesday evening.

Ellen A. Markham, who conducted a variety store at Sea street and Market avenue, Houghs Neck, died Sunday after a short illness. She was in her 55th year and was the wife of William Markham, by whom she is survived.

Mrs. Clarence B. Underwood and Miss Josephine Underwood returned this week from Haddon Heights, New Jersey where they have been spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bush Bradford.

The members of the Amity Whist club presented Mrs. Rosella Wardwell of Miller street with a seal hand bag Monday in recognition of her birthday. In the evening they were the guests of Mrs. Wardwell at the Kincaid theatre.

Captain Willard Crocker of the High school basketball team, who suffered painful knee injuries in the game with Winthrop Tuesday afternoon will undoubtedly be unable to participate in the balance of the schedule.

The elementary grade teachers of the Coddington school are rehearsing amateur theatricals to be given in April, in the school hall. Miss Mabel Lovejoy, Miss Mary C. Parker, Miss Olive Munster and Miss Cassandra Thayer are in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sturtevant of Adams street their daughter Mrs. Alice and Miss Dorothy Edwards of Greenleaf street left Monday for Jacksonville, Fla., at Jacksonville, the party will board the Sturtevant power cruiser the "Grey Duck," and will cruise in Southern water.

The Power Squadron of the Quincy Yacht club held a meeting of Commander at the home of Commander Charles W. Laing. The evening was devoted to study of the pilot's duties and navigation. The next meeting is to be held on the second Thursday in February.

A jury of the Norfolk Superior Court has returned a verdict of $200 for the plaintiff in the case of Mary C. Fyfe, Treas. Margaret Collins, Con. ductors, Russell Melvin, Josie Daw, Guards, Mary Evans and Christina McMillan, Trustees, Elizabeth Miller, Annie McKenna, Margaret Hall, Plan. Sec. J. McMillan. Mr. McMillan was counsel for the plaintiffs.

Miss Ellen Loretta Reid, one of the most popular clerks at the Quincy Savings Bank and John Francis Walsh, proprietor of the Walsh Drug Co., chain of stores have filed an inventory of marriage at the City Hall. The marriage will take place next Tuesday at Weymouth and will be one of the social affairs of the season.

Mayor Campbell was an interested spectator at Monday night's meetings of the city council, occupying a seat on the raised platform at the right of President Whitton. This seat has always been reserved for the executive but up to this year the executives have preferred to occupy one of the seats reserved for the city officials.

The Unit Sewing Club met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Theodore Andrews on Euclid avenue. After a short business meeting which was presided over by Marion Duffy and Mrs. John Brown. Refreshments were served. Among the guests were Mrs. Lee, Hurley, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Charles Millett, Mr. and Mrs. George Moorehead, Miss Mary Connors, Miss Louise Connors, Miss Celia Connors and Grace Brown.

It will interest many to know that the Industrial school constructing a considerable amount of furniture to be used in the schools. It now has under way four teachers' desks for the Atherton House school, teachers' tables, umbrella racks and sewing tables. The amount and quality of the work done at the school is very satisfactory. Orders will be accepted for joint work, all of which will be of the best possible construction.

A neighborhood meeting of the Young People's Religious Union was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the First church and was largely attended. The speaker was Mr. Brown, manager of the Floating hospital, who gave an interesting talk on the work of the hospital. There was special music in charge of Miss Catherine Saville, with Miss Edith Hyland as soloist. A social hour followed at the close of the meeting at which time light refreshments were served by Miss Marie Brooks and Miss Marian Edwards.

BRIEFS

Everett Harkins of Adams street has entered St. Lawrence college at Montreal, Canada. He expects to study medicine.

Col. Henry L. Kincaid was elected as one of the directors of the Massachusetts Trust Company at its annual meeting Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Whitten who were to have gone to New York on a few days pleasure trip Tuesday but who were delayed by the storm left Friday for that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Garret Robinson of Upland road are the parents of a 14 pound boy, one of the heaviest babies born in 1914, and one of the last that year.

The successful players at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening were Moses L. Brown and Horace F. Spear. A Dutch lunch was served following the tournament.

Henry B. Sheahan of this city who is receiving subscriptions for the American Hospital at Lyons is anxious to send at least $50 to the hospital. He acknowledges $25 toward the fund received.

Granite Conclave, Improved Order Heptasoph met in Protection hall Thursday evening and arranged for its installation of officers on Feb. 25. The work will be under the direction of District Deputy Thomas Galvin of Hyde Park.

Mrs. Charles Chase and Miss Maud Briggs will be the delegates from Christ Church Sunday school to attend the missionary conference of the Sunday School Union Monday afternoon at Pilgrim hall, Beacon street, Boston.

Wednesday Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church gave a stirring address at the Merrimack Valley conference at Haverhill, on the Universalist Evangelism. It was well received and reported in several papers as of vital interest.

A class in parliamentary law, complimentary to the members of the Quincy Women's club, is to be started Monday afternoon at half-past two at the clubhouse, under the auspices of the Legislative committee of the club. The lessons will be held every fortnight.

Rev. William E. Grainger of Canton, who will become rector of Christ church on Feb. 1, was in Quincy Thursday looking over the church and rectory. He was accompanied by Mrs. Grainger who had never been in the city before. Rev. Mr. Grainger will move here on Feb. 1, and will preach his first sermon on Feb. 7.

A large number of workmen from this city returned to work this week at the Kneeland Shoe shop in Braintree. The shop will start on full time Monday. This announcement will be received with pleasure by a large number from this city who have not worked a full week since early in the fall.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane of Elm street will be glad to learn that Dr. Spillane's health is improving in the bracing air of Saranac lake in the Adirondacks. They go for a forty-minute walk each morning and evening. The thermometer there has been registering 30 below zero.

L. I. one of eight submarines under construction at the Fore River shipyard for the United States government will be launched next Wednesday. The ship when placed in commission will be the biggest of its kind afloat. The seven others are in various stages of construction and launchings of at least three more will take place within a short time.

Fragment Society of the First Parish church is to hold an all day meeting in the chapel Wednesday beginning at ten o'clock, to sew for the Belgians. Lunch will be served at 12:30. Already two large cases of new dresses and mufflers have been sent to the Belgians through Mrs. Firth and it is hoped the members of the parish will respond generously at Wednesday's meeting.

Miss Marie Cushing who will be sponsor of the torpedo boat destroyer Cushing to be launched at the Fore River shipyard this morning, her sister Miss Katherine Cushing, and her mother, Mrs. Wm. B. Cushing, widow of the hero in whose honor the ship is to be named, were the guests of President Powell of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation at a theatre party in Boston Thursday evening.

A goodly delegation of the O. U. B. class of the Universalist Sunday school attended the state rally in the vestry of the Universalist church at Cambridgeport Tuesday evening despite the storm. The rally was presided over by the state convention at Springfield, Jan. 22 and 23. The delegates in and around Boston have chartered a special car on the B. & A. R. R. for the trip and several are going from Quincy.

William Burke who has been a reporter for 50 years visited friends in this city Thursday. Mr. Burke is managing editor of the East Wind and other Plymouth county papers published by Mr. E. Strowich, his sister. He organized the Burkes of America some years ago and established branches in many large cities. One, in Brockton, is in a flourishing condition. Mr. Burke is the father of Myron Burke, base ball expert of the Boston American.

A very enjoyable whist party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. C. Sullivan, Bridge street in honor of Mrs. McArmeny of Gloucester. Mrs. McArmeny who is an accomplished musician rendered beautifully several selections and Miss Helen Griffin recited "From the Balcony" receiving appreciative applause.

Whist was enjoyed, souper being given by Mrs. McArmeny with the highest order and Mrs. O'Hara, second, each receiving handsome presents. The consolation, a set of carved brushes, went to Mrs. J. D. Griffin. The hostess served refreshments.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Universalist church, Rev. M. C. Ward takes up the question, "Is the world growing better?" giving a few of the most significant facts, and conclusions of some of the most eminent observers. Then he will consider how the church has met this situation, and what is its spirit in answer to the challenge of the situation. What in human duty and divine power is to meet it? Miss Sigrid Lundquist soprano, will sing and the talented violinist, Miss Edith Conroy will play. The 415 Y. P. C. U. will be followed by a social hour.

A social and whist party was held Thursday evening at the home of William Kusner of 210 Willard street. Whist was enjoyed for an hour and a half. The souper for the highest points were won by Adam Kusner and the consolation prize by Frank Schaefer. After the whist a social hour followed. The 415 Y. P. C. U. was followed by a social hour.

The quarterly meeting of the Universalists of the Old Colony district will be held at North Weymouth next Wednesday. Rev. George E. Leighton, state superintendent will deliver an address on "A study in churchly situations," at eleven o'clock. Dinner will be followed by business session. There are several speakers for the afternoon meeting at 1:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

OLD COLONY ASSOCIATION.
The quarterly meeting of the Universalists of the Old Colony district will be held at North Weymouth next Wednesday. Rev. George E. Leighton, state superintendent will deliver an address on "A study in churchly situations," at eleven o'clock. Dinner will be followed by business session. There are several speakers for the afternoon meeting at 1:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

BRIEFS

Bethany church will hold the annual meeting on next Wednesday.

Rural lodge, A. F. and A. M., will hold a ladies night on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 27.

The annual meeting of the City Hospital Trustees will be held Monday evening.

The city's New Year presents to the citizens of Quincy are water bills. Citizens are given until Feb. 10 to pay.

Most of the officers at City Hall are supplied with calendars from the Stone-Underhill Co., which were sent out by ex-Mayor Stone.

The Catholic Women's Club play "The Real Thing," will be given in Alpha hall on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 26. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis is coach.

Thursday was conference day with Mayor Campbell. He was present at conferences in Boston at 10, 11 and 12 and 1 o'clock, and then in the afternoon at 2:30 at City Hall.

The Young Men's club of the Swedish Congregational church will hold a meeting Monday evening at the home of Chas. A. Johnson, Granite street. Fred Erickson, will read a paper on "Moses" and Robert Jakobson, will read a paper on "Gustaf Wassa, the great Swedish king."

The play at the weekly whist party of the Ladies Aid Association, in Odd Fellows' hall Thursday was close and exciting and the winners were Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. M. Levanie, Mrs. Adeline Young, Miss M. Lizzie Farnall, Mrs. Annie T. Thompson and Mrs. Mary A. Jegan.

Edward J. Pagan who had charge of the matter of securing a charter for the G. A. R. Post 88 Aid association reported Friday morning that the charter came down from the Secretary of State Wednesday. President Whitton of the association will now take immediate steps to get his committee at work in the different wards raising subscriptions to the fund.

Miss Elizabeth O'Connell entertained her associate members of the Samoset Club at her home on Richmond street on Thursday evening. The club voted to hold its annual banquet in the near future and a valet the party on the evening of Feb. 14. The business session was followed by a social hour during which an entertainment was given and a collation served.

WEST QUINCY

The many friends of Miss Helen Lyons of West street will be sorry to hear that she has been taken to Carney Hospital where she will undergo a serious operation.

The Glenora girls held their regular meeting Friday Jan. 8 at the home of Miss Mary T. Doyle on West street. After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed by all. Men were allowed to enter after the meeting concluded. Mildred Donaher rendered a few solos while Caroline Reinhalter played by piano. William Schaefer gave an exhibition dance. Refreshments were served by the girls.

C. Chiavrol, former proprietor of the West Quincy Tailor Shop, who sold out his business to go across to Italy and who broke his leg a few days before he was to sail is able to be about again with the use of a cane.

George A. Reinhalter of 116 Willard street left Tuesday on a business trip through the state of Maine. He will be away about two weeks.

The Echo Social club of West Quincy held a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of William R. McDonald on Revere street. This club is composed of fifteen well known young men of the section who entertain their friends at their cottage at Nantasket during the summer months. Their cottage last year was the scene of many good times. They intend to spend the winter of this year in their new cottage a larger and better success than last. They had a six room cottage well situated on Bay street last year but are contemplating taking a larger and better one this year. After the election of officers an hour was devoted to talking over the prospects of a good time for the coming season.

James Knox of Weymouth, county secretary of the Hibernians, accompanied by a large suite will install the officers of Div. 5, A. O. H. in their hall on Franklin street Tuesday evening.

Edward Ferguson, a 17 year old shipbuilder of this city mistaken for an eloper in the North station Thursday by a policeman and delayed several hours in making a start for the shipyard at Montreal, Canada, was the butt of many good natured jokes on the trip.

QUANTUM

The women of the First church of Quantum assembled in the church vestry Wednesday evening and had an enjoyable social affair. It was a get-together of the church workers and a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served and games played. Mrs. Richardson, president of the Ladies Aid society assisted by Mrs. James H. Sumner had charge of the affair which was a great success. Rev. T. W. Davison spoke briefly of the fine work being done by the ladies.

Owing to the northeast gale Tuesday night only nine members of the Quantum Improvement association braved the storm and met at the regular monthly meeting in Richards Memorial hall. As a consequence the business of the evening was put over to the next regular meeting and those at the meeting enjoyed an evening of whist.

Mrs. Ethel Jones Bostwick of Quantum and Miss Hersom of Pittsburgh were the artists appearing before the Hudson Women's club Wednesday afternoon at a musicale. Mrs. Bostwick is well known as an accompanist and Miss Hersom as a contralto soloist.

Russell Rich of Quantum has returned from a four months business trip to Canada. He is enjoying the best of health.

OLD COLONY ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Universalists of the Old Colony district will be held at North Weymouth next Wednesday. Rev. George E. Leighton, state superintendent will deliver an address on "A study in churchly situations," at eleven o'clock. Dinner will be followed by business session. There are several speakers for the afternoon meeting at 1:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

WOLLASTON

His Honor, Mayor Chester I. Campbell is to address the men Sunday at the Wollaston Baptist church.

Miss Marion L. Moorhouse of Wollaston played two cello solos at the concert given this week Tuesday by the Chromatic club at hotel Tulleries, Boston.

Fred Bent is night watchman, for the present, at the Tubular River Works.

At the Wollaston Young People's Religious Union meeting in the Unitarian vestry tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Georgiana Cushing Lane is to give an address upon "Early Religious Symbols." The public is cordially invited.

Rev. F. H. Steenstra, Miss Paddon and Archibald H. Briggs are delegates from St. Chrysostom's Sunday school to the ninth annual missionary Sunday school conference at Pilgrim hall, Boston, Monday afternoon at five o'clock.

Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra is to begin Sunday evening at St. Chrysostom's parish house a series of talks on the history of the church, confirmation by Bishop Babcock on Sunday Feb. 21.

Edward C. Wales of Newton street quietly observed his seventy-fifth birthday Monday, Mrs. Wales entertaining a few out of town relatives in his honor.

Many friends of Albert W. Fay of Wollaston will be sorry to learn that he suffered a slight stroke on his left side Sunday morning.

A well attended meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Wollaston Baptist church was held January 8th. At the business session it was voted to start a contest to secure better attendance Sunday evenings and to secure better efficiency. At present the percentage of attendance and efficiency is only 23-1-3. After the session games were played and light refreshments served.

Miss Eva O. Wheeler of Wollaston has been visiting Miss Adelaide L. Day of Beverly Farms.

Mr. Walter Allen, clerk of St. Chrysostom's church is ill at his home on Hamilton street. He is suffering from congestion of the lungs.

The Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League will hold its twenty-sixth annual meeting at Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, on January 29 and 30. The secretary and treasurer of the league are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Planch of Wollaston, treasurer of the Wollaston Co-operative Bank.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mrs. Irving Kemp of Bennington street is recovering after a serious attack of rheumatism.

Anna, the 10 year old daughter of Peter McConarty of Pearl street is confined to her home with the measles.

Miss Mary Alexander, 33 Bennington street, has returned from a three weeks visit with friends at Peabody and Beverly.

John Hughes, a long time South Quincy resident, died at his home at 92 Pleasant street, Sunday in his 66th year. He was well known in this city and is survived by several children.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Cutler who were recently married are home from their honeymoon and are living at 119 Quincy street.

Alexander D. Smith one of the granite manufacturers at South Quincy is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are given as $3,105.59 and his assets as $394.25.

Many leaks were discovered in the roof of the new building Thursday and the tinting on the walls and ceiling of many of the rooms has been practically ruined by water.

The Adams Parents-Teachers Association will meet next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wm. Planch, Wollaston, pastor of the Bethany Congregational church will speak on "Co-operation between Home and School."

Edward Ferguson, a 17 year old shipbuilder of this city mistaken for an eloper in the North station Thursday by a policeman and delayed several hours in making a start for the shipyard at Montreal, Canada, was the butt of many good natured jokes on the trip.

QUANTUM

The women of the First church of Quantum assembled in the church vestry Wednesday evening and had an enjoyable social affair. It was a get-together of the church workers and a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served and games played. Mrs. Richardson, president of the Ladies Aid society assisted by Mrs. James H. Sumner had charge of the affair which was a great success. Rev. T. W. Davison spoke briefly of the fine work being done by the ladies.

Owing to the northeast gale Tuesday night only nine members of the Quantum Improvement association braved the storm and met at the regular monthly meeting in Richards Memorial hall. As a consequence the business of the evening was put over to the next regular meeting and those at the meeting enjoyed an evening of whist.

Mrs. Ethel Jones Bostwick of Quantum and Miss Hersom of Pittsburgh were the artists appearing before the Hudson Women's club Wednesday afternoon at a musicale. Mrs. Bostwick is well known as an accompanist and Miss Hersom as a contralto soloist.

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Redfern of Nova Scotia is spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Pickett of Boston street.

Mrs. H. H. Barker of Lakeside, R. I. has been the guest of her daughter Mrs. F. F. Davidson of Newbury avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Clark of Walker street have gone to Attleboro, where Mr. Clark's mother is undergoing an operation.

Mrs. George W. Hill of Walker street has almost wholly recovered from a bronchial cold.

Mrs. Isabel S. Smith of Hollis avenue entertained her son from Taunton over the week end.

Mrs. B. F. Thomas of Billings street entertained her brother from Nova Scotia this week.

Owing to the storm Wednesday the Ladies of Memorial Congregational church postponed their meeting until next Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. A. W. Whitney who recently visited her son Clifton of Atlantic street has returned to her home in Hartford, Conn.

Edwin French of Memorial Congregational church assisted Rev. T. W. Davison at the communion service in the First Church of Scituate Sunday. The growth and stability of the Scituate church have been beyond the expectations of the most optimistic.

The stereopticon lecture by Rev. Lawrence A. Wilson of Butte, Montana Sunday evening brought an unusually large congregation to Memorial church. Mrs. Wilson has the culture of the east with the breeziness and adventure of the west which made a combination pleasing to the audience.

The Criterion Club held its first meeting of the season with Mrs. A. H. Hall of Park road Thursday. Mrs. George Snow and Miss Laura Coles acted as substitutes for Mrs. R. Clarke and Mrs. J. Burke. The afternoon was spent playing whist and piano selections. Buffet lunch was served by the hostess.

The meeting of the Parents' Association of the Association of the Quincy school will occur Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the School hall. The people of Atlantic may anticipate a delightful evening as Rosewell B. Lawrence secretary of the Appalachian Mountain club will give an illustrated talk on "A Trip to the Hawaiian Islands." The views will include both the outward and homeward trip across the continent thus showing some of the beauties of our own land as well as those of the Paradise of the Pacific. The public is invited.

Atlantic is looking forward to the first grand minstrel show of the Quincy club. The six talented and merrily include: Kip Young, Dwight Gearwar, James S. Butler, Robert Kienburgh, Clarence Pendleton of Atlantic and James MacDonald of Quincy, who has appeared in several shows in Quincy, including the Y. M. C. A. last spring. Frank Spicer will be interlocutor and ten of Atlantic's most attractive young ladies will form the front row of the chorus of fifty voices.

Mrs. F. E. Waterhouse of Atlantic street has the sympathy of friends in the death of her brother Percy Butler of Wisconsin.

Richard Hall of Faxon road has returned from a business trip to Maine. William Wragg who has been ill at her home on Bolshof street is convalescing.

James Thomas of 39 Billings road, who was operated upon at the Quincy City Hospital this week, is rapidly improving.

LAUNCHING OF CUSHING.

Miss Marie L. Cushing of Fredonia, N. Y., who will be sponsor of the torpedo boat destroyer Cushing to be launched at the Fore River shipyard at 11:30 this morning, arrived in Boston Wednesday and is the guest of friends.

Only a few will witness the launching of the destroyer. The exercises will be followed by a luncheon and there will be a few speeches by prominent officials at the shipyard and by visitors.

Miss Cushing is the daughter of Lieut. Commander Cushing who died in 1873, and whose deeds of valor in sinking the Confederate ram Albatross off Wilmington, N. C., have been honored by naming this vessel for him.

This vessel, until the christening, is recognized as No. 55 of the Class of six Destroyers appropriated by Congress in 1912. She is 305 ft. 3 in. long, 31 ft. in breadth, 18 feet 3 inches in depth and has a displacement of 1050 tons on a mean draft of 9 ft. 5 1/2 inches.

It is the usual torpedo boat destroyer design with high fore-castles, the model which has proved so successful that it has been practically standardized by the Navy Department for this type of vessel.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office, Quincy.
Brown & Co., Quincy.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot.
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point.
H. H. Smith, Quincy Point.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic.
Branches & Martens, Atlantic.
Branches & Martens, Norfolk Downs.
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy.
Edward F. Drach, West Quincy.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton.
South Terminal Station, Boston.

The steady decrease in the number of Boston school pupils who require glasses eloquently tests the value of the work done by the board of health along this line in the last six years.

HUMANITARIAN LEGISLATION.
Governor Walsh's inaugural address serves as a reminder, if one is needed, of the legislation which the people want, and the legislation that men urge who want the people's votes, is humanitarian legislation. The state realizes today as never before its responsibility to the people and is seeking to better their condition by the passage of wise laws.

A FAIR AND SANE DECISION.
If Mayor Campbell means what he says about making his appointments, and we believe he does—he has dealt a serviceable blow to the absurd and harmful theory that the victors belong the spoils. Rather than to be written that to the efficient and honest public servant belongs the office, a theory both fair and wise. Such a theory if put into practice would make for better government.

PASSING OF AN OLD FRIEND.
The passing of the Mayor is to be regretted. More exhilarating, better exercise than walking, it supplied a real need to men and women. There is nothing yet devised which can quite take its place. Some there are who still cling to their old friend. At seven o'clock any morning when the weather and condition of the road permits President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard can be seen wheeling along by Memorial Hall in leisurely enjoyment. Who can say how great a stimulant to that still wonderful brain was the early morning spin.

CITY FINANCES.

City Auditor Fairbanks gives the following figures showing the receipts for water, sewer assessments, sewer house connections and taxes for the year 1914, the figures being given in comparison with those of the years 1913 and 1912.

It will be noticed that the tax collections for the year 1914 were over $75,000 less than in 1913. The smallness in tax collections this year is due in great measure to the general complaint of the assessment levied this year by the assessors, and the collections would have been even less if it had not been for the personal appeal of Acting Mayor Whitton to the citizens to pay up as the city was badly in need of funds.

The delay in payment of taxes has obliged the City Treasurer to renew some of the temporary notes of last year. It is the general opinion that when the personnel of the assessors is announced by the mayor the latter part of the month taxes will begin to come in.

It will also be noticed that the receipts for water are nearly $7,000 in excess of the previous year, which was also due to the persistence of the acting mayor.

TAXES.
1914	$837,030.57
1913	912,332.40
1912	697,436.83
WATER.
1914	$129,651.91
1913	122,638.44
1912	125,655.39
SEWER ASSESSMENTS.
1914	$17,031.04
1913	19,401.22
1912	17,612.05
SEWER HOUSE CONNECTIONS.
1914	$9,711.43
1913	7,335.20
1912	7,850.60

COURT JOHN ADAMS.

Court John Adams No. 144 held its regular meeting Jan. 8 at Clan MacGregor hall.

Election and installation of officers was the principal business. The following officers were elected and inducted into office:

Chief Ranger, James Conway.
Sub Chief Ranger, Joseph Kavanagh.
Treasurer, John Pritchard.
Financial Secretary, Alex. W. Russell.
Recording Secretary, Charles Osborne.
Senior Woodward, Robert B. G. Craig.
Junior Woodward, Henry Allison.
Senior Beadle, Carl A. Carlson.
Junior Beadle, Hugh McEllen.
Trustee for three years, James Reid.
Lecturer, Andrew Murray Pitt.
Physician, Dr. John H. Reynolds.
The installation ceremonies were performed by Deputy Grand Chief Ranger, Daniel F. Ford assisted by William Hebert who acted as Herald.

There was a goodly attendance of Foresters from the various courts and also delegations from Weymouth Lecturer Andrew M. Pirie acted as master of ceremonies and called on the members for songs, stories or readings and no feelings were aroused.

FORE RIVER LODGE.

Fore River Lodge, I. O. O. F. and M. U., elected its officers in the Johnson building Friday Jan. 8 and completed arrangements for the installation on Jan. 22. H. G. Wenzell of Cambridge, provincial corresponding secretary, was unable to be present. The installation will be under the direction of Past Grand Charles W. Sears. The elected:

Noble Grand—James Bruce.
Vice Grand—John Phillips.
Recording Secretary—Oscar Ford.
Financial Secretary—George Pook.
Treasurer—William McLaughlin.
Chaplain—J. H. Lee.
Deputy—John Davidson.

City Council

A clean, intelligent and lively debate on the order authorizing the city treasurer to borrow $500,000 in anticipation of taxes marked Monday night's meeting of the city council as one of the most interesting in a long time and made it clear that the city council of 1915 is to guard zealously its rights, and that any order involving appropriations will be considered carefully before it is passed.

The finance committee reported on the order, which report was accepted. Councilman Smith then offered an amendment to order which brought about the debate. Under the original order the city treasurer if he saw fit could replace any of his outstanding temporary notes by issue of new notes. That is to say, the treasurer was given the power of renewal without consulting to the city council for authority. This is the form in which the temporary loan orders for several years have been passed.

Councilman Smith's amendment struck out the clauses relating to renewal and made it necessary for the city treasurer to come to the council for authority to renew notes.

In presenting his amendment Councilman Smith said: "I do not want to tie the hands of the Mayor for I have the highest regard for his honor and the treasurer. This order which was prepared by the city's staff and should have been passed last year. It allows the treasurer without the assent of the council to renew notes. I believe that the city treasurer should confer with the council before renewing notes. One of the most important rights of the city council is the dictating the loan order and we should guard it zealously. In October and November of last year the treasurer renewed $125,000 temporary notes without consulting the council. Any information in the hands of city officials pertaining to financial matters should be known by the city council. If the treasurer has to issue new notes the council ought to know it. If the council of last year had known the condition of the finances it might have made a difference with some of the salary increases. This amendment simply means that temporary notes can not be renewed without telling us."

Councilman Griffin asked if the council should pass the order with the amendment whether the Old Colony Trust Co., the fiscal agent, would approve it.

City Auditor Fairbanks replied that it would bind the treasurer hand and foot, but he hardly thought it would make any difference to the Old Colony Trust Co.

Councilman Thompson asked if the amendment was accepted if there was anything other to do than for the treasurer to issue his temporary notes for one year, to which the auditor replied in the negative.

Continuing City Auditor Fairbanks said: "It is the opinion of the state treasurer committee that the first notes issued should be short term notes, which could be used as a club over the tax collector to get in taxes."

Councilman Thompson said he saw no reason for the amendment.

Councilman Beaman could see no advantage in the amendment.

Councilman Richards said: "There is no good reason why the order as reported should not pass. Under the amendment the treasurer would have to issue notes for a long time, regardless of the state of the money market. If the treasurer had a right to renew he could take advantage of the money market."

Councilman McDonald could not see why it violated any confidence to pass the order. The renewing of notes should be left to the mayor and treasurer.

Councilman McGrath: "If we vote this Old Colony Trust order we are surrendering our rights. We as a city council want to guard our rights. We do not want to delegate our prerogatives to the city treasurer. I can see no reason why he should not come to the council when he wants renewals. I believe the legislature in forming the loan clause had it in mind to prevent just this thing. I want to uphold the mayor and to uphold the city council. The mayor shall hold to what little authority we have."

Councilman Craig believed in the amendment. The treasurer should not have the power of renewal without coming to the council.

Councilman Slade said if the treasurer had the right to renew he would make his first note to November but if he could not renew it, he would make it for one year.

Calling Councilman Ross to the chair President Whitton took the floor and spoke in favor of the original order: "Anyone can receive any information he desires by inquiry of the auditor. Do you realize that but fifty percent of the tax of 1914 has been collected and that there is but about $60,000 back of this year and only a part of this can be collected. A temporary loan differs from a case where we bond the city. It is simply to provide money for running expenses. Suppose the city council should refuse to renew the notes, it would simply mean that we would be temporarily embarrassed. We are going to save money by allowing the treasurer to renew notes."

Councilman Beaman said: "If we can save money by allowing the treasurer to renew notes then it is good business."

Councilman Griffin could see no advantage in adopting the amendment.

Councilman McGrath said that he had taken the trouble to call up several cities since last Monday and he had found that Quincy was an exception in allowing its treasurer to renew notes. "I have the greatest respect for our mayor but I think we take too much for granted. Cities which I have communicated with believe it to be a good thing for the treasurer to come to the council when he wants to renew notes."

Councilman Richards said: "All notes issued must be paid within one year or renewed."

The amendment was then rejected on a rising vote of 9 yeas and 13 nays.

The order for the second reading was placed in the calendar.

The school committee forwarded to the council the papers relative to the retirement of Samuel D. DeForest, a janitor of the John Hancock school, on a pension, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor rewarded a communication from the secretary of state asking approval of the certificate of incorporation of the Standish Club of Atlantic. The certificate was approved.

The Mayor also forwarded a communication from the commissioner, giving the information asked for in the resolution introduced by Councilman Prescott asking about water consumption. The communication which was an important one was as follows and after reading was placed on file.

Jan. 11, 1915.
Hon. Chester I. Campbell,
Mayor, City of Quincy.

Dear Sir:—
In reply to your request I herewith submit the requested information.

The number of gallons of water supplied to the City of Quincy by the Metropolitan Water System for the year 1914 was 552,000,000. This is exclusive of the amount supplied to Andrews which was 37,031,075 gallons.

About 90 per cent of the services in the city are metered which means that 90 per cent of the water sold is metered but allowance for leakage, services not metered etc. must be made when we consider the total amount of water furnished by the Metropolitan Water System.

The debts of this department would be the outstanding bonds, which amounted to $722,000.00 Jan. 1, 1914. The credits for the year 1914, gross receipts $139,012.85, collectible bills amounting to $6,656.94 and the stock on hand included at the shop, stable and office, $13,100.00.

The number of gallons of water supplied from the Braintree reservoir during 1914 was 65,820,000. The expense of maintaining the Braintree reservoir under ordinary conditions, with the exception of a break in the main, will be very small. During the year 1914 it cost $377.00 for repairs on account of putting the gate house in first class condition, nothing having been done on it for several years. This gate house had window spaces in the three walls and a doorway in the fourth and as the boys used to dive from it, it seemed advisable to close the house up and put in an iron door. The amount of brick work was considerable and the cost was $275.00. The original opening so that it practically meant rebuilding the walls. The house is now completely closed and is kept locked.

The cost of reading the reservoir meter is very little as this meter is read the same time as the other large meters, no special readings being taken.

The income from the reservoir for the year 1914 was $503.00. Referring to the request for the number of gallons as water sold according to a specified sub-division of rates I would say that at the present time it is impossible to give this information as the regular rates are not according to the regular scheduled rates of this department.

Yours very truly,
Moses L. Brown,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Other important matters that were before the council were the orders offered by Councilman Williams. One of these called for an appropriation of $11,000 for the purchase of two auto chemical combinations and increasing the pay of the permanent men. The pay of these men is now fixed at $2.50 per day the first two hours and $2.75 per day thereafter. The amendment provides the salary shall be $900 the first year, $1,000 the second year and $1,100 thereafter. Both of these orders went to the committee on Fire department matters.

Councilman Ross offered orders appropriating $7,600 to pave a part of Quincy street and $1,500 to rebuild Brook avenue. Both referred to the committee on streets.

Councilman Griffin offered an order appropriating $1,500 for furnishing the new part of the Altherton House school. Referred to the finance committee.

Councilman Smith offered a resolution directing the Mayor to petition the legislature to amend the city charter so as to abolish party designations.

He desired the resolution adopted immediately but as there was some opposition it was referred to the committee on legislative matters.

The special committee on the order of Councilman McGrath reported adversely and the report was accepted.

Petition of the street railway company and Electric Light Co. for relocation of poles were granted.

President Whitton then announced his committees and referred matters to their respective committees.

President Whitton announced the assignments to the standing committees for the year 1915 as follows:

Finance Accounts, Claims, Contracts and Salaries—Richards Thompson, Ross, Griffin, Smith, Beaman McGrath.

Streets Ways, Sidewalks, Bridges, and Lights—O'Dowd, Nelson, Craig, Williams, Barnicot, McDonald, Slade, Public Buildings and Grounds—Griffin, Beaman, Bolster, Kessler, Barry.

Sewers, Drains and Water Supply—Craig, Slade, Barry, Gallagher, Ferguson, Fuller, Yule.

Fire Department and Police—Ross, Williams, Bolster, O'Dowd, Barnicot, Ordinances, Licenses, Printing, Rules and Orders—Smith, Thompson, Prescott, Gallagher, Fuller, Ferguson, Yule.

Legislature Matters, Elections and Returns—McDonald, McGrath, Kessler.

Health, Poor, and Soldiers' Relief—Nelson, Prescott, Richards.

NO LOSS OF LIFE.

The alarm from Box 272 at 2:05 Sunday morning was for a fire at the house of William Lee on Thompson street. The fire evidently started in the basement and worked up through the floors and behind the partitions. The fire filled the house full of suffocating smoke. A ceiling fire is one of the most difficult that firemen have to contend with, and this proved no exception to the rule. Chief Billings estimated that the loss will be between $1,000 and $1,500.

That lives were not lost at the fire is due to the daughter of Mr. Lee who was awakened by the smoke which filled her room. Miss Lee jumped out of bed and ran across the floor barefooted, blustering her feet on the hot floor, and rushing through the street to the alarm box in her night robe. As she ran through the house she shouted a warning to the others in the family. But for her quickness more serious results might have followed.

USED PULMOTOR.

The usefulness of the pulmomotor was again demonstrated Saturday, when it was successfully used in bringing to life a newly born infant. The child of a boy was born to the family of Thomas Di Tullio at 79 Union street at 7:30 this morning.

Dr. Hardwick, who was called, found that while the heart of the infant was beating, there was no respiration. A respirator was immediately sent for and the child was placed in it and assisted by Dr. Jones this was applied. The result was almost immediate, for inside of half an hour the infant's lungs were working all right and he is now apparently as healthy and lively as any newly born child.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

(Continued from Page Three.)

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

As so aptly said by the chairman of the afternoon, Tuesday at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club, the gathering represented "quality rather than quantity" the storm preventing only those especially interested in social work from attending.

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president, called for the reports of the clerk and treasurer and made announcements of conferences and club notices, among them a sale on Friday and Saturday at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Brook street, Wollaston.

The club members most beloved of the club member most beloved who had recently passed away, there were beautiful pieces of her handiwork and it was hoped to dispose of all of them.

Among the committee announcements Mrs. Doble for the Clives committee spoke of "The Revels" to be held Friday night at Quincy Music hall, assuring those attending a jolly time. Mrs. Mellen, Education, announced a card party at the clubhouse Jan. 29 from 2 to 4 to raise money for the school nurse. No prizes would be given. Whist, bridge and other games would be played and those wishing to attend could subscribe to members of her committee.

Mrs. P. S. Neldon, president of the newly organized Queen Esther Circle reported that a box of new children's clothes made by the members, were sent to the East Boston Medical Mission at Christmas and that the Circle had pledged $15.00 to help a Mexican girl in one of the Mission schools.

The district superintendent, by unanimous vote of the board was requested to return the pastor for an offering.

The following committees were appointed by the pastor for the coming year:

Trustees: Robert Newcomb, H. F. Doble, P. W. Fuller, C. J. Jones, A. Goucher, J. M. Francis, Henry George D. H. McNeill, Albert Clark.

Stewards: P. W. Fuller, Charles S. Jones, Robert Newcomb, John Pearce, J. J. Nichols, J. M. Francis, C. A. Goucher, A. D. Stewart, Francis J. M. Francis, Mrs. F. L. Badger, Alice McCormick, Edna Burke.

Home Missions: A. D. Stewart, J. M. Francis, Mrs. F. W. Fuller, Jennie Manhire, Edna Miller.

Freemason's Aid: Arthur Jordan, Susan Edwards, Rita Hunter, Robert McCormick.

Sunday School: Mrs. Robert Newcomb, Mrs. Grace Wentzel, D. H. McNeill.

Tracts: Ernest Briggs, Elizabeth Conway, Addie Newcomb, Harold McCormick.

Temperance: Warren Jordan, Ethel Newcomb, Ethel Nichols, Harold Norris.

Education: Jessie Burke, Mrs. A. D. Stewart, Mrs. J. M. Francis.

Church Records: J. M. Francis.

Auditing Committee: Edward Newcomb, C. A. Goucher.

Parsonage & Furniture: Ladies Aid Society.

Church Music: C. A. Goucher, Miss Hilda Francis, Miss M. K. Shibley.

Estimating Committee: A. D. Stewart, C. A. Goucher, Robert Newcomb.

DIVISION 22 A. O. H.

Convey Secretary James Knox and wife installed the officers of Div. 22 A. O. H. in their hall on Copeland street, Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large number of visitors.

With the close of the ritual came speeches by Mr. Knox, State Treasurer, Dennis J. Slattery, Pres. James E. O'Dowd, Div. 3, of Randolph, Pres. John J. Donohue, Div. 5, of Quincy, Pres. Edward Finn, Div. 4, of West Quincy, Pres. Edward Shea, Past President Michael McNally, Edward J. Fegan and William Shanahan, all of Div. 17 of Atlantic.

A concert program was rendered by Richard Callahan of Cohasset, H. H. of Hingham, James J. Donovan, of Div. 22 and Daniel Scully of Div. 4. The officers installed were:

President—James O'Dowd.
Vice President—Richard E. Barry.
Recording Secretary—Joseph J. McNally.

Financial Secretary—James J. McDonald.

Treasurer—John S. Dolan.

Chairman of Standing Committee—John Collins.

NO QUINCY CATHOLIC CLUB.

The annual election of the Catholic Club of North Quincy, whose membership is largely from Wollaston, Atlantic and Squantum resulted as follows: John J. Cussick, president; Philip R. Quinn, vice-president; E. F. Flynn, recording secretary; Carl J. Mallick, financial secretary; Frank L. Aulback, treasurer. After a warm contest for the board of directors, W. T. Moran, L. A. Twitcheil, Edward McMillen, Edward Gallagher and William Stone were elected.

Installation of officers will take place on the 22nd of January after which a banquet will be served by a Boston caterer. The first of the series of winter dancing parties will be held in the second week in February.

The Bowling Club held its weekly contest on Friday evening at Murray's Alley and a team selected to roll against the Norfolk Lodge of Redmen on next Wednesday evening. Philip R. Guyon was chosen captain.

The bowling team is ambitious to meet teams from other clubs and societies to Quincy and will be taken care of by W. J. Stone of Wollaston.

The usefulness of the pulmomotor was again demonstrated Saturday, when it was successfully used in bringing to life a newly born infant. The child of a boy was born to the family of Thomas Di Tullio at 79 Union street at 7:30 this morning.

Dr. Hardwick, who was called, found that while the heart of the infant was beating, there was no respiration. A respirator was immediately sent for and the child was placed in it and assisted by Dr. Jones this was applied. The result was almost immediate, for inside of half an hour the infant's lungs were working all right and he is now apparently as healthy and lively as any newly born child.

Many ways of trying to get ahead. One is for every member of a family to be a separate application. As they usually are scattered after the fire much relief can be obtained at first in this way but afterward when notes are compared the result does not seem satisfactory to the family.

At first the frauds brought a lot but after a while the other folks have a better chance. It was a bit hard to reach many people who would not apply, but they had to have an appearance receiving charity.

Miss Frances G. Curtis with her experience on the State Board of Charity and in dealing with the State's reform wards and school children, gave a most comprehensive sketch of the work of a school visitor as supplementing the work of a school nurse. As the club is about to install a nurse in the Quincy schools her talk was of particular interest. There are 40 school nurses in Boston, all busy. The doctors work is followed by the nurse, and that of the doctor and nurse by the school visitor. The visitor is the intelligent friend of the family—a help to parent and child, a connecting link between the school and the home. If the doctor and nurse see the necessity of caring for a child's eyes, ears, teeth or nutrition, the visitor takes it up with the mother in a friendly way so that the child shall get its education without being handicapped. It required tact, education and kindly feeling on the part of the visitor if results are to follow.

Mrs. Hunting spoke of what it was like to accomplish in Quincy with a school nurse.

Miss Lillian P. Richards representing the Massachusetts Association of Women Workers spoke most interestingly of the work. The Young Women's club had recently become affiliated with this Association and hence the subject was timely here. The Association work proceeded settlement work. It taught organization, club life and self government by the girls. There are classes in cooking, sewing, social hours, etc. A common meeting ground was as necessary for the club as the work.

Fred R. Johnson spoke of the unemployed, a very serious problem just now. It was almost impossible to relieve in the mass, for there were those who were out of employment from necessity, those who preferred idleness to work, the indolent, etc. Each has to be taken as a unit. What to do for the type of men willing to work and without employment was the question. Employers were urged to run their factories a few days a week instead of all the time and laying off part of help.

Mr. Johnson said if women had work to be done in the home such as washing, cooking, etc. it would relieve the situation to have it done now instead of waiting until spring. The unemployed is not a question for municipality, state or country but for individual. Begin with ones neighbors and work outwards, same as the Quincy Associated Charities was doing. Unemployed insurance might be feasible as in Europe. The trade unions have insurance. Work for the unemployed must be steady, not blavens for the type to the public, not spectacular.

All the speakers received close attention and appreciative applause at the close of the talk. A delicious refreshment was served. The speakers followed during which hot chocolate and cake were served. The speakers were Mrs. Charles H. Porter and Mrs. Ellen W. Sheppard. The hostess was Mrs. Elden G. Howe, assisted by Mrs. Andrews, Miss Taber, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Schulze and Mrs. Prescott.

ABIGAIL PHILLIPS D. A. R.

Mrs. Frank C. Blake entertained the members of Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter D. A. R. Monday afternoon at her home 56 Elm avenue Wollaston. Mrs. I. F. Waterhouse the recent president.

At the business meeting the most important transaction was the unanimous vote to give the sum of $25. to the support of Paul Revere post. G. A. R. for the coming year. Mrs. W. H. Spooner sang "Down in the Forest" very expressively, accompanied by Mrs. Edith Barry at the piano.

The chief of the afternoon "Building of Bunker Hill monument" was read by Miss Susan B. Willard, recent of the Old Colony chapter at Hingham.

It was of special interest to Quincy people as the erection of the monument was so closely connected with the history of the city. The architect and superintendent of Bunker Hill monument lived, died and is buried in Quincy. The Willard school standing near his last resting place commemorates his name. It has been said that any mention of the building of the monument could not be made without giving a history of Mr. Willard's life as he was so intimately connected with it for many years.

Mr. Willard invented several machines for the purpose of handling the immense blocks of granite used in the construction of the monument. It was that he walked over 300 miles before he found granite suitable for the undertaking in the quarry at West Quincy.

The first railroad in the United States was constructed to convey the blocks of granite from the quarry to the site of the monument.

The cornerstone of the monument was laid June 17, 1825 when General Lafayette was present and while the actual work of completion was done July 23, 1842, the celebration did not occur until the 68th anniversary of the battle the following year.

Mr. Willard was the great uncle of the speaker, Miss Susan Willard.

Mrs. Spooner sang "Where Blossoms Grow" very pleasingly. The hostess, Mrs. Blake assisted by Mrs. E. J. Amerson, Mrs. J. K. Barber, Mrs. G. B. Damon and Mrs. E. O. Woodward who poured, served most delicious and dainty refreshments. A large number of members. Bouquets of cut flowers graced the tables.

MINISTERS ASSOCIATION.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell was the guest of the Quincy Minister's Association at the T. M. C. A. Tuesday morning. His Honor discussed a few of the moral problems of his office. Mayor Campbell invited the ministers to cooperate with him.

The association expressed confidence in the Mayor and pledged their hearty co-operation in every way that would help build the city.

Rev. Dr. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church, president of the association presided and A. P. Bromley of the Y. M. C. A. was secretary of the meeting. There were 14 present.

It was voted to hold a general exchange of pulpits on March 14.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING.

The annual parish meeting of St. Chrysostom's church was held Monday evening in the assembly room of the new parish house.

Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, the rector, was in the chair and opened with prayer. Theodore Parker was elected temporary clerk. John W. Atkins read the treasurer's report.

The chair appointed Archibald H. Briggs and David J. Fulton tellers and the polls were declared open after opportunity has been given those entitled to vote, a chance to sign the constitution and by-laws.

Mrs. Steenstra said the financial condition gives considerable ground for satisfaction and should be as a stimulus to increase effort both by the vestry and parishioners. The parish house is at last a reality and the parish is supplied with adequate equipment for service. He declared that the support of the church is as much one's duty as support of the city.

He hoped, he said, that this new committee of the vestry would have the co-operation of every one affiliated with the church their duties would be greatly reduced by people meeting them half way in their efforts to put the parish finances upon a former business foundation. The question of apportionment has been met he said.

The secretaries of the different organizations were then asked for their reports. Miss Amy Rhodes for the Altar Guild, Mrs. Herbert H. Abbe for the Rummage bag fund, Mrs. Herbert L. Packard for Church Periodical club work, Miss Miss Thompson for the Junior Auxiliary, Miss Nellie M. Weeks, for the Girls Friendly society, Miss Annie Clegg for the Woman's Guild, Mrs. David L. Jewell for Missionary committee of the woman's guild, Percy L. Davidson for the Church, George J. Poch for the Sunday school responded. Herbert F. Price, superintendent of the Sunday school, said that the high water mark of attendance had nearly been reached.

Mr. Price read a letter from Miss Jenny M. Puchane, thanking the school for their varied contributions at Christmas which enabled her, as secretary of the Associated charities to give assistance to twelve families besides many individuals.

Frank E. Cleveland, for several years senior warden, was given a vote of thanks. His resignation has been accepted with much regret.

The chair appointed a nomination committee—Percy L. Davidson, George Horie, William Conner, Mrs. David L. Jewell, and Mrs. William Klagenhausen. The highest vote in the history of parish elected these officers for the year.

Senior warden—Edward F. Parlee. Junior warden—Percy L. Davidson. Treasurer—John W. Atkins. Clerk—George E. Allen. Vestrymen—Herbert F. Price, Horie, W. Richmond, J. Willard Hallett, Henry B. Barham, Theodore Parker. Delegates to Diocesan convention—David L. Jewell, Edward F. Parlee, Frank E. Cleveland.

Delegates to Arch-diocesan convention for 1916—George Horie, George J. Poch, Mrs. Ann K. Lee. Mr. Steenstra said every one who has given to the new parish house is glad he gave but that the retiring senior warden Frank E. Cleveland as architect of the building had given his services an amount difficult to estimate as his plans, considering the floor space, were wonderful when compared with the cost. Mr. Cleveland was given a rising vote of thanks.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Frederick S. Waite, Mrs. J. Willard Hallett, Mrs. Howard D. Fowler, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer and Mrs. George F. S. Pearce.

STEEL FIRE ESCAPES.

Chief Billings Tuesday notified the proprietor of the Waverly house at 577, 575 and 573 Washington street that they must tear down the wooden fire escape on the building and replace it with a steel fire escape. The proprietors of the house have thirty days in which to comply with the order. Chief Billings said that the building was one of four floors and accommodated 32 boarders.

The chief also notified the parties occupying the property at 581, 583A and 583B Washington street, owned by the Benjamin Johnson heirs, that they must build a fire proof room in which to keep their paints and oil. The chief said that they were keeping paints and oils on the first floor and they were notified verbally that they would have thirty days in which to build a fire proof room.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED.

Mayor Campbell Tuesday announced the following minor appointments:

SPECIAL POLICE.
George E. Oyle
Thomas J. Fallon, Jr.
David L. Gordon
William J. DeCoste
Edward J. Sandberg
Henry J. Matthews
Joseph R. O'Neill
Lawrence J. de Galvin
George F. Hollingshead
Edward J. Martell
Malcolm C. Stewart

FENCE VIEWERS.

Frank Fossenden Crane
John A. Duggan
John Evans

POUND KEEPER.

William J. Vaughan

BOSTON TO PAY TAXES.

As a result of a conference between City Solicitor Pinkham and the law department of the City of Boston it has been decided by the City of Boston that it will be economical for the City of Boston to pay to the City of Quincy the $10,000 which is due for taxes on property located at Squantum.

While a formal offer has not as yet been made to Quincy it is intimated that Boston desires to sell the property in question to Quincy, with the stipulation that it shall be set apart as a public park.

SERVICES FOR MRS. MARKHAM.

The funeral of Ellen Markham was held Tuesday afternoon from her home, Sea street and Market avenue, Houghs Neck and was well attended.

Rev. W. J. Sayre of the Union chapel at Houghs Neck officiated at the services. The body was taken to the Massachusetts Crematorium at Forest Hills for cremation.

SUIT IN EQUITY.

A suit in equity brought by Charles H. Wilson, a lawyer, against his step-mother, Sarah E. Wilson, to recover as administrator of the estate of his father, Charles Wilson of Quincy, 50 shares of stock, worth $10,000, he alleged she induced his father while of unsound mind to convey to her, went on trial Monday in the Pemberton Square court, Boston in the equity session before Judge Wait.

The late Mr. Wilson was a general contractor who resided in Quincy and died April 8, 1913. He left an estate worth $50,000. His first wife died in 1896, leaving one son, the complainant.

He married his second wife, Miss Sarah E. Whiting, in 1898, some fifteen years ago. She is well known in Quincy making her home before her marriage with her sister Mrs. Francis F. Brewer with whom she has also resided since the death of Mr. Wilson.

On April 4, 1912, it is alleged the late Mr. Wilson called Henry M. Faxon, treasurer of the Quincy Electric Light & Power Company, to his house through a letter, that when he arrived Wilson transferred 50 shares of stock of that company he held to Faxon. It is alleged, "I want you to keep this quiet, and particularly not to let my son know of it." The son seeks to set aside this transfer.

FAKE TELEPHONE INSPECTOR.

Telephone subscribers are warned to look out for a fake telephone inspector who is visiting subscribers claiming to be looking for trouble. The first case reported to the company comes from Braintree where a young man apparently about 24 years of age, well dressed and of pleasing manner knocked at the door of the home of Mrs. A. A. Maxham of 21 Fenwick avenue.

He informed her that he was a telephone inspector. Entering the house he tried to have Mrs. Maxham leave him so that he might work alone, and suggested that she remain upstairs while he was at work down stairs. Mrs. Maxham became suspicious, however, and persisted in following the fellow about. Finding that he could not shake her, he said "I guess there is no trouble here," and left. Mrs. Maxham immediately called the telephone exchange and reported the incident.

Mr. Scott, the commercial agent, says that telephone subscribers should be careful about admitting anyone who claim to be inspectors into their homes. Every authorized inspector is supplied with an official badge bearing the words "Inspector, New England Telephone & Telegraph Co." If the man cannot show such a

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 4.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1421 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
a one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LANDS FOR SALE

MERRY MOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

JOHN W. MCANARNEY

Coursellor At-Law

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1880 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

A. M. JAMESON

Real Estate and Insurance

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HAIRFORD, CONN. Charter Perpetual

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

BE MODERN

in your bath. Be good to yourself.

THE A. T. STEARNS LUMBER COMPANY

Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

COAL ADVANCED.

The price of certain kinds of coal

WATER DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has started an investigation

TRIBUTES OF LIBRARY.

The corps in charge of the Thomas

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

OUR PLEDGE.

I hereby promise, God helping me,

ABOUT PERSONAL LIBERTY.

We confine the insane the epileptic

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS

Order Your

STORM PORCHES

-- AND --

STORM WINDOWS

At Once.

Everything in wood and woodwork.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Offices:

Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Now that the charter of the G. A. R. Post 88 Relief Association has been received the association is ready to receive contributions to the fund.

All checks or contributions should be sent to the treasurer, Walter E. Piper, 206 Centre street, by whom they will be acknowledged. Anyone who subscribes $5 or more becomes a member of the association for that year and is entitled to a vote. While it is of course desirable that contributions to the fund should be of that amount, and contributions, no matter how small will be received and acknowledged.

Mr. Piper reports that a number of persons and societies have made contributions which have not yet been received. Now that the charter has arrived there need be no further hesitancy in sending along contributions.

It is the intention of the association to call another mass meeting at an early date.

COULDN'T BE DONE.

Edgar A. Guest.

Somebody said that it couldn't be done

But he with the chuckle replied:

"That 'Mayne it couldn't' but he would be one."

Who wouldn't say so till he tried.

So he buckled right in, with a trace

of a grin.

On his face, if it worried, he hid it.

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Scarcely he said: "Oh, you'll never

do that—"

At least no one has ever done it;

But he took off his coat, and he took off his hat.

And the first thing we knew he'd begun it.

With a lift of his chin and a bit of a

grin.

Without any doubting or quailing,

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands who'll tell you it cannot be done.

There are thousands who prophesy

failure.

There are thousands to point out to

you, one by one.

The dangers that wait to assail you

But just buckle in with a bit of a

grin.

Then take off your coat and go to it.

Just start in to sing as you tackle the

thing.

That "cannot be done"—and you'll

do it.

THE PEARL SCARFPIN.

Jack Herkimer was a very pleasant fellow. He was popular with both men and women. Flaxen haired, blue-

eyed, a boyish face on a massive figure, good natured, careless of others, he drew about him so many friends that he found it difficult to avoid distressing them from an inability to accept

and return all the favors they lav-

ished upon him.

One day Jack was sitting in a street car when a young lady got in. She sat for a few moments oblivious to the fact that persons are not expected to ride in street cars for nothing, then

made a dive for her portmanteau, supposed to be contained in the bag she carried. There was a succession of dives, each more spasmodic than the last, then she arose and started to leave the car without stopping it.

Jack interposed. "Pardon me," he said, placing himself in front of her,

COULDN'T BE DONE.

Edgar A. Guest.

Somebody said that it couldn't be done

But he with the chuckle replied:

"That 'Mayne it couldn't' but he

would be one."

Who wouldn't say so till he tried.

So he buckled right in, with a trace

of a grin.

On his face, if it worried, he hid it.

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Scarcely he said: "Oh, you'll never

do that—"

At least no one has ever done it;

But he took off his coat, and he took

off his hat.

And the first thing we knew he'd

begun it.

With a lift of his chin and a bit of a

grin.

Without any doubting or quailing,

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands who'll tell you it

cannot be done.

There are thousands who prophesy

failure.

There are thousands to point out to

you, one by one.

The dangers that wait to assail you

But just buckle in with a bit of a

grin.

Then take off your coat and go to it.

Just start in to sing as you tackle the

thing.

That "cannot be done"—and you'll

do it.

THE PEARL SCARFPIN.

Jack Herkimer was a very pleasant

fellow. He was popular with both men and women. Flaxen haired, blue-

eyed, a boyish face on a massive figure, good natured, careless of others, he drew about him so many friends that

he found it difficult to avoid distressing them from an inability to accept

and return all the favors they lav-

ished upon him.

One day Jack was sitting in a street car when a young lady got in. She sat for a few moments oblivious to

the fact that persons are not expected

to ride in street cars for nothing, then

made a dive for her portmanteau, supposed to be contained in the bag she carried. There was a succession of

dives, each more spasmodic than the

last, then she arose and started to

leave the car without stopping it.

Jack interposed. "Pardon me," he

said, placing himself in front of her,

COULDN'T BE DONE.

Edgar A. Guest.

Somebody said that it couldn't be done

But he with the chuckle replied:

"That 'Mayne it couldn't' but he

would be one."

Who wouldn't say so till he tried.

So he buckled right in, with a trace

of a grin.

On his face, if it worried, he hid it.

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Scarcely he said: "Oh, you'll never

do that—"

At least no one has ever done it;

But he took off his coat, and he took

off his hat.

And the first thing we knew he'd

begun it.

With a lift of his chin and a bit of a

grin.

Without any doubting or quailing,

He started to sing as he tackled the

thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands who'll tell you it

cannot be done.

There are thousands who prophesy

failure.

There are thousands to point out to

you, one by one.

The dangers that wait to assail you

But just buckle in with a bit of a

grin.

Then take off your coat and go to it.

Just start in to sing as you tackle the

thing.

That "cannot be done"—and you'll

do it.

THE PEARL SCARFPIN.

Jack Herkimer was a very pleasant

fellow. He was popular with both men and women. Flaxen haired, blue-

eyed, a boyish face on a massive figure, good natured, careless of others, he drew about him so many friends that

he found it difficult to avoid distressing them from an inability to accept

and return all the favors they lav-

ished upon him.

One day Jack was sitting in a street car when a young lady got in. She sat for a few moments oblivious to the fact that persons are not expected

to ride in street cars for nothing, then

made a dive for her portmanteau, supposed to be contained in the bag she carried. There was a succession of dives, each more spasmodic than the

last, then she arose and started to leave the car without stopping it.

Jack interposed. "Pardon me," he said, placing himself in front of her,

THE REVELS.

In the throne room of the mighty

King of Mircule all was hushed expectancy. It lacked but a few

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1915

HOSPITAL MAINTENANCE BILL.

State House, Boston. Representatives Charles Erickson and Edward J. Sandberg, City Solicitor Walter S. Pinkham, Fred B. Rice, N. G. Nickerson, Warren Adams, George Plafman, Albert N. Murray and Daniel Chase appeared before the legislative committee on municipal finance at State House Thursday to advocate the passage of a bill introduced on petition of Representative Sandberg to authorize the city of Quincy to raise by taxation $10,000 a year and appropriate the same toward the maintenance and support of the Quincy city hospital.

The present law limits to $5000 the annual appropriation that the city is permitted to make towards defraying the expenses of the hospital. It was explained by the trustees that the hospital falls by several thousand dollars each year to pay expenses and was thought that, since Quincy doctors are taken care of at the rate of $150 per day, the city government should make a larger appropriation. Representatives of the city government were present and offered no opposition to the passage of the bill.

Representative Erickson conducted the case for the petitioners. He first introduced Fred B. Rice who called attention to the rapid growth of the hospital in the past two or three years.

City Solicitor Walter S. Pinkham was the next to be heard. The attitude of the city government, he said, is in no way in opposition to the bill. It did not originate with the city government and we have been paying only $4,000. The time is undoubtedly coming, he said, when the city will be obliged to pay more. The hospital is doing first class work and should be supported by the whole city.

N. G. Nickerson, treasurer of the hospital, said that it is a business proposition for the city of Quincy to help support the city hospital for its patients in care of the city had to be sent elsewhere, the expense would be much greater.

Albert N. Murray called attention to the rapid growth of the Quincy hospital for the past three years and stated that the same rate had been maintained by the hospital for 25 years and the trustees could not see their way clear to charging more than $150 a day for the people could not pay it.

It was the opinion of D. L. F. Chase that if the rates for treatment were made higher many of the patients would have to be treated free of charge. The total debt of the hospital is $17,000, he said. The plant is worth $100,000 and there is an endowment fund of $100,000.

TO SPEAK IN QUINCY.

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, secretary of the Boston Equal Suffrage Association, who speaks before the Quincy Women's Club in Alpha hall Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 on "The Woman Movement the World Around," is a native of Boston. She prepared for school at St. Agnes School at Albany. From 1895 to 1898 she attended Radcliffe college, graduating with highest honors. Her interest in equal suffrage goes back to college days. With Mrs. Inez Haynes Gilmore, Radcliffe '98, she organized the College Equal Suffrage League which has now fifty branches and is a powerful factor in the battle for suffrage.

After the death of her husband, Mrs. Park spent two years in travel and study in the far East, and since her return has given a series of talks about Oriental women.

For a number of years Mrs. Park has been interested in settlement work, as well as in suffrage.

She is regarded as one of the ablest women speakers in New England. She is a fluent convincing talker, and is anything but a militant in the ordinary accepted sense of the word.

Mrs. Park is a member of the executive board of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association and is vice-president of the College Equal Suffrage League.

BRIEFS

The central station auto chemical responded on a telephone call shortly before 9 o'clock today to extinguish a bonfire on Washington street, near the Y. M. C. A. building.

Julius Nielson of Dyer street, Dorchester, was crushed under a door of a core oven at the Fore River shipyard Wednesday and is at the Quincy city hospital with concussion of the brain. His condition is not serious.

Capt. Daniel L. McKay, acting chief of the police department, instructed the officers at police call Thursday evening to take the name and address of every man operating an auto under last year's registration. Violators will be summoned to court.

The George L. Gill Associates entertained at 1155 Old Fellows hall, Thursday afternoon. The winners were Mrs. Rosalia Wardwell, Mrs. M. O'Neill, Mrs. Phelan, Miss E. Meyer, Mrs. W. P. Curtis, Miss Thomas, Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. Mary Jones.

The ninth annual concert and ball of the Quincy Relief association will be held at Music hall, Thursday evening Feb. 4, and promises to be fully as largely attended as in other years and fully as enjoyable. There will be a promenade concert from 8 to 9 o'clock and dancing until 2 o'clock at which special cards will be given for all sections of the city.

Five men were killed and nine injured on the armored cruiser San Diego Friday morning when one of the tubes in a boiler exploded. The ship was off the Mexican coast and had just completed a 24 hour trial run when the explosion took place. The engine room was badly damaged.

The closing of the Field & Wild quarry will be a distinct loss to the granite industry. This quarry is one of the oldest in Quincy and many large memorials in all parts of the country were quarried there. It was first opened by Quin Wild when everything was done by hand and all hauling was done by oxen. When Mr. Wild died John Q. A. Field and Frank Wild, a son, carried on the business under the name Field & Wild. During the time Mr. Field had charge of the quarry several large monuments were cut, some of the pieces requiring extra derricks. The quality of the granite was of the best and its fine color was well known.

BRIEFS

About the only officials at City hall who most everybody agrees will lose their official heads the first Monday in February are the assessors.

W. W. Andrews, 56 years, one of the oldest residents of Germantown, was knocked down and run over by an auto in City Square about 5.30 Monday evening. The wheel passed over his leg and hand, lacerating the latter and causing heavy bruises.

Dr. Abele reports that the quarantine on animals for foot and mouth disease is off in this state, except within three miles of any premises which had the disease. There was no disease within three miles of Quincy, so that this city is free from quarantine.

Edward D. Barrett of Quincy, district deputy, supreme knight of the K. of C. officially visited some City council of Springfield on Sunday. He was accompanied by James H. Whelan, assessor, and Thomas Fallon as assistant warden.

Mrs. Maria B. Dwell of Foster street entertained eight guests at a soiree dinner at her home on Jan. 15. Mrs. Henry E. Hawick served. On Jan. 29 Mrs. James Nightingale of Granite street will serve a sauerkraut dinner to the same company.

The U. S. S. Vestal, a repair ship of the navy, sailed Friday from Charlestown Navy yard for Panama. Among its officers was Lieut. Joseph Evans Quincy, formerly at the U. S. M. A. Maria, who was assigned to the Vestal this week. Lieut. Evans is in charge of Wilbur-by-the-Sea, at Port Orange.

Dr. Fenimore S. Andrews has accepted an appointment as a member of the extracting staff of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary, where he will be on duty alternate Wednesday afternoons. Dr. Andrews has resigned as instructor at the Harvard Dental School.

The immediate friends of Miss Mac Kerrigan of Chestnut street tendered her a reception in honor of her birthday anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Regan on South Walnut street Saturday evening. Miss Kerrigan presided at the cutting of the cake and was the recipient of many gifts.

It is understood that the city auditor will make his annual report in print this year. This method was given up last year as the report appears in the annual city book, but it is understood that some of the commissioners are desirous of having the report this year before the annual budget is passed.

Quincy merchants who store benzine, kerosene, oil, naphtha or other flammable material to the amount of ten gallons or more who have not obtained a permit from the Chief Engineer for the same or who do not have it buried as required by the rules of the Fire Hazard Commission are to be prosecuted immediately.

The Arbutus girls held their meeting Jan. 15th at the home of Mrs. Mary Williams of Ashland street. The girls have made plans to hold a Valentine party in Colonial hall Thursday evening, Feb. 11. It will be in invitation affair and the committee in charge are busy making preparations to make it a social success.

The judges appointed at the meeting of the executive committee of the new Yacht Racing Association Union of Massachusetts were Theodore H. Campbell, Columbia Y. C. chairman; William C. Cherrington, Mohegan Yacht Club; John W. Holbrook, Fleet Y. C.; Joshua W. Holbrook, Fleet Y. C.; Arthur Fuller, South Boston Y. C.; Charles W. Chapin, Boston Y. C.

"The Arrival of Kitty," a comedy, will be presented under the auspices of the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church on the evening of Friday, Jan. 29. The comedy was originally scheduled for the evening of Jan. 22 but was postponed on account of a conflict with the Women's club opera "Frisco" on the same evening. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis is coach of the play which is said to be a scream.

Dock Commissioner Frank P. Crane and City Solicitor Walter S. Pinkham of Quincy appeared before the legislative committee on municipal finance Thursday to favor a bill allowing Quincy to appropriate $10,000 for the improvement of the channel of the Fore River. The bill is conditional upon an appropriation by the United States government for the same purpose.

Carl Bonnier of 158 South street entertained a number of his young friends at his home Saturday evening, the occasion being his 17th birthday, although his friends were not aware of that fact until after they arrived at his home. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. The evening was passed in a pleasant manner with games, music and refreshments.

The young women's auction bridge club met Saturday afternoon with Miss Louise Deane of Ansonett. Four tables were in play. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, and coffee were served, and during the serving the hostess presented Miss Eleanor Whittemore, who had the highest score with a pink silk scarf.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 30 with Mrs. Fred G. Howe of Butler road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donovan of North Weymouth are the parents of a baby girl, born last week. Mother and child are doing well. Mr. Donovan until he removed to North Weymouth after his marriage took prominent part in the social life of Quincy and was soloist at many of the minstrel shows and amateur theatricals held here. His wife was a popular young woman in this city. Mr. Donovan is connected with the American Agricultural Works, commonly called the Bradley Fertilizer plant.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church has elected these officers for the new year:

President—Freeman Hyland.
Vice President—Miss Marion Wright.
Secretary—Willard Hyland.
Treasurer—Miss Bernice Stoddard.
Social Committee—Miss Harriet Lombard.
Devotional Committee—Miss Edith Hyland.
Lookout Committee—Miss Mildred Stoddard.
The Sunday school has elected these officers:

Superintendent—Freeman Hyland.
Assistant Supt.—Miss Annie Hobart.
Secretary—Miss Edith Hyland.
Treasurer—Miss Alfaretha Hanson.

BRIEFS

Rural lodge will hold a ladies night on Wednesday Jan. 27.

M. T. Sullivan, Esq., has been appointed guardian by the probate court of Rachel S. Guilford.

The annual ball of the Quincy Police Relief Association will be held on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 4.

Miss Marguerite Davis of Goffe street entertained a few friends at an informal tea Sunday afternoon.

Col. Henry L. Kincaide and manager Harry S. Bates of the Kincaide Furniture Store are attending the furniture exposition in New York city this week.

Miss Louise Wilson of the class of 1914 of Quincy High school is training for nursing at the Peter Brigham hospital at Boston.

At the regular meeting of the school committee next week Chairman Mackay will announce his standing committees.

John Reynolds of Wesson avenue proprietor of the Sheep Rock Poultry Farm had two entries in the Poultry show at Mechanics Building last week.

A reception will be given on Thursday evening Feb. 11 to the new rector of Christ church and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. William Granger. The reception will be held in the parish house.

Ernest W. Branch left Thursday for Florida to join Mrs. Branch who preceded him some few weeks ago. For several years they have enjoyed the midwinter season in the mild climate of Wilbur-by-the-Sea, at Port Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Spear of Marshfield will spend the winter at the Copley Square Hotel, Boston. Mr. Spear is cashier of the National Mt. Wollaston Bank and both he and Mrs. Spear are well known in Quincy, where they formerly made their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon left Saturday for Poland Springs, Me., where they were joined Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Groce. They will be absent about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quincy Baxter have issued card for an at home on Tuesday, Jan. 26th, from three until five, and eight until eleven o'clock at their home 644 Adams street, East Milton, in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

The jointer department of the Industrial School is building the teachers desks and tables and the umbrella racks that are needed for the Atherton school and some tables for the new Adams school and are later to build some filing cabinets for the school Committee rooms.

An interesting romance of the Christmas season is revealed in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Eva Rice, soprano soloist in the choir at St. Johns church, to Adolph Restelli, one of Quincy's best known vocalists and also a member of St. Johns choir. The wedding will take place in April.

Hon. J. R. Taber and daughters Misses Nellie and Vivian Taber are occupying the Ernest W. Branch house on Putnam street, during the absence of the owner in Florida. The Tabers come from Maine where Mr. Taber was a state senator. Miss Vivian Taber is one of the faculty at Woodward Institute.

Among the many meetings and good times of the Pickwick club none will be looked back to by members with more pleasure than the forty-second anniversary dinner last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble. Nothing was lacking in the dinner, or keen wit tossed back and forth about the festive board.

Edward J. Murphy of this city was elected secretary-treasurer of the New England Retail Club at the annual convention of that association in Boston last week. Mr. Murphy is now serving his fourth consecutive term. The association is made up of Retail druggists from Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

Miss Josephine Thompson of Main street entertained friends at her home Friday evening in honor of her guest Miss Louise Deane of Ansonett. Four tables of what were in play. Miss Grignon had the highest score. Vocal solos were rendered by Misses Hussey, Reardon, Talbot and Deane, accompanied by Mr. Thompson. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. John H. Leavell, who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doble of 24 South street since October, went on Monday to join her husband in San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Leavell has just completed a two year contract for the construction of a large mill plant for a gold mine in Aurora, Nevada, near the place where Mark Twain wrote, "Roughing it."

Commissioner of Public Works Moses Brown and City Engineer Ezekiel C. Sargent left Thursday for New York to attend the meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers on the maintenance of roads. This is an important session as engineers from all over the country will be present to tell of their experiments. It might be added that the trip is in no way a junket for the two officials pay their own expenses.

Those who enjoy cards are looking forward to an enjoyable afternoon next Friday at the clubhouse of the Quincy Women's Club when a subscription party is to be held under the auspices of the education committee for the benefit of the school nurse fund. There are to be tables for whist, bridge and auction bridge so that every one may join in the play.

Several jolly auto parties went to Ashland Wednesday night to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Angier and to help Mr. Angier fittingly celebrate his birthday. The Angiers sold their estate on Presidents hill a few years ago and bought a farm in Ashland. They have recently erected a large and beautiful colonial house, the last string of which is always out for the entrance of their many friends.

The alarm from Box 12 at 8.30 Tuesday night was for a fire in the cottage of Geo. Fick, 132 Palmer street and was caused by an overheated stove. This is one of those summer cottages which are situated on the inside with paper cardboard, and there fore are rather inflammable. The fire worked in behind this sheathing and necessitated considerable tearing away to get at the seat of the fire. The recall sounded in about half an hour. Chief Billings estimates the loss at $150.

BRIEFS

The Thayer Academy Senior dance will be held next Friday evening.

Frank T. Capland of Vancouver, B. C. is visiting his aunt and cousins of Granite street. He will sail for Scotland Jan. 27.

Irwin Millard the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millard of Whitwell street, is confined to his home with scarlet fever.

Joseph, Hilma and John, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson of Whitwell street, are confined to their home with scarlet fever.

There was a large attendance and a hearty response Thursday night to the appeal made by the pastors of the three Swedish churches united in evangelistic meetings this week at the Swedish St. Paul's M. E. church.

Mrs. Thomas Connelley of Whitwell street, who has been confined to her bed since Jan. 4th, when she was seriously injured in the accident on the street car in East Weymouth, is able to be up and around the house.

Mr. Howard Rogers, entertained at whist Tuesday evening at her new home on Hancock street. Mrs. Frederick Simpson was awarded a souvenir for having the highest score. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

The entertainment committee of the High School Alumni association met at the home of Miss Dorothy Packard, Hancock street, on Wednesday evening. Plans are under way for at least three social events to take place before June.

A large delegation of the employees of the plant department of the local telephone exchange attended the annual banquet of the Boston Plant and Telegraph and Telephone Society of New England held Thursday evening at Copley hall, Boston.

The Italians of the city have called a mass meeting for Sunday afternoon in Malin's hall to complete plans for a concert to raise funds for the Italian earthquake sufferers. The concert will probably be held in Music hall in the immediate future.

The George L. Gill Associates held a matinee whist in Odd Fellows hall Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. The winners were Mrs. Katherine MacDonald, Mrs. H. Sperry, Mrs. Nettie Lewis, Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. Mary Phelan, Mrs. Silas Perkins.

Mrs. Effie L. Rhines entertained friends at her home on Miller street Tuesday in honor of the ninth birthday anniversary of Stewart Rich her grandson. The little fellow was the "hero of the hour" and was pleasantly remembered. A collation was served.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores were made by Harold H. Snow and Dr. W. H. Blanchard. Light refreshments were served after the tournament by the entertainment committee.

The second half year of school will begin Monday, Feb. 1, when beginners will be admitted to the first grades of the city. So far as preliminary investigations show, the entering class will be larger than was the case last February with a corresponding increase in the general attendance for the year.

The dreadnought Nevada, under construction at the Fore River shipyard will be delivered on or about July 1. Work is being rushed, first and second batteries are practically mounted, and trials will be held in a short time. The navy will be considerably strengthened through its addition.

Combination 1, Hook and Ladder 1 and Chief Billings responded to a telephone alarm Wednesday evening for a chimney fire in a house near the old Whitcher factory on Main street. The house is occupied by two Italian families and an unusually hot fire started the soot in the chimney burning there was no loss.

An all day meeting of the Fragrant society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday. The members sewed for the Belgians. A lunch was served at noon and in the afternoon the Alliance met and was addressed by Miss Anna M. Bancroft, president of the National Alliance, on "Alliance Work."

Charles Francis Adams 2d has purchased J. L. Saltonstall's sander Spruce and will enter her in the Quincy cup series. She was built in 1912 and has won her place on the team chosen to represent America in the next international contest with Germany should one take place. Mr. Saltonstall reserves his rights in the yacht "as these races are held."

At the next meeting of the School Committee, the Women's Club will make a definite proposition for the support of a school nurse for the remainder of the year, which undoubtedly will be most favorably received. There are almost unlimited possibilities to the work which may be done in this direction and no one realizes it better than those in the school department.

Immediately after the launching of the Submarine L1, at the Fore River Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Elizabeth Scott Daubin, the sponsor, was presented by S. A. Gardner, local manager of the Electric Boat Co., with a beautiful silver vase, suitably inscribed. She was also presented with the fragments of the Christening bottle, which were inclosed in a highly polished teakwood box, and suitably inscribed.

Rehearsals for the opera "Mikado," to be given on the evening of Feb. 10, at Music hall, under the auspices of the music committee of the Quincy Women's Club, are reaching a high state of perfection. The cast of the opera, which is being directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, the leading parts will be taken by professionals. The chorus is large and well trained, the music most melodious, and a fine production is anticipated.

Mrs. Henry A. Belcher of Randolph in the death of her husband on Wednesday has the sympathy of many friends in Quincy especially members of the Electric Boat Co. with the Revolution of which she has been a member for several years. Mr. Belcher was also well known here. The Belcher home in Randolph was one of the most, if not the most beautiful in a town of many fine country estates, and when not traveling or at summer places at Sandwich on the Cape, their greatest pleasure was in entertaining their friends.

WEST QUINCY

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League of the Hall Place M. E. church will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening at quarter of eight.

Julius Fuller of Hall place who has been visiting friends in Maine for several months, has returned to West Quincy.

Katherine E. Evans, the five year old daughter of Mrs. David Evans of West street, died at 84 o'clock Sunday Jan. 15 after a short illness. The funeral will be Sunday afternoon from the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. MacDougall of 4 Town Hill street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby daughter on Jan. 15.

Sherman Cull and family have moved to the Milton place in a small garage in West street. Mrs. Cull was formerly Elizabeth Lyons of West street.

The many friends of Miss Helen Lyons of West street will be pleased to hear that she was successfully operated on in the Carney Hospital Jan. 15. She is now convalescent and hopes to return home in two weeks.

John Miller of Hall place who returned from the Brookline Hospital where he was operated upon is able to be out and around. He walks with difficulty as yet however as the wound is not entirely healed.

The alarm from Box 58 at 6.20 Saturday night was for a fire over the garage in the Milton place. The garage is situated near the line between Quincy and East Milton and an excited individual thinking that the building was in Quincy sounded the alarm. An alarm was also sounded in Milton and by the time the Quincy apparatus arrived the men from the East Milton station were at work on the fire and had it practically out.

About 50 friends of Miss Jessie Martini of Furnace avenue, a well known and popular girl, held a surprise party for her at Slauers hall Saturday evening. Miss Mary Sartori presented her with a students bag in behalf of the school.

A pool tournament of all the social clubs of West Quincy is being arranged. The best players from the Cope land, Ave Maria, K. of C., Elma Social club, Foresters of America, St. Mary's Italian Americans, Franco Americans and Pineo's clubs are expected to enter. Mr. H. Sperry, Mrs. Nettie Lewis, Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. Mary Phelan, Mrs. Silas Perkins.

Mrs. Effie L. Rhines entertained friends at her home on Miller street Tuesday in honor of the ninth birthday anniversary of Stewart Rich her grandson. The little fellow was the "hero of the hour" and was pleasantly remembered. A collation was served.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores were made by Harold H. Snow and Dr. W. H. Blanchard. Light refreshments were served after the tournament by the entertainment committee.

The second half year of school will begin Monday, Feb. 1, when beginners will be admitted to the first grades of the city. So far as preliminary investigations show, the entering class will be larger than was the case last February with a corresponding increase in the general attendance for the year.

The dreadnought Nevada, under construction at the Fore River shipyard will be delivered on or about July 1. Work is being rushed, first and second batteries are practically mounted, and trials will be held in a short time. The navy will be considerably strengthened through its addition.

Combination 1, Hook and Ladder 1 and Chief Billings responded to a telephone alarm Wednesday evening for a chimney fire in a house near the old Whitcher factory on Main street. The house is occupied by two Italian families and an unusually hot fire started the soot in the chimney burning there was no loss.

An all day meeting of the Fragrant society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday. The members sewed for the Belgians. A lunch was served at noon and in the afternoon the Alliance met and was addressed by Miss Anna M. Bancroft, president of the National Alliance, on "Alliance Work."

Charles Francis Adams 2d has purchased J. L. Saltonstall's sander Spruce and will enter her in the Quincy cup series. She was built in 1912 and has won her place on the team chosen to represent America in the next international contest with Germany should one take place. Mr. Saltonstall reserves his rights in the yacht "as these races are held."

At the next meeting of the School Committee, the Women's Club will make a definite proposition for the support of a school nurse for the remainder of the year, which undoubtedly will be most favorably received. There are almost unlimited possibilities to the work which may be done in this direction and no one realizes it better than those in the school department.

Immediately after the launching of the Submarine L1, at the Fore River Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Elizabeth Scott Daubin, the sponsor, was presented by S. A. Gardner, local manager of the Electric Boat Co., with a beautiful silver vase, suitably inscribed. She was also presented with the fragments of the Christening bottle, which were inclosed in a highly polished teakwood box, and suitably inscribed.

Rehearsals for the opera "Mikado," to be given on the evening of Feb. 10, at Music hall, under the auspices of the music committee of the Quincy Women's Club, are reaching a high state of perfection. The cast of the opera, which is being directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, the leading parts will be taken by professionals. The chorus is large and well trained, the music most melodious, and a fine production is anticipated.

Mrs. Henry A. Belcher of Randolph in the death of her husband on Wednesday has the sympathy of many friends in Quincy especially members of the Electric Boat Co. with the Revolution of which she has been a member for several years. Mr. Belcher was also well known here. The Belcher home in Randolph was one of the most, if not the most beautiful in a town of many fine country estates, and when not traveling or at summer places at Sandwich on the Cape, their greatest pleasure was in entertaining their friends.

WOLLASTON

Sunday Rev. Albert Crabtree of the Church of the Redeemer South Boston will officiate at the 10.30 morning service at St. Chrysostom's in exchange with the rector Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra.

Mrs. Frank Basil Tracy formerly of Grand View avenue who has been a worker for the Massachusetts branch of the Shu-In society for thirteen years resigned the presidency of the organization at the meeting held at Park street church Friday. She has held the office for five years. Mrs. Tracy is honorary vice president of the National society and will continue in the work.

An informal reception is to be held in St. Chrysostom's new parish house next Thursday evening. The entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. Howard D. Faxon and Mrs. Herbert H. Albee will be chairman of the refreshment committee.

Many Wollaston friends have sent numerous messages of congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wentworth Titus of Kendrick avenue on the birth of a son last Sunday. Since their marriage in August 1909 they have lived in Wollaston until last May when they moved to Penns hill. The little one has been named Lincoln Harriman.

St. Chrysostom's Guild is to hold a fair Feb. 11 in the new parish house. The chairman of the different tables are: linen, Miss Elizabeth Cook, baby, Mrs. Horace W. Richmond, aprons, Mrs. Arthur Stanley and the Misses Clean; household Mrs. Percy L. Davidson; children's amusement Mrs. Elizabeth Shultz; dolls Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis Jr.; candy Mrs. Herbert L. Packard; ice cream Mrs. Henry J. Landry and Mrs. J. Willard Hallett; supper Mrs. Herbert H. Albee and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller; tickets and posters Mrs. David L. Jewell.

The Wollaston Men's Class meets Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist Church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussions, prelude—"Should Billy Sunday Come to Boston?"

Scripture Lesson subject—A Golden Rule and Three Hundred. All are invited to this large and growing class.

Mrs. Benjamin Hobson of Wollaston has been visiting friends in Ashland, where she formerly lived.

The Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary Societies were entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. C. E. Goodspeed, 114 Grand View avenue. Plans for the coffee party of Sacred Heart parish, to be held in Atlantic Music hall, Jan. 27, are rapidly maturing and among the entertainers will be James Kennedy and his dancing pupils. Master James Kennedy, who will dance, is well known in Scottish circles and has a reputation as an expert of modern dances.

One of the horses of the Atlantic Wollaston Co. of Atlantic kicked Harry J. McPhee, 15 years, 63 Madison street in the leg Tuesday afternoon and fractured the femur bone. Dr. D. A. Bruce was called and ordered his removal to the Quincy City Hospital.

The Mayor has taken up the matter of the fire apparatus at Atlantic in earnest and will send several experts to the station to examine the apparatus thoroughly and find out just what the trouble was. The apparatus itself is all right and as far as can be learned this far the trouble is largely with the engine. The Mayor, however, says that one trouble he found was that the tires are of hard rubber and that when the apparatus is in motion the engine is apt to be jarred out of adjustment.

George Call of Holbrook road who has been confined to the house by sickness for several days is to go to a private hospital for treatment and will be home in a few days.

A meeting of the Ward Four Improvement association will be held Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. D. T. Gurney of Walker street has recovered from her recent illness.

The Christian Endeavor of the Atlantic Music hall church will hold a social service in the church vestry on Monday evening.

Luzene J. Hayford of East Squantum street has been at home the last few days, suffering with an attack of lumbago.

Mrs. L. D. Gurney of Walker street has been confined to her home with illness.

The Ladies' Social and Benevolent society of the Wollaston Baptist church are making much needed repairs in the parsonage. The ceilings have been repaired, ceilings whitened and hard wood floors laid.

The body of Lewis Harkins, the 21 year old son of Mrs. Charles Pratt of 12 Franklin street was brought to Quincy Thursday by his brother Leonard Harkins. His death occurred in Philadelphia Monday. He was well known here living in Wollaston up to three years ago.

The Swedish residents of Squantum met the building committee of the First Church of Squantum for the church vestry Wednesday evening and after a harmonious session it was unanimously voted that the Swedish residents be given the right to use the church for a Sunday school conducted in the Swedish language. It was also arranged that $140, which was collected by the Swedish residents towards a church building in Squantum, be turned over to the Squantum church committee.

Rev. Mr. Sporrang told of the desire to conduct a Sunday school in the Swedish language and of the work that had been done for several years in the community by a few Swedish residents. He expressed his willingness that the $140 collected in Squantum be turned over to the Squantum church.

C. E. Carlson, superintendent of the Sunday school conducted in the English language, said that he was in favor of a Sunday school conducted in the Swedish language if it was the desire of Swedish residents. He even went so far as to say he would be glad to conduct a class in this school in the Swedish language.

Mr. Leander, superintendent of the Swedish Sunday school, emphasized the need of a school in the Swedish language. John Holmes, James H. Sanger, Thomas Currie, all members of the Squantum church committee, spoke in favor of the Swedish residents having a Sunday school in their native tongue, if they so desired.

Coffee and Swedish cake was served by a committee of ladies and a social time enjoyed.

Hold Services.

The funeral of Volney F. Mitchell held at Memorial Church of Atlantic at 2 o'clock last Thursday was an excellent tribute to the worth of the man.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Full	Sea	Moon
ALMANAC	Rises	Sets	Morn	Even.
Sat'day, Jan. 23	7.06	4.46	5.00	5.15
Sunday, "	7.06	4.48	5.45	6.15
Monday, "	7.05	4.49	6.30	7.15
Tuesday, "	7.04	4.50	7.30	8.00
Wednes., "	7.03	4.51	8.15	9.00
Thurs., "	7.02	4.53	9.15	9.45
Friday, "	7.01	4.54	10.00	10.30

First Quarter, Jan. 23, 12:32 A. M.

SIGNS ARE NEEDED.

Persons unfamiliar with the topography of the vicinity of the Quincy City Hospital frequently experience difficulty in locating the institution. A contributor living in the vicinity writes of frequently seeing persons wandering aimlessly over the grounds and being asked to point out the way to the hospital.

It would seem to be worth while for the city or some civic organization to place signs from the station over the hill at frequent intervals bearing an arrow and the words "to the Hospital."

The location of the hospital, so far as beauty of surroundings and healthfulness goes, is excellent, but is not easily accessible, especially to strangers. It is just beyond the 25 cent limit by carriage or auto from the railroad station and 50 cents to many seems prohibitive.

The shortest way for those who walk is across the Saville street, across Coffey to Monroe road, left into Avon way, across Dixwell avenue, down the steps across Glendale road, past the Cranch school to Whitwell street and to the right up Whitwell to the Hospital.

Another way is to follow Monroe road to Dimmock street, to left on Dimmock across Glendale road to Euclid avenue, to left to Roselin avenue, to Whitwell street and to the right up Whitwell to the Hospital.

LEVI H. TURNER.

In the passing of Levi H. Turner, Quincy has suffered a real loss. Mr. Turner had the courage of his convictions. He founded those convictions upon study and observation and expressed them with an earnestness and force which compelled a hearing. He was always tolerant of the opinions of others. Many could not agree with his political and social theory but everyone with whom he came in contact held for him a high respect. The city could ill afford to lose such a man.

ADAMS ACADEMY PUT TO USE.

That Adams Academy, so long unused, is at last to render some service must meet with general approval. The Young Women's club with quarters of its own will be enabled to do even better work than it has done in the past, and as a recreation room for girls the old Academy can fulfill a useful mission.

A man who did his duty as he saw it was Alexander Mudgett. His death will bring sadness to a circle of friends including many sections of the city, many nationalities, many political and religious beliefs. He was never prominent in public life but as a business man and as a private citizen he had a task to do and he did it well.

Congratulations Mr. Ira Litchfield. When a man has passed by more than a decade the allotted three score years and ten his life, and manner of living it should serve as an example to the younger generation.

ASKS TO BE RETIRED.

Lieut. Mark E. Hanson, the oldest member in point of service as well as in age of the police department has filed a request with Mayor Campbell that he be retired on a pension as provided for by law. The Mayor will forward the communication to the city council at its next meeting with the recommendation that Lieut. Hanson be retired as requested.

Lieut. Hanson is still on duty at police headquarters, doing clerical work which has been accepted on the matter. In the mean time Sergt. Ernest Bishop has been assigned to the day desk at the police station.

Lieut. Hanson has been actively engaged in police work in the city for many years. Under the town form of government he was a constable. When the permanent police department was established in 1893 he became a permanent officer and was assigned to night duty at Wollaston. Later he was transferred to duty at the station where he was in charge for a number of years serving from 6 P. M. until 6 A. M. During the first year of Mayor Bryant's administration in 1892 he was made a day officer in charge of the police station, which position he has since held. In 1902 he was promoted to a sergeant and in 1911 he was promoted to a lieutenant.

Lieut. Hanson was born in Illinois, Me., in May 1837, but moved to Belmont, Me., when very young. He later removed to Massachusetts settling in Hoxbury where he resided at the outbreak of the civil war. He immediately enlisted in Co. 22d Massachusetts Regt. and went to the front with the regiment with which Lieut. Col. Nelson A. Miles made his first campaign. He took part in the battles of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, Cold Harbor, Petersburg and other places.

Returning home after the war he followed the trade of a carpenter and for many years had charge of the carpentry work of the late Henry H. Faxon. He is a member of Paul Revere Post, 48, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Faxon, is 85, G. A. R. and has held several offices in that association at present being the post's commander. Lieut. Hanson resides at 963 Hancock street with his three daughters.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET.

The big event of the season in the Boys' work took place Wednesday evening when the third annual Father and Son Banquet was held in the association hall, what is now used as the boys' room.

The ticket of admission for the boys was their father and for those unfortunate enough not to have a father one was provided, so an equal number of men and boys sat down to the splendid supper which was served promptly at six-thirty.

Previous to gathering in the hall a reception was held in the lobby on the first floor but at the beginning of the strain of a march played by the Wollaston Cadet orchestra, which furnished the music for the evening, those assembled on the first floor proceeded to wend their way upward until they reached the hall.

The seating arrangement, although it was a hard problem, had been met by the committee and with but little delay the 170 men and boys were seated.

Frederick Tobbensohn presided as toastmaster and although this was his first experience along that line no one would have guessed it as he carried himself as if he was in the habit of doing it every day of the week.

Rev. Clarence A. Young of Roxbury was the first speaker and among other things which he said he emphasized the fact that a closer bond of fellowship should exist between the fathers and boys and that the work of the boys' division should interest the boys such as base ball, football and other games.

The president of the Association, Frank Burgess, spoke on the "Value of Physical Exercise in Every Day Life" and by the vigorous way in which he illustrated his remarks one could see he had practiced what he preached. "One of the biggest things in life is good health and money spent in gaining it is well spent," said Mr. Burgess. "Parents at the present time do not pay enough attention to the health of their children. Fathers should set an example to their boys in this respect in order that the boys might grow up healthy and gain the benefit derived while young."

J. A. Sedgwick, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee spoke briefly telling those present something of the different kinds of work which the Boys' Division was trying to do, bringing out the fact that the Division's efforts were toward making the boys healthy. The city could ill afford to lose such a man.

The report of Treasurer Maxwell showed the financial standing of the club to be much better than that of a year ago and with the prospect of a still higher standing in the year to come. A careful and complete report was received from A. H. Waite auditor.

As acting superintendent of the Sunday school Victor Harrie reported a membership of 340, a gain of 50 over the preceding year. The average attendance has been 216, with the highest at 257 at the lowest at 181.

Mrs. J. A. Boone reported that much had been accomplished in the primary department, which now has a membership of 107. A. M. Dingwell, treasurer, and William J. Colby, former superintendent of the Sunday school, both made brief reports.

All of the various officers received messages of approval and a vote of confidence was passed for Mrs. Ayers, wife of the pastor, who is on the sick list. Charles A. Richardson reported for the music committee and Miss Daisy Brown for the Christian Endeavor society.

Mrs. C. A. Richardson reported for the Women's Missionary society. As the banquet was a success and with the Women's Guild on December 16th, the report read last night will be the last to be heard from this society. During the ten years of its existence it has raised over $500 for the church and has been very active in the missionary and social field. It is through the work of this alliance greater work can be accomplished with less duplication of effort.

Mrs. Robinson read the report of the Women's Guild. During the year much has been accomplished and the Guild now has a membership of 73. It lost by death two members: Mrs. Arthur P. Capen and Mrs. Clarence A. Fuller.

Mrs. Ayers reported for the Men's Forum, established a few months ago and which has developed into a thriving organization. William Dickson reported for the Norwalk club. The Outlook club, a girl's organization was reported for by Mrs. C. A. Richardson.

A resolution prepared by the standing committee looking toward a more spiritual observance by the various allied societies was adopted as the policy of the church. A. V. Bissett, Thomas H. Irving and George L. Marr were appointed tellers for the election.

On behalf of the women of the church William J. Colby presented Father Ayers with a handsome flowering plant, expressing the appreciation not only of the fair sex but of every member of the church for the helpful offices of Mr. Ayers during his five years administration.

In response Mr. Ayers told of the happiness work among the members of the Park and Downs church had brought to him and said that the Sunday school might begin on time. He asked only the privilege of serving the church and of being a friend to its members.

The question of changing the night of the weekly prayer meeting from Thursday to Friday was decisively voted. It was voted to change the hour of the Sunday morning service from 10:45 to 10:30, in order that the Sunday school might begin on time.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and a benediction by the pastor. Preceding the meeting a fine supper was served by the following committee: Mrs. Alonzo V. Bissett, Mrs. Clifton Wallace, Mrs. Fred Maxwell, Mrs. Ruth Dunmore, Mrs. Charles W. W. Brown, William Brown and Mrs. F. J. Brown. A large corps of the young ladies of the church acted as waitresses.

The business outlook in the granite industry of this city seems to be brightening up. Although things have been dull for some months and although many of the cutters have either had to leave town or seek employment at some other line of work, the manufacturers have a lot of work ordered for spring delivery which will necessitate putting on men soon.

Joseph F. Frye aged 71 years, died Saturday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Luther W. Glover of Presidents hill. Mr. Frye had been in poor health for some time.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

PARK AND DOWNS CHURCH.

Tokens and expressions of appreciation for the services of Rev. William B. Ayers during the five years he has been his pastor marked the annual meeting of the Park and Downs church held Thursday evening in the vestry.

During this period the church under the leadership of his pastor has had a wonderful growth in membership and has emerged from an antiquated wooden structure into a modern stone edifice of beauty and convenience.

Reports of the various officers and allied societies showed the numerical and financial standing to be more favorable than that of a year ago and the reports forecasted still greater success in the year to come.

The following officers were elected: Deacons—Victor Harrie (2 years), John Stewart (1 year), Amory H. Waite (1 year), A. M. Dingwell, F. W. Knowlton, William J. Colby.

Standing Committee—William B. Ayers, Charles Weeks, William J. Williams, the deacons, pastor, treasurer, clerk and superintendent of the Sunday school.

Trustees—E. L. Blaisdell, chairman, J. A. Zwickler (3 years), W. H. Hazard (1 year), W. C. Crane.

Clerk—Charles A. Richardson. Sunday School Superintendent—Victor Harrie.

Assistant Superintendent—A. S. Hasbrouk. Treasurer—Fred A. D. Maxwell. Assistant Treasurer—J. H. Kilpatrick.

Musie Committee—Emily Bjorkman, Mrs. W. N. Hazard.

Auditor—Amory H. Waite. Usher—R. C. Whifford, head usher; Alonzo Bissett, Charles Letson, John Dingwell, John Breen, Michael Arenberg.

Calling Committee—Mrs. J. A. Boone, chairman, Mrs. F. C. Blake, Mrs. J. L. Bissett, Mrs. B. G. Lyons, Mrs. J. A. Boone, Mrs. C. E. Weeks, Mrs. Ruth A. Dunmore, Mrs. Florence Wallace.

Victor Harrie presided as moderator and the meeting opened with the roll call and reading of the minutes of last meeting. The report of Charles A. Richardson, the clerk showed that the church had lost 13 and added 27 during the year, a net gain of 24. The present church membership is 240.

The report of Treasurer Maxwell showed the financial standing of the church to be much better than that of a year ago and with the prospect of a still higher standing in the year to come. A careful and complete report was received from A. H. Waite auditor.

As acting superintendent of the Sunday school Victor Harrie reported a membership of 340, a gain of 50 over the preceding year. The average attendance has been 216, with the highest at 257 at the lowest at 181.

Mrs. J. A. Boone reported that much had been accomplished in the primary department, which now has a membership of 107. A. M. Dingwell, treasurer, and William J. Colby, former superintendent of the Sunday school, both made brief reports.

All of the various officers received messages of approval and a vote of confidence was passed for Mrs. Ayers, wife of the pastor, who is on the sick list. Charles A. Richardson reported for the music committee and Miss Daisy Brown for the Christian Endeavor society.

Mrs. C. A. Richardson reported for the Women's Missionary society. As the banquet was a success and with the Women's Guild on December 16th, the report read last night will be the last to be heard from this society. During the ten years of its existence it has raised over $500 for the church and has been very active in the missionary and social field. It is through the work of this alliance greater work can be accomplished with less duplication of effort.

Mrs. Robinson read the report of the Women's Guild. During the year much has been accomplished and the Guild now has a membership of 73. It lost by death two members: Mrs. Arthur P. Capen and Mrs. Clarence A. Fuller.

Mrs. Ayers reported for the Men's Forum, established a few months ago and which has developed into a thriving organization. William Dickson reported for the Norwalk club. The Outlook club, a girl's organization was reported for by Mrs. C. A. Richardson.

A resolution prepared by the standing committee looking toward a more spiritual observance by the various allied societies was adopted as the policy of the church. A. V. Bissett, Thomas H. Irving and George L. Marr were appointed tellers for the election.

On behalf of the women of the church William J. Colby presented Father Ayers with a handsome flowering plant, expressing the appreciation not only of the fair sex but of every member of the church for the helpful offices of Mr. Ayers during his five years administration.

In response Mr. Ayers told of the happiness work among the members of the Park and Downs church had brought to him and said that the Sunday school might begin on time. He asked only the privilege of serving the church and of being a friend to its members.

The question of changing the night of the weekly prayer meeting from Thursday to Friday was decisively voted. It was voted to change the hour of the Sunday morning service from 10:45 to 10:30, in order that the Sunday school might begin on time.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and a benediction by the pastor. Preceding the meeting a fine supper was served by the following committee: Mrs. Alonzo V. Bissett, Mrs. Clifton Wallace, Mrs. Fred Maxwell, Mrs. Ruth Dunmore, Mrs. Charles W. W. Brown, William Brown and Mrs. F. J. Brown. A large corps of the young ladies of the church acted as waitresses.

The business outlook in the granite industry of this city seems to be brightening up. Although things have been dull for some months and although many of the cutters have either had to leave town or seek employment at some other line of work, the manufacturers have a lot of work ordered for spring delivery which will necessitate putting on men soon.

Joseph F. Frye aged 71 years, died Saturday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Luther W. Glover of Presidents hill. Mr. Frye had been in poor health for some time.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

Thomas Kenneth Smith of 250 South street was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Miss Margaret Etta Dewey of Howard avenue. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiated. The ceremony took place at the parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended. Smith is a carpenter by trade. The couple will live on South street.

A reading of "Pollyanna" will be given at Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 12 by Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis. It will be illustrated by living pictures.

GIVE VAUDEVILLE.

A varied and well balanced vaudeville entertainment was enjoyed by an audience that filled the parish house of Christ church, Wednesday evening. The entertainment was given by the Gardner club and was its first annual show.

Wilson's orchestra played the overture which opened the program, accompanied the singers, and supplied the music for the dancing which followed the vaudeville.

The second number of the program was a pastime duo by Joseph Curry and A. Swanson, the latter causing much amusement in the costume of a woman. As he is well over six feet his soprano voice and ladylike ways were funny. But he made a good-looking girl.

Erasmus Osgood entertained with original monologues. His popularity was proven the minute he appeared by the applause, and the whispers that were heard "He's great," "I'm glad he's here," "I just want you to hear him." Mr. Osgood impersonated the various types of people one meets on a commuter's train with versatility and originality, and caused many hearty laughs. He ended with a clever monologue on saving the nickles, accompanying himself with his banjo.

Allen S. Gardner gave a pleasing and much appreciated impersonation of Harry Lauder. His Highland costume and rough cane added much to the reality of the imitation. His facial expression and mannerisms were a true touch of the only "Harry."

Sketches made in French chalk of Caruso, a boy and an old lady at the "movies," and the end of perfect day, made by Enoch Johnson were extremely good.

Everett M. Clark then gave a real treat in his rendering of "Perfect Day," "I Hear Calling Me," and "Tip Top." Tipperary Mary, Mr. Clark's tenor voice is mellow and true and he received such hearty applause that he had to respond.

The last number was a Dutch restaurant dialogue between Everett McLaughlin as the "long" Dutchman, and Dr. T. H. Veale as the "short" Dutchman. They brought forth many laughs.

The committee of arrangements for the entertainment were R. E. Young, Stanley Ross, Everett McLaughlin, Russell Westland and William Clement. The club officers are, R. E. Young, president; Stanley Ross, vice president; Chester Mosey, secretary; Everett McLaughlin, treasurer.

On Monday the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R. of Wollaston and the Old State House Chapter D. A. R. of Melrose, are hostesses for a meeting of the State society at the headquarters in the Police building, Back Bay, Boston.

An all day meeting of the Ladies Benevolent Society of the Wollaston Congregational church is to be held next Wednesday beginning at half past ten. Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson will be the leader.

Rev. Palfrey Perkins is to be the speaker at the meeting next Wednesday afternoon at Wollaston. All are invited to the service of the Unitarian church, his subject being "The Women of the Old Testament." Tea will be served.

Mrs. Muriel Arnold of 77 Arnold street is to entertain members of the Riverside Club at her home on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock for the regular business meeting of the club.

Charitable Ten Circle of King's Daughters is making a second collection of linen, old sheets or anything suitable for bandages for the Belgians. Members and friends interested are asked to leave their contributions with Mrs. Gilbert, Chestnut street before Saturday Jan. 23.

Act four of King Henry the Fourth will be taken up for study Jan. 28th by the Atlantic Shakespeare Society under the chairmanship of Miss Mary L. Hinkley.

Mrs. Laurence Heaton Sturtevant of Adams street is to be the hostess for the January meeting of the Hospital Aid Association on Thursday afternoon Jan. 28. Each member is invited to bring a prospective member to the meeting and work for an enlarged membership.

A meeting of the executive board of the Quincy Federation of Women's Clubs is announced for Thursday Jan. 28, at 10 A. M. at the clubhouse.

The Owatonna Social club, recently formed by the young women who reside near Brevers Corner, held their first meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marion Duffy of Copeland street. The purpose of the club is to see useful articles and the first hour was devoted to sewing after which the balance of the evening was given up to dancing.

Mrs. Cella Connors and Miss Grace Brownrigg alternated at the piano. Refreshments were served.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB. Again The Revels held last week at Mass hall will go down in club history as a great success and a frolic enjoyed by many. The next large affair, also to be held at Mass hall, is the opera Mikado to be given Feb. 10 under the auspices of the Music Committee. Mrs. John F. Hunt chairman.

The next regular meeting of the club on Tuesday afternoon will be at Alpha hall and under the auspices of the Legislative committee. Mrs. Maud Wood Parke, a well known and interesting woman will speak on "The Woman Movement." Around the table a large attendance should be present to hear her.

The first of six meetings of the parliamentary law class was held Monday afternoon at the clubhouse and notwithstanding the heavy rain over twenty were in attendance. This class is complimentary to members of the Quincy Square Club. The members are to take the knitting which they have been doing for the Red Cross work that will be the order for the day. The members will be guests of Mrs. Torrey at lunch.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD. Wednesday the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church is to have an all day sewing meeting in the Guild room. The parish school beginning at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be served by Mrs. Klingenhagen, Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Poch. At 2:30 the missionary meeting will be held. The officers for the ensuing year are: President—Mrs. W. C. Miller. First Vice—Mrs. D. J. Croucher. Second Vice—Mrs. Klingenhagen. Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Clean.

CHRIST CHURCH GUILD. At the annual meeting of the Women's Guild the following officers were reported: President, Mrs. Charles M. Chase; first vice president, Mrs. Edwin W. Newcomb; second vice president, Mrs. Agnes Emery; secretary, Mrs. Leon and Emerson; and treasurer, Mrs. Charles Wilson.

The Guild meets Thursday, at Mrs. Torrey's Adams Shore for an all-day sewing, making the 10-19 car from Quincy Square. The members are to take the knitting which they have been doing for the Red Cross work that will be the order for the day. The members will be guests of Mrs. Torrey at lunch.

SUSANNAH GODDARD FIELD. Miss Susannah Goddard Field, one of Quincy's oldest residents, passed away at her home on Franklin street early Tuesday morning after a few days' illness. Miss Field was born in Quincy Oct. 29, 1824, and has always made her home here. Although she had reached a venerable age she was a remarkably smart woman, retaining all her faculties up to a few days ago when she suffered a shock. Since that time she has failed rapidly until 3 o'clock when she passed away. On the occasion of her 90th birthday on Oct. 29 she received many of her friends and thoroughly enjoyed the day. She has made her home for many years with her brother and sister.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Relief Floyd, and two brothers John Q. A. Field and George H. Field. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from her late home conducted by Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone, who was the first president of the July 4th Celebration Association is arranging to have a group picture taken of the first officers of the association.

Relief Floyd, and two brothers John Q. A. Field and George H. Field. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from her late home conducted by Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone, who was the first president of the July 4th Celebration Association is arranging to have a group picture taken of the first officers of the association.

Relief Floyd, and two brothers John Q. A. Field and George H. Field. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from her late home conducted by Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The regular work of the Quincy Branch Alliance was held in the parlor of the First Parish church Wednesday afternoon at half past two. The Branch had as guests, delegates from the Alliance branches of Dover and West Roxbury. The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Anna M. Bancroft, president of the National Alliance, who spoke upon "Alliance Work."

Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, chairman of the Education and Organization Committee, has issued invitations to the chairman of the one hundred and six branches of the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Association for a luncheon at her home, 49 Beacon street, Boston next Tuesday.

It was voted by the music committee of the Quincy Women's Club to allow children under fourteen years of age to witness the dress rehearsal of the opera "Mikado," on the afternoon of Feb. 10 at Music hall. It will be an excellent opportunity for children to see at small expense a splendid performance of an ever popular opera.

Owing to several members of the Junior Friday club desiring to attend the parliamentary law class on Monday the meeting to have been held with Miss Edith Randall of Coddington street was postponed until next Monday. Miss Mary W. Holden will be in charge of the program, subject: "Darwin in South America."

On Monday the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R. of Woll

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1915. VOL. 79. NO. 5. FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot
Established in 1857.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Quincy, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.
ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1858.
H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LANDS FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 229 Devonshire Street, Tel. 847-W.
Tel. Fort Hill 591
JOHN W. McANARNEY
Counselor at Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.
INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1850 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
local and Mutual offices
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy
A. M. JAMESON
Real Estate and Insurance
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE
157 WARREN AVE., COR. WINTHROP AVE.,
WOLLASTON
Houses and Building Lots for Sale.
Houses and Apartments to let.
Tel. 1231-M Quincy. Mar. 9 12-p
AETNA INSURANCE CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48
JANUARY 1, 1914.
Cash Capital, $2,000,000.00
Surplus, $1,000,000.00
Reserve for Policyholders, $1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $1,000,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $1,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,481,553.48
RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1914.
Amount at Risk, $2,481,553.48
Cash Assets, $1,000,000.00
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), $1,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,481,553.48
Total Available Assets, $2,481,553.48
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies at 5 per cent; on three-year policies, 4 per cent; on one-year policies, 3 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:—Don Henson Hill, Dedham; Fred E. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. J. Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Frazier, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel E. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgson, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.
Incorporated 1825
Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1914.
Amount at Risk, $2,481,553.48
Cash Assets, $1,000,000.00
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), $1,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,481,553.48
Total Available Assets, $2,481,553.48
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies at 5 per cent; on three-year policies, 4 per cent; on one-year policies, 3 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas R. Draper, Quincy; William E. Lincoln, Brookline; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggins, Franklin; Sam F. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifton P. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.
DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
ORGANIZED 1855
Home Office, 18 Central Street, Boston, Mass.
Statement from Report of Triennial Examination of Company made by the Massachusetts Insurance Dept., as of October 31, 1910.
Amount at Risk, $2,481,553.48
Cash Assets, $1,000,000.00
Re-insurance Reserve, $1,000,000.00
Other Liabilities, $1,000,000.00
Total Assets, $2,481,553.48
ash Surplus October 31, 1910, $99,661.40
This Company now pays the following Dividends:
On five-year Policies, 40 per cent
On three-year Policies, 30 " "
On one-year Policies, 20 " "
Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
We read on your insurance rate-fifth.
WILLIAM A. MULLER, President.
W. D. C. CURTIS, Vice Pres.
EDWARD C. MASON, Secretary.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Directors:—D. R. Blackmer, Clarence Burgin, W. D. C. Curtis, Frederic B. Curtis, T. J. Frazier, Henry Hornblower, Louis K. Liggett, William J. McAffee, Edward C. Mason, William A. Muller, Henry J. Nichols, F. J. Sullivan, John P. Squire, Benjamin S. Sarel, J. W. J. Willis.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Hathorn
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Assuaging the Discomforts of Infants and Children.
Promotes Digestion, Chills, Coughs, Colic, Wind, and all the Troubles of Infants and Children.
NOT NARCOTIC.
A Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Bloating, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Per Bottle 35 CENTS.
416 NEW YORK.
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSION TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.
DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS
Order Your
STORM PORCHES
-- AND --
STORM WINDOWS
At Once.
Everything in wood and woodwork.
The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Offices:
Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

HODENOSAUNEE TRIBE.
The chiefs-elect of Hodenosaunee tribe, Independent Order Red Men of Wollaston, were raised January 22 by Deputy J. Lacharity and suite of Ponkapog tribe of Roxbury, about 100 members witnessed the ceremony.
The staff included A. W. Lacharity, DP; George A. Doul, DSS; F. Fogarty, DJS; William T. Hickman, DKW; A. E. Paul, DCMW; Charles McCluskey, DCR; James R. Walsh, DS; C. F. Pierce, DS; and James Jack, DG; George A. Barwell, DGM; H. F. Doul, DDGS. The warriors were William Lucas, A. H. Lindblad, J. H. Sullivan, John Carney, The Braves were H. A. Drikem, G. A. Keefe, Charles Grady, George F. Gannell.
The officers installed were: Prophet—R. H. Hey. Sachem—Norman Pemberton. Senior Sagamore—Wilfred Rogers. Junior Sagamore—Frank J. Mullen. Chief of records—E. M. Dunne. Collector of Wampum—George A. Dickey. Keeper of Wampum—Charles Y. Waterhouse.
First Sannap—Louis Glidden. Second Sannap—John P. Eagan. Warriors A. J. Clapp, Louis Fleischmann, A. Pooler, James O'Connell.
Braves—Sidney Williams, Thomas Colligan, Jeremiah Maloney, James McCall.
Mr. and Mrs. John W. Abbott of Atlantic, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith L. Abbott to Henry J. B. Stitt of Pawtucket, R. I. Miss Abbott is one of the most popular teachers at Quincy High school and was appointed four years ago. Mr. Stitt is a graduate of Brown University, '09, and at present is teacher of mathematics and teacher-coach in the Pawtucket High school.

BE MODERN
in your bath. Be good to yourself. Enjoy your morning plunge in an open plumbing Porcelain Lined bath tub.
We have them to suit your pocketbook.
We also do Steam, Hot Water and Furnace Heating.
GIVE US A CALL
Why wait until Fall to have your Heater cleaned?
Let us do it now when we can get the repairs quickly and give you prompt attention.
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
5 Maple Street
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 390 Aug. 8-14

THE LITTLE, TIRED MOTHERS.
"They seem so tiny in this vast old world we strive in daily. They see the busy folk rush past. With none to wave them gently; but their courage and pride and the wondrous strength that smothered in their tiny bodies." So the little tired mothers. "Oh, little tired mothers."

"They send their broad, old, one by one. To mingle with the sun and sun. To build and the sun and sun. Their hopes are in that long delf of tolling, dust and wind. And always do they try to smile. Those little tired mothers."

STRANGE CASE.
The ocean steamer Albert Corwith had passed the strait of Gibraltar and was westward and was standing toward the island of Madeira when the man in the crew's nest informed the third mate on duty at the time that something that looked like wreckage had appeared on the port quarter. The ship was put off her course a few points, and on drawing nearer a ship's boat was found wrecked in between a portion of a mast, a spar and some cordage. Meanwhile the captain had come on deck and was looking through his glasses at the floating objects. "Isn't there some one in that boat?" Mr. Renshaw "he asked of the third mate, who was also using his binoculars."

"It looks that way, sir." "Lower a boat and find out." The engines were stopped, a boat was lowered, and the mate was pulled to the wreckage. He returned bearing the body of a young woman. "Dead?" asked the captain as the boat pulled alongside. "I think not, sir." The gangway was lowered, and the woman was carried on deck. The mate had taken a flask with him and had given her a swallow of brandy. The ship's surgeon took charge of her and gave her additional stimulant, and soon after taking it she opened her eyes.

"Bring some broth from the galley as soon as it can be prepared," said the doctor. Fortunately the dinner boat was at hand and the soup was ready. The girl closed her eyes and had apparently relapsed into unconsciousness, but by being given a little of the broth she opened them again and this time seemed to take in the men bending over her. The surgeon directed that she be taken below and turned over to the stewardess to be put into a berth. It was some time before the castaway was in condition to be questioned. Then the surgeon, Dr. Reeves, undertook the task. The examination was brief, for the girl remembered nothing but of lying on the ship's deck with a number of men looking down upon her.

On the return of the rescue party the captain had sent for the third mate, who had been in charge of it, and asked him if in the wreckage he had seen anything to indicate to what ship it had belonged. This Renshaw replied that he had not. There was nothing that would have been likely to bear the vessel's name except the boat in which the girl was found, and this had been so battered by the surrounding wreckage that most of the paint had been rubbed off. The officer had looked for a name on the boat and had seen only parts of a few remaining letters on the starboard stern. They resembled a G, or a C, or an A, and an M or an N and were probably the last letters of the name of the ship to which the boat belonged. The captain had reproved the officer for not bringing the boat with him, whereupon the latter excused himself on the ground that it had been so surrounded by the wreckage that to extricate it would have been very difficult.

The stewardess, finding the castaway's hair matted with blood, washed it and found that it had come from a contusion of the scalp. She intended to call the doctor's attention to it, but it did not seem to her to be of much importance and was healing over, so she forgot to mention it. There were other contusions on the body, but none that were serious. Here was a case of a girl of 20 cut off from relatives, who were also cut off from her. If she had come to earth from another planet she could not have been a greater stranger. The ship on which she had sailed would either be reported missing or would make port, but neither of these happenings would be likely to give a clue to the girl's identity.

The Albert Corwith was bound for Boston and was due there about 10 days after picking up the castaway. This did not give much time for a decision as to what to do with the castaway when the ship reached port. In a few days she was sufficiently restored to go on deck and before the voyage was ended was quite herself with the exception of memory. She was still oblivious to the past. The captain headed a subscription paper with a substantial sum, and it was passed through the ship. The amount raised was given to the poor girl who must go ashore to an unremembered world.

The girl was much moved when the money was given her and accepted it, hoping that some day she might benefit some one to a like amount. She must have a name since her own was lost, and decided to take that of the ship whose crew had rescued her. She would call herself Albert Corwith.

near Portland, Me., looking out to sea. On the morrow they were to part, for the girl was going to Europe to study art. "I don't like to think, Winifred," said the man, "that the broad Atlantic will be between us for so long a time. I shall scratch off every day on the calendar as it passes till I have you with me again."

"It will not be long, Tom," replied the girl. "A year is not so long as it was when we were children. A month isn't much more than a week was then, and it is only 18 months between now and the time to return." The next day Winifred Collins went by train to Boston and thence across the Atlantic to Genoa. She studied both in France and Italy during a year and a half, as she had intended, then went to Genoa to sail for home. She wrote her lover that she would leave Genoa on a certain date in an evening steamer the name of which she gave him. When the ship came in Tom Gilbert was on the dock eagerly scanning the passengers who descended the gangway looking for his Winifred. The line grew thin and she had not appeared. The last person seen looking for her was a man in an evening suit, a man named James Thomas, secretary and treasurer.

Ward One—Ira M. Whittemore, chairman; Dr. A. H. Gilson, secretary; George T. Westland, treasurer. Ward Two—Harry G. Studley, chairman; Daniel Scouler, Jr. secretary and treasurer. Ward Three—Robert B. Craig, chairman; Arthur Sylvester, secretary and treasurer. Ward Four—William H. Teasdale, chairman; William A. Beattie, secretary and treasurer. Ward Five—Louis G. Cleaves, chairman; Percy L. Davidson, secretary; Arthur B. Hillman, treasurer. Ward Six—Frank E. Badger, chairman; James Thomas, secretary and treasurer.

In ward one it was announced that Charles H. Johnson had resigned from the committee and that Ross Y. Woodbury had been elected to fill the vacancy. Before proceeding to organize, chairman Richards said that he had served for two years. He had tried to do his duty both as a member of the city council and on the city committee and had continued to take an active part to aid in bringing back the party to its proper standard. Now he believed the party was in the ascendancy and he wanted to step down and give some one else a chance.

The committee then organized as follows the election in every case being unanimous. Chairman—Ira M. Whittemore. Vice Chairman—Herbert G. Beeman. Secretary—Dr. A. H. Gilson. Treasurer—Russell T. Anthony. In taking the office of chairman, Mr. Whittemore thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him. He said: "I considered it an honor to be elected president of the Republican city committee, but would not consider it an honor to be head of a dead committee. I hope that the members of the committee will attend the general meeting during coming year and that they will back me up. The future looks very bright for a Republican President, senate and congressmen in 1916. It is the duty of the committee to get together before the caucuses and select the best men for the positions and then stand by them."

Herbert G. Beeman in taking office said there were some things he wanted to say. He believed that if a member of the committee was a candidate for office he should resign from the committee. Col. A. L. Whitman said that before the caucuses and then stand by the men nominated. He believed that a committee of three should be appointed to see our representatives in the legislature relative to the enactment of a law so that no man could run for nomination in a Republican caucus unless he was a Republican. The motion was voted and Messrs. Gilson, Whitman and Beeman were appointed. A committee consisting of Messrs. Westland, Beattie and Burke were appointed to revise the rules of the committee.

Then followed an informal talk by ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone, Councilman Robert R. Craig and Chas. O. Yale, George T. Westland, John R. Richards and others took part. The theme of their talk was that if a man intended to be a candidate for nomination by the Republican party that he should be affiliated with that party. It was the feeling that if a member of the committee did not desire to support the party nominee he should get off the committee and it was the general opinion that the rules should be provided that if a member of the committee refused to support the party candidate that he should be put off the committee.

It was also the general sense of the committee that the city committee should get together before the caucuses and select the best men and then work for their nomination. A general stamp of disapproval was put on the scheme that was carried out last fall of a man seeking the nomination of three different parties and expecting the Republican committee to work for his election.

Ex-Mayor Stone believed that a little singer should be injected into the committee and he believed that Ira Whittemore was the man who could do it. He signed for the good old days when the committees got together and picked the best men and then went out and hustled for them.

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE.
Ira M. Whittemore will guide the destinies of the Republican city committee during the coming year, and as Ira is a hustler the committee hopes to obtain some of its old time activity. Mr. Whittemore was unanimously elected chairman of the committee at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening in the Johnson building. There was a good attendance of members from the different wards and considerable enthusiasm shown, and the committee expressed themselves as very optimistic as to the future of the party.

John R. Richards, chairman of the 1914 committee presiding during the first part of the meeting. Before the city committee got down to business the several ward committees organized of the year. These organizations were: Ward One—Ira M. Whittemore, chairman; Dr. A. H. Gilson, secretary; George T. Westland, treasurer. Ward Two—Harry G. Studley, chairman; Daniel Scouler, Jr. secretary and treasurer. Ward Three—Robert B. Craig, chairman; Arthur Sylvester, secretary and treasurer. Ward Four—William H. Teasdale, chairman; William A. Beattie, secretary and treasurer. Ward Five—Louis G. Cleaves, chairman; Percy L. Davidson, secretary; Arthur B. Hillman, treasurer. Ward Six—Frank E. Badger, chairman; James Thomas, secretary and treasurer.

In ward one it was announced that Charles H. Johnson had resigned from the committee and that Ross Y. Woodbury had been elected to fill the vacancy. Before proceeding to organize, chairman Richards said that he had served for two years. He had tried to do his duty both as a member of the city council and on the city committee and had continued to take an active part to aid in bringing back the party to its proper standard. Now he believed the party was in the ascendancy and he wanted to step down and give some one else a chance.

The committee then organized as follows the election in every case being unanimous. Chairman—Ira M. Whittemore. Vice Chairman—Herbert G. Beeman. Secretary—Dr. A. H. Gilson. Treasurer—Russell T. Anthony. In taking the office of chairman, Mr. Whittemore thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him. He said: "I considered it an honor to be elected president of the Republican city committee, but would not consider it an honor to be head of a dead committee. I hope that the members of the committee will attend the general meeting during coming year and that they will back me up. The future looks very bright for a Republican President, senate and congressmen in 1916. It is the duty of the committee to get together before the caucuses and select the best men for the positions and then stand by them."

Herbert G. Beeman in taking office said there were some things he wanted to say. He believed that if a member of the committee was a candidate for office he should resign from the committee. Col. A. L. Whitman said that before the caucuses and then stand by the men nominated. He believed that a committee of three should be appointed to see our representatives in the legislature relative to the enactment of a law so that no man could run for nomination in a Republican caucus unless he was a Republican. The motion was voted and Messrs. Gilson, Whitman and Beeman were appointed. A committee consisting of Messrs. Westland, Beattie and Burke were appointed to revise the rules of the committee.

Then followed an informal talk by ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone, Councilman Robert R. Craig and Chas. O. Yale, George T. Westland, John R. Richards and others took part. The theme of their talk was that if a man intended to be a candidate for nomination by the Republican party that he should be affiliated with that party. It was the feeling that if a member of the committee did not desire to support the party nominee he should get off the committee and it was the general opinion that the rules should be provided that if a member of the committee refused to support the party candidate that he should be put off the committee.

It was also the general sense of the committee that the city committee should get together before the caucuses and select the best men and then work for their nomination. A general stamp of disapproval was put on the scheme that was carried out last fall of a man seeking the nomination of three different parties and expecting the Republican committee to work for his election.

Ex-Mayor Stone believed that a little singer should be injected into the committee and he believed that Ira Whittemore was the man who could do it. He signed for the good old days when the committees got together and picked the best men and then went out and hustled for them.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEET.
"I had rather take a chance of my child getting burned than to have her run from a school building without wraps and run the risk of getting pneumonia," was the argument put up by one of a delegation of citizens from Wollaston who appeared before the school committee Tuesday evening and urged that the rule regarding fire drills be changed so that children might have time to put on their outer wraps. After hearing what the delegation had to say the school committee took the matter of fire drills under consideration. A delegation of citizens residing on Adams street appeared before the school committee Tuesday evening and urged that the rule regarding fire drills be changed so that children might have time to put on their outer wraps. After hearing what the delegation had to say the school committee took the matter of fire drills under consideration.

The following resignations were accepted: Raymond Finner and Miss Edith Grant of the High school both of whom have accepted positions in the Springfield High school, and Miss Edith Cummings of the Wollaston school. Miss Genevieve Egan was elected as teacher for the John Hancock school. Miss Ruth Wilkes for the Adams school, Miss Annie Cumming for the Wollaston and Miss Frances Kelley for the Coddingdon school.

An invitation was received and accepted from Dr. F. S. Andrews to attend a meeting relative to school dentistry to be held Friday evening at Hancock hall. The chairman was authorized to arrange for a conference of the school committee with the Mayor, president of the city council and chairman of the finance and public buildings committees of the city council to discuss the needs of new school buildings. A communication was received from the Quincy Women's club offering to defray the salary of a school nurse for the balance of the year. The offer was accepted and the committee appointed Miss Marion Jackson as school nurse. Miss Jackson is a graduate of Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett's school of nursing. She has been in service at the Massachusetts General and also at the Quincy City Hospitals, where she has frequently acted as matron.

The statement of expenditures of the school department up to Jan. 26, were reported as follows:
Instruction $15,088.83
Administration 509.26
Text Books 76.75
Stationery 559.42
Operation of Plant 3,688.24
Maintenance 18.50
Miscellaneous 130.60
Evening Schools 296.30
Total $21,899.15
Chairman Mackay announced the following standing sub-committees for year 1915:
Books, Supplies and Sundries—Messrs. Foster, McPherson, Hunting, Text Books—Messrs. Bushnell, Bruce, Curtis.
Transportation—Messrs. Diack, Newcomb, Mackay.
Evening Schools—Messrs. McPherson, Diack, Bruce.
Special Subjects—Messrs. Newcomb, Hunting, Foster.
Rules and Regulations—Messrs. Curtis, Bushnell, Foster.
Teachers—The Chairman, Messrs. Curtis, Hunting.
Finance and Salaries—The Chairman, Messrs. Hunting, Bushnell.
FOR THE DIFFERENT SCHOOLS:
High—Messrs. Mackay, Bruce Hunting, Curtis, Bushnell, Foster.
Adams—Messrs. Diack, Newcomb, McPherson.
Atherton Hough—Messrs. Hunting, Foster, Bushnell.
Coddingdon—Messrs. Foster, Hunting, Mackay.
Cranch—Messrs. Hunting, Curtis, Diack.
Grady—Messrs. Diack, McPherson, Bruce, Foster.
John Hancock—Messrs. Newcomb, Hunting, Bruce.
Lincoln—Messrs. Newcomb, Diack, Curtis.
Massachusetts Fields—Messrs. Curtis, Bruce, Foster.
Montclair—Messrs. Bruce, Bushnell, Mackay.
Quincy—Messrs. Bruce, Hunting, Bushnell.
Washington—Messrs. Bushnell, Foster, Newcomb.
Willard—Messrs. McPherson, Curtis, Bruce.
To serve with Chairman and Superintendent as a Committee on Use of School Halls—Mr. McPherson.
Advisory Committee on Industrial Education—Messrs. H. Gerrish Smith, Alexander W. Russell, Herbert S. Barker, Henry A. Marr, Charles L. Pratt.

LIVES IN DANGER.
The lives of two women, two children and a number of boarders were endangered for a time Tuesday when fire was discovered in three tenement blocks at 543 and 547 Washington street. There were many thrilling incidents at the fire, which is believed to have been caused by an incendiary, and later in the morning Sam Sawaya, one of the occupants of the building was placed under arrest. William Leahy, driver for Chief Billings, received a bad cut on the left arm by broken glass and the last considerable blood before the flow was stopped by Dr. E. H. Bushnell, who had been called.

The building is owned by Peter Antone and is occupied on the first floor by Sam Sawaya, who conducts an ice cream parlor on one side and a pool room on the other side. The two upper floors are occupied as boarding houses, that at entrance 545 by Louis Simon, his wife, young child and four boarders, and that at entrance 547 by Tony Simon, his wife and child, and three boarders. The fire started on the first floor and the first that was known of it was when the owner, Antone, who occupied a room directly over the store, was aroused by smoke. As he awoke he found the room filled with smoke, and not waiting to dress he ran through the house shouting the alarm. This aroused the two families and with difficulty they managed to grope their way through the smoke to the street.

SERVICES FOR MR. MUNDE.
The funeral of Alexander Mundie, a prominent granite manufacturer of this city who held his home at 106 Independence avenue, Saturday afternoon and was attended by members of the Granite Manufacturers Association, Clan MacGregor, Order of Scottish Clans, and Court John Adams, Foresters of America, with which he was affiliated. Rev. C. C. Tilley, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, officiated at the services and was assisted by Rev. Reuben J. Davis of Salem, former pastor. There was a profusion of floral tributes. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

ADIRAL BETREDER DIES.
Vice Admiral Onofre Betbeder of the Argentine Navy and president of the naval commission which superintended the construction of the dreadnought Rivadavia at the Fore River shipyard and her sister ship Moreno at the New York Shipbuilding Co., died suddenly in New York Sunday, Dr. Romulo Nao, the Argentine Ambassador in Washington reached his bedside just before death. Vice Admiral Betbeder was the special guest at the launching of the Quincy built dreadnought and was a frequent visitor at the Fore River shipyard. His body will probably be sent to Buenos Aires by steamer leaving New York on Feb. 6. Before his body is placed aboard the ship the United States government will transfered.

CLUB GIVES PLAY.
"The Real Thing," a comedy in three acts, was presented by the Quincy Catholic club at Alpha hall Tuesday evening. Although the stage was somewhat small for the requirements of the production and although the stage settings were meagre the play was a decided success. Men were barred but a good sized audience of the same sex as the players enjoyed the comedy. The plot is a good one and the scenes are staged in New York and Arizona. The chief element of the piece, however, is the vein of bubbling humor which is nearly always manifest.

Miss Mary R. Lyons made her initial appearance in a female role, having appeared in male parts in previous productions by the club. She played the role of Miss John Mortimer Dr. Reister, the title role, with feeling and spirit, more than justifying the expectations of her friends. Miss Elizabeth Mahoney as Aurora was girlish and attractive, helping Clifford in his love scene quite naturally. Miss Nellie Desmond, the waiter, block her lines with precision.

Miss Anna J. Walsh as Jim Duffy was altogether too handsome for the bad chauffeur. The character was splendidly interpreted, nevertheless. Madge, created by Miss Margaret Hancey, the haughty daughter, was finely done. Miss Clara De Coste was a typical New York man of fashion and her cigarette lighting in the scene with Harold, Madge's lover, as interpreted by Miss Lulu T. Crowley brought peals of laughter, which might easily have been disconcerted many, but not this day. Lothario, who kept on talking and perhaps only the coach knew how many of her lines were original.

Miss Corinne La Breque was a most vivacious Dorothy. Miss A. E. Picard was a dignified aristocrat De Reister, bringing out the dramatic points in a convincing manner. She was the star of the evening. The name of Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, the reader, who coached the play, through an oversight did not appear on the program. Anyone who knows her work, however, could easily discern the careful coaching in the dramatic situations and stage positions. It was a finished performance. The Catholic Club Orchestra the Misses McCarthy and Miss Harriet Pierce, rendered selections during the acts.

SCHOOL JANITORS ASSO.
The Quincy Public School Janitors' Association and the Norfolk District Association of the State Association held their annual meetings in the Johnson building Saturday evening. The Quincy association elected Louis B. Dunham, president; George L. F. Linton, vice president; W. C. Caldwell, secretary-treasurer; Robert Neill, and Fred Cahoon, trustees. The district association elected Mr. Robinson of Brockton, president; Mr. Hanlin of Quincy, vice president; Mr. Chadwick of Brockton, sergeant-at-arms; W. C. Caldwell, secretary-treasurer.

PRESENT PURSE OF GOLD.
The members of the Junior Ladies Aid of the Washington Street Congregational church at Quincy Point assembled Jan. 22 at the home of Mrs. Stephen Lang at 87 Edison Park. Music and games were enjoyed and during the evening Miss Helen Lee was presented with a purse of gold. Miss Lee's home was recently destroyed by fire. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Stephen Lang, Mrs. M. S. Wright, Edith McCreedy, Isabella Foster, Mattie Chisholm, Helen Lee, Ella Melville, Elizabeth Scouler, Helen Sherburne, Martha Schlenker and Cora Barnes.

BUILDING PERMITS.
Inspector of Buildings Merrill issued the following building permits last week:
John G. Habelt, garage East Elm avenue.
Fred C. Massey, addition, Fayette street.
John Lindgren, dwelling, Rawson road.
Agnes Wyman, boot shop, Linden and Sagamore streets.
George Thompson, addition, Arlington street.
Ethel C. A. Sears, dwelling, Bass street.
John T. Murphy, addition, Rustic place.
A. E. Walker, dwelling, Ellerton road.
C. F. Cook, alteration, Sea street.
William E. Lee, repairs, Thompson street.
Mrs. Ida M. Keenan, alteration, Turner street.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1915

PARISH HOUSE DEDICATED.

Thursday evening's reception held in the assembly room of St. Chrysostom's new parish house and the dedication of the parish house was a large and representative gathering. The rector, Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra and Mrs. Steenstra were assisted in receiving by Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock and Mrs. Babcock, Rev. Carleton P. Miles, Senior Warden Edward F. Parlee and Mrs. Parlee, and Junior warden Percy L. Davidson and Mrs. Davidson.

During the reception Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gorham Fowler rendered duets at the piano. The platform was decorated with palms and on the table was a vase of jonquils. After singing the hymn "Work for the night is coming," with Miss Louisa Allison Jones at the piano, the dedicatory exercises were conducted by Bishop Babcock.

The rector spoke briefly of a project accomplished. "Everyone," he said, "has taken some part, helped loyally with the one end in view. There has been no large contribution but each has had a part in the work. I am thankful and happy that this is so. Hereafter we regard this as an opportunity for Christian service."

The rector read a letter of congratulation from Rt. Rev. Bishop Lawrence, expressing regret that he could not be present, and one from Dean Rousmaniere of the Cathedral church of St. Paul, both of whom are in Chicago attending the consecration of Rev. Herman Page as Bishop of Spokane. He also read a letter from the second rector of the church Rev. A. Edwin Clattenburg of Wilmington, Delaware.

Bishop Babcock congratulated all on the beautiful building. "I know on the history of the parish," he said, "the prayers, labor, sacrifices and untiring anticipation which have been the heart and mind and real unselfish devotion of Mr. Cleveland, the architect. The building is worth while for the Sunday school alone."

He closed with a tribute of high esteem of the worth of Mr. and Mrs. Steenstra.

Rev. Mr. Miles, the first rector of the church, said it seemed like a family gathering. Nineteen years ago when he came to the parish only 28 grown ups could be ministered.

Rev. Welles M. Partridge, a parishioner, said he admired the spirit of the parish, the church can not do her duty and play her great part without the social and social life in the true sense. He spoke of how good a teacher the church had in Mrs. Steenstra.

Frank E. Cleveland for several years senior warden and architect of the building, said: "No one is so glad as I that this building is a reality. It is a happy occasion. The vestry acted wisely on the Bishop Babcock's judgment in changing the plan to less expensive one as shown by the results obtained."

A musical program was given by Misses Jessie J. and Edna H. Fowler and Messrs. A. Lind, Carl G. Paul Raymond and Victor B. Fowler with Mrs. Carl G. Raymond, accompanist.

Refreshments of fruit, punch and home made cake were served in the old parish rooms. The tables were effectively decorated with red carnations, by the following committee: Mrs. Anna K. Lee, Mrs. Thomas H. Bramhall, Mrs. George M. Campbell, Mrs. Horace W. Richmond, Mrs. John E. Walter, Mrs. Alfred A. Bibber, Mrs. Fred W. A. Shultz and Mrs. Hattie Gurney.

WILLIAM H. A. WALSH.

William H. A. Walsh formerly of West Quincy who for several years has conducted a drug store at 199 Hampshire street Cambridge was run over and instantly killed by an electric car at midnight, Jan. 22, in front of his store. Mr. Walsh had closed his store and was about to take an inbound car to his home at 70 Fayerweather street, Cambridge. As he crossed the street he dropped a coin and spent a few moments in looking for it. Then he waited for an outbound car pass and stepping on board it walked directly in front of the inbound car he wished to take. He was knocked down and horribly mangled and it was necessary to call the wrecking crew to raise the car and take out the body.

Mr. Walsh was 47 years of age, born in West Quincy and the son of Francis Walsh senior for 30 years of St. Mary's church and brother of Rev. Fr. Francis Walsh pastor of St. Agnes church in Reading.

The deceased is survived by a wife, son Frank and daughter Isabel. The funeral was held Monday at his late home. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter and Paul's church, Cambridge, at 10 o'clock. Rev. John A. Duggan of Lowell was the celebrant and Rev. Francis Hart of East Bridgewater, Deacon; Rev. Daniel C. Reardon of Newton sub Deacon; Rev. John Stanton of Stoughton Master of Ceremonies. Seated within the chancel rail were Rev. John P. Cuffe of Atlantic, Rev. Thomas Connelley, Rev. John Butler of Cambridge, Rev. P. Higgins of East Woburn, Rev. Edward Ryan, D. D. and Rev. Mark C. Driscoll. The pall bearers were Albert E. Lynch, president of the Inman Square Business Men's Association, Thomas F. Gorde, P. G. K. of Cambridge Council K. of C., Dr. Thomas J. Leahy, Dr. W. Ramsey of Somerville, Dr. J. F. Boyle of Cambridge, Richard A. Cole and Thomas J. Dunphy of Quincy.

A large number of druggists and business men of the district attended the funeral and several druggists in the vicinity of Mr. Walsh's place of business closed their stores during the service. The burial was in the cemetery at Arlington. At the close of the mass George D. Colgan sang "De Profundis" and Pie Jesu.

TO BEGIN CULTIVET.

There is great rejoicing at Rock Island when it was learned that at last work was to be commenced on the concrete bridge or culvert which is called, over the river of water that crosses Winthrop street.

Work on this culvert was held up some time ago on account of objections of John T. Cavanaugh, and the then acting mayor, Joseph L. Walton, acting a time for years when there has been so much privation in the city or when so many children have been kept at home because of the lack of proper clothing or shoes, all of which contributes to illness and general discomfort.

BRIEFS

The annual banquet of the Quincy Board of Trade will be given on the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Mrs. A. Hubert has returned to Quincy from Attleboro and will make her home on Bradford street.

Mrs. Ella May of Lynn was entertained by relatives in this city Thursday.

The annual ladies night of the Knights Templar will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 26.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church will hold its annual bazaar and supper in the parish house on Tuesday evening, Feb. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dackard, who since their marriage have lived in Norfolk Downs, have moved to 126 Glendale road.

Irwin Millard of Whitwell street who was confined to his bed with scarlet fever and diphtheria is able to be up and around the house.

The eighth annual charity ball of Quincy lodge of Elks will be held next Wednesday evening at Music hall.

Mrs. James F. Foy of 117 Cranch street has been called to Yarmouth where her mother is dangerously ill.

James Deady of Cranch street who has been confined to his home for two weeks with a crushed ankle is able to be up and around. He walks with the aid of crutches.

Miss Mary Durgin, formerly of this city has just returned to her home in Winchendon from a hospital in Boston. She has been very seriously ill but is now convalescing.

Howard D. Spear writes from Utica N. Y., on Jan. 23 that the thermometer registered zero. Mr. Spear is on a trip and next Sunday will be in Burlington, Vt.

Miss Edith Rouboun violinist is to play at the services Sunday afternoon at the Universalist church.

Members of Sons of Veterans Auxiliary No. 2 enjoyed a theatre party Thursday afternoon at the Castle Square Theatre, Boston.

School Committee Joseph H. McPherson returned Thursday from an extended business trip through Rhode Island and Connecticut. Mr. McPherson is manager of the special department of the Walworth Manufacturing Company.

Funeral services were held the afternoon of Jan. 22 at the Swedish Lutheran church for Miss Olga Lundquist who died at the Quincy City Hospital Tuesday morning. The young woman, who was only 22, was very popular and a host of friends completely filled the church. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

District Deputy Grand Master Sadie A. Walker and suite conducted the installation of the officers of Miriam A. Walker lodge of the B. P. O. Elks at the Quincy City Hotel. Accompanying the suite were several members of George A. Gill Rebekah lodge. The empanicipation of the work was highly commended by the large gathering present for the occasion.

Quincy Shriners figure in the appointments announced Thursday by Potentate William W. Morrison, of Aleppo Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Mayor Campbell was appointed one of the directors. E. H. Kavanagh, of South Quincy one of the keepers of the signet ring, and Councilman Frederick J. Kessler, one of the degree staff.

Mrs. John Bernatto and Mrs. Adele Wikendorf, formerly of this city, have sailed from New York to join their husbands in Buenos Aires, both of whom left on the dreadnought Albatross in December. Mrs. Bernatto is the wife of Lieut. John Bernatto of the Argentine Navy and Mrs. Wikendorf is the wife of Hugo Wikendorf, also of the Argentine Navy. Both lived here during the construction of the dreadnought.

The George L. Gill Associates, under the direction of Noble Grand Mrs. Sadie M. Walker, held a most successful whist party in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon. The play was keen and exciting and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Emma Necomb, Mrs. Grace Welsh, Mrs. William R. Thomas, Mrs. Annie P. Morgan, Mrs. S. Sampson, Mrs. B. Magnus.

The committee in charge of the annual Y. M. C. A. play has decided upon a three act comedy entitled "A Family Affair," to be given in Music hall, April 6. The play is under the direction of Ernest Osgood and the cast will be made up of well known local talent including Miss Georgianna Michael, Messrs. Charles Holton, William Walker and Edward Dow.

Senator Langelier presided at the annual dinner of the legislative committee on harbors and lands Tuesday evening at the Quincy house, Boston. Twelve members were present. President Coolidge of the Senate and Speaker Cox of the House of Representatives were the guests. Remi Langelier of Quincy gave several piano solos and there was chorus singing by the company.

The O. U. B. of the Universalist church held a mass meeting and singing at the church. The delegates who are to represent the organization at the annual convention at Springfield Saturday are Lester Sprague, president and Merton Grant, vice president. Bartlett Spooner, secretary, and Elmer Sprague, treasurer, will also attend. Plans were made to hold a party in the church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16. A social hour followed the meeting.

The Houghs Neck Associates held the first of a series of whist parties Saturday night. The souvenirs were awarded to William G. Norteman, Mrs. C. H. Howe, Mrs. Arthur Dunham, A. E. Medros, Mrs. James E. Wall, Mrs. Oakes, Roy Wilcox, W. E. Kingsbury, Mrs. W. H. Sturgis, Mrs. H. Norteman and the consolation prizes were Charles H. O'Toole and E. H. Howe. The series is being conducted under the direction of Walter Buchan.

The offer of the services of a school nurse to the school committee and the appointment of such an official to begin work gives great satisfaction to all who are interested and concerned in the welfare of children. This seems to be an unusually good time to begin work because there has not been a time for years when there has been so much privation in the city or when so many children have been kept at home because of the lack of proper clothing or shoes, all of which contributes to illness and general discomfort.

THALIA CLUB.

The Thalia Club of girls at the Quincy High School gave a play entitled "Jack O'Hearts" at the High School Hall Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Boys were barred from the cast and from the audience. The play was under the direction of two of the High School teachers, Miss Thayer and Miss Brooks. The stage was decorated in a very attractive manner by the following members: Florence Crowell, Louise Churchill, Mildred Burke and Anna Campbell.

The cast: Mildred Harrison, Helen Day, Mary Carey, Mary Carey, Elizabeth Reed, Pauline Randall, Marion Hardy, John Ames, Margaret Hogan, Annie Bartlett.

BRIEFS

Dr. A. H. Gilson attended a reunion of the Junior Baseball players of Massachusetts in 1873, 1874 and 1875 which was held at Arlington Saturday.

Duncan Kimock, one of the best known vocalists of the city and a popular man in Scottish circles, is ill at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. He is undergoing treatment for an operation.

The Ward One Republican committee has organized with Ira M. Whittemore, as chairman, Dr. A. H. Gilson as secretary and George Westland as treasurer. The City committee meets tonight for organization.

The trophy offered by the winner of the Elks' league matches by Capt. George Wardwell, at whose alleys the schedule is underway, was placed on exhibition in the window of the Thompson cafe Tuesday. The trophy is of silver and handsome design.

Rev. Benj. A. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church has been notified by the Central Congregational church of Atlanta, Ga., that it will extend a call to him if he is favorable. Rev. Mr. Willmott has declined.

Miss Eva M. Brown of Quincy was re-elected one of the vice presidents of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence society at its 44th annual meeting in Boston Wednesday. Hon. John D. Long of Hingham was re-elected as president.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Thomas of South Street and Albert L. Barbour of Linden place represented Christ church at the reception and dedication of the new parish house of St. Chrysostom church Wollaston Thursday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Keefe is spending the week end as the guest of Miss Frances Haley of Winchester.

Miss Edith Rouboun violinist is to play at the services Sunday afternoon at the Universalist church.

Members of Sons of Veterans Auxiliary No. 2 enjoyed a theatre party Thursday afternoon at the Castle Square Theatre, Boston.

School Committee Joseph H. McPherson returned Thursday from an extended business trip through Rhode Island and Connecticut. Mr. McPherson is manager of the special department of the Walworth Manufacturing Company.

Funeral services were held the afternoon of Jan. 22 at the Swedish Lutheran church for Miss Olga Lundquist who died at the Quincy City Hospital Tuesday morning. The young woman, who was only 22, was very popular and a host of friends completely filled the church. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

District Deputy Grand Master Sadie A. Walker and suite conducted the installation of the officers of Miriam A. Walker lodge of the B. P. O. Elks at the Quincy City Hotel. Accompanying the suite were several members of George A. Gill Rebekah lodge. The empanicipation of the work was highly commended by the large gathering present for the occasion.

Quincy Shriners figure in the appointments announced Thursday by Potentate William W. Morrison, of Aleppo Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Mayor Campbell was appointed one of the directors. E. H. Kavanagh, of South Quincy one of the keepers of the signet ring, and Councilman Frederick J. Kessler, one of the degree staff.

Mrs. John Bernatto and Mrs. Adele Wikendorf, formerly of this city, have sailed from New York to join their husbands in Buenos Aires, both of whom left on the dreadnought Albatross in December. Mrs. Bernatto is the wife of Lieut. John Bernatto of the Argentine Navy and Mrs. Wikendorf is the wife of Hugo Wikendorf, also of the Argentine Navy. Both lived here during the construction of the dreadnought.

The George L. Gill Associates, under the direction of Noble Grand Mrs. Sadie M. Walker, held a most successful whist party in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon. The play was keen and exciting and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Emma Necomb, Mrs. Grace Welsh, Mrs. William R. Thomas, Mrs. Annie P. Morgan, Mrs. S. Sampson, Mrs. B. Magnus.

The committee in charge of the annual Y. M. C. A. play has decided upon a three act comedy entitled "A Family Affair," to be given in Music hall, April 6. The play is under the direction of Ernest Osgood and the cast will be made up of well known local talent including Miss Georgianna Michael, Messrs. Charles Holton, William Walker and Edward Dow.

Senator Langelier presided at the annual dinner of the legislative committee on harbors and lands Tuesday evening at the Quincy house, Boston. Twelve members were present. President Coolidge of the Senate and Speaker Cox of the House of Representatives were the guests. Remi Langelier of Quincy gave several piano solos and there was chorus singing by the company.

The O. U. B. of the Universalist church held a mass meeting and singing at the church. The delegates who are to represent the organization at the annual convention at Springfield Saturday are Lester Sprague, president and Merton Grant, vice president. Bartlett Spooner, secretary, and Elmer Sprague, treasurer, will also attend. Plans were made to hold a party in the church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16. A social hour followed the meeting.

The Houghs Neck Associates held the first of a series of whist parties Saturday night. The souvenirs were awarded to William G. Norteman, Mrs. C. H. Howe, Mrs. Arthur Dunham, A. E. Medros, Mrs. James E. Wall, Mrs. Oakes, Roy Wilcox, W. E. Kingsbury, Mrs. W. H. Sturgis, Mrs. H. Norteman and the consolation prizes were Charles H. O'Toole and E. H. Howe. The series is being conducted under the direction of Walter Buchan.

The offer of the services of a school nurse to the school committee and the appointment of such an official to begin work gives great satisfaction to all who are interested and concerned in the welfare of children. This seems to be an unusually good time to begin work because there has not been a time for years when there has been so much privation in the city or when so many children have been kept at home because of the lack of proper clothing or shoes, all of which contributes to illness and general discomfort.

The Thalia Club of girls at the Quincy High School gave a play entitled "Jack O'Hearts" at the High School Hall Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Boys were barred from the cast and from the audience. The play was under the direction of two of the High School teachers, Miss Thayer and Miss Brooks. The stage was decorated in a very attractive manner by the following members: Florence Crowell, Louise Churchill, Mildred Burke and Anna Campbell.

The cast: Mildred Harrison, Helen Day, Mary Carey, Mary Carey, Elizabeth Reed, Pauline Randall, Marion Hardy, John Ames, Margaret Hogan, Annie Bartlett.

WEST QUINCY

The many friends of James Graham of Willard street whose hand was amputated at the Charlesgate Hospital, Boston, who injured the end of his index finger of his left hand the first of December so severely that a piece had to be amputated, went to work again this week. Mr. Perry is next to the oldest motorman in point of service.

Miss Margaret Shyne, Miss Pauline Scollard and Miss Evelyn Steele, students at the Bridgewater Normal school, have been assigned as student teachers in Quincy schools. The assignment for practice teaching includes a large number of students who are assigned to various towns and cities in the vicinity. The period extends from Feb. 1 to April 16.

The examination for the position of Census enumerators for the coming decennial census of the commonwealth for this city will be held in city hall Saturday evening, February sixth at seven o'clock. The rate of pay for this city is 2-1-2 cents for each person, one cent extra for each family and one cent extra for each civil war veteran. There are to be nineteen enumerators to cover the city of Quincy.

At last a member of the present official family of the city of Quincy has been found who does not desire resignation. Strange as this may seem it is only too true. The gentleman is Perry Lawton who for many years has been a member of the Board of Managers of the Adams Academy. There was a time when this board was an important one but as far as it is concerned it has been years since the board has held a meeting.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Gustave Lundberg of Albertina street is a patient at the Quincy City Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for an operation. She is resting comfortably.

The Evangelical Union services which have been conducted by three Swedish churches of the city, have proved so successful during the past three weeks that it has been decided to continue them another week. They will be conducted at the Swedish Congregational church beginning next Sunday evening.

The Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance Union hold its next meeting Friday Feb. 5 at 2:30 P. M. with Mrs. Charles A. Spear of 166 Washington street. The state president Mrs. K. L. Stevenson is to be present. An interesting program has been arranged and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Miss Bernice Everett of Elm avenue was appointed a teacher at the Malden High school.

The many friends of Postman Allen of Hamilton circle will be pleased to know that he is around again after his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredette of Apthorp street have moved into the apartment over Henigan's store corner of Billings road.

George H. Kendrick of 18 Beach street, Wollaston for many years New England manager for the Crandall Packing Co. has gone into business under the name of the Massachusetts Packing & Belling Co. with offices at 181 Milk street, Boston.

Harold Churchill of Billings road is to occupy the house at 32 Apthorp street.

Mr. Masgrave of Rawson road has gone into the laundry business in West Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gram, nee Hazel Scholwer of Lynn, are receiving the congratulations of relatives and friends on the birth of a son, on Thursday, Jan. 21st. The wife, who is now at the home of Mrs. W. H. Collier of Lynn, has been named Carl William Gram Jr.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church on the evening of Feb. 5.

The friends of Colonel Matthews of Fennel street, are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from several serious operations which he has undergone recently.

John F. Scott, district commercial agent for the N. E. T. & C. Co., will speak on "The Growth of the Telephone" at the Men's Forum of the Park and

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at

The Patriot Office, Quincy, City Square.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 28 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot.
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point.
H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point.
Shank's Periodical Store, Atlantic.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic.
Branches & Martens, Norfolk Downs.
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy.
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner.
J. J. Hammers, East Mill.
South Terminal Station, Boston.

G. A. R. Aid Society.

To raise $1000 annually to give Paul J. Reverse post G. A. R. a comfortable working capital so he will not have to surrender their charter because of financial difficulties and affiliate with Sylvanus Thayer post at Brantree, is the slogan of the solicitors representing the G. A. R. Aid Society who are now canvassing the city in hopes of collecting at least 1000 Quincy people in the interests of the 53 remaining veterans of the Civil war.

The membership cards, given when the annual dues of $5 per year are subscribed, were distributed at the meeting of the association in the council chamber Saturday night. Joseph L. Whitton, president of the council and of the association presided. Mayor Campbell was present and participated in discussing a plan of campaign. Throughout all the discussion, the tenor of which was "Assist the Vets", was the intimation that the balance left from the income of the association after the passing of the last veteran, should be applied toward the cost of erecting a soldiers monument to commemorate the loyalty of the Quincy boys who gave their services, many their life, so the United States should continue to be "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The association, incorporated since it was organized at the mass meeting held last December by Joseph L. Whitton, then Mayor, has received many assurances of support. All asked to serve on the committee appointed in each ward to increase the membership have cheerfully accepted office and through them the cards of membership will be circulated and the annual dues collected.

Although the by laws set the annual dues at $5, which carries with it a membership in the association and a right to vote, it is the unanimous opinion of the directors that those who will be unable to become active members will contribute something to the fund.

Already over $300 has been pledged to Walter E. Piper, treasurer and over $100 of that has been redeemed, while the rest will be in his hands by Feb. 1.

The first man to issue a card of membership Saturday night was Walter E. Piper, treasurer and over $100 of that has been redeemed, while the rest will be in his hands by Feb. 1.

The first man to issue a card of membership Saturday night was Walter E. Piper, treasurer and over $100 of that has been redeemed, while the rest will be in his hands by Feb. 1.

Y. P. R. U. MEETING.

The meeting of the Young People's Religious Union of the First church on Sunday evening was one of the most interesting and instructive meetings of the year. Miss Carline Walker and Miss Ruth Bass, who were in charge, gave a demonstration of the work of the Camp Fire Girls.

Miss Walker read a paper explaining the organization, the ranks, the honor beads, and the costume of the Camp Fire Girls. This was followed by a ceremonial, participated in by the members of the Wampatuck and Passamogottick Camp Fire.

Among the Indians, Miss Collins is called Wenonah. When asked what her name meant, Miss Collins said that the Indians always hesitate to tell what their names mean because names are given to them either in compliment or in derision. Wenonah means princess, a name that she has been given to her by the Indians.

MARTIN A. HEATHERSTONE.

Word was received in this city Saturday of the death of Martin A. Heatherstone at the National Soldiers Home at Togus, Maine. A resident of West Quincy was formerly a member of the Quincy and was well known by the older people of the district.

BURNS ANNIVERSARY.

Representatives from Clan MacGregor and Scottish residents of Quincy were at the Robert Burns anniversary celebration in Mechanics Building, Boston, Jan. 22.

WOLLASTON SCHOOL ASSO.

A discussion of over half an hour disturbed the usual tranquility of the Wollaston Parents and Teachers Association, Monday evening, when the committee in charge of the petition requesting a change in the method of holding fire drills reported.

A number of gentlemen spoke strongly against the system now in vogue while others counseled that the matter be left to the judgment of the School Committee. The matter developed to such a length that it was decided to postpone it until after the address of the evening, when it was finally voted to put the case again before the School Committee through a committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

Charles B. Hall reported for the petitioners and told of the experience with the School Committee when the petitioners had been given leave to withdraw. He argued that safer and saner methods were in force in other cities and that the matter should not be allowed to rest there.

The promoters of the movement found a strong adherent in Rev. Mr. Partridge who spoke at length, declaring that the health of the children came first, that the parents intended to have their rights and would not be hoodwinked or sat on by the school committee or anyone else.

City Solicitor Pinkham, who was present, thought the matter safe when the School Committee, whose board contained four well known physicians. He declared that it was not safe to have the children understand that fire drills would only be held in pleasant weather.

Mr. Hall replied that the point of contention did not lie with the school committee, but with the parents. He declared that a better system was in force in other cities and children were allowed to put their wraps on.

Principal Goodspeed deprecated the danger to the children's health stating that the children were not out doors over half a year. He stated that the doors would open at one o'clock, business session to be held at two and the play given at half past two.

Miss Edith Randall for the Program committee said a fine cast was rehearsing for the play "A Rose of Plymouth Towne," to be given Feb. 9 at Music Hall. Unlimited guest privileges were to be given to club members.

The doors would open at one o'clock, business session to be held at two and the play given at half past two.

Mr. J. R. Mellen announced a card party under the auspices of the Education committee to be held Friday at 2:30 at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh for the Philanthropy committee said a candy sale would be held by her committee the afternoon of the play. She also told of the successful rally held by the Young Women's Club and of securing Adams Academy from the trustees as a recreation house. Thanks to Mrs. Pfaffman there was over $400 on hand. Five hundred dollars were needed to repair the building for the use of the young women. She asked for the help and co-operation of club members. A dance is to be given by the young women Feb. 5 to assist the fund.

Mrs. White called attention to the parliamentary law class under the auspices of the Legislative committee, which was free to members. The second lesson would be held Feb. 1 at 2:30 P. M. at the clubhouse. She also called attention to several important hearings to be held at the state house.

Mrs. John F. Hunt for the Music committee said that beside the regular evening performance of Mikado on Feb. 10 there would be a dress rehearsal the afternoon before which children under 14 years could attend by payment of 25 cents.

Besides members from the Quincy Federation of women's clubs there were guests present from the Milton, Brantree and Wollaston clubs.

A musical program preceded the speaker of the afternoon, two songs, "Song of the Arab," by Phillips and "Irish Love Song" by Lang being sung by Warren A. Brown of Milton, with Mrs. Hunt at the piano. Mrs. Brown has a baritone voice of pleasing quality and his singing gave much pleasure and received hearty applause.

Mrs. White in introducing the speaker said club members should be particularly interested as each was a part of the subject to be discussed by Mrs. Parke whose subject was "The Woman Movement Around the World."

Mrs. Park spoke of her observations of the advance of women as seen in a trip around the world. She said that a tendency was always away from the oriental idea of seclusion and domination by men toward freedom, participation and responsibility in the affairs of life held by the women of the western world.

Everywhere it was plain that the opposition to the progress of women was not to specific reforms, but to the whole idea of woman's place in the world. It was different from that made familiar by custom. In fact, the greatest obstacle to the advance of women has always been conservatism.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward, who, when visiting this country, expressed surprise that women here did not have the same political and social rights as they had in England, is now opposed to parliamentary suffrage for women in her own country. This means merely that she has become used to municipal and county suffrage, and is too conservative to support an enlargement upon present conditions. She says that women can think municipally, but not imperially.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Among the Indians, Miss Collins is called Wenonah. When asked what her name meant, Miss Collins said that the Indians always hesitate to tell what their names mean because names are given to them either in compliment or in derision. Wenonah means princess, a name that she has been given to her by the Indians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

(Continued from Page Three.)

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

There was a large attendance of club women Tuesday afternoon to greet Mrs. Maud Wood Parke who spoke on "The Woman Movement." Around the "Woman" under the auspices of the Legislative committee of the Quincy Women's Club.

The President Mrs. Chandler W. Smith called the meeting to order for a short business session. An invitation was read from the Wollaston Women's Club to a lecture to be given by Prof. Hudson, Feb. 5 in Wollaston school hall. Attention was called to the Henry James players who were giving a series of Shakespearean plays at the Boston Opera house. Again members were asked to look over their old linen, cotton, blankets, etc. and send to the clubhouse where a committee would prepare it to send to northern France to aid in the work of Dr. LeDane among the wounded soldiers. The president would also gladly receive money contributions. Members were asked not to invite guests for the afternoon, Feb. 23, on the club anniversary as with the Federation officers and officers of neighboring clubs the clubhouse would be taxed to its limit. In the evening a guest may be invited.

Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham reported progress in raising the memorial fund to mark the tenth anniversary of the club which was to take the form of establishing a school nurse. The city had been divided into districts and all present and past members asked to give toward the fund. It was hoped every one would respond before Feb. 1.

Miss Edith Randall for the Program committee said a fine cast was rehearsing for the play "A Rose of Plymouth Towne," to be given Feb. 9 at Music Hall. Unlimited guest privileges were to be given to club members.

The doors would open at one o'clock, business session to be held at two and the play given at half past two.

Mr. J. R. Mellen announced a card party under the auspices of the Education committee to be held Friday at 2:30 at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh for the Philanthropy committee said a candy sale would be held by her committee the afternoon of the play. She also told of the successful rally held by the Young Women's Club and of securing Adams Academy from the trustees as a recreation house. Thanks to Mrs. Pfaffman there was over $400 on hand. Five hundred dollars were needed to repair the building for the use of the young women. She asked for the help and co-operation of club members. A dance is to be given by the young women Feb. 5 to assist the fund.

Mrs. White called attention to the parliamentary law class under the auspices of the Legislative committee, which was free to members. The second lesson would be held Feb. 1 at 2:30 P. M. at the clubhouse. She also called attention to several important hearings to be held at the state house.

Mrs. John F. Hunt for the Music committee said that beside the regular evening performance of Mikado on Feb. 10 there would be a dress rehearsal the afternoon before which children under 14 years could attend by payment of 25 cents.

Besides members from the Quincy Federation of women's clubs there were guests present from the Milton, Brantree and Wollaston clubs.

A musical program preceded the speaker of the afternoon, two songs, "Song of the Arab," by Phillips and "Irish Love Song" by Lang being sung by Warren A. Brown of Milton, with Mrs. Hunt at the piano. Mrs. Brown has a baritone voice of pleasing quality and his singing gave much pleasure and received hearty applause.

Mrs. White in introducing the speaker said club members should be particularly interested as each was a part of the subject to be discussed by Mrs. Parke whose subject was "The Woman Movement Around the World."

Mrs. Park spoke of her observations of the advance of women as seen in a trip around the world. She said that a tendency was always away from the oriental idea of seclusion and domination by men toward freedom, participation and responsibility in the affairs of life held by the women of the western world.

Everywhere it was plain that the opposition to the progress of women was not to specific reforms, but to the whole idea of woman's place in the world. It was different from that made familiar by custom. In fact, the greatest obstacle to the advance of women has always been conservatism.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward, who, when visiting this country, expressed surprise that women here did not have the same political and social rights as they had in England, is now opposed to parliamentary suffrage for women in her own country. This means merely that she has become used to municipal and county suffrage, and is too conservative to support an enlargement upon present conditions. She says that women can think municipally, but not imperially.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Among the Indians, Miss Collins is called Wenonah. When asked what her name meant, Miss Collins said that the Indians always hesitate to tell what their names mean because names are given to them either in compliment or in derision. Wenonah means princess, a name that she has been given to her by the Indians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

Mrs. Collins pointed out that if we wish to civilize the Indian, we must change his heart, that means, change his religion. The soldiers and the government schools are not doing this, this is the important task of the Christian missionary. And the converted Indians become very noble Christians.

NORFOLK DOWNS ARSENAL.

Chief Billings of the fire department who uncovered a small arsenal in a dwelling house at 134 Faxon road Saturday, secured two warrants, as deputy inspector of the Fire Hazard Commission, for James H. Jones, alleged to be the owner of 2900 cartridges seized on his order by the police Saturday. The case will be heard in the district court Friday.

Chief Billings' discovery was the result of a tip given him by Sgt. Larkin of the police department who was told by the owner of the house that his tenants had notified him that one of the occupants of the house was receiving shipments of powder and empty shells and that the moulding of bullets and manufacture of cartridges was going on.

Jones is charged with using a certain building for the manufacture of cartridges and with having more than 100 cartridges in a building occupied for dwelling purposes.

Chief Billings received his tip about 11 o'clock Saturday morning and visited the premises. That afternoon he took up the matter with Capt. McKay and Inspector Goodhue of the police department. All three visited the house and learned that the cartridges had been shipped by trolley freight a short time before their arrival. Inquiry at the Quincy depot revealed nothing and the goods were finally located at the Nagshead depot.

Chief Billings then took the matter up with the Boston fire department and was informed that it could not remain in the depot because, although the shipment was accepted in good faith, it was an illegal shipment because of its explosive character. The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

Quincy police then seized the property and it was taken in the police auto to local police headquarters where it is now held.

The cartridges were packed in five wooden boxes and weighed close to 300 pounds altogether. They were wrapped in boxes of 25 each, which were labelled "45 caliber" government gold primed shells.

All the boxes were consigned to the Ever Johnson Co. where Jones is said to be an employee. It is the belief of Chief Billings that the man was manufacturing in his spare time as empty shells and lead were found in the cellar of the house.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

Lincoln's birthday will be observed in this city on Feb. 12 by the Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, a meeting in the afternoon will be followed by a supper and in the evening the members of the tent and Paul Reverse Woman's Relief Corps will unite in the presentation of dramas.

Plans for this observance were made at the meeting of the tent in Grand Army hall Friday evening when the officers were installed in the presence of delegations from the allied Patriotic Societies of the city.

Mrs. Mabelle Gooding of East Weymouth, deputy, was the installing officer and assisting her as guide was Mrs. Anna Williams of East Weymouth department patriotic instructor. The officers comprised members of Dorothy L. Dix tent of East Weymouth.

Seated on the platform were Commander Mark E. Hanson of Paul Reverse post, G. A. R., Walter M. Packard senior vice commander of Col. Abner Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, and Mrs. Ella Hayden, president of Paul Reverse Woman's Relief Corps.

At the conclusion of the exercises Mrs. Gooding was given a casserole, and Mrs. Emma Ela, retiring president was given a handsome bouquet. The presentations were by Mrs. Annie Grignon, the new president. The officers installed were:

President—Mrs. Annie Grignon. Senior Vice President—Mrs. Mac F. Berry. Junior Vice President—Mrs. M. Christine Flynn.

Chaplain—Miss Lois E. Jenkins. Treasurer—Mrs. Exelis Nason. Patriotic Instructor—Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell.

Trustees—Mrs. Emma Ela, Miss Hattie Pierce. Secretary—Mrs. Lora B. Connell. Guide—Miss Fanny Grignon.

Bearers—Miss Ella M. Packard, Mrs. Annie M. Smith, Miss Mildred Maxwell, Mrs. Lena W. Seiden.

Guardians—Mrs. Bertha E. Priest. Outside Guard—Mrs. Lucella Thayer.

Press Correspondent—Mrs. M. Christine Flynn.

It was indeed a busy swarm of bees which collected at the home of Marion H. Hewson, 24 Newcomb place, Monday evening.

Gentlemen's night was observed by the Busy Bee Club and each of the bees, eleven in number was in fancy costume.

Crimline Girl—Annie McLaughlin. Fairy—Dorothy Cain. Fairy—Dorothy Cain. Fairy—Dorothy Cain.

Irish—Christie Cunningham. Scotch Highland Lassie—Agnes Cunningham. America—Madeline D. Hewson.

Indian Girl—Marion H. Hewson. Eskimo—Ida Newman. Spanish Girl—Dora Newman.

Japanese Girl—Dorothy Wolfe. Butterfly—Christina Linn. Dutch Girl—Annie Leving.

The guests of the evening were: Philip Wolfe, George McLaughlin, Gordon Gunderson, Frank Lening, Carl Holkinson, Anthony Cherville, Jerome Korman, Maurice Newman.

A post race was run, first prize for being won by Agnes Cunningham, for the boys by Philip Wolfe. There was also a contest in parlor bowling, prizes being secured by Annie McLaughlin and Frank Lening.

Refreshments were served during the evening, music and games enjoyed and judging by the "buzzing" of the bees a very pleasant evening was spent.

Officers of the club are: President—Annie McLaughlin; secretary, Marion H. Hewson; treasurer, Christie Cunningham.

FORE RIVER LODGE.

Past Noble Grand Charles W. Sears deputy to Quincy district, installed the officers of Fore River lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U. in Protection hall Jan. 22. Assisting him was Charles Weddell, grand conductor. The new officers were:

Noble Grand—James Bruce. Past Noble Grand—Philip Kessell. Vice Grand—John Phillips.

Permanent Secretary—George Poch. Elective Secretary—Oscar Farber. Treasurer—William McLaughlin.

Lecturer—John Lee. Right Support Noble Grand—John Davidson. Wardens—Charles Weddell.

Finance Guard—Peter Gunning. Finance committee—John Phillips. John Davidson, Philip Kessell.

MISS MALNATI-BERNIER.

Miss Mary Bernier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bernier of Buckley street and George Malnati son of Mrs. Ernest Malnati, 29 Trafford street, were married in West Quincy Tuesday evening in the presence of their immediate families.

The ceremony was performed at the St. Mary's parish house by Fr. Thomas E. Delaney, pastor. Miss Bernier and Wilfred Bernier, sister and brother, of the bride were the attendants. A reception followed at the home of the brides parents.

The bride is a popular resident of this section. The groom is a popular South Quincy resident and is a member of the sales force at the furniture store of W. G. Shaw. They will live on Bradford street.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Quincy post office for the week ending Jan. 23, 1915:

E. Austin, Enrico Barsella, W. P. Carpenter, Frank Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dubois, Victor Dubois, William Edwards, Minnie Fayles, M. J. French, H. Hackney, E. T. Harrigan, Master Kauko Johnson, Miss L. Johnson, Herbon C. Kimball, Fred Klein, Mrs. Hilda Linamama, John McClellan, J. McDonough, H. Preston, Miss Elizabeth Robertson, Christine Thelen, Miss Elsa Thilander, Fortunato Troy, John B. Whelan, B. F. Williams.

REV. DR. ANDERSON ACCEPTS.

Rev. Dr. Asher Anderson of Randolph, secretary of the American Congregational Association has accepted the pastorate of the Calvinistic Congregational church of Fitchburg.

Dr. Anderson supplied the pulpit at the Baptist Congregational church of this city for several months following the departure of Rev. Dr. Edwin N. Hardy and previous to the coming of the present pastor, Rev. Ben. A. Whitcomb. Dr. Anderson will receive a salary of $2500 a year.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson

Dr. J. C. Watson</

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Jan. 30	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Jan. 31	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 1	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 2	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 3	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 4	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 5	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 6	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 7	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 8	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 9	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 10	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 11	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 12	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 13	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 14	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 15	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 16	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 17	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 18	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 19	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 20	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 21	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 22	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 23	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 24	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 25	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 26	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 27	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 28	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 29	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00
Feb. 30	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00

A PROMISING MOVE.

The action taken by the school committee at its meeting Tuesday evening in authorizing its chairman, to arrange for a conference between the school committee, Mayor Campbell, President Whiton of the city council and the chairman of the standing committees on finance and public buildings relative to school accommodations, is a step in the right direction. For many years there has been more or less friction between the administrative and legislative branches and the school committee, which has worked to the disadvantage of our schools. A recent case which illustrates this was the discussion over the selection of a site for a school lot in Ward Two where the school committee recommended one site and the council committee selected another. There has been a conflict of authority relative to the selection of school plans often with resulting delay. The city council has always claimed that it was its duty to request the mayor to procure plans which should be sent to the council, which after selecting the plan which it thought best for forwarding to the school committee for approval. On the other hand the school committee has always claimed that it should select the proper plan. Many times the council committee and school committee did not agree and as a result there was trouble and delay. It is to be hoped that the action of the school committee will be the forerunner of a general pulling together by all departments of the city government.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quincy Baxter of Adams street, East Milton, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Tuesday, by a largely attended reception, held from three until five o'clock in the afternoon and eight until eleven o'clock in the evening.

The marriage took place during the last year of the Civil War, and Mr. Baxter, an officer in Co. 4th Mass. Heavy Artillery, married his young bride, and took her with him to Fort Scott, Virginia, where his company was stationed. Mrs. Baxter remained at the officers' quarters until April 12, 1865, when she returned to Milton the night before the assassination of President Lincoln.

American flags were draped in such a way that they formed a beautiful arch under which the receiving party. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. J. Henry Emery of Quincy, stood. Mrs. Emery, a life long friend, was present at the wedding fifty years ago. The house was decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, the color scheme being yellow. Jonquils were used in the dining room, and the gold on color appeared in the ices, cakes and candies.

Bunches of 50 jonquils, pinks or roses and many pots of jonquils, as well as gifts of gold and silver, all showed that Mr. and Mrs. Baxter's friends are many.

Mr. Baxter wore the uniform in which he was married fifty years ago and it fitted him as well as in his younger days. A comrade who shared the army blanket at camp with him at the front was present to extend his congratulations. James W. Pierce of Quincy, "The Friendship has remained unbroken."

During the afternoon and evening the following ladies poured: Mrs. Lavina H. Brackett, Mrs. John Emerson, Mrs. M. L. Rossi of Roxbury, Mrs. Annie S. Head of Brookline, Mrs. William D. Parsons, Miss Gertrude F. Sanderson of Littleton, Mass., Mrs. Henry S. Buntin of Hingham, Mass., George A. Buntin of Arlington, Mass., M. L. Abbott and Mrs. Ira M. Hill.

Mrs. Baxter has lived her entire life in Milton where she has since her youth been prominently identified with church, social and club interests. She has been active in the Milton Women's club, and several years ago served the club as its president. She is a charter member of the Boston Tea Party Chapter, D. C. Having held the office of regent, and in the present time the Chapter historian.

Mr. Baxter served three years in the War of Rebellion and was engaged in many battles, the best known of which were Spotsylvania, Cold Harbor and Petersburg.

During the afternoon music was furnished by Leonard Garrison of Brookline and George P. Hurd of Quincy. The program was sung by Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd. A poem, which was written especially for the celebration by an intimate friend of the family, was read by Mrs. Fred M. Hamlin. In the evening there was music by a stringed orchestra. The martial music and war songs of 1865 were played with spirit and enthusiastically received.

The union has been blessed with five children, three of whom are living. They are Miss Orissa M. Baxter, Stephen P. Hurd and Jess B. Baxter. There were present three grand children, Miss Katherine F. Baxter, Miss Mary W. Baxter, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Baxter, and Mrs. Richard P. Hurd son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd.

QUINCY SHORE BOULEVARD.

Mayor Campbell has held a conference with the Metropolitan Park Commissioners relative to the extension of the Quincy shore boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancock street at which he urged that work be commenced at once and that preference be given to citizens of Quincy who are out of employment. He is also to hold another conference with this board at an early date. In connection with this work it will be of interest to note that the committee on Metropolitan affairs of the legislature reported favorably Tuesday on the bill for an appropriation to build a bridge over Black's creek in Quincy. This is the bridge that is necessary by the new route of the boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancock street.

MASSONS ENTERTAIN LADIES.

The apartments of Rural Masonic lodge proved none too large Wednesday evening to accommodate the brothers, and their ladies who had gathered to participate in the annual ladies' night of the lodge. It was an unusually pretty party and the evening went a long way to establish a reputation of the lodge as royal entertainers. The entertainment itself was excellent and was furnished by the Temple male quartette, E. E. Bullock and A. L. Hipson, tenors; F. A. Varney, baritone and G. E. McGowan, bass. They were assisted by Miss Edith S. Roubound, reader, and Miss Edith S. Roubound, violinist.

Albert L. Hayden was chairman of the committee in charge and extended the welcome of the Worshipful Master, H. Everett Crane, the officers and members of the lodge. He said that he had been asked to extend the welcome to the ladies and that he was glad to do so. He said that he was glad to see the ladies and that he was glad to see the members of the lodge.

The program opened with a selection by the quartette, "Vocal March" for which an encore was demanded and graciously granted. The quartette were also asked to sing several numbers, namely a part song by Buck, "When the corn is waving," "The Milligan Lullaby" and a good old lullaby. Each of these numbers were heartily encored especially "The Milligan Lullaby," which was a humorous selection as were also the part song and the lullaby. In addition to the numbers by the quartette, Miss Edith S. Roubound gave a tenor solo, "An Evening Serenade," Mr. Varney a baritone solo, "Mother Songs" with choruses by the quartette, and Mr. McGowan a bass solo, "The Storm King."

The Temple quartette is almost too well known to Quincy audiences to need any extended comment. Suffice it to say that they sustained their reputation and added many new friends.

Miss Gordon was down on the program for three numbers each of which was thoroughly enjoyed. She gave some short sketches, opening with "A Whiskered Beauty," "The Philosophy," "Kratzky Philosophy," was given for an encore. Her other numbers included songs in dialect, particularly the Italian dialect "The Besta friend" and "Reda, Whita, Blau, Hurrah I gooda Merican." Another selection which was very pleasing was "The Montecarlo," a song by "Yoda de Milo." Her closing numbers were child imitations.

Miss Roubound was granted a warm reception, especially from the brothers who were present a few evenings ago when she appeared at an entertainment given at the close of the lodge meeting.

The installing officer, Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles A. Stevens of Washington lodge, in his suite were Past Chancellors: Edward M. Harris of St. Omer, George Ward of Milton, Herbert Marshall of Washington, Edward McKee of Washington, C. R. Apted of New England, Joseph Chapman of Washington, D. C. Other speakers were Past Chancellor W. L. Jacobs of Montauk, Past Chancellor L. A. Roberts of Blue Hill and Brother John Smith of Ivanhoe. The lodge appropriated $250 for the purchase of new regalia and will hold a ladies' night on February 10.

At the conclusion of the program C. W. Whitmore served delicious ices and coffee. It was the intention of the committee to adjourn to one of the small halls on the next floor below for dancing, but as it was still occupied dancing was enjoyed in the banquet and reception rooms.

ANNUAL REUNION.

The twelfth annual reunion of the Sacred Heart parish was held Thursday evening in the Atlantic Hotel ball and not within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has the capacity of the structure been so severely taxed. This was the first time the affair was within the parish lines, in some years, Alpha hall usually being chosen for the affair, and hundreds took advantage of the nearness to home to be present.

Fr. John P. Cuffe, pastor and the dean of the Catholic clergy of the city, and Fr. P. J. McNiff, assistant pastor, were the centers of the immense throng. Guests were present from all parts of the city, several extra chairs being required to accommodate the Wollaston and Norfolk parishioners and many from Metropolitan Boston, most of them former members of the parish, were among those present.

All varieties of decorations transformed the interior of the hall into a place of beauty, potted plants, palms and bunting being the foundations for the scheme.

The program was in three divisions, a concert by local artists opening the evening, dancing following and the supper bringing it to a close.

The concert opened with an orchestral selection. Miss May Stevens organist at the church then gave several piano solos and was followed by vocal solo which brought continuous applause. Miss Margaret Reardon and Miss Anna Kennedy were the vocal soloists. The program was sung by Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd. A poem, which was written especially for the celebration by an intimate friend of the family, was read by Mrs. Fred M. Hamlin. In the evening there was music by a stringed orchestra. The martial music and war songs of 1865 were played with spirit and enthusiastically received.

The union has been blessed with five children, three of whom are living. They are Miss Orissa M. Baxter, Stephen P. Hurd and Jess B. Baxter. There were present three grand children, Miss Katherine F. Baxter, Miss Mary W. Baxter, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Baxter, and Mrs. Richard P. Hurd son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd.

The supper committee was John J. Herne, chairman, William Coughlin, senior assistant, Edward Aves, William T. Moran.

The matrons were Mrs. Martin Burns, Mrs. Michael McGrath, Mrs. Victoria Goyette, Mrs. Fred Rhines, Mrs. Edward Harris, Mrs. Bartholomew Marshall, Mrs. D. J. Nyhan, Mrs. John Halloran, Mrs. John J. Herne, Mrs. Miles Creamer, Mrs. John Campbell, Miss Margaret Cavanaugh, Mrs. Bernard Cullen, Miss Mary Collins.

The dancing was under the direction of Jeremiah Donovan, assistant. The music was furnished by the James Keohane, Charles Duggan, John J. Cusick, J. C. Germain, Cornelius Duggan, Jr., Edward Webb, Francis Martell, Joseph Duggan, John F. Teenan, Alphonse Pickering, Edward Sullivan.

The dancing was under the direction of Jeremiah Donovan, assistant. The music was furnished by the James Keohane, Charles Duggan, John J. Cusick, J. C. Germain, Cornelius Duggan, Jr., Edward Webb, Francis Martell, Joseph Duggan, John F. Teenan, Alphonse Pickering, Edward Sullivan.

MACHINE GUN COMPANY.

Col. Warren E. Sweetser of the 6th Regt. Mass. Nat'l Guard, issued instructions Wednesday evening to Lieut. George Downes, detailed to make a machine gun company in this city, to arrange for the surgeons and ammunition of applicants in Union hall on Monday evening. Col. Sweetser did not say who would be assigned but it is the general belief of the Quincy members of the medical corps of 9th Regt. will be chosen.

Requisition for a complete outfit for 55 men has been made on the state department, 10 per cent more than the militia regulations allow but no opposition to the ten per cent increase is anticipated.

Col. Sweetser and Lieut. Downes will both be here next Monday evening. They hope to be permitted to appear before the city council and explain the plan for the machine gun company. The arrangement will be for the city to appropriate $500 annually for the rental of Alpha and Union halls, the state to reimburse the city.

Applications for membership in the company are being gradually received and the number now is close to 70. The applicants represent all nationalities which is possible because there is no discrimination against nationality or religion.

Lieut. Downes, aside from having a social program in mind which will include several dancing parties and an annual ball is in hopes of enlisting some of the local athletes in the ranks so that the company can have its own base ball, foot ball and basketball teams, the same as other companies throughout the state.

MERRYMAINT INSTALLATION.

The installation of officers of Merry-maintenance lodge 77, Knights of Pythias, was held in Colonial hall, Wednesday evening, when the following were inducted to office:

Chancellor—Commander E. Thornton Walters.
Vice-Chancellor—Lewis N. Poland.
Treasurer—Alton W. Bissett.
Master of Work—Wm. F. Houston.
Keeper of Records and Seal—Victor Harris.
Master of Finance—E. Lew Haskell.
Master of Eschequer—Howard G. Hingley.

The installing officer, Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles A. Stevens of Washington lodge, in his suite were Past Chancellors: Edward M. Harris of St. Omer, George Ward of Milton, Herbert Marshall of Washington, Edward McKee of Washington, C. R. Apted of New England, Joseph Chapman of Washington, D. C. Other speakers were Past Chancellor W. L. Jacobs of Montauk, Past Chancellor L. A. Roberts of Blue Hill and Brother John Smith of Ivanhoe. The lodge appropriated $250 for the purchase of new regalia and will hold a ladies' night on February 10.

At the conclusion of the program C. W. Whitmore served delicious ices and coffee. It was the intention of the committee to adjourn to one of the small halls on the next floor below for dancing, but as it was still occupied dancing was enjoyed in the banquet and reception rooms.

VEPSE SERVICE.

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock there will be a most interesting vespers service in the Wollaston Congregational church. The music will be by the Schumann Male Quartet, and Mrs. Frances Titefsky, soprano soloist.

BOYS CLUB MEETS.

The second meeting of the Wollaston Baptist Boys' Club was held at the residence of their Sunday school teacher, Frank Burgess, 355 Highland avenue. The constitution read by Spencer Gray was ratified by the club. The officers elected at the former meeting were President, Howard Walter; Vice President, Maurice Berry; Secretary, Philip Moores; Treasurer, Frederick Culver.

The club was entertained with instrumental music by Howard W. Walter and Frederick Culver. Juggling acts by Joseph Barber.

Later in the evening light refreshments were served and an informal social held including an exhibition of leggedman by several of the members including the teacher.

In leaving many expressed themselves as having a "good time." Another meeting will be held on Feb. 25.

HARTLEY-MEACHERN.

Miss Katherine A. McEachern, daughter of Mrs. Margaret McEachern of 261 Water street and Daniel J. Hartley, son of Mrs. Bridget Hartley of 100 Philip street, and one of the shoe merchants of Quincy centre, were married Wednesday evening in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed at the St. Johns parish house by Fr. John J. Casey. Miss Duffy of West Quincy was bridesmaid and William J. Sullivan of Quincy was best man. The bride was dressed in a blue travelling suit, trimmed with fur, and her bridesmaid wore a black travelling suit, trimmed with fur. Both wore hats to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley held a reception at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony and were greeted by many of their friends, and the recipients of many handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley are now on a honeymoon trip to New York city and other points of interest. They will live at 98 Revere road where they will be at home to their friends after March 1.

MRS. JOHN EVANS.

Mrs. John Evans died at her home 10 Copeland street, Quincy, Tuesday after a prolonged illness. She was born in Wales, August 19, 1845.

Her death will be felt keenly by the few left of the early Welsh residents here. She will also be missed by the people of Bethany church, of which she was a member for many years. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. H. Albertus Spear, Jr. of Walpole and Mrs. Arthur V. Curtis of Washington, D. C., and a son Frederick Evans and eleven grand children.

CONGREGATIONAL CLUB.

One of the most interesting evenings in the history of the Wollaston Congregational club was enjoyed Tuesday evening, when Robert Lincoln O'Brien, for many years the Washington correspondent of a large Boston newspaper and now editor of the "Boston Herald," told of his experiences at the capitol and of the famous men with whom he had come in close personal contact.

From start to finish the talk was one of personal anecdotes, many humorous and all far more interesting interspersed with comprehensive word portraits of the nation's presidents and others high up in the conduct of governmental affairs.

In opening he mentioned the latest news item from the White House which stated that the Sayre baby had received in all a bushel basket of footware. The whole part of the report that he declared to be a fake. Some enterprising journalist had done the rest.

The extra work of the clerical force of the White House each time one of these fakes was put in circulation was described. He told of the fake report that some reporter started that the Cleveland baby had received 25 baby carriages. There were several hundred requests from all over the country asking for one of the extra carriages.

Mr. O'Brien called attention to the need of careful selection of entertainments of the year are booked for this month, the dramatic Feb. 9, at Music hall in the regular club program and the opera Mikado on the evening of Feb. 10, also at Music hall an extra event given by the music committee. Mrs. John F. Poeh, chairman, said that she was big social chairman as well as a pleasurable musical entertainment. The soloists are artists of note while the well trained chorus will be made up of the best voices, men and women of the city.

At the meeting of the Thursday Evening Study Club a paper was read by Miss Isabelle Moir on "German Literature" which was very interesting, dealing with such writers as Lessing, Wieland, Goethe, Schiller, Jean Paul and others of more or less note and their works.

Junior Friday Club had a most delightful meeting Monday afternoon with Miss Edith Randall of Coddington street. Darwin proved an entertaining subject under the chairmanship of Miss Mary W. Holden, papers being given by Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Lawton, Miss Wood and Mrs. Litchfield. The date of the next meeting will be Feb. 8 at the home of Mrs. Albert H. Wright, 505 Saville avenue, subjects—Argentina and Chili, chairman Mrs. Thompson.

The annual sale of the Massachusetts Society Daughters of the Revolution, for the benefit of its treasury is to be held Thursday Feb. 4, from 10:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. in the banquet hall of Hotel Westminster, Boston, with buffet lunch from 12:30 until 2 o'clock.

A new departure greeted the members on entering the supper room, when they discovered that the young men waiters had been supplanted by young women. At the close of the meal they were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their deft services. The singing of popular songs was enjoyed, those present entering in with the chorus. Treasurer Mandel reported net proceeds from the "Plantation Show" to be nearly $175.

BOYS CLUB MEETS.

The second meeting of the Wollaston Baptist Boys' Club was held at the residence of their Sunday school teacher, Frank Burgess, 355 Highland avenue. The constitution read by Spencer Gray was ratified by the club. The officers elected at the former meeting were President, Howard Walter; Vice President, Maurice Berry; Secretary, Philip Moores; Treasurer, Frederick Culver.

The club was entertained with instrumental music by Howard W. Walter and Frederick Culver. Juggling acts by Joseph Barber.

Later in the evening light refreshments were served and an informal social held including an exhibition of leggedman by several of the members including the teacher.

In leaving many expressed themselves as having a "good time." Another meeting will be held on Feb. 25.

HARTLEY-MEACHERN.

Miss Katherine A. McEachern, daughter of Mrs. Margaret McEachern of 261 Water street and Daniel J. Hartley, son of Mrs. Bridget Hartley of 100 Philip street, and one of the shoe merchants of Quincy centre, were married Wednesday evening in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed at the St. Johns parish house by Fr. John J. Casey. Miss Duffy of West Quincy was bridesmaid and William J. Sullivan of Quincy was best man. The bride was dressed in a blue travelling suit, trimmed with fur, and her bridesmaid wore a black travelling suit, trimmed with fur. Both wore hats to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley held a reception at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony and were greeted by many of their friends, and the recipients of many handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley are now on a honeymoon trip to New York city and other points of interest. They will live at 98 Revere road where they will be at home to their friends after March 1.

MRS. JOHN EVANS.

Mrs. John Evans died at her home 10 Copeland street, Quincy, Tuesday after a prolonged illness. She was born in Wales, August 19, 1845.

Her death will be felt keenly by the few left of the early Welsh residents here. She will also be missed by the people of Bethany church, of which she was a member for many years. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. H. Albertus Spear, Jr. of Walpole and Mrs. Arthur V. Curtis of Washington, D. C., and a son Frederick Evans and eleven grand children.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Atlantic Shakespeare Society met at the home of Mrs. Walter A. Jackson, Thursday afternoon. The fourth act of Henry Fourth was taken up for study. Mr. B. Frank Thomas was chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. Chauncey J. Hawkins will be the speaker; Mrs. S. I. Wood conduct the devotions, and Mrs. Frank A. Page the soloist at the Feb. 3d meeting of Bethany Women's Union.

Kathryn Crane Memorial Club meets next Tuesday afternoon with Harriet Barber as Linden place.

William N. Craig from the Ames estate in North Easton is to speak at the meeting of the Philergians of Braintree on Tuesday afternoon in Coochall hall, subject "The Beauty and Value of our Town and Shrubs." The meeting will be open to the public, the attendance of any interested in the subject being desired.

February is surely an important month this season with members of the Quincy Women's club for on the 23d the tenth anniversary will be observed. After two of the finest entertainments of the year are booked for this month, the dramatic Feb. 9, at Music hall in the regular club program and the opera Mikado on the evening of Feb. 10, also at Music hall an extra event given by the music committee. Mrs. John F. Poeh, chairman, said that she was big social chairman as well as a pleasurable musical entertainment. The soloists are artists of note while the well trained chorus will be made up of the best voices, men and women of the city.

At the meeting of the Thursday Evening Study Club a paper was read by Miss Isabelle Moir on "German Literature" which was very interesting, dealing with such writers as Lessing, Wieland, Goethe, Schiller, Jean Paul and others of more or less note and their works.

Junior Friday Club had a most delightful meeting Monday afternoon with Miss Edith Randall of Coddington street. Darwin proved an entertaining subject under the chairmanship of Miss Mary W. Holden, papers being given by Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Lawton, Miss Wood and Mrs. Litchfield. The date of the next meeting will be Feb. 8 at the home of Mrs. Albert H. Wright, 505 Saville avenue, subjects—Argentina and Chili, chairman Mrs. Thompson.

The annual sale of the Massachusetts Society Daughters of the Revolution, for the benefit of its treasury is to be held Thursday Feb. 4, from 10:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. in the banquet hall of Hotel Westminster, Boston, with buffet lunch from 12:30 until 2 o'clock.

A new departure greeted the members on entering the supper room, when they discovered that the young men waiters had been supplanted by young women. At the close of the meal they were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their deft services. The singing of popular songs was enjoyed, those present entering in with the chorus. Treasurer Mandel reported net proceeds from the "Plantation Show" to be nearly $175.

BOYS CLUB MEETS.

The second meeting of the Wollaston Baptist Boys' Club was held at the residence of their Sunday school teacher, Frank Burgess, 355 Highland avenue. The constitution read by Spencer Gray was ratified by the club. The officers elected at the former meeting were President, Howard Walter; Vice President, Maurice Berry; Secretary, Philip Moores; Treasurer, Frederick Culver.

The club was entertained with instrumental music by Howard W. Walter and Frederick Culver. Juggling acts by Joseph Barber.

Later in the evening light refreshments were served and an informal social held including an exhibition of leggedman by several of the members including the teacher.

In leaving many expressed themselves as having a "good time." Another meeting

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED, 1837.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 6.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1421 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: (Quincy) 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
a one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHED BY THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LANDS FOR SALE
AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. 847-W.
Tel. 1041-F.

JOHN W. MCANARNEY

Counsellor At-Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1859 by
W. PORTER
Insurance Office in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 90 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

A. M. JAMESON

Real Estate and Insurance
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE
157 WARREN AVE., COR. WINTHROP AVE.
WOLLASTON.
Houses and Building Lots for sale.
Rouses and Apartments.
Tel. 1231-3 Quincy. Mar 9 11-P.

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1915.

Cash Capital,	$2,000,000.00
Net Surplus,	6,299,289.80
Surplus for Policyholders,	$1,909,289.80
Reserve for Re-insurance,	9,000,727.77
Reserve for Unpaid Losses,	72,208.94
Reserve for Other Claims,	28,523.74
Total Assets,	$24,841,290.24

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 47,000.00
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 74,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $199,926.00
Contingent Assets, 141,913.31
Total Available Assets, 341,839.31
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer
DIRECTORS:—Frederick B. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Frazier, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgdon, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 44,729.07
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 206,685.61
Amount of Cash Surplus, $48,000.00
Contingent Assets, 140,407.75
Total Available Assets, 188,407.75
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Dr. George M. Wald, Dedham; Thomas Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brookline; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggin, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Timmon, Norwood; Clifford F. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

ORGANIZED 1855
Home Office, 18 Central Street,
Boston, Mass.
Statement from Report of Triennial Examination of Company made by the Massachusetts Insurance Dept., as of October 21, 1914.
Amount at Risk, $10,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 267,924.00
Re-insurance Reserve, $1,294,248.00
Other Liabilities, 970,648.00
208,000.00
ash Surplus October 31, 1914, $99,061.40
This Company now pays the following Dividends:
On five-year Policies 40 per cent
On three-year Policies 30 per cent
On one-year Policies 20 per cent
Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
We red on your insurance rate one-fifth.
WILLIAM A. MILLER, President.
W. D. C. CURTIS, Vice Pres.
EDWARD C. MAXSON, Secretary.
CLARENCE BUDICK, Treasurer.
Directors: Paul B. Blackman, Charlestown; W. D. C. Curtis, Franklin; L. Curtis, T. A. Fawcett, Henry Hornsby, Louis K. Luzzett, William J. McFarlane, Edward C. Mason, William A. Miller, Henry J. Nichols, F. F. Sullivan, John P. Squire, Benjamin F. Sarel, I. Wild, J. Willis.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic, all Stomach and Bowel Complaints. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS

Order Your

STORM PORCHES

-- AND --

STORM WINDOWS

At Once.

Everything in wood and woodwork.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

ERNEST WALLACE.

Funeral services for the late Ernest Wallace of 124 Central street, who passed away at his home Wednesday morning, were held at Christ church, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock following a short service of prayer at the house, the Rev. F. H. Stearns of Wollaston officiating.

The services were attended by the Foresters of America and the Sons of St. George, of which the deceased was a member. A quartette from the Sons of St. George sang during the services.

At the close of the Episcopal burial service the Sons of St. George conducted their ritualistic service. A short service was held at the grave in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery. Four members of the Sons of St. George and four members of the Foresters of America acted as bearers.

Mr. Wallace was 46 years old and came from England. He was a granite cutter by trade and has resided in Quincy for a number of years. He is survived by his wife, one son, Ernest, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Bertha.

The funeral home was many and beautiful, a silent tribute to the esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

BE MODERN

in your bath. Be good to yourself. Enjoy your morning plunge in an open plumbing Porcelain Lined tub.

We have them to suit your pocketbook.

We also do Steam, Hot Water and Furnace Heating.

GIVE US A CALL

Why wait until Fall to have your Heater cleaned?

Let us do it now when we can get the repairs quickly and give you prompt attention.

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

5 Maple Street Quincy

Tel. Quincy 390 Aug. 8-14

MYOT'S LIGHT.

By James L. Edwards.

Long pillar rising from the restless sea.

A friendly sentinel you seem to be,

Thy flashing light to many an anxious eye.

The signal sends that home, dear home, is nigh

When summer's whispering breezes softly blow,

In whistling gales, and winter's blind-

Still shines your golden lance of light.

A guide post in the pathless shades of night

The gale-lashed surges madly leap and roar,

Like hosts of sea wolves on the trembling shore,

But leaning on thy granite breast in vain.

They break in foam, yet rise to strike again

In nights of fog, scourge of the fickle sea.

The tossing bell buoys' toll sounds from the lee.

Then through a rift thy blazing star the helmsman springs and from the lodges steers

Shine on, titanic tower, Cyclops eyes,

But woe to thee should gale-eyed waves and tide.

Some missile wreck in fury at thee fling.

As David smote Goliath with his sling.

THE LOVE THAT ENDURES.

In a villa rising upon a rock promontory by the Mediterranean shore we were assembled for the 5 o'clock tea.

We were speaking of love, discussing that topic old as the world itself and repeating things that had been said times without number.

"Can love last many years?" "Yes," affirmed one. "No," denied another.

At this juncture an old gentleman, who had not yet taken part in the contents, spoke.

"Listen," he broke in. "On that island that stands itself before us as though it were anxious to answer what we were saying a little while ago, and to bring back to me a singular recollection of the past, I have known an admirable example of constant and wonderful love. Five years ago I made a voyage to Corsica. That savage island is more unfamiliar and seems further to us than America, although one can see it from our shores.

"Corsica, bathing in Italian waters, violently contrasting with the country that is geographically her mainland, has remained as in her barbaric stage. Man lives there in his rustic dwelling, unconcerned for everything but his existence and his family's quarrels.

"For a month I had been roving across and about that intensely picturesque island, with the sensation that I was at the end of the world. One evening after 10 hours of march I reached an isolated house located at the bottom of a dale which led directly to the seashore. On both sides of the dale the steep slopes were composed of loose rocks, with here and there a cluster of big trees, giving to the whole an aspect dully picturesque. Around the house was a little garden with grape vines, chestnut trees, some fruit-bearing shrubs, enough to live upon, in such a poor country.

"I was welcomed by an old lady. A man sitting on a straw-padded chair rose up politely, then sat again without saying a word. The old lady turned toward me and said:

"Excuse him, please, monsieur. He is deaf now. He is 82 years old."

"She spoke so pure a French that I could not help asking:

"You are not from Corsica, are you?"

"No," she answered, "we are from the continent; but we came here 50 years ago."

"I felt deeply astonished at the very thought of that life spent in a lonely ravine, far away from any community. An old shepherd came in, and we took place around the table for supper. After a short repast, composed of bacon boiled with potatoes and cabbage, I went out and took a seat in front of the habitation. I was there, thoughtful, moved by the melancholy of the landscape and by that sadness that sometimes fills the traveler longing for home, when the old lady joined me, tormented apparently by that curiosity that old lives live, even in the most resigned soul.

"So you come from France?" she said.

"Yes," I answered, "I am traveling for my pleasure."

"You are Parisian, perhaps?"

"No I am from Nancy."

"At that juncture a strange pale-faced man entered the room, betraying an intense emotion, and she repeated slowly: 'You from Nancy?'"

"The old man appeared, standing up in the doorway, impassable as death. He is survived by his wife, one son, Ernest, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Bertha.

The funeral home was many and beautiful, a silent tribute to the esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

D. OF V. HOLD SERVICES.

The funeral of Mrs. Edna French, wife of William French, commander of the Sons of Veterans, was held Friday Jan. 29, from her home on Independence avenue. The ritual of the daughters of Veterans, of which the deceased was a member, of the local tent, of which her mother, Mrs. Annie G. Grignon is president, was read by Senior Vice Commander Mrs. Mac Berry. Delegations from Rebecca Wiswell tent, D. of V. and Col Abner Packard camp, S. of V. were present, the latter being represented by four gall bearers. There was a profusion of floral remembrances. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

THE MIKADO.

Those of us who witnessed nearly thirty years ago, the first production in Boston of Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, "The Mikado," will remember the "actor act" which it was which it received "everyone's praise."

"The Moon and I," "I've got them on my list," and the many other tuneful lays of the score, became household melodies.

The Mikado was composed in 1885, at the very height of Sullivan's career, and the essentially lyric quality of his music, the fluency of the melody, and above all, the dainty orchestrations so characteristic in his light operas, were perhaps never surpassed in any of his other compositions.

On the evening of February 10, 1915, the Music Committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, chairman, will present this opera "The Mikado" at Music hall. The Quincy Women's club has demonstrated before what it can do with a Gilbert and Sullivan opera. Neither cast nor audience we venture to say, have forgotten the fine performance of the ever-popular "H. M. S. Pinafore" given by members of the club a few years ago. The late James Pittman, who was for many years the coach of the Castle Square theatre, and who directed the production of the opera for the club, has never seen a better amateur performance in his life that the whole presentation had the finish of professional work.

Unlike Pinafore whose cast was made up entirely of women, a few of them professionally, the Mikado's dramatic personnel will be composed of both men and women, all of them well known artists. The leading woman's part, "Yum-Yum," will be taken by Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade, the soprano soloist of First church, Quincy, and a more charming heroine of the opera could scarcely be found.

The part of "Katisha, daughter-in-law elect" of the Mikado, has been given to Miss Annie Deane, whose splendid impersonation of Captain Corcoran in the Pinafore success mentioned above, every one will recall. This is Miss Deane's favorite role, and in the past seasons she has played it with great success.

Mr. John E. Greene, the bass soloist of All Souls church, Braintree, will be the "Pooh-Bah," Mr. Charles H. Everett, baritone of the Wollaston Congregational church will take the part of "Pish-Tush." The leading male part, "Nanki-Poo," the disguised son of the Mikado, will be ably impersonated by Mr. Frederic Kennedy, the tenor soloist of the Rogers Memorial church, Fairhaven, Massachusetts. Negotiations are nearly completed for engaging artists for the remaining four principal parts in the cast, and a chorus of sixty people will soon begin rehearsals.

Mr. Kennedy will stage and coach the entire production and a fine orchestra will be in attendance.

Mrs. Hunt has the hearty support and co-operation of the Music Committee and the club in general, and one of the greatest achievements of the many successful efforts during the past year's existence of the Quincy Women's club, is enthusiastically predicted.

ANNAPOLIS ALTERNATE.

Charles Raymond Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Gloucester, has been appointed first alternate to Annapolis by Senator Weeks. He will take his examinations in April and if successful will enter either in June or July, if Paul W. Haines of Brookline, the principal, fails to qualify.

Mr. Smith is well known among the younger set of this city. He was educated at the Greenleaf private school on Greenleaf street and attended Thayer Academy for three years. He is at present a student at the Columbian Preparatory School in Washington, D. C.

The appointment was announced Saturday. Mr. Smith is the first Quincy boy so honored in recent years. His father, H. G. Smith, is general manager of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

WOLLASTON BOULEVARD.

Mayor Campbell, City Solicitor Pinkham and City Engineer Sargent attended two hearings Monday before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs before the city house. One of the bills called for an appropriation of $50,000 to complete the boulevard between Wollaston beach and Hancock street and the other called for an appropriation of $3500 to build a bridge over Sachem brook at its junction with the Wollaston boulevard. All three spoke on both bills and at the conclusion of the hearings Mayor Campbell invited the committee to visit Quincy and look over the route of the boulevard and look over the proposed route of the boulevard. It was intimated that the committee would accept the invitation.

WHIST AND DANCE.

The Ladies Catholic Benevolent association of Quincy made its social debut with a whist and dancing party in Electa hall Monday evening. There was a good attendance.

The souvenirs of the evening were awarded to Miss Nellie O'Connell, Mrs. John Cuniff, M. E. Cook and A. Lawson. The young women who punched the state house, one of the bills called for an appropriation of $50,000 to complete the boulevard between Wollaston beach and Hancock street and the other called for an appropriation of $3500 to build a bridge over Sachem brook at its junction with the Wollaston boulevard. All three spoke on both bills and at the conclusion of the hearings Mayor Campbell invited the committee to visit Quincy and look over the route of the boulevard and look over the proposed route of the boulevard. It was intimated that the committee would accept the invitation.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic, all Stomach and Bowel Complaints. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

FINE CONCERT.

A concert of unusual musical excellence was held Jan. 31, at the Wollaston School hall under the auspices of the Methodist Men's club, when a group of talented artists from Providence and Boston rendered a fine program. The contributing artists were George M. Potter, of Providence, pianist; Mrs. Madeleine Woodward Potter, of Providence, soprano; James King, of Providence, baritone; and Miss Edna Cowlishaw of Boston reader.

The program opened with the prologue from Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" sung in excellent voice by Mr. King, who contributed an encore "Why not tonight?" He was well received in all his numbers and his other selections included: "My old shako" by Trovatore and "My true love hath my heart" by Marzials sung in duet with Mrs. Potter.

An especially pleasing artist was Mrs. Potter who received an ovation upon her first appearance. "Clanson Provencal" was a tripping selection well suited to her voice and other numbers included "Where the four-leaved clovers grow," "Rose in the bud" by Forster and "Waiting" by Millard.

Miss Cowlishaw had a very attractive presence and her reading proved very dramatic and humorous. The first including the last scene from "Strongheart" showed a deep appreciation of the various natures involved. Her second offering "A proposal under difficulties" by John Kendrick Bange had many mirth provoking situations. Other readings were "The baby" "Mad pies" and an Irish fable "The little red hen."

Mr. Potter proved an excellent accompanist as well as soloist and his fingerings was much appreciated by the audience. Liszt's "Rhapsody No. 6" concluded the program. Among his other offerings were "Sonata opus 12" by Beethoven, "Nocturne in G minor" by Chopin and Hungarian dance" by Brahms-Philipp.

MEDAL TO MR. SEARS.

The Boston Elevated has been awarded the Anthony N. Brady gold medal for making the best record of any street railway in the United States in the promotion of safety and health of the public and its own employees during the year ending June 30, 1914. A replica in silver, to the member of the operating staff who has contributed most to the successful record of the company is awarded to Hon. Russell A. Sears, of this city, the general attorney of the road. The award to the Boston Elevated was made at the semi-annual meeting of the American Electric Railway Association in Washington Friday evening.

Mr. Sears' observations in investigating accident cases have led to the means of preventing recurrence of many of the accidents. He therefore was the logical selection as the recipient of the silver medal.

The medals will be presented Feb. 10 at the meeting of the American Museum of Safety in New York.

The records of the Boston Elevated railway company submitted for the year ending June 30, 1914 show that there was not a derailment or collision with fatal results to a passenger or employee of the road in connection with its operation of the elevated trains. Two passengers committed suicide.

Five persons however were killed during that period, two of them being persons who fell from the cars while under the influence of liquor and two who fell while leaving cars that were in motion, and one who fell from the running platform of a car. Only eighteen persons other than passengers or employees died as a result of accidents, and most of these were pedestrians who were struck by cars.

MAY POLLUTE BAY.

The town of Hull has made application to the Directors of the Port of Boston for permission to lay and construct a sewer main or pipe in and over the tide waters of Wollaston river and the town of Hull and a public hearing will be held on the matter on Feb. 16 at 10 o'clock at 40 Centre street, Boston.

The innocent appearing petition if granted, will give Hull the right to dispose of its sewage in Hingham and Quincy Bays, just inside the hook of land which encloses the Hingham waterfront and further end of Quincy bay.

The danger of sewage being scattered throughout these waters is said to be great with an incoming tide and already a strong sentiment against the petition is growing.

Although Quincy, which would be most affected if the permission is granted, has received no official notification of the hearing it has been brought to the attention of the city government and City Engineer Sargent has been instructed to examine the plans filed with the petition and report on the same within a few days.

A strong sentiment against the petition is growing and the indications are that it will increase with leaps and bounds as soon as the residents become aware of the important bearing it will have on the city.

The state board of health will also be appealed to rule against granting of the permission on the grounds that it will be a menace to public health and also because of the sewage outlets now in Quincy bay.

The residents of Hingham are preparing to oppose the petition with all their might and foremost in their ranks will be the officials and yachtsmen who have never been really called upon before to take up the "Safety First" fight from this angle. The Quincy opposition will have its case on the report of the city engineer.

BURNS ANNIVERSARY.

The 15th anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, was celebrated by Clam MacGregor, O. S. C. in Music hall. The guests of the evening were the Loyal Ladies, the auxiliary of the clan, members of clans of Eastern Massachusetts, members and friends, more than 500 people and Mayor and Mrs. Campbell.

The program of the evening included an entertainment, banquet and dance. The first opened with remarks by Chief William Cantlay of the clan. It was his first public appearance since his election. He spoke of the incorporated Burns Memorial society, formed for the purpose of adding to the fund at hand to pay the cost of the erection of a memorial in Quincy.

Albert L. Barbour, superintendent of schools, was the speaker of the evening. He said no one can understand Scotland unless he is familiar with Burns. He is as much a part of Scotland as her mountains and her moors.

Quartette selections were rendered by Mrs. Margaret Gannon, Mrs. Helen Bates, Adam McChie, William Ross. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Minnie Miller. Their songs were from the pen of Burns. All were in good voice and were encored.

The grand march was headed by Chief Cantlay and Mrs. Margaret Ross presiding at the Loyal Ladies, and was followed by Tansel Walter S. Nicol and Mrs. Bella Grassick, vice president of the Loyal Ladies. Directly after were the officers of the clan, all wearing the MacGregor plaid and then Mayor and Mrs. Campbell.

As the long line of more than 300 dancers moved about the hall it seemed as though clansman Mayor Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, from their position in the line, had been given an escort of MacGregors plaids, and rounds of applause burst forth from the spectators.

POLICEMEN'S BALL.

Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, Representatives Sandberg and Erickson, as well as many other well known dignitaries graced the ninth annual concert and ball of the Quincy Police Association at Music hall Thursday evening. The affair was largely attended, a counting machine recording the fact that over twelve hundred passed through the entrance gate.

The reception committee headed by Capt. Daniel R. McKay and Inspector Alfred W. Goodhue, were constant in their duty, and saw to it that the comfort of the guests was well looked after. Others who served on this committee were, Lieut. Mark E. Hanson, Sergt. Ernest H. Bishop, Sergt. John T. Larkin, George A. Cahill and David L. Farrell.

Much regret was expressed on all sides at the illness of Chief Frank Burrell, and his inability to be present, and many were the kind words of sympathy sent to him by visiting police officials.

Wilson's orchestra of ten pieces furnished the music for the promenade concert from 8 to 9 o'clock, the numbers including march, "The Republic," overture, "Zampa," concert waltz, "Tales of Vienna Woods," duet for flute and horn, "Serenade" selection from the musical play "Candy Shop and the finale "Dawn of Freedom."

A few minutes after 9 o'clock Leo J. McMaster, the director of the march gave the announcement, "For the grand march." The couples were rather slow in forming, however as people appear to be getting over the idea of opening a dancing party with a half hour march about the hall. However, something like fifty couples participated in the march which was very prettily executed.

The march was led by President Patrick A. Milford, the marshal, and Mrs. Milford, and immediately following them were Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, Capt. and Mrs. McKay, Inspector and Mrs. Goodhue, Sergt. Larkin and Miss Ruth Tilton, Representative and Mrs. Sandberg, Representative and Mrs. Erickson, Councilman and Mrs. Ross.

One of the attractive features of the march was the annual appearance of Master Herbert Farnham, dressed as a sergeant, who passed the dance programs.

Committee of Arrangements—Patrick A. Milford, chairman; Henry P. Corbett, Secretary; Sergeant Ernest H. Bishop, Treasurer, and members.

Reception Committee—Captain D. R. McKay, Lieut. M. E. Hanson, George A. Cahill, Inspector A. W. Goodhue, Sergt. E. H. Bishop, Sergt. John T. Larkin, David L. Farrell.

Officers of the Police Relief Association—Patrick A. Milford, President; John P. Duffy, Vice President; Henry P. Corbett, Secretary; Jeremiah Hinchon, Treasurer.

Finance Committee—George A. Cahill, David L. Farrell, John J. Duane, Trustee—Inspector A. W. Goodhue, Sergt. E. H. Bishop, Edward Johanson.

Visiting Committee—Jeremiah Dinneen, Michael Donovan, Daniel H. Doran.

Marshal—Patrick A. Milford.

Floor Director—John J. Avery.

Ass't. Floor Directors—Chief Frank E. Burrell, Jeremiah Hinchon, Henry P. Corbett, Henry Riley.

Aide—Edward J. Cullen, Claes A. Broberg, Edward Johnson, Michael Donovan, Henry W. Thorne, Thomas A. Malone, Daniel J. Ford, Alexander T. Black, John J. Duane, James H. Whelan, James McNamara, Frank Canavan, Daniel H. Doran, Charles T. Crooker, Charles Lison, Daniel M. Shea, George P. Phillips.

$20,000 TO MASON.

By the will of Henry A. Belcher of Randolph held Thursday at Dedham the testator's wife, Anna P. Belcher, who is named as executrix, is given the property for use during her life. At her death it is stipulated that one-fourth is to go to her next of kin, and of the remaining three-fourths $10,000 is to go to a nephew, Henry E. Cottle, $20,000 to the Masonic Education and Charity Trust for the benefit of Charlestown Home; $2000 to the Norfolk Union Lodge of Masons at Randolph, and the balance to be distributed to the disposition of Mrs. Belcher.

A few private bequests before the bulk of the property is given to the widow include annual gifts of $1,000 each to Mr. Belcher's sister, Harriet B. Cottle, and her husband, Edmund Cottle; and gifts of $500 and $250 to four employees.

MAPLE LODGE.

Maple lodge, K. L. of H., held an initiation at its meeting in Protection hall, Wednesday evening, and appointed a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of Albert Holmes of Randolph, a long time member, whose death took place Tuesday.

The committee appointed was Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman, Miss M. Lizzie Farnham and Mrs. Eliza E. Cottle. The bowling tournament was continued and a collation was served.

The flag of the order designed by the supreme lodge was entrusted with the American flag at the front of the hall for the first time. The flag was made by Miss Isabella McBride and was presented by her and Miss M. Lizzie Farnham.

The flag is red, white and blue, and is of handsome design and workmanship. It is 14 by 22 inches. In the white, upper left hand square are the emblems of the order and in the upper right hand blue square is a large letter, "K," in red. The lower section of blue runs the entire length of the flag and is 16 inches deep. On it in red is the following, "and L. of H."

Maple lodge is the third in Massachusetts to secure the flag.

SAMOSSET CLUB.

At an interesting smoker held in its club rooms at Wollaston by the Samoset club, Thursday evening, William E. Hingston of Wollaston, the noted handwriting expert told of the part his profession played in crime detection.

The talk included many stories and personal anecdotes that added much to the lecture. Winslow Weston, secretary of the club, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Raymond Hall, Norton H. Nickerson was elected assistant treasurer.

BRIEFS

By special invitation Quincy Y. P. C. U. were guests Sunday evening of the North Weymouth union.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Howe, Jr. of Butler road have been entertaining their cousin Mrs. Winter of Springfield.

Mrs. Arthur Harney and daughter Miss Susan are visiting Alexander M. Howe of Silver Lake, Mrs. Harney's father.

Major Fred E. Jones was among the many military officers who attended the annual dinner of the Coast Artillery Corps, Saturday evening at the Copley Square hotel, Boston.

Cards have been received from Walter E. Barry who is in St. John, N. B. He is working on a large contract for Stone & Underhill.

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill is the guest for a few weeks of Miss Emma C. Low of Brooklyn, New York, going over Thursday.

Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard of Edgewater road is leaving Monday for New Jersey for a visit to her parents.

Miss Beatrice Morrison of Edgewater road is a guest over the week end of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Sprague of Malden.

Mrs. Adelaide A. Clafin of Cambridge, formerly of this city was again on Wednesday elected to the presidency of the Castilian Club.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church has completed arrangements for the annual Valentine party to be given at the parish house on the evening of Feb. 9.

Evangelistic meetings are to be held at the First Universalist church the evenings of March 1, 2, and 3, with Rev. Charles Conklin, D. D., as the preacher.

Miss Edith Crane of Malden formerly of this city, daughter of the late Samuel Crane of High School avenue, has been the guest of Quincy friends this week.

Miss Mary Souther has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Souther of Edison street for a few days. Miss Souther has just completed her work at Boston University for her B. A. degree.

Don't forget the birds these days. The ice and snow make living hard for them and a few crumbs, suet or meal placed in a sheltered place where they can get it will tide them along until pleasant weather.

Misses Eleanor Whittemore, Ella Packard, Belinda Walworth and Librarian Alice G. White of the Thomas Crane Public Library attended the meeting of the Massachusetts Library club at Malden last week.

Wm. Stevens and his son William, have returned to Quincy after several months in Salt Lake City where they were working on a large granite contract. They expect shortly to leave for Milford on another contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon B. Hardwick and baby son left Saturday for Westport, their home. They have been visiting Mr. Hardwick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hardwick of Chestnut street for the last few months.

Walter H. Bentley, formerly master of the Codding school, is now a member of the faculty of Dummer Academy, South Byfield. Mr. Bentley accompanied his wife to Braintree Saturday and saw the basket ball team soundly trounced by the local boys.

The entertainment and athletic committee of the High school alumni met Sunday at the home of Miss Dorothy Packard on Hancock street and approved an entertainment program which will include amateur theatricals and other events of importance, to be given at the regular meetings.

Invitations have gone out from the wardens and vestry of Christ church for a reception to Rev. and Mrs. William Grainger to be held in the parish house Thursday evening February the eleventh from eight until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Grainger moved from Canton this week and are settled in the rectory.

The recently organized band of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation will give a concert in the Kincade theatre next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock under the direction of Thomas H. Carter, formerly of Carver's hall. Tickets at the mid week prices are being distributed to employees at the shipyard. The program will include popular songs of the day, including "Tipperary."

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met last week with Mrs. Frederick G. Howe, Jr. of Butler road. Mrs. Carl P. Doble, nee Spear, who last fall moved to East Braintree, among the invited guests. A pretty tea upon was awarded Mrs. F. Ambler Welch for having the highest score. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 13 with Miss Madeline McCrory as hostess, at the home of her sister, Mrs. John L. Evans of Edgewater road.

Joseph J. McGue was tendered a surprise party at his home 115 Union road Sunday evening in honor of the death of Albert Holmes of Randolph, a long time member, whose death took place Tuesday. The committee appointed was Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman, Miss M. Lizzie Farnham and Mrs. Eliza E. Cottle. The bowling tournament was continued and a collation was served.

The flag of the order designed by the supreme lodge was entrusted with the American flag at the front of the hall for the first time. The flag was made by Miss Isabella McBride and was presented by her and Miss M. Lizzie Farnham.

The flag is red, white and blue, and is of handsome design and workmanship. It is 14 by 22 inches. In the white, upper left hand square are the emblems of the order and in the upper right hand blue square is a large letter, "K," in red. The lower section of blue runs the entire length of the flag and is 16 inches deep. On it in red is the following, "and L. of H."

BRIEFS

Master Frederick Lovell of Edgewater road is sick with the measles.

Mrs. S. I. Wood is in New Jersey on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Cecil Blanchard.

George L. Gill Rebelah Lodge voted $10 to the G. A. R. relief fund at its meeting Thursday night.

Miss Annie Gibson after a pleasant visit to Quincy friends has returned to Acton where she makes her home with her sister, Mrs. John Lennon.

Frank Drake entertained a party of friends at a private dancing party in New Colonial hall Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served.

C. F. Pettengill, who has been confined to his home for ten days, is improving and able to be about the house.

The young men's meeting of the Swedish Congregational church will meet in the church parlors on next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. James Donovan returned from New York Wednesday where she has been the guest of her daughter Margaret.

Mrs. William Warrington and son Henry have returned to Springfield after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Farnold of Newcomb street, parents and grandparents.

John E. Brown, Albert J. Williams, Jr. were the winners of souveniers at the first party following the meeting of Quincy lodge, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday evening. The consolation prize was given to William Nott.

Rev. Dr. James Todd, formerly of Quincy was one of the committee appointed at a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance of Boston to go to Philadelphia and urge Billy Sunday to come to Boston.

John Curtis and Herbert S. Child carried off the honors at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. The prize for the month of January went to John H. Newcomb, Charles H. Pennington and Hazen E. Ricker.

Freeman W. Grant against whom a verdict was given recently in a suit of replevin by Mrs. Agnes Philbrick to recover a ruby top sapphire dog has entered an appeal from the finding of the lower court and will carry the case to the superior court where it will be tried out before a jury.

Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Mrs. Herbert S. Child, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Mrs. Samuel J. Ripley, Mrs. Russell A. Sears and Mrs. W. Everett Simmons, Jr., are to be the matrons at the Valentine dance to be given Saturday afternoon by the Quincy Day Nursery Association.

Gouverneur P. Hance, manager of the St. Barnabas Free Home of McKeesport, Pa., and his secretary R. A. Housman, are the guests of W. H. Hazlett of 31 Bridge street. Mr. Hance is contemplating the erection of two new buildings and came here to consult Mr. Hazlett regarding some plaster work.

Major Campbell speaking of the large number of petitions and orders for street lights said that there was no question but some of the lights were needed and that there were others that were not needed. He intends at an early date to take a look at the locations where lights are wanted and then visit the places in the evening to see how dark they are.

Dr. Frederic A. Keyes of Boston read a paper on "School Hygiene" in Hancock hall Tuesday evening before members of the School Committee and dentists of Quincy. The speaker talked in relation to the value of sound teeth in relation to health and mental development of children, and proposed a plan for improving dental conditions of the school children.

Albert Holmes of Randolph, one of the best known residents of that town died Tuesday in his 82nd year. Mr. Holmes was a member of the K. L. of H. for 34 years. He joined the lodge of this city when the former consolidated, 15 years ago. He was the seventh member to pass away within a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell of Edgewater road entertained neighbors at an auction bridge party Tuesday night. There were four tables in all. The prizes were won by Mrs. Samuel T. MacQuarrie were awarded first prizes, and second prizes went to Miss Madeline McCrory and Frank E. Remick. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis and Eugene R. Atwood were awarded consolation prizes. Refreshments were served.

Mc. Wollaston Lodge, I. O. O. F., has arranged a series of six whist parties to take place every Monday evening in their hall. A pretty tea upon was awarded Mrs. F. Ambler Welch for having the highest score. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 13 with Miss Madeline McCrory as hostess, at the home of her sister, Mrs. John L. Evans of Edgewater road.

Joseph J. McGue was tendered a surprise party at his home 115 Union road Sunday evening in honor of the death of Albert Holmes of Randolph, a long time member, whose death took place Tuesday. The committee appointed was Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman, Miss M. Lizzie Farnham and Mrs. Eliza E. Cottle. The bowling tournament was continued and a collation was served.

The flag of the order designed by the supreme lodge was entrusted with the American flag at the front of the hall for the first time. The flag was made by Miss Isabella McBride and was presented by her and Miss M. Lizzie Farnham.

The flag is red, white and blue, and is of handsome design and workmanship. It is 14 by 22 inches. In the white, upper left hand square are the emblems of the order and in the upper right hand blue square is a large letter, "K," in red. The lower section of blue runs the entire length of the flag and is 16 inches deep. On it in red is the following, "and L. of H."

The flag is red, white and blue, and is of handsome design and workmanship. It is 14 by 22 inches. In the white, upper left hand square are the emblems of the order and in the upper right hand blue square is a large letter, "K," in red. The lower section of blue runs the entire length of the flag and is 16 inches deep. On it in red is the following, "and L. of H."

ELKS ANNUAL BALL.

Seldom if ever has Music hall presented a more attractive appearance than on Wednesday evening, the occasion of the eighth annual charity ball of Quincy lodge of Elks.

In place of the usual four large walls of the hall there was presented a sort of Venetian garden scene. Suspended on the ceiling from the sides and end of the hall to the centre chandelier were broad streamers of blue and purple, while from the centre chandelier there was a cluster of rustic leaves and crimson ramblers, and below this a cord supporting the five pointed star, one of the well known emblems of the Elks.

The decorations which were on the stage, however, were on the stage. Across the lower front was draped blue and purple bunting while across the front of the stage was a lattice like fence on the front of which were two large five pointed stars, and on the posts bouquets of illuminated artificial flowers.

Suspended from the ceiling over the stage were five lanterns of the Paul Revere period with red shades, and inside of each of these burned an electric light. This served to give the stage a pretty setting for the scene that had been arranged for the background.

This background had for a centre panel a painting of a large Elks head the antlers of which supported an Elks clock dial, upon the face of which the hands pointed to the quarter of eleven. On either side of this panel was a lattice fence, the front of which was covered with bouquets of artificial flowers and many colored electric lights, while beneath each of these lattice fences were large silk American flags. It was a beautiful scene and seemed peculiarly so at the 11 o'clock exercises when the lights in the main hall were turned off and the clock dial and stage were illuminated.

Many handsome gowns were worn by the women, all being in the lighter evening shades, and those served to enhance the brilliancy of the scene.

The ball was a little late in starting owing to the bad weather which delayed the arrival of the participants. However those who came early enjoyed the promenade concert which was given by Strachan's orchestra.

The selections included, March, "World Peace," selection, "Crimson the girl," cornet solo by J. W. Donovan; selection of popular airs; and finale.

It was 9:30 when the grand march which opened the ball was inaugurated and it was a very pretty affair and well executed. The march was under the direction of Leo J. McMaster, whose reputation as a director of the march is almost world wide.

With Mr. McMaster were two masters, Dana Kneibach and Reginald Hanson. They were dressed as ages, and gave out the dance programs during the march.

The march was led by Exalted Ruler John D. Hildebrand with Mrs. Hildebrand and following him was Mr. J. H. Mahoney, estimated leading light, with Miss Minnie Hildebrand Col. Henry L. Kincade, floor marshal, and Mrs. Kincade, Edward D. Larkin, esteemed solo knight, with Miss Anna Larkin, Charles P. Gould, chairman of the reception committee, and Mrs. Gould, Capt. George A. Farnham, and Mrs. Farnham, H. Hanson and Mrs. Hanson, James W. Sweeney and Miss Charlotte Sweeney.

Mrs. Hildebrand wore a handsome black satin with jet and green net, butterfly effect. Miss Kincade, green chameleon with embroidered vestress. Mrs. Larkin, a pink and white crepe de chine. Mrs. Gould, a pink chameleon with fur and lace trimmings. Mrs. Wardwell, turquoise blue with lace overdress. Mrs. Hanson, an orange taffeta, and Miss Sweeney, white lace with blue lace waist.

As the hour of 11 o'clock approached the members of the lodge marched on to the floor and formed in a circle beneath the star. The Exalted Ruler stood in silence while Edward J. Fegan, president of the Board of Trade gave the Elks toast to departed brothers. The toast was very fine and although there was a large number of participants present the dropping of a pin might have been heard.

The toast of Mr. Fegan was as follows: My Brothers:— It is the hour of Eleven! I look beyond this festive scene—beyond your smiling faces and your brilliant eyes—beyond your laughter and your happy sighs—and I behold tonight all Elksdom. Their laughter, gay as yours, flows free as ocean breezes and their eyes as bright as yours, flash light and love and gladness. All is joyous-vibrant and thrilling with the fullness and ecstasy of being. I hear the merry jingle of eleven bells! In one short hour this day will have reached its culmination. It is the hour of Love!

The scene changes. I see the outstretched hand of an Elks softly stroking a fevered brow. I see the stalwart arm of a Brother supporting at an open grave the convulsed form of a bereaved widow. I see the kindly Comrade guiding and leading sobbing children and gently brushing away the tears of sorrow. I see the Christ-like messenger gently dispensing to the grateful poor and needy, I hear the silvery pealing of eleven chimes! In one short hour a new day will break upon the horizon of tomorrow, bringing us its opportunities of spreading universal joy and peace. It is the hour of Love!

I have another vision! I see the great host of Elksdom of yesterday and the past glorious and triumphant! But there are hushed and darkened rooms—there are sighs and sobs and breaking hearts. There are winding processions and mournful obsequies. I hear the doleful tolling of eleven bells! In one short hour today will have passed the solemnity of today. It is the hour of Death and Remembrance!

And so, my Brothers, as we stand thrall by the magic spell of this wondrous hour of Life and Love—Of Death and Remembrance—let us drain our glasses to that imperishable toast of Elksdom:—

"OUR ABSENT BROTHERS!"

"Here's to the friends who loved us! Here's to the hearts that were true! Here's to the souls above us! Here's to the wonderful field of blue! They will dwell in their mystical temple, And at last when the twilight falls, Without one fear they will answer 'here' When the voice of the Master calls."

Attractive tables of aprons, babies clothing, dolls, linens, household goods, candy and ice cream are some of the features of the Woman's Guild fair to be held in the assembly room of St. Chrysostom's parish house, Thursday afternoon and evening. A supper will be served from 6 to 7:30 o'clock.

SOUTH QUINCY

Donato Romi, 128 Liberty street, and Lucille Collier, 41 Brooks street, were married Saturday at city hall by City Clerk Emery L. Crane.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slavin are the parents of a boy, born Tuesday morning at their home at 98 Pleasant street.

The central station apparatus was called out on a telephone alarm at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for a slight fire in house of Louis Grassman on Water street. A defective fuse started a slight fire in a closet. The damage will not exceed $100.

Div. 5, A. O. H., are planning another theatrical to be followed by a dance in the near future. Arrangements are being made for jig and reel dances for prizes and the old square dancing with a one man fiddler. The latter will be in Quincy Adams hall.

The committee is John Donato, James McCardie, James Scanlon, John D. Sullivan, Timothy Sullivan and Daniel Ahearn.

A private party was given at the home of Mrs. Harding at 34 Payne street Jan. 29th under the direction of a committee composed of Marie MacLean, Isabelle Rogers and Elmer Harding. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening's festivities.

The regular meeting of the Heather circle was held Tuesday evening with Miss Helen Smith at her home on Independence avenue and notwithstanding the bad weather there was but one absentee. This meeting was called a Valentine party and there was a general exchange of Valentines among the members.

The home of Miss Smith was prettily decorated for the occasion, hearts and cupid being used profusely. After the business session there were games music and refreshments. The next meeting two weeks hence will be a theme party and the young ladies are looking forward to seeing "Ben Hur."

The suit of William B. Norris of Quincy against the New Haven railroad is on trial in the superior court at Dedham. The suit is to recover $5,000 for alleged personal injuries received to plaintiff's hand by having been injured in the door as he was leaving the train at South Quincy. The accident happened Feb. 18, 1914.

George W. Miller, formerly of South Quincy, was Tuesday found not guilty on a charge of larceny and guilty on a charge of conspiracy to defame Dr. George Burgess Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county. Fred L. Green, indicted at the same time, was found guilty on three accounts and Thomas H. Kingston was acquitted on three counts and his discharge was ordered by the court.

The Franklin Associates, one of the popular clubs connected with the Quincy Social clubs bowling, pool and cards, will entertain its friends at its annual dancing party in Alpha hall next Monday evening. Delegates from clubs of all parts of the South Shore and Brockton have arranged to attend. One of the features will be the exhibition of modern and society dancing by Miss Ethel Vanderstreet of Brockton and Paul Francis.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Rev. and Mrs. Leander C. Manchester of Davis street left the first of the week for Southern Pines, North Carolina where they will stay until spring. Dr. Manchester is secretary of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts and they have gone south for his health.

Past Commander Edward E. Jameson of Wollaston, headed the reception committee at the annual ladies' social celebration of the Holy Trinity manditory at the Copley-Plaza Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Renwick, their daughter Miss Florence and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daggett of Readville moved last week to Vassal street, Wollaston.

The Board of Health, on the recommendation of Thomas Musgrave, one of its members, has instructed the drivers of ash wagons covering the Norfolk Downs section to dump their collections in both of the abandoned quarries in that section. The ashes collected in the Atlantic end will be given over to the city for use in the construction of the new canal.

Construction work on the new contemplated Metropolitan boulevard at Wollaston beach will be started within a short time if the necessary permission can be obtained from the state and Federal governments. The boulevard must pass over Black's creek where a bridge must be approved by the Port Directors and the war department.

MONTCLAIR

At the whist party held by the Montclair Women's club in Association hall Jan. 29th there were nine tables in play. Gentlemen's first prize, a pearl handled knife, was awarded to Frank Sherman. George Thomas received second prize. Lady's first prize went to Miss Rose Berlo and the second prize to Miss Frances Berlo. The patchwork quilt, which was placed by the ladies of the club, was won by Mrs. Alfred Fox. After the prizes were awarded dancing was enjoyed. The music was furnished by a local orchestra.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The first rehearsal for the annual play which is to be given in Music hall, April 7th, was held in the Association hall, Thursday evening. A meeting of the committee planning for the play was also held and much of the detail work mapped out.

A meeting on Social clubs in the home of Rose Cornish on the corner of Hill avenue. The first part of the evening was given over to the regular sewing circle. After the sewing a social hour followed in which games of all kinds were enjoyed. Miss Cornish rendered several solos and was assisted at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Whitcomb. Refreshments were served after which dancing was in order until midnight. The party closed by singing the latest songs of the day.

The suits of Miss Mary Burkard and Alois Burkard of West Quincy to recover damages from the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. Co. for personal injuries received April 28, 1913, at the early morning wreck at Keatings bridge, is on trial at the Superior court in Dedham. The former sues for $15,000, and the latter for $10,000 to recover the loss of his daughter's earnings and the expenses of medical aid and nursing. Both cases are being tried together.

APPOINTS CALL FIREMEN.

Mayor Campbell after consultation with Chief Billings Friday appointed James J. Sullivan and Matthew W. Burns from the civil service lists to be call firemen. Sullivan will be assigned to the West Quincy station and Burns to the central station. The vacancies were created by the death of Richard Colbert and the promotion of Edward Lane to the permanent force.

WOLLASTON

The Waltham Men's class will meet Sunday at 12:15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Waltham will lead the discussion, subject: Ruth and her excellent Chaldean. Song service by large chorus of men and hearty greeting. All men not in similar classes invited to join this strong and growing class.

Mrs. Herbert H. Augusta and Fred August of Shelbrook, Saskatchewan, Canada are guests for a fortnight of their relatives the Elmer E. Grays of Newton street.

Mrs. Frederick H. Stenstra of Hancock street was in New York last week, going over on Monday.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's is to hold an all day session in the new parish house Wednesday, followed by the regular business meeting at 2:30 in the Guild room. A basket lunch with hot coffee will be served at noon.

Misses Elizabeth and Mildred Sayward of Belmont street entertained the Qui Vive Club at their home the afternoon of Jan. 28. As usual acquaintance was in order, the first prize being won by Miss Mabel Badger. During intermission covers were laid for eight and a very dainty luncheon served. Miss Lucille Smalley will be hostesses at the next meeting of the club.

Herbert W. Pinkham of Wollaston was elected secretary and treasurer of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League at its annual convention in Worcester Saturday.

Mrs. Carrie S. Atwell returned to her home in Kingston last week after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Albert L. Haskell of Wollaston.

Miss D. A. Haskett is on a week's business trip to Chicago. She spent part of Sunday with Eugene Theodore Marcov, recently of this city.

Alfred John Luxton who left for England a month ago, has enlisted in the Medical Corps of His Majesty's army.

E. B. Neal of 182 Wenden avenue left Monday on an extended trip to California on business. His route lies through the Yellowstone and Grand Canyon.

Mrs. Edward A. Chase of Beverly wife of the former pastor of the Wollaston Congregational church, is the guest of Mrs. A. A. Lincoln of Lincoln avenue for a few days.

Miss Rose Anderson of Berlin street, Wollaston, returned home Tuesday from the Homeopathic hospital, Boston, where she recently underwent an operation.

WEST QUINCY

J. F. Reid of the granite firm of J. F. Reid & Co., is confined to his home with blood poison in his left arm.

Edward A. Hussey the popular West Quincy tenor will appear as the "Girl of the Golden West" at Kincaide Theatre beginning Feb. 8 to 10. Mr. Hussey has appeared in amateur productions several times in Quincy and has made good. His female impersonations are said to be very clever. A large crowd is expected to witness his first appearance as a professional in this city. He sings in the Trinity church every Sunday.

The Chickatawbut Social club met Jan. 29th at the home of William Sheehan on Crescent street. Games were enjoyed until a late hour. This club is planning to put a baseball team on the field this spring and will elect a captain and manager at the next meeting. The club hopes

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at

The Quincy Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Branch & Martens,
Norfolk Adams,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Doherty,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammons,
South Terminal Station,
Boston

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

It required but a few minutes to transact the business in the call for the special meeting of the city council Jan. 29. There were only four members in the call none of which called for any delay.

The first matter to be acted upon was a communication from the Mayor appointing department officials and Administrative officers. Those appointed members of the Planning board and Board of Survey were confirmed, and the others were placed on file.

The complete list which will be found elsewhere in this issue, will be noticed that John J. O'Hara is made the chairman of Assessors. Mr. O'Hara was appointed to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Chairman Buckley, which expires in 1917, making him the second man. Mr. Sherman is appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Eric G. Bergfors, which makes him the one year member on the board and Wellington W. Mitchell was appointed for the three year term.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing Michael B. Crane, a registrar of voters.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing several special constables. Confirmed.

A communication was received from the Mayor inclosing the application of Lieut. Mark E. Hanson of the police department to be retired on a pension.

The communication was referred to the Finance committee.

There were no other matters in the call and the meeting adjourned.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following building permits were issued last week:

James J. Foley, dwelling, Holmes street.

Henry M. Faxon, dwelling, Elm street.

Edward Granlund, garage, Glendale road.

Alice E. Blumwhite, dwelling, Charles street.

Carl Erickson, dwelling, Whitwell street.

Lincoln Polishing Co., polishing shop, Intervale street.

John E. Levitt, dwelling, Central avenue.

W. L. Birnie, dwelling, Franklin street.

Charles N. Totten, dwelling Pawsey street.

Atto T. Kraft, removal, Curlew street.

Ralph Doble, dwelling South street.

OWATONNA SOCIAL CLUB.

The Owatonna Social Club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Ross on Bennington street. The first part of the evening the members devoted to sewing of useful articles following by a social hour in which Miss Marion Duffy entertained by several pleasing vocal selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Celia Connors. Games of all kinds were enjoyed. The party broke up at a late hour after singing the popular songs of the day. Refreshments were served.

PUBLIC BURIAL PLACES.

The managers of public burial places, appointed by Mayor Campbell in charge of Mt. Wollaston cemetery, organized Monday evening and elected James Nicol superintendent for the 20th year. The erection of a new fence, to extend from Coddington to Greenleaf streets, was discussed and it is probable that they will recommend such an addition. Thomas Bishop accepted the chairmanship when his associates agreed that he could retire in favor of Albert W. Fay when the latter recovered from his present illness. John Cudworth was selected secretary.

MRS. CATHERINE MORAN.

The funeral of Catherine Moran was held Saturday at the church of St. Francis-by-the-Sea where Fr. John J. Casey of St. John's parish celebrated a requiem mass. It was the first requiem mass ever celebrated at the church. The body was taken to New Calvary cemetery for burial. Mrs. Moran was the widow of the late Capt. William Moran and formerly lived in South Boston. With her husband she made several trips around the world when he was sailing master of ships sailing from Boston.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

Letters unclaimed for the week ending Jan. 30 1915:

Carrie Avery, Charles W. Blood, Buckeye Tool Co., A. Cantinette, Clarence H. Crowder, R. H. Ebbot, Rudolph Ebbot, G. L. French, M. Herendeen, Mrs. Willie Higgins, H. Hontall, Walter Hutchins, Miss Mary B. Hyde, John McCloud, Fred Quodocoe, Mr. Savasta, James Scott, Miss Minnie Shannon, W. W. Thomas, Tolia Vittorio, Giovanni Trionfetti, Mrs. John D. Tucker.

CHILDREN PROMOTED.

A number of children were promoted from the third to the fourth grade of the Montclair school on Monday. The fortunate children were: Charles Dugan, Ronald Cook, Mary Kane, Anna Seller, Inez Parlee, Margaret O'Connell, Sarah McNally, Phyllis Mossman, Elizabeth Melanson, Flora Ross, Clara Zetoli, Charlotte Fox.

CITY COUNCIL.

A large amount of new business, coupled with several spirited debates, served to make Monday night's meeting of the city council one of interest. The first and perhaps the liveliest debate came over accepting the recommendation of the committee on legislative matters, which reported "ought not to pass" on the resolve asking the Mayor to petition the legislature to amend the city charter so as to eliminate party designations from municipal elections.

Councilman Smith who introduced the resolution started the ball rolling when he asked the chairman of the committee the reason for the report. Councilman McDonald replied that the time for filing petitions in the legislature had expired several weeks ago and that it was not now an opportune time to take up the matter. He believed it better for the council to look over the charter carefully and see if there were other matters that should be included in the bill.

Councilman Smith said that Mayors for several years had advocated the abolition of party designations. All are doubtless familiar with what is going on. The general feeling is that it should be removed. Any city that takes stock in any candidate simply because he is a Democrat or Republican is foolish and should be disfranchised. When we get here there is no difference between a Democrat and Republican. We are supposed to do the best we can for the city. The Democratic party is elected for that purpose. The Mayor is elected as a candidate of the Republican and Progressive parties. He has got a job on his hands to satisfy himself and both of these parties.

"Two members of the city council were elected Republicans, Democrats and Progressives. If the party label does not come to this council, it is we should get away from the label, which does not cut any figure. Any man who thinks it does has not studied the signs of the times. If a man elected as a Democrat from Wollaston is treason then a Republican elected from West Quincy is treason. If I can be shown one good reason why we should have party designation I am willing to submit."

Councilman Beaman said: "A non-partisan coat on the gentleman from Ward Four or myself would be a poor fit. Another thing it would not change the minds of men? Not for a minute. They are not going to be right to know? I think they have. If a man is a non-partisan it is simply because of the working of his mind. I hope the resolution will be buried so deep that it will never be heard of again."

Councilman McGrath spoke of the city of Haverhill which was governed by a commission form of government. The city had been in that shape but was now one of the best governed cities in the state. Now the same element that brought the city where it is trying to go back to the old method of party designation. "I believe in the elimination of party designation," the speaker declared. "We should select men on the basis of their party but because of the men. What is the use of keeping up the farce?"

The Councilman Griffin said he did not believe in some of the things that had been said. "If we remove party designations there will be something else to take their place. A man does not come to this council to play politics but to attend to the business of the city."

"It is impossible to be a Democrat or Republican here. I believe in letting the thing alone unless it can be shown where we have suffered."

Councilman McDonald felt that there was no chance of getting the matter before the legislature this year as it required a four fifths vote to suspend the rules.

Councilman Kessler saw no reason for hustling the matter. "Last years recess committee went into the matter of city charters. When we get their report we will find one at least of their forms which does not have party designation."

Councilman Ross opposed, declaring "If we go before the recess committee of the legislature we will have to show them that it is an urgent case."

Councilman Smith said he would be pleased to hear how the mayor was going to serve two parties. "If there were ever two decent organizations that needed sympathy there are the Democratic and Republican city committees."

The report and recommendation of the committee was then accepted on a roll call by a vote of 17 yeas and 5 nays. Those voting against accepting the recommendation of the committee were Councilmen Barry, McGrath, Slade, Smith and Williams.

There was a spirited debate in a resolution offered by Councilman Gallagher calling for a committee of three to be appointed by the president of the city council to act in conjunction with the mayor in investigating the needs of the fire department.

This raised a howl of disapproval as it was looked upon as a step to take from the standing committee fire department matters a part of its duties.

Councilman Smith who was in fighting mood, started the discussion by stating that the fire committee held only eight or ten meetings last year and was not so overworked but what it could handle this matter.

Councilman Griffin, Barnicoat, O'Dowd, Williams and Ross believed still it a matter for the fire committee. The resolution was then rejected.

Councilman Smith introduced an order amending the ordinance establishing a police department. The amendment sets definitely the rank of the officers, inasmuch as under the amendment the officers of the department will consist of a captain, inspector, lieutenant, two sergeants, etc. The amendment also changes the salaries of the captain and inspector. It increases that of the captain from $1200 to $1300 per year, the inspector from $1200 to $1250, lieutenant $1200 as at present and ser-gent at $1150 as at present. There was no change in the salary of the regular patrolmen or reserve officers.

This was referred to a joint committee on Fire Department and Ordinances.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolve requesting the mayor to take up the matter of a public waiting room in city square and that a committee of three members of the city council be appointed to act with him, one of which committee should include the president of the council. The resolution was adopted and the committee appointed were Councilmen Whitton, McGrath and Richards.

Councilman McGrath introduced a resolution that in the judgment of the city council the change contemplated by Senate bill 61 should not be mandatory but that the bill should be amended so as to provide for the acceptance by a two-thirds vote by the council before going to a general election. The mayor and city solicitor attend the hearing on Wednesday and present the attitude of the council. The bill in question is an act to increase the limit of indebtedness of cities and towns. Under the present act cities may borrow for current expenses 2-1/2 percent of the average valuation for the past three years. The bill in question increases the limit to 4 per cent. McGrath believed this to be a bad precedent and that while the present council would not exceed the 2-1/2 percent, future councils might take advantage of it.

The resolution was adopted.

There was a debate on a communication from the Directors of the Port of Boston giving notice of a hearing on the petition of Sarah F. Castor to build a levee from high water mark to low water mark to separate her property from her abutments, which was a fence 100 feet long into the water.

Councilman Craig offered an order for the legislative committee to appear at the hearing and oppose the granting of the permit. This provoked quite a discussion as to the rights of the city and of Mrs. Castor. Dock Commissioner Crane appeared before the council and explained the situation. City Solicitor Pinkham explained the law.

Councilman Smith sought to amend the order but was defeated and the order was then adopted.

Councilman Prescott offered a resolve requesting the mayor and city engineer to consider the feasibility of establishing a new grade of Beale street between Hancock street and Newport avenue with a view of reducing the heavy grade, and that endeavor to obtain from the New Haven railroad the grade required at the Beale street bridge when four tracks are laid and whether it is contemplated to relocate the Wollaston station, and report to the council if expedient a plan for the improvement. Adopted.

Other orders introduced were as follows:

By Councilman Yale that the mayor be requested to have prepared plans and specifications for a brick school building to be located on the school site recently purchased in Ward Two.

By Councilman Bolster appropriating $3,800 to build the east side of Independence avenue.

By Councilman Barnicoat appropriating $4,500 for paving Liberty street between Brook road and Penn street, and $1,500 to rebuild Liberty street between Penn street and Water street.

By Councilman Kessler for the widening of West Squantum street from Farrington street to Newport avenue.

By Councilman Prescott for a granite sidewalk on the northerly side of Revere road between Hancock and Washington streets.

Then there were a large number of orders for street lights in different parts of the city which were referred to the executive.

Permission was granted the Parents and Teachers association of the Massachusetts Fields school to have children appear on the stage.

The city solicitor gave his ruling on section 47 of the city charter. The ruling was that if the fire department came under this section and ruling of the city solicitor was that it did. The section in question provides that the salaries of one year shall be fixed by the council of the previous year. This means that if the order increasing the salaries of members of the fire department which is now pending goes through this year it will not take effect until next year.

Petitions were received for additions to the Massachusetts Fields school which were referred to the Public Buildings committee.

The Mayor appointed Amos L. Litchfield a councilman, Barry, McGrath, Slade, Smith and Williams.

Several petitions for gasoline permits and pole locations were received and hearings ordered for Feb. 15.

Petitions of the telephone and street railway companies for attachments were granted while petitions for relocation of poles were referred to the street committee.

Germantown residents petitioned that a supply of hose be kept there so that it might be used in case of emergency. Referred to the Fire Committee.

A petition for the acceptance of Davis street was referred to the Street Committee, as was also a petition to widen Sea street at its junction with Sea avenue.

The Finance Committee reported an order retiring Lieut. Mark E. Hanson which was ordered to a second reading.

Under the calendar the order retiring Samuel D. DeForest on a pension was passed.

Adjourned at 9.47.

APPLICANTS EXAMINED.

Lieut. Sydney C. Hardwick, attached to the surgeons' staff of the 6th Regt. M. V. M., passed nearly a dozen applicants for membership in the machine gun company, to be formed under which Miss Ruth was presented with a pretty cap and scarf by her schoolmates.

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Ruth Drew at her parents' home on Davis street, Jan. 29th by a number of her friends. The evening was spent in music and games after which Miss Ruth was presented with a pretty cap and scarf by her schoolmates.

BARRETT-ARTHUR.

Miss Helen Gladys Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur of Hollis avenue, and Frank Harvey Barrett of Cambridge were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor of the Wollaston Baptist church. The couple were unattended and entered the room to Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Jennie Harding, and took their place under a large white wedding canopy which hung over a shower of white ribbons and orange blossoms. The hall, dining room and parlor were decorated with large vases of pink roses.

The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed with lace and carried a shower bouquet of freesia.

The bridesmaids were Misses received. This is cut in full circular style close at the top and very full at the hem, and is smartened by patch pockets at either side of the front, and by a high short turn-over belt at the back caught by smoked pearl buttons after the manner familiar in the children's "Dickens" suits. Rattier skirts in plaids and blocks are very similar in cut and finish, and blouses of wash silks, crepes and organdies to wear when these are constructed on decidedly tailorish lines, with little in the way of trimming except the hem-stitching of revers and collar.

A very new blouse developed in linen and voile can be worn either fastened at the top with the high turn-over collar held by a velvet tie.

Those present were: The Misses Phyllis Smith, Phoebe and Ruth Buckley, Emily Grogg, Collina Brown, Gretchen and Marjorie Young, Marion Wilson, Helen Day, Viola Jackson, Bertha Miller, Beatrice Rogers, Clara Ven Erdine, Pearl and Ouida Key, Madeline Guilford, Florence Nelson, Alina Kilpatrick, Jean Arthur, Clara Fitzgerald, Jennie Harding and Jessie French.

The matrons were Mrs. E. S. Tead, Mrs. C. A. Stearns and Mrs. Isabel Smith.

Miss Arthur received several beautiful gifts of cut-glass and linen from the friends present.

ATTENDS MASS MEETING.

Frank Fessenden Crane, representative of Mayor Campbell Jan. 29th, a mass meeting of the citizens of Wollaston, held under the auspices of the Wollaston Board of Assessors.

Gov. Walsh and Mayor Curley of Boston were also present as well as the local representatives in the general court. The slogan of the evening was the Old Colony boulevard. A tunnel to Dorchester and a new bridge between Quincy and Neponset.

Frank Fessenden Crane, representing Mayor Campbell, said:

"I wish to express to you the sincere regret of his honor, Mayor Campbell of Quincy, in being unable to be with you this evening and convey to you personally his sentiment of approval and his spirit of cooperation with you in these three great projects of our district. He realized the importance of more rapid transit facilities and also realizes what the immediate construction of the new boulevard would mean to the unemployed. In regard to the new bridge over the Neponset River he agrees with Mayor Curley in his great connecting link between our two cities should be an ornamental and attractive structure as well as a serviceable one."

Mayor Curley said he held a conference with Mayor Campbell of Quincy and the Park Commissioners in regard to the new bridge. He realized the importance of more rapid transit facilities and also realizes what the immediate construction of the new boulevard would mean to the unemployed. In regard to the new bridge over the Neponset River he agrees with Mayor Curley in his great connecting link between our two cities should be an ornamental and attractive structure as well as a serviceable one."

Gov. Walsh said: "Anybody who does not realize and appreciate conditions in this Commonwealth, so far as the unemployed are concerned, and does not feel an obligation to do something to relieve this condition, is unworthy of representing 3,500,000 of free, independent citizens of this Commonwealth."

THE THELMA GIRLS.

The Thelma Girls, a newly organized club of Quincy young women, held their first social Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Jennie Harding. It was in the form of a banquet and theatre party.

The banquet was held in the private dining room of the Quincy House. Miss Mildred Dugan presided at the piano while Misses Annie and Julia Corcoran gave several pleasing duets. Miss Annie Clinton furnished a cornucopia of songs after the banquet the party attended "Ben Hur" at the Boston Theatre.

They will hold their first grand dance in Alpha hall, Tuesday evening April 6th. Those who attended: Misses Mildred F. Dugan, Josie Grady, Nancy Corcoran, Marie Corcoran, Josie Kierulff, Gertrude Shores, Ruth Gullickson, Nora Corbin and Annette Gilcoine.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Ruth Drew at her parents' home on Davis street, Jan. 29th by a number of her friends. The evening was spent in music and games after which Miss Ruth was presented with a pretty cap and scarf by her schoolmates.

Hot chocolate, cake and sandwiches were served by the young ladies among whom were Ethel Cleale, Mildred and Mabel Kappler, Marion Elliott, Marie Anderson, Edna Drew, Dorothy Eaton, Gertrude Maxwell, Mildred Aldrich, Dorothy Drew and Eleanor Knight.

SOUTHERN RESORT CLOTHES.

Summer Models in Sporting Toggery—Thin Dresses—Wraps and Fixings.

The fashionable shops on and near Fifth avenue have been doing a rushing business in summer clothes for wear at Palm Beach and other smart Southern resorts, where people who habitually flit to warmer climates are installed in increasing numbers, since conditions abroad make European resorts impossible.

ADVANCE MODELS.

From selections made by these smart flitters, it is now easy to predict the trend of fashion, so that costly mistakes in early planning can be avoided. Sport skirts of corduroy remain favorites for golf wear, skating and tobogganing, with certain tan and putty shades first favorites for use at the North, and white and lighter tints where tropical temperatures prevail.

The smartest cuts in these heavy cords are gored at the side seams to sit snugly over the hip and have quite a bit of fullness under the strapped belt at the back. The belt ends in yoke pieces at either side of the front closing. The buttons used down the front and on the yoke are covered with the cord.

BEACH CLOTH AND RATTINE.

Beach cloth makes a lighter skirt that has been enthusiastically received. This is cut in full circular style close at the top and very full at the hem, and is smartened by patch pockets at either side of the front, and by a high short turn-over belt at the back caught by smoked pearl buttons after the manner familiar in the children's "Dickens" suits. Rattier skirts in plaids and blocks are very similar in cut and finish, and blouses of wash silks, crepes and organdies to wear when these are constructed on decidedly tailorish lines, with little in the way of trimming except the hem-stitching of revers and collar.

A very new blouse developed in linen and voile can be worn either fastened at the top with the high turn-over collar held by a velvet tie.

Those present were: The Misses Phyllis Smith, Phoebe and Ruth Buckley, Emily Grogg, Collina Brown, Gretchen and Marjorie Young, Marion Wilson, Helen Day, Viola Jackson, Bertha Miller, Beatrice Rogers, Clara Ven Erdine, Pearl and Ouida Key, Madeline Guilford, Florence Nelson, Alina Kilpatrick, Jean Arthur, Clara Fitzgerald, Jennie Harding and Jessie French.

The matrons were Mrs. E. S. Tead, Mrs. C. A. Stearns and Mrs. Isabel Smith.

Miss Arthur received several beautiful gifts of cut-glass and linen from the friends present.

band, or open in high pointed neck the revers having touches of embroidery.

SPORT COATS.

A much fuller sport coat nearly circular in cut, has succeeded the Balmaine that was killed by too great popularity. The sleeves of the new coat set in to a slightly dropped shoulder and it is guileless of any ornament in the way of belt or even patch pockets.

For the warm stylish coat needed for travelling and automobile wear there are no end of desirable models to be found. The best styles and values can be had at many figures, even in the most exclusive places. At C. C. Shayne & Co.'s I saw a number of beautiful coats in the "Auto Section" and in nearly every case there were fur robes to match the coats, such matching being rather faddish this season.

FASHIONABLE OUTLINES.

Slouchy, "natural" outlines—so-called—are taboo with present modes the loosest high waisted model depending little as much upon the modesty of the underlying figure as the most primly fitted Godey's Lady Book styles, which are revived in such picturesque variety. This is fortunate as most people will wear garments of both sorts, over practically the same foundation.

AN INNOVATION.

In one of the most exclusive shops on Fifth avenue I saw a lady gown that had several novel and attractive points of interest to the woman who likes to get her wardrobe ready in advance. Built of fine white cotton crepe, this was embroidered in a graceful braiding pattern with a mixture of small jet and porcelain beads. The waist evidently suggested by an Early Victorian design, ended in two points in front and one in the back which fell over the skirt about six inches below the belt line. A girle of black velvet ribbon, run through buttonholes slit her through in position and the head embroidered made them very attractive.

New York, Jan. 25, 1915.

TO GIVE OPERA.

The music committee of the Quincy Women's club are fortunate in having for their chairman, a thorough musician, Mrs. Jennie Harding. In the presentation of the opera, Mikado, which will be given under the auspices of this committee in Music hall, February tenth, not only did her wide acquaintance amongst musical people, make it possible for her to choose the best artists for the leading parts, but the chorus had the advantage of her skilled training for months and their work shows ability and finish. Frederic Kennedy, who is coaching and staging the production has had large experience and his interpretation of the part of Nauti-Poo, the hero, in the opera is greatly admired.

One of the new ideas which undoubtedly will be developed by this appointment will be the establishment of a city employment bureau, such as is now in force in many cities. This is in line with the plan of the district court, where has been particularly fitted to establish such a bureau, and it will probably materialize in the near future.

In addition to the officials usually appointed every year, this year it was necessary for the mayor to appoint for the first time members of two new boards, a Planning Board of five members, and a Board of Survey

Mayor's Appointments

Commissioner of Public Works—Moses L. Brown.
City Treasurer and Tax Collector—John Curtis.
City Clerk—Emery L. Crane.
City Solicitor—Walter S. Pinkham.
Chief Engineer Fire Department—Faxon Billings.
Overseer of the Poor—Miss Mildred Gray Huston.
City Engineer—Ezekiel C. Sargent.
City Physician—Fred A. Bartlett.
Assessors—John J. O'Hara, chairman, 2 years; Charles R. Sherman, 1 year, Wellington W. Mitchell, 3 years.
Park Commissioners—George E. Pfaffmann chairman; Ira M. Whittemore, John L. Hamilton.
Board of Health—William H. Bughan chairman; Dr. Harold E. Diehl, Thomas L. A. Musgrave.

Inspector of Buildings—George E. Thomas.
Back and Water Front Commissioner—Frank Fessenden Crane.
Registrar of Voters—Michael B. Geary, three years.
Managers of Public Burial Places—Albert W. Fay, Thomas Bishop, John Evans, Arthur B. Hultman, Joseph H. Vogel, John Q. Cudworth.

Managers of the Adams Academy—Nathaniel S. Huntington, George M. Sheahan, F. M. Rollins, Perry Lawton, Charles E. Hathaway, Herbert S. Parker.
Trustees Thomas Crane Public Library—Charles R. Sanford, Morton Smith, Harry W. Reed, Albert N. Murray, Charles W. Abele, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Alden.

City Planning Board—Eugene C. Hultman, George W. Bailey, George W. Abele, Charles A. Hadlock, Wilson Marsh.
Board of Survey—Charles L. Gillatt 3 years; Walter E. Piper 2 years; Perry Lawton 1 year.

A tense excitement appeared to imbue the large audience which crowded the council chamber Friday night to hear the reading of the mayor's appointments. When President Whitton began to read the list the dropping of the hat could be heard in the chamber. His Honor had kept his secret well and as the names were read expressions of surprise, delight, disappointment, succeeded each other on many faces.

Most interest was in the making up of the board of assessors and Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Huston, her mother also having been born in this city. She has always made her home here. She received her education in the public schools of the city and at the High school from which she graduated in the class of 1904. She then entered the Bryant & Stratton college from which she graduated in 1906. She entered the employ of a Dewey, Gould Co. wool dealers, with whom she remained several years, later she acted as private secretary for several firms.

Four years ago she opened a public stenographer's office in Quincy which she still carries on. In 1911 she was appointed as clerk to the Board of Trade and upon the opening of the present court house in Quincy in 1912 she became the official court stenographer. At the same time she became an assistant in the office of the probate officer, which training she will find of inestimable value in her new position. In addition to this she has recently been appointed as assistant to the clerk of the court.

Miss Huston is a young woman of pleasing personality and many who have the pleasure of her acquaintance say that her selection by the Mayor was a wise one. Miss Huston says that she will not give up her public stenography work but will employ two assistants to assist her.

INSPECTOR THOMAS.

George E. Thomas who has been appointed as Inspector of Buildings to succeed Lora C. Merrill, is a well known Wollaston builder. He was born in Nova Scotia in 1851 and came to Massachusetts at the age of 19 years and to Quincy in 1876 where he has since resided. He joined the fire department in 1882 and has since been a member of the department being attached to the Wollaston station. He at one time served as an assistant engineer and for many years has been foreman of the Hose Co. He was educated in the schools of Framingham, after which he mastered carpenter's trade which he has since followed. He has built many buildings in Wollaston and Quincy also several public buildings among which were Brasse's block in Wollaston, St. Christy's church, and the Y. M. C. A. building at Quincy. He is prominently identified with the Wollaston Baptist church.

GEORGE E. PFAFFMANN.

George E. Pfaffmann appointed as chairman of the board of Park Commissioners returns to the office he held in all 14 years. He was one of those dropped by Mayor Miller.

Mr. Pfaffmann was born in Marshfield, Mass., in 1865. He came to Quincy when young and was educated in the grammar and high schools. Mr. Pfaffmann first entered the wholesale military business, he later returned to that of a chemist and chemicals and is now doing an extensive business as a manufacturing chemist with office and salesrooms on Summer street, Boston and factory at South Boston.

BOARD OF SURVEY.

This is another new Board which was created by a special act of the legislature in 1914 and later accepted by the city council and the honor of being the first chairman of the board has been bestowed upon ex-Councilman Charles L. Gillatt. He served for three years as a member of the committee on streets of the council and in 1914 as the chairman of this important committee. He is a well known Wollaston business man, president of the general manager of the Norfolk Iron works. Mr. Gillatt was born in Digby, Nova Scotia, in 1874. At the age of 16 years he went to Worcester to learn the trade in the ornamental iron business. Here he was employed by three different firms, at one time being superintendent for the firm with whom he learned the business. In 1901 he associated himself with the A. B. Robbins Co. and is at present its president and general manager. He is a member of the Wollaston Yacht club, the Park and Downs Men's club, Quincy Conventry K. T. Order of the Eastern Star and of the Master Builders' Association and the New England Iron League.

DR. HAROLD DIEHL.

Dr. Harold Diehl, one of the three appointed to the Board of Health is the youngest male appointee of Mayor Campbell.

He was born in Easton, Pa., 29 years ago. After attending the grammar and high schools of that city he entered Lafayette college and received an A. B. degree there in 1907 and graduated from Boston University Medical school in 1911. He was registered a practicing physician that year. During his last year at medical school he was an intern at the Massachusetts General Hospital and for two years was connected with the pathological department of that institution under Dr. Waters. After graduation he served a full year as house physician at the Newton Hospital, Newton. At present he is a member of the medical staff of the Quincy City Hospital, secretary of the Boston District of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Medical society, and a member of the obstetrical staff of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital of Boston. He is also a member of the Massachusetts Surgical and Gynecological society, and a director of the Quincy Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Diehl came to Quincy in 1912 as the successor of the late Dr. Henry C. Halliwell. Last June he claimed Helene M. Thayer of Arlington as his bride and with her resided at 1241 Hancock street.

WALTER H. BUCHAN.

Walter H. Buchan, chairman of the Board of Health is a resident of Houghs Neck and is most actively interested in the welfare of that section.

He was born in Westford, Aug. 22, 1876. When a boy his parents moved to Hyde Park. As a young man he learned the printers trade in the office of the Norfolk County Gazette, published in Hyde Park by Samuel L. Mosely, postmaster of the town. He went from there to the Norwood Press at Norwood where he was employed for 11 years. Three years ago he became connected with the Boston Globe as a linotype man.

Mr. Buchan is married and has lived in Houghs Neck the past seven years. He is president of the Houghs Neck Associates, a member of the Order of Scottish Rites, Boston Columbian Club, Scottish Border Club, Scottish Charitable Society and the Boston Typographical Society.

Y. P. R. U. GIVE PLAYS.

A striking demonstration of the ability of amateur actors is the production of a play given Friday night, when the Young People's Religious Union presented "The Arrival of Kitty" in the chapel of the First Parish church.

Mrs. A. L. Davis, the coach, deserves much credit. The entire cast showed finished training both in their stage positions and in their intelligent interpretation of the various parts of the farce. And it was a farce, which kept the capacity audience laughing and applauding for two hours.

The scene of the play is in a hotel in the Catskills, and the plot is centered around a will leaving money to a young woman named Jane. She marries one Benjamin Moore. Of course Jane has a lover who follows her to the hotel where her uncle has taken her to force her to meet and marry Benjamin. Now Uncle William has a secret love affair with a gay actress, called Kitty and the lover Bert discovers it and masquerades as Kitty.

Uncle William has an old maid sister, also called Jane, who promises him money if he gets her a husband. An agency to supply husbands promises to send the husband. Benjamin arrives and is mistaken for the agency man. Things are badly involved before the real Kitty arrives and after she comes the complications and funny situations are indescribable.

Edward Dow as Uncle William was capital. He was a suave, angelic old hypocrite until the false Kitty arrived, then he was a nervous, scheming old lover, and at the arrival of the real Kitty he was a terrified, helpless old coward. The part called for ability and the right man had the part.

Bruce Saville made a splendid Bert, and incidentally a very handsome girl as the false Kitty. His voice was completely under control. It quivered during his earnest pleadings as the lover, it thundered at the uncle, and it had the high pitched quality of a woman's, as Kitty. His acting was natural and easy.

Harry Sutton caused many good, hearty laughs as the colored bell boy, and was often deservedly applauded.

Everett Rhodes as poor, silly Benjamin Moore was excellent. His make-up, his actions, his walk, his voice, even his pearl gray spats bespoke his character.

Curtis Arnold of Braintree took the part of "Ting," the temporary hotel proprietor, and he made good.

Miss Beatrice Morrison was a lovely and lovable Jane, and made her character true to life.

Miss Margaret Howard as Jane the elder, was the simplicit of the silly spinster to perfection. She was applauded every time she left the stage. Her make-up and costumes were truly a wonder to behold.

Miss Ethel Hersey was the real Kitty. She was extremely good, with her gay nonchalance, fiery spirit and slang.

Miss Marie Shenkelberger had little to say but made a pretty, demure, Suzanne, the maid.

A real treat was given between the acts when Miss Catherine Saville sang two songs and two encores. She sang "The Love Song" in a clear, true voice, powerful but trained to give the sweet light tones called for by one of her selections. She was ably accompanied on the piano by Mrs. John L. Evans.

TO BUILD NEW THE

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 7.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 124 Hancock Street,
Quincy, Mass.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Postage paid at Quincy, Mass.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.
ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LANDS FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. 447-W
Tel. 1000-B

JOHN W. McANARNEY

Counselor at-Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PRATER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.
By W. PRATER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

A. M. JAMESON

Real Estate and Insurance
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE
157 WARREN AVE., COR. WINTHROP AVE.
WOLLASTON
Houses and Building Lots for sale.
Insurance and Mortgages.
Tel. 131-M Quincy. Mar. 9 if p.

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HAVERFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual.
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,931,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital	$1,000,000.00
Surplus	$2,000,000.00
Assets for Policyholders	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses	$2,000,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims	$2,000,000.00
Total Assets	$12,481,294.34

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1827
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $4,000,000.00
Total Liabilities, $4,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $4,000,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES Y. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer
DIRECTORS:—Treston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles W. Kainer, Boston; James Y. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel H. Cullen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgson, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $4,000,000.00
Total Liabilities, $4,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $4,000,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES Y. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas P. Draper, Canton; William E. Kainer, Brockton; James Y. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggins, Franklin; Asa P. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Thompson, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

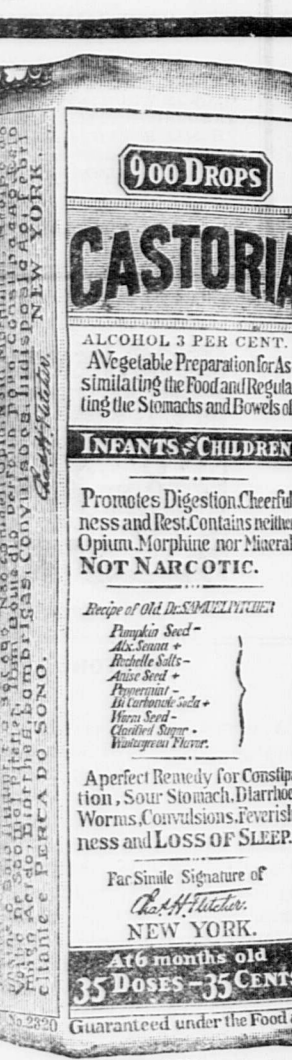

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

INCORPORATED 1822
Home Office, 18 Central Street,
Boston, Mass.
Statement from Report of Triennial Examination of Company made by the Massachusetts Insurance Dept., as of October 21, 1914.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $4,000,000.00
Total Liabilities, $4,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $4,000,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES Y. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas P. Draper, Canton; William E. Kainer, Brockton; James Y. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggins, Franklin; Asa P. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Thompson, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. A. Bradford Co.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating
the Stomach and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN.
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness
and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other NARCOTIC.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation,
Sour Stomach, Flatulency,
Worms, Colic, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Parrot Brand Signature of
Wm. A. Bradford Co.
NEW YORK.

46 months old
35 Doses - 35 CENTS

Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act of 1906.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset.
Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Neponset, Boston. Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St. " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St. " 578 Haymarket

SOXS OF VETERANS.

Patriotic Instructor, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment and annual roll call of Col. Abner Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, reported at the meeting in G. A. R. hall Friday Feb. 5 the plans for that annual affair. The meeting will be at 7.30. Other arrangements will be under the direction of the "Good of the Order" committee.

It was announced that a delegation expects to attend the fourth annual military ball of the Massachusetts division of the Sons of Veterans in Convention hall on the evening of Feb. 15 and that the camp will attend the Lincoln Day observances at the corner of Mrs. Idella Savage, Franklin street, on the evening of Feb. 11. On the 13th inst. the camp and Paul Revere post, G. A. R., will attend the patriotic meeting at the Y. M. C. A. scheduled for four o'clock.

MRS. AMOS T. LEAVITT.
The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Prescott Leavitt, wife of Amos T. Leavitt, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home 67 Lincoln avenue. The services were very largely attended for aside from many of the neighbors and friends of the family, there was a delegation from the store of Silas Pierce Co., with which Mr. Leavitt is connected.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Swarth of the Wollaston Congregational church assisted by Rev. Edward A. Chase, of Beverly. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included remembrances from the Wollaston Congregational church, and from the employees of Silas Pierce Co. The remains were taken to Forest Hills crematory following the services.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

LINCOLN.

Arthur Gulterman.
Dare we despair? Through all the night and day
Of lagging war he kept his courage true.
Shall doubt befall our eyes? A darker haze
But proved the faith of him who ever knew
That right must conquer. May we cherish hate
For our poor griefs, when never word nor deed
Of rancor, malice, spite, or low or great
In his large soul one poison-drop could breed?

He leads us still. O'er chasms yet unspanned
Our pathway lies; the work is but begun;
But we shall do our part and leave our land
The mightier for noble battles won. Here truth must triumph. Honor must prevail.
The nation Lincoln died for cannot fail!

"Great speech! Good for you!" loudly exclaimed Brother Short. Down came the gas with a bang, and up went the robbing game of the bishop to the gallery. But Short only saw the face of the last speaker, who was now smiling up at him, with a hundred others. Unabashed, he turned to his companion and exclaimed: "He's our man! He'll make him a corner! What say you?"

"A little too fat to get around, ain't he?" queried High, skeptically.
"O, he'll wear that off on our circuit," said Short, with an air of finality.
"I'm willing if we can get him," said High.

"Didn't the bishop say we could have our pick?" demanded Short.
"It was with a peculiar pleasure that the eccentric bishop, to whom the committee from Ketcham's Corner had duly reported, arranged for an interview with the orator of the morning, whom he now summoned to the cabinet room. With a lurking smile about the corners of his peremptory mouth, he said: "Doctor, permit me to introduce to you Brother Short and Brother High. They desire that you shall become the pastor of their church."

The doctor's face beamed radiantly as he came forward and cordially shook hands with the committee. It may be stated at once that Dr. Stills had earned long ago not to judge by appearances. "Your church is located—pardon me. Not having had the pleasure of meeting you as lay delegates, but our means is limited and we won't allow it. We can keep one man to be comfortable."

"How much will you pay your preacher?" the bishop asked.
"Last year we paid $500 and house, but we're willing to do better than that this year if we get the right man."

"This year, then, with the provision named you will pay—"
"Five hundred and twenty-five dollars."

The bishop sighed so violently that an anonymous protest was carried from his desk into the wastebasket, where it was permitted to lie. "How many members have you on Ketcham circuit?" he asked a little sharply.

"About 200, sir," was the reply.
"Excellent farming country, is it not?"

"Bishop, it's God's country. Why we can raise—"
"Of course, all the country belongs to God," interrupted the bishop, dryly, checking the speaker's enthusiasm; "farms free of mortgage."

"Mostly. You see, we're a hard working, saving, economical people. Our soil is rich, and the only thing that comes up hard is the preacher's salary."

"I fear I shall have some difficulty in sending you a man," the bishop remarked, abruptly without noticing Short's broad grin.

"Difficulty, bishop," echoed the committee man, in a tone of surprise; "why, I thought you just picked out a man, and planted him, and said 'Go, and be comforted.'"

"Humph! Well, brethren, my mind is precious now. Suppose you help me to find a man. Let us suggest to you to go up into the galleries of the church and look over the conference, and if you see or hear anyone that you think would be suitable for your work, report to me."

The committee men on pastoral relations from Ketcham's Corner were the first committee of its kind appointed by that historic church. It was composed of two of the leading brethren, whose names were, singularly enough Short and High. Another coincidence, which has long been a commonplace at the corner of Mrs. Idella Savage, Franklin street, on the evening of Feb. 11. On the 13th inst. the camp and Paul Revere post, G. A. R., will attend the patriotic meeting at the Y. M. C. A. scheduled for four o'clock.

MRS. AMOS T. LEAVITT.
The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Prescott Leavitt, wife of Amos T. Leavitt, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home 67 Lincoln avenue. The services were very largely attended for aside from many of the neighbors and friends of the family, there was a delegation from the store of Silas Pierce Co., with which Mr. Leavitt is connected.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Swarth of the Wollaston Congregational church assisted by Rev. Edward A. Chase, of Beverly. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included remembrances from the Wollaston Congregational church, and from the employees of Silas Pierce Co. The remains were taken to Forest Hills crematory following the services.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

CONFERENCE WHILE HE SPOKE WITH GREAT earnestness as follows:

"I recommend a return in the old circuit system as the only solution of this embarrassing problem. The old circuit system, sir, when our fathers rode the length and breadth of this land proclaiming the everlasting gospel."

"What he says?" whispered Brother High to his colleague.
"He's saying that there's nothing like a circuit!" was the enthusiastic reply.

"I recommend sir," continued the speaker, "as a means of giving the preacher an adequate support in his work, a doubling up of these stations, and even the forming of circuits in a word, sir, a return to the old circuit system that has worked so grandly and so well in laying the foundation of our beloved Methodism!" (Applause.)

"Great speech! Good for you!" loudly exclaimed Brother Short. Down came the gas with a bang, and up went the robbing game of the bishop to the gallery. But Short only saw the face of the last speaker, who was now smiling up at him, with a hundred others. Unabashed, he turned to his companion and exclaimed: "He's our man! He'll make him a corner! What say you?"

"A little too fat to get around, ain't he?" queried High, skeptically.
"O, he'll wear that off on our circuit," said Short, with an air of finality.
"I'm willing if we can get him," said High.

"Didn't the bishop say we could have our pick?" demanded Short.
"It was with a peculiar pleasure that the eccentric bishop, to whom the committee from Ketcham's Corner had duly reported, arranged for an interview with the orator of the morning, whom he now summoned to the cabinet room. With a lurking smile about the corners of his peremptory mouth, he said: "Doctor, permit me to introduce to you Brother Short and Brother High. They desire that you shall become the pastor of their church."

The doctor's face beamed radiantly as he came forward and cordially shook hands with the committee. It may be stated at once that Dr. Stills had earned long ago not to judge by appearances. "Your church is located—pardon me. Not having had the pleasure of meeting you as lay delegates, but our means is limited and we won't allow it. We can keep one man to be comfortable."

"How much will you pay your preacher?" the bishop asked.
"Last year we paid $500 and house, but we're willing to do better than that this year if we get the right man."

"This year, then, with the provision named you will pay—"
"Five hundred and twenty-five dollars."

The bishop sighed so violently that an anonymous protest was carried from his desk into the wastebasket, where it was permitted to lie. "How many members have you on Ketcham circuit?" he asked a little sharply.

"About 200, sir," was the reply.
"Excellent farming country, is it not?"

"Bishop, it's God's country. Why we can raise—"
"Of course, all the country belongs to God," interrupted the bishop, dryly, checking the speaker's enthusiasm; "farms free of mortgage."

"Mostly. You see, we're a hard working, saving, economical people. Our soil is rich, and the only thing that comes up hard is the preacher's salary."

"I fear I shall have some difficulty in sending you a man," the bishop remarked, abruptly without noticing Short's broad grin.

"Difficulty, bishop," echoed the committee man, in a tone of surprise; "why, I thought you just picked out a man, and planted him, and said 'Go, and be comforted.'"

"Humph! Well, brethren, my mind is precious now. Suppose you help me to find a man. Let us suggest to you to go up into the galleries of the church and look over the conference, and if you see or hear anyone that you think would be suitable for your work, report to me."

The committee men on pastoral relations from Ketcham's Corner were the first committee of its kind appointed by that historic church. It was composed of two of the leading brethren, whose names were, singularly enough Short and High. Another coincidence, which has long been a commonplace at the corner of Mrs. Idella Savage, Franklin street, on the evening of Feb. 11. On the 13th inst. the camp and Paul Revere post, G. A. R., will attend the patriotic meeting at the Y. M. C. A. scheduled for four o'clock.

MRS. AMOS T. LEAVITT.
The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Prescott Leavitt, wife of Amos T. Leavitt, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home 67 Lincoln avenue. The services were very largely attended for aside from many of the neighbors and friends of the family, there was a delegation from the store of Silas Pierce Co., with which Mr. Leavitt is connected.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Swarth of the Wollaston Congregational church assisted by Rev. Edward A. Chase, of Beverly. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included remembrances from the Wollaston Congregational church, and from the employees of Silas Pierce Co. The remains were taken to Forest Hills crematory following the services.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

BAND CONCERT.

More than 2500 people attempted to get into the Ketchikan theatre Sunday afternoon to hear the band of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation in its first public concert. Only 1200, the capacity of the house, were admitted but it was with the utmost difficulty that late arrivals were prevented from forcing their way past the ushers at the entrance.

The theatre opened at 2.30 P. M. and was entirely filled fifteen minutes later. President Joseph W. Powell of the Corporation was among those who arrived promptly on time. He found it impossible to get into the auditorium and was obliged to hear the concert behind the scenes of the stage.

The band was organized several months ago by President Powell and under the instruction of Thomas Carter, a venerable musician who enjoys a fine reputation throughout New England, organizer and leader of Carter band, has developed into one of the most pleasing combinations of entertainers in the state.

First class mechanics, ordinary workmen and apprentice boys are included in the organization of 35 and all wear the handsome uniform and carry the gold letters "F. R. C. B." in monogram. All of their instruments are new and the entire equipment has been furnished by the corporation.

The program included popular compositions from the great masters, excerpts from musical comedy scores and popular songs. "The King of the Ever popular waltz 'Dreaming' Joyce, vied with 'Tipperary,' in popularity with the 'Anvil Chorus,' from Verdi's 'Il Trovatore' made the hit of the afternoon. Encores were frequent but it remained for that high class composition to kindle the spark which burst into flame and applause which subsided only when its opening strains were again heard above the hand clapping.

"What did the bishop say there on toward the last when you got out so quick?" asked Brother High, as they went up the street to the railroad station.

"He said he was going to send a missionary to Ketcham's," snapped Brother Short, with more temper than accuracy.

"Well, the Lord knows we need one!" This was the longest sentence, as well as the truest statement that Brother High had uttered that day. His colleague made an impatient rejoinder, but his words were drowned in the roar of a passing distillery wagon. Strangely enough there was appointed to Ketcham circuit an escaped missionary from the country of the Boxers—Ithra Collins in the Northwestern Christian Advocate.

QUINCY CHORAL SOCIETY.
The Quincy Choral Society holds a high position in the social and artistic life of our city. It stands in its accomplishments on a level which by comparison to its size is second to none in this state. All local citizens at this time are intensely interested in the upward trend in every direction to make the city of Quincy a delightful place to live in, therefore we must take pride in the fact that a society which stands for the best in musical art is well established and performing its mission of uplift and giving enjoyment to music lovers in our midst after season. Statistics have proven that in most musical societies it is the usual and not the unusual thing to require financial assistance year after year.

In view of the fact that musical productions of so high a standard and of so necessarily great expense can be supported almost entirely by the public, places Quincy Choral Society in the front rank in regard to progress and raises the musical influence of our city to a high position where music lovers hope it will remain.

It is fortunate in having at its head a live wire president, Mr. T. B. Pollard, who has been the chief presiding officer of the society since its inception seven years ago. Its affairs are planned and executed by a most ambitious board of officers and directors, who work together in a vigorous, still harmonious manner with only one object in view, and that for the best welfare of the life of the Society.

The chorus is drilled under the baton of a conductor, Mr. George Sawyer Dunham, who stands high in the musical profession in and about this state.

Rehearsals for this season's work began on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, and the studies which have been carefully selected are Rossini's "Stabat Mater" and Gounod's "Gloria." These contain gorgeous chorus numbers and beautiful parts for solo voices. The concert date is set for March second.

CONCERT AT WOLLASTON.
The Pierian Sodality Orchestra of Harvard University, 35 pieces strong, will make its second annual appearance in Wollaston on the evening of Monday, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock. Its concert, in which student soloists will also take part, including Fay Roope, the tenor who left pleasant memories last year, will be under the auspices of the Glee club of Wollaston, whose young men took an active part in Mayor Campbell's campaign for election last fall.

Mayor Campbell who is a member of the club, will be present at this concert. The appearance of this large, well-trained orchestra last year attracted a host of music-lovers and will be a novel event for Quincy. This year's concert is in charge of Harry G. Campbell, chairman of the Somerset club entertainment committee.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Q. W. C. T. U.
OUR PLEDGE.
I hereby promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S PLEDGE.
Whereas, the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage is productive of pauperism, degradation and crime, and believing it is our duty to discourage that which produces more evil than good, we therefore pledge ourselves to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

CHILDREN AND ALCOHOLISM.
The problem of reducing the rate of infant mortality is one to which physicians throughout the world are giving serious study, and many diseases which are fatal to children, such as diphtheria, pulmonary tuberculosis, tuberculous meningitis, syphilis, etc., have been considerably reduced. One enemy particularly disastrous to the children of the world is alcohol, as consumed by parents. France, the cradle of the drinking culture of the world, is noticeably suffering from the effects of its liquor drinking habits upon its offspring.

In an investigation during the year May 1, 1912, to May 1, 1913, by Dr. Jacques at the Hospital Saint-Antoine of 296 patients having a total of 879 children, he divided the patients into three classes: alcoholism in moderation (those who drink a liter of wine, alcohol or rarely aperients); decided alcoholism (those who drink habitually from 1.5 to 2 liters of wine, alcohol or aperients frequently); and very decided alcoholism (those who drink habitually two liters of wine or more, aperients, alcohol, occasional repeated abstinence). The 141 moderate drinkers had 305 children and 83 deaths, a percentage of 18.78. One hundred and eight decided alcoholists had 248 children with 115 deaths, 26.01 per cent, while 147 very decided alcoholists had 226 children with 244 deaths, a percentage of 55.47. Deaths among these children of 296 patients addicted in a greater or less degree to alcohol totaled 142, a round mortality of 50.28 per cent.

EAST NORFOLK C. E.
The bi-monthly meeting of the East Norfolk Christian Endeavor Union was held Monday evening at the Wollaston Baptist church and was largely attended. At the roll call the banishment for the largest percentage of attendance at regular meetings and at the meeting of Monday evening was awarded to the society of the Wollaston Congregational church.

Delegates were present from the Christian Endeavor society recently formed in the Braintree Congregational church, and this society was admitted to the East Norfolk Union.

The address of the evening was by Rev. E. H. Blyington of the West Roxbury Congregational church and his topic was "Automobile Christian Endeavor Service." The speaker gave a most interesting talk applying the different parts of the automobile to Christian Endeavor work. For instance he said that every society should be a self starter. That it should be progressive. That all parts should work well in order to make progress and that it should be supplied with plenty of power.

The musical part of the program was under the direction of Amos D. Abner of the Wollaston Baptist church, and included the singing of the "Hallelujah chorus" and "Peace be Still." In addition to this Miss Annie Fieger sang a vocal solo, with violin obligato by Miss Elsa Field.

The next meeting of the Union will be a cabinet meeting and will be held a month hence at the Wollaston Congregational church.

BUILDING ALL RIGHT.
There have been rumors about the new Masonic temple being erected by Wollaston Masons lodge on Bral street. Some of these rumors have been to the effect that the building had been condemned and that it would have to be torn down and rebuilt.

There is no truth in this. Some weeks ago during the extreme cold spell the cement used in the basement was not hardening as it should and Inspector of Buildings Lora C. Merrill, ordered work stopped until it could be seen just what the trouble was.

The result was that State Expert Worcester was called in and after making a thorough inspection of the building pronounced it all right and perfectly safe. Work was suspended for a time during the extreme cold weather but is now going ahead again.

LITTLE ONE DIED.
Ruth E. Carlson, the 5-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Eric R. Carlson of West street, Braintree, died Saturday afternoon at the Quincy City Hospital.

Little Ruth was operated on Wednesday night for intussusception. A similar operation performed Monday on a nine months baby boy was the first of its kind ever performed at the hospital. The little boy is doing well.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

CLUB WOMEN GIVE PLAY.

All the club women of the city, and their friends as well, were at the annual bright and early Tuesday afternoon for the annual drama of the Quincy women's club. Long before the hour of two, it was almost impossible to find a vacant seat. There was a joyous hum of expectancy which only ceased for the half hour necessary to transact special club business, and again when the curtain went up on the first act.

The play "A Rose of Plymouth Town," a romantic comedy was under the personal direction of Mrs. Willard P. Sheppard of Braintree, better known as Miss Molly Brown formerly of this city. It was cast as follows: Miss Standish, Captain of Plymouth; Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Garrett Foster, of Weston's men; Mrs. George Fleming, John Margeson, Colonel; Mrs. George Badger, Philippe de la Noye, Colonel; Miss Ella Packard, Miriam Chillingley, Cousin of the Captain; Miss Clara Doble, Barbara Standish, wife of the Captain; Mrs. Charles Sampson, Resolute Story, aunt of the Captain; Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., Rose de la Noye; Mrs. Willard P. Sheppard.

There were four acts as follows: An early August Morning—Stolen Fruit—A night in March—Red light on snow. The next afternoon—The better man.

The time 1622-1623 and the place Plymouth in New England gave a quaint picturesqueness to the play much appreciated and enjoyed by the audience. The straight, harking chairs, old pewter, a warning pan and the whole setting carrying one back to the olden days.

Rose de la Noye the French lass who came to Plymouth to keep house for her brother Philippe was considered too young to preside over the house and instead was made a maid. Capt. and Mrs. Mitchell Standish. The first scene of the comedy shows a room in the Standish house on an early summer morning. Rose is preparing breakfast when a man bursts through the window and asks her to hide him. He has been stealing corn because of hunger. Owing to the scarcity of food and the long winter, Capt. Standish had said that any one caught stealing corn would be sent to the stocks and flogged.

The family gather for breakfast and all goes well until the culprit, Garrett Foster one of Weston's men from Wessagusset, sneezes several times necessitating duplicate sneezes by Rose which so alarmed good Barbara Standish she made a brew to ward off the cold. As Capt. Standish is about leaving the house he discovers corn plucked by Garrett Foster who comes from his hiding place and confesses. The Capt. is much wroth but finally forgives Foster because of his great need. He stays on in the colony and falls in love with Miriam Margeson of the colony is also in love with Rose who leads him on because he had made love to Miriam Chillingley, the Captain's cousin and then his ardor cooled. In the meantime Philippe had discovered Miriam's charms. Complications arose to prevent the love affairs running smoothly. There was a duel between Foster and Margeson. Rose agrees to kiss the better man, but her brother comes between the men and is wounded. Foster flees and a price is put on his head if he ever returns to the colony again.

As he is about to leave Wessagusset for England he returns to Plymouth to warn the colony of an Indian uprising but is not listened to. He is kept a prisoner in Capt. Standish's house. The Indians come and he leaves the house to fight wearing an old red coat of Margeson's. He guards a weak spot in the stockade saving the colony.

Through the wearing of the red coat the honor is at first given Margeson but Rose discovers the real hero and proves to the young man and the play ends with the young people mated to their own true loves.

As the heroine of the play Mrs. Sheppard gave a most charming portrayal of the vivacious, winsome and lovable French girl. She made a picture in a pink gown good to look upon. The part was well carried throughout just the right touch and touch to seem entirely natural in acting of a part. It was one of the cleverest bits of acting done by Mrs. Sheppard in any plays in which she has taken part.

A character study was the part of Resolute Story aunt of Capt. Standish, by Mrs. Mitchell. This elderly lady had exhausted all the joys of London and expected to find something lively in Plymouth and instead was bored to death with nothing to do but sleep and walk out and be frightened to death for Indians might kill her. In makeup and acting Mrs. Mitchell was just the thing she has taken part most creditably in several of the club plays in the part of Resolute Story she was at her best and did some fine work.

Mrs. Fleming as Garrett Foster was convincing, an interesting here and there. The part was well sustained throughout. Mrs. Marsh carried off the burdens and honors of Capt. Standish with credit to herself and the Captain.

Mrs. Sampson as his wife was a most attractive figure. There was nothing lacking in her placid portrayal of the part in dress or acting.

Mrs. Packard the young French maid in love with Miriam and pretty little Miriam as acted by Miss Doble, were both good and rounded out the play adding to the enjoyment of the several scenes.

The eight participants were bright and particular stars in the part in which they were cast, each receiving frequent applause and several bouquets. In appreciation of their work. Curtains calls were also numerous.

As a whole it was an exceedingly creditable performance, reflecting credit on each artist as well as on the coach and members of the program committee of the club.

Mrs. S. I. Wood of the Adams building has closed her millinery rooms and will open March 15 for the Spring and Summer season with a complete line of trimmed and untrimmed hats.

BRIEFS

The O. U. B. of the Universalist church are to hold a poverty social in Murray hall Tuesday evening.

Miss Irene Howes is to be the soloist Sunday evening at Electric hall, where the Spiritualists hold meetings every Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charles A. Price of Adams street is opening her house Tuesday afternoon for an anti-suffrage conference.

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library have organized with Charles R. Sanford as chairman, F. Morton Smith as treasurer and Mrs. Elizabeth Allen as secretary.

The work on the addition to the Abner Hough school has been completed and the Commissioner of Public Works has placed the order for the pupils' desks and chairs.

At the regular meeting of the Bethany Brotherhood Wednesday evening, John George Carter, ex-soldier, Quincey spoke on "Lessons from the life of Lincoln."

"No-Hit" Davis of the Boston Braves shattered "Track" Hardwick's strong arm record at Harvard Thursday. His mark was 147.56 better than the Quincy boy's.

A pleasant feature of the Quincy Women's club dramatics at Music hall Wednesday afternoon was the presence of many out of town friends, former residents whom it was a pleasure to greet.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church was a guest the first of the week at the old Wesleyan school building with a group of Universalist ministers preparing for Lenten services.

In the series of dances and entertainments by the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish, the next will be a dance on Friday evening at Alpha hall. Preparations are going forward for "College night" on March 26th.

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents hall is leaving next week for New York, going over to give two illustrated art conferences at Morris-town, New Jersey on Feb. 18th and 20th at the home of Mrs. John O. H. Myers.

Mrs. S. I. Wood is prolonging her stay in New Jersey, where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Blanchard of 216 Berwyn avenue, Trenton. She returns to Quincy in March.

Mrs. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

Mr. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

Mr. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

Mr. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

Mr. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

Mr. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hall has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

BRIEFS

Miss Edith Johnson of Merrymount road left Saturday for Washington, D. C. for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Sadie McDonough, wife of Ensign James McDonough, U. S. N. retired.

Friends of Miss Mary Souther will be sorry to hear of her painful accident on Sunday last. She slipped on an icy sidewalk in Cambridge and fell breaking the bones of her left wrist. At present she is staying with her sister, Mrs. Nathan Cheney, in Belmont.

The meeting of the Saturday Auction Bridge club was omitted last week because the nephew of the hostess, Miss Madeline McCrory had the measles and the family was therefore quarantined. The next meeting will be held with Miss Mary Faxon, Adams street, Feb. 27.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Addie T. Dewhurst of Maple street in the loss of her only son Lydia H. Ray, daughter of the late Frederick French of West Quincy, who died occurred Saturday at her home in Sheltonville, Mass. after a three days' illness of pneumonia.

A Myers of Revere and Quincy has returned from Florida, where he went to recuperate from a severe illness. He is in fine condition. Mr. Myers reports that he met Henry P. Kittredge of Quincy in Miami and Edward Powers, a candidate for mayor last fall, in Jacksonville. Both men were in the best of health.

The George L. Gill Associates held a business meeting Thursday in Old Peltons hall in charge of Noble Grand Mrs. Sadie M. Walker. The scores ran high and souther were awarded to Mrs. B. Walsh, Mrs. E. Newcomb, Mrs. B. Magnus, Mrs. G. V. White, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. J. Langhorne, Mrs. H. Spear, Mrs. Hildebrand, Mrs. H. Baker.

Mayor Campbell is considering the proposition of installing a telephone switch board at city hall. At the present board office has its own telephone with direct connection with the central office. If a switch board is installed there will be several trunk lines to the central office which will enter the switch board from which lines will connect every office in city hall.

Quincy women are urged to collect their old linen and send it as soon as possible to the clubhouse of the Quincy Women's club on Presidents hall where a committee will prepare it in bandages and for use in the hospitals of wounded soldiers in France. Sheets, towels, handkerchiefs, blankets or money to buy substitute cotton are asked for. The committee asks that the material contributed be laundered.

The State Board of Education notified the School Department Wednesday that it had received requests from women in Quincy for the opening of evening classes in millinery and asking as to the prospects of opening such classes. The statement was made that the classes for dressmaking now in progress were the most enthusiastic and successful of any in the state. As a matter of fact, even as late in the winter as this there are 15 or 20 women now waiting for any vacancy that may come up in either of these classes.

SOUTH QUINCY

English Ivy lodge, O. D. S. G., held an initiation at its meeting in Clam Macgregor hall Feb. 5th under the direction of Miss Emily Moyle, president. Arrangements were made for a class initiation in March and the question of changing the date of the meetings was discussed but definite action was not taken.

Candidates for membership in the 28 divisions of A. O. H. of Norfolk county will be initiated on next Sunday afternoon. The affair will be under the auspices of Div. 5 of Quincy and will take place in their hall on Franklin street.

William C. Archibald, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Archibald of 111 Franklin street, died Sunday at the parents' home, a victim of scarlet fever.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fred P. Blagden of Franklin street have been called to Hingham by the death of Mr. Blagden's mother.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of Paulding, Ohio, will probably be appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The formal call may be extended by the Boston Presbytery, the governing board of the New England churches, after the meeting next Monday. Rev. Mr. Campbell has indicated he will accept. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Campbell preached at the church and previous to the evening service had a conference with the trustees of the church.

Alvin H. Dell, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dell of 40 Franklin street, died suddenly on Sunday at their home. Death was probably due to a sudden closing of the larynx.

The Boston Social club, a newly organized club of Italian residents of South Quincy, held its first grand dance Saturday evening in Malina's hall. Over 50 couples were in attendance and guests were present from Boston, Mattapan and Brockton.

The Old Ladies will initiate, receive a visitation and make its public services in Franklin hall on the evening of Feb. 25.

Members of the Quincy Hebrew Women's Whist club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Abraham Feldman and enjoyed their weekly game of whist. Mrs. Leventhal of Roxbury were invited guests and were successful in winning prizes. Other prizes were won by the members.

Helen B. Craig, the one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes A. Craig, Jr., of 106 Federal avenue, was removed to the contagious hospital at Brighton Wednesday, suffering from diphtheria. The little girl developed the disease early in the week. From the first her condition was critical and she was taken to the hospital in hopes of saving her life.

FIRE AT WOLLASTON.

The alarm from Box 53 at 7.42 A. M. Friday called the Wollaston and Central station apparatus to a bad fire in a bungalow house at 198 Fayette street, owned by Horace W. Richmond and occupied by a family named Johnson. The family has been in Quincy but a short time.

The fire started back of the kitchen stove and worked up behind walls to the roof, making up of the hardest kind of a fire to fight as it was necessary for the firemen to chop away the plastering in order to get at it.

BRIEFS

Physical Director La Rose of the Y. M. C. A. who has been kept by his duties for some weeks because of ill health, is expected to be on hand Monday.

A Lincoln's Birthday Campfire will be held at four o'clock today afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. John Gilman of Boston, past national commander of the G. A. R., will be the speaker. Col. Edward Anderson will preside. The local G. A. R. post and Sons of Veterans have been invited. There will be special features and decorations.

Quincy Y. M. C. A. will be represented at the Boys' Conference to be held in Pawtucket Rhode Island from the 19th to the 22nd by the following boys: Sturgis Hunt, Joe Beal, Frederick Tobbenboske, Maynard Hark, Percy Jenkins, George Prout, Roger Ahlstrom, Herbert Hendry, Everett Robble, Eric Nelson and the Boys' Work Secretary, C. H. Humphrey. Two papers are to be read by the Quincy boys, one by Sturgis Hunt and the other by Joe Beal.

The speaker at the monthly meeting of the First Parish club next Tuesday evening will be J. Machol of the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, O. Following the address there will be a short concert on the Edison Diamond Disc phonograph by an operator from the Edison laboratory of New Jersey.

Members of the club will assemble in business dress at 6 o'clock for a short social hour and dinner will be served at 6.30.

QUINCY POINT

Miss Wonder Smith of Boston is the guest of Miss Lillian DeYoung of Kitteridge avenue, Quincy Point, for a few days.

John McDonald of Curtis avenue has gone to Montreal to work on the submarines.

Wallace Glidden, formerly of Quincy Point is visiting in Quincy. Mr. Glidden is connected with a large Land and Timber Co. at Los Angeles, California.

The schooner Goletta of Hancock Maine arrived Thursday morning at the wharves of the Quincy Lumber Co. with 3200 bundles of laths.

Miss Mildred Moir of Arnold street has accepted a position in the office of the Massachusetts Chocolate Co. at Boston.

Frederic Kittredge, one of the oldest men in Quincy is ill at his home on Washington street, Quincy Point. Mr. Kittredge is ninety-two years of age. Arthur Green of Washington street, Quincy Point is spending a month with Harry Redding of Plymouth, formerly of Quincy. They report several successful rabbit hunts.

Seven young men in play Monday evening at the whist party held at the Town River yacht clubhouse. The first prize was won by Elmer Sprague. Other prizes went to Mrs. Cashman and J. Moriarty.

Harvey Redding of Long Pond is spending two weeks in Quincy, formerly of Boston.

Miss Alice E. Whiton of Salem is the guest of Mrs. Ida Estey and family of Washington street.

Robert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Mill street has been very ill and is improving and able to be about the house.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a baby boy born Saturday.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved. Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Miss Doris Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague, John J. Moriarty and Ken McKenney at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

THE MEN'S FORUM.

An interesting stereopticon lecture on "The Telephone" was delivered Feb. 5th before the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church by John F. Scott, a representative of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Tracing the history of the enterprise from its inception he told of the obstacles overcome both in the early days and in the present.

Touching on local telephone history the speaker mentioned George T. Magee of the Ledger as being the first telephone subscribers in Quincy, his apparatus being installed in 1882.

The Quincy exchange was first set up in 1884 on Temple street over the plumbing shop of George Russell.

In conclusion Mr. Scott spoke a word in behalf of the telephone operator one of the least of offenders and most mistreated of public servants.

Forbidden to answer back, the girls sometimes with tears cursing down their cheeks, have to stand the abuse arising from bad temper and conditions beyond their control.

In the absence of President Brewster, Mr. Ayers presided. At his suggestion the Forum voted to hold a mock trial based on Dickens' "Mystery of Edwin Drood."

As Dickens did not live to solve the mystery for his novel the proposed trial, with its English costumes and characters, promises to be highly enjoyable.

MRS. ELLEN BUSHNELL.

Mrs. Ellen Bushnell, widow of Rev. Henry A. Bushnell and mother of Dr. E. H. Bushnell, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lincoln A. Cook, Wednesday after a brief illness, aged 75 years. Mrs. Bushnell was the widow of a well known Methodist clergyman who died about 6 years ago. During his active career as a preacher he was located in Vermont but during the latter years of his life he preached at Lowell's corner, Weymouth.

Mrs. Bushnell has been remarkably active up to the very last. She leaves behind a home filled with beautiful gas and electric table and floor lamps of new designs, also a fine line of andirons and fire place goods at prices guaranteed.

PARK AND DOWNS.

James F. Costello M. D., of Cambridge Hospital staff who has been at the family home on Wollaston avenue for some time suffering from a severe attack of the grip is able to take exercise on the piazza.

A surprise party was given Feb. 5th by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Davis at their home, 79 Elm avenue, in honor of Mrs. Frank M. Coe, in observance of her birthday. About the guests, 24 in number assembled Mrs. Coe was telephoned to and asked to spend the evening with Mrs. Davis and on entering the living room, her surprise was genuine. After extending congratulations the hostess presented her with packages of various sizes, each containing a humorous gift, accompanied by best wishes in prose and poetry; the last parcel opened containing a handsome silver trivet. Novel games were played, a prize being given to the most efficient. At eleven o'clock most attractive and delightful refreshments were served. The color scheme in the dining room being pink including a beautifully decorated birthday cake cut and served by Mrs. Coe. Music was enjoyed including a tenor solo by Arthur Stanley of Elm avenue.

One of the Boston Sunday papers devoted a whole page to the work of William E. Hington of Wollaston Park, the well known handwriting expert. Another Sunday paper featured the story published by the Ledger several weeks ago relative to the installation of a telephone set in the sick room at the home of Thomas Forester.

The Waltham Men's Class will meet Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion subject, "Lessons from the life of Eli and Samuel." Chorus of men's voices and a hearty greeting. All men not in similar classes cordially invited.

Miss Eleanor E. Dunn of Newport avenue has returned from a two weeks visit to Colorado and Mrs. Edward J. Booth of Burlington, Vermont were guests last week of their daughter, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson of Marion street. John E. Booth is remaining for a more extended visit with his sister.

Miss Susan Handy of Manville, Rhode Island, a student at Wellesley college is the guest of Mrs. Frederick H. Stoughton over the week end.

Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Mendelsohn's sacred cantata, "Hear my Prayer," is to be given by the full vested choir of St. Chrysostom's church. This cantata contains the beautiful soprano solo "O for the wings of a dove," which will be sung by Miss M. Pollett.

Mr. Minnie, wife of Amos T. Leavitt and a prominent worker in the Wollaston Congregational church, died at her home, 67 Lincoln avenue, early Saturday in her 45th year. Mrs. Leavitt underwent a surgical operation Friday and her death was due to the shock caused by the operation.

Seven young men in play Monday evening at the whist party held at the Town River yacht clubhouse. The first prize was won by Elmer Sprague. Other prizes went to Mrs. Cashman and J. Moriarty.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a baby boy born Saturday.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved. Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Miss Doris Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague, John J. Moriarty and Ken McKenney at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a baby boy born Saturday.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved. Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Miss Doris Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague, John J. Moriarty and Ken McKenney at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

WOLLASTON

The Kindergarten at St. Chrysostom's church will be open Sunday during the morning service for children under six years. Mrs. Edward F. Parlee is chairman of the committee and Miss Ethel Vogler will see that light interesting and pleasing occupation is provided for the children.

On Tuesday evening St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls Friendly society has invited all affiliated with the parish to a house-warming in the parish house. The society will be the hostess and entertain with two bright little plays, musical numbers and light refreshments.

The C. H. society held its regular fortnightly meeting at the home of Mrs. George A. Stubb, Berlin street, Thursday afternoon. It took the form of a Valentine party, but ended in a linen shower, which was a distinct surprise to Miss Ella F. Winslow of North Central avenue, one of the members whose engagement was recently announced to John Dwight Seaver. When the dining room doors were opened, the linen looked most attractive, with red decorations and red hearts at each corner. The centerpiece was a pile of white parcels tied with red ribbons. After a dainty collation served by the hostess, the guests were invited to pick up their heart and pull out a package, and if any found one which did not belong to them, to give it to the one for whom it was intended, the result being that Miss Winslow was literally showered with packages amidst a burst of laughter. The parcels contained towels of all descriptions, beautifully embroidered, cut-glass doilies and a luncheon cloth.

The Waltham Men's Class will meet Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion subject, "Lessons from the life of Eli and Samuel." Chorus of men's voices and a hearty greeting. All men not in similar classes cordially invited.

Miss Eleanor E. Dunn of Newport avenue has returned from a two weeks visit to Colorado and Mrs. Edward J. Booth of Burlington, Vermont were guests last week of their daughter, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson of Marion street. John E. Booth is remaining for a more extended visit with his sister.

Miss Susan Handy of Manville, Rhode Island, a student at Wellesley college is the guest of Mrs. Frederick H. Stoughton over the week end.

Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Mendelsohn's sacred cantata, "Hear my Prayer," is to be given by the full vested choir of St. Chrysostom's church. This cantata contains the beautiful soprano solo "O for the wings of a dove," which will be sung by Miss M. Pollett.

Mr. Minnie, wife of Amos T. Leavitt and a prominent worker in the Wollaston Congregational church, died at her home, 67 Lincoln avenue, early Saturday in her 45th year. Mrs. Leavitt underwent a surgical operation Friday and her death was due to the shock caused by the operation.

Seven young men in play Monday evening at the whist party held at the Town River yacht clubhouse. The first prize was won by Elmer Sprague. Other prizes went to Mrs. Cashman and J. Moriarty.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a baby boy born Saturday.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved. Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Miss Doris Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague, John J. Moriarty and Ken McKenney at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a baby boy born Saturday.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved. Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Miss Doris Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague, John J. Moriarty and Ken McKenney at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

ATLANTIC

Frank H. Deyette, of Worcester, Mass., chauffeur and Doris A. Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase of 92 Bostwick street, were married at noon Friday at city hall. The ceremony was performed by Emory L. Crane, city clerk. The couple were unattended.

Organized effort is not the only effort put forth to boom Atlantic this year. William Glover who is one of the oldest inhabitants has called the attention of the Park Commissioners of Quincy to the fact that band concerts have mostly been held in the Yacht club district or around Wollaston and that the Atlantic playground would be a suitable place for the Atlantic portion of the music appropriated for the city. It is understood that the commissioners will take up the matter and give Atlantic its share hereafter.

The reunion service of the Christian Endeavor Society of Memorial church on the evening of Monday, Feb. 8th, proved to be such an interesting meeting last Sunday that the society has planned to take part in the church service tomorrow evening.

Miss Louise Churchill of Billings street is confined to her home with jaundice.

Mrs. Frank Robinson of Electric avenue, Somerville, entertained the Atlantic Criticism club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Storck and Mrs. F. Crowell, former members of the club were substitutes. Souvenirs were awarded Mrs. John Lytle, Mrs. E. Swan and Mrs. John Burke. A buffet lunch was served. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. John Burke of Billings road.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Clark of Walker street are expected home Sunday from Attleboro, where they have been staying for some time because of the illness of Mr. Clark's mother, who has now greatly improved.

Among the prize winners at the midwinter exhibition of flowers, fruits and vegetables at Horticultural hall is Dr. W. G. Kendall of Attleboro. He took a first in the awards for winter pears, dish of one variety.

Dr. and Mrs. William McGlaughlin of Billings street have returned from their visit in Philadelphia. They attended one of Sunday's meetings of the city. And while they do not endorse the Sunday meeting they think it is stirring the city so that many are thinking about religion.

A tennis club is being organized by Atlantic young men and within a week it is expected that a large number will have signified their intention of joining. Actual organization is being made within a few weeks. The present plans call for the construction of four double courts. Clifton Hill has been appointed chairman of the committee to prepare a vaudeville show to be given in the near future.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1915

The suggestion of Mayor Campbell at the banquet of the Board of Trade, urging a vigorous advertising campaign has taken root.

It is understood that a movement is on foot to bring an advertising expert to the Board of Trade to assist members in such a campaign. His honor also urged a more extensive and consistent use of the local press.

Such a presentation as that given by the Quincy Women's club Wednesday night can hardly be too highly praised. This sort of thing is good for the city. It fosters a community spirit which is distinctly desirable. If Quincy can achieve something worth while as a recreation it is not unfair to assume that Quincy can achieve something worth while in a more serious way. Excellence is always ennobling. It indicates life.

Commenting editorially upon the Ledger's story of the spirited meeting of the Board of Trade the other evening the Barre Times makes some forcible remarks as follows:

"If, as advocated in Quincy, Mass., knockers should be drowned like suppurating kittens," what a declaration there would be in every town and city. There's always plenty of men, women, and children to decay a town and assert it has seen its best days. And, unfortunately, the knockers work overtime in their nefarious efforts, while the boosters are busy in keeping things doing. The efforts of the one sometimes counter-balance the efforts of the other, so that a town stands still; whereas, if all boosted, or at least the knockers quit their efforts, the town would be allowed to progress. It would be in the interests of progress if the somewhat drastic recommendation put forth in Quincy should become effective."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The National Association of Patriotic Instructors of which Miss Eva M. Brown of this city is a member has issued the following birthday proclamation:

Brighter with each passing year grows the halo which history and posterity have placed above the brow of Abraham Lincoln, and with the recession of the troublous period in which his great work was done, the sublime character of the man stands out, clear cut and distinct, against the dark background of the civil war. A half-century has elapsed since his soul, attuned to gentleness and good-will, emerged from sorrow and gloom to rejoice in the beginning of what has proved an enduring peace between the warring sections, which are now living in harmony and with ever-increasing unity and fraternity. This period of triumph was short, ere, with his great work completed, he passed to his reward.

Time, however, has vindicated his judgment, his spirit of forbearance and kindness, and a grateful nation will this year pay added homage to his memory, in the observance of the one hundredth and sixth anniversary of his natal day.

In recent thankfulness to God that in our hour of extreme need, a man was raised who could successfully and mercifully cope with the conditions which threatened to disrupt our country, all of the people of all the states may well unite in loving tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, and rejoice in the fact that his leadership were guided into the path that led to peace and reunion and that whatever destiny awaits, we shall meet it as one nation, under one flag, the Stars and Stripes.

NORWOLK CLUB.

Members of the Men's Forum were guests of the Norfolk club, an organization of young men, at the Park and Downs church, Tuesday evening where a supper was served and a travelpiece by Hon. J. Wilder Fairbanks enjoyed.

Alan Painten, president of the Norfolk club, presided and speaker was aided by Stanley Smith, vice president, President Brown of the Forum Rev. Mr. Ayers, pastor of the church and Clerk Crichton, leader of the Norfolk club.

A musical program, consisting of solos by Alan Painten and Artemus Dingwell and vocal selections by the Norfolk quartet, were enjoyed. Concluding the quartet were: Arthur Bullock, Artemus Dingwell, Frank Dunham and Alan Painten.

The reading of the Norfolk Record the monthly organ of the club, by Frank Dunham proved a bright spot in the evening's entertainment.

In his travels, the Fairbanks carried his hearers to far off Alaska and with the aid of the stereoscopic told much of the history and natural characteristics of the land.

The Klondike with its goldfields and the rapid development of Seattle as a commercial city were described. The account included a visit to the Canadian Rockies and a dissertation on the strategic points in the Pacific ocean which the United States should hold.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CLUB.

An interesting sidelight was thrown on the present European conflict when Charles H. Bedell, speaking before the Wollaston Unitarian club Tuesday evening on "Submarines" declared England to be absolutely immune from foreign invasion.

Pictures were shown, ranging from the little "Holland" of 73 tons displacement and 53 feet in length to the present models, 262 feet long with a tonnage of 1454.

The intricate masses of machinery in a submarine were shown and the method of operation fully described. The lecture closed with an interesting discussion of the question of air and breathing.

The largest attendance of the season greeted the speaker and the questions which followed showed the interest of the members.

KELLY-McLELLAN.

Miss Janet McLeelan, 53 Phillips street and William Kelly of Buckley street were married at the St. Mary's parish house Thursday evening by Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy. Miss Suzanne Braine and a dissertation on the strategic points in the Pacific ocean which the United States should hold.

VALENTINE PARTY.

The eighth annual Valentine party of St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church was held Tuesday evening and a most enjoyable affair. The party was held in the parish house which was prettily decorated in honor of the event. The color scheme was red and white and streamers of these colors were festooned about the room upon which were arrows, cupid and hearts. At the head of each table was a large chaperon. At each of the windows were white paper curtains which were decorated with red hearts. About 150 attended.

The decorations were tastefully arranged for which credit is due to the decorating committee, Misses Jeanne Bontelle, Alice Findley, Ethel Moiser, Ethel Schools and Mrs. Mary Hodge. The hand painted cards were at the head of the tables were the work of Fred Patterson.

During the first part of the evening an appetizing supper was served, the committee in charge of this part of the evening's program being Misses Emily Moyle, Olive Smith, Lizzy Ross and Bertha Wallace, the president of the Guild.

Six tables were arranged about the room and they were in charge of Misses Mildred Smith, Delia Jones, Helen Spargo, Marion Clark, Violet Harlow, Nellie Ridge, Annie McLean, Clara Pearce, Lucy Meyer, Bessie Rose and Mary Hodge. The hand painted cards were at the head of the tables were the work of Fred Patterson.

The menu was printed on the inside of a red heart and included ham, potato salad, scalloped oysters, pickles, cranberry sauce, jelly, cream and cake. Napkins and appropriate place cards were distributed at every place.

The honored guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Granger. The pastor invoked the divine blessing and gave a word of greeting.

Following the supper there was a pleasing entertainment which was in charge of Miss Lydia Dyer. The program included:

Piano selections, Miss Mary Stevens; reading, Miss Lillian Reed; sword dance, James Kennedy and a play "The Experience" by Miss Ruth Dyer and Miss Lydia Dyer.

Following closed the evening's program.

Mrs. Nancy J. Stearns, widow of Levi Stearns, on Tuesday celebrated her 90th birthday. She remains all her life a devoted wife and mother. Her family and friends gathered around her for her anniversary entertaining her neighbors and friends one would never for a minute think that she was approaching the century mark.

In addition to many of her neighbors who called to express their regards and offer congratulations, several friends were present from Cambridge and other nearby cities. Her home was prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Many of those who called to extend congratulations brought remembrances of potted plants and other gifts. During the afternoon tea was served.

Mrs. Stearns has made her home in Quincy for many years and has seen the city and town of years ago. Mr. Stearns will be remembered during the latter years of his life as janitor of the Hancock school. Mrs. Stearns has one son who assisted her in receiving Tuesday.

How ROMANS HELP.

An interesting postcard has been received by Mrs. Anna K. Lee of Wollaston from an elderly American friend whom she met in Rome on a recent trip abroad. It tells one way in which the Italian people are helping the sufferers in the earthquake stricken regions of Italy.

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, the papers are now telling you the terrible things which full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

THE MIKADO.

Operas may come and operas may go but "The Mikado" will continue to be the same rare, delightful favorite for many years to come if each representative of the Quincy Board of Trade, in accordance with the distinction which made the presentation Wednesday night under the auspices of the Quincy Women's club the high water mark for affairs of the kind in this city.

This is high praise but it is deserved. The strength of the production lay in the fact that every part was well taken. In the principal parts, since most of them were played by professionals or at least by those whose experience lifted them out of the strictly amateur ranks, excellence might perhaps have been taken for granted. And yet that in itself would not have been enough. Complete success in a light opera is impossible without a first class chorus. The chorus Wednesday night measured up to the highest standards. Always in perfect unison and harmony the songs seemed to be the outpouring of one voice.

Nanki-Poo was played by Frederic Kennedy, tenor soloist of the Rogers' Memorial church of Fairhaven. Mr. Kennedy was perhaps the best actor in the cast, easy, graceful, with a fine tenor voice. His speaking voice was clear and musical and he was usually the center of attraction when he was on the stage. He was also the coach of the production.

His loved one was Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade as Yum-Yum. Mrs. Slade was at her best, which is saying a great deal. Her beautiful, clear soprano voice, winsome ways and clever acting all combined to make her appearance a rare treat. She was naturally a high favorite with the audience and she was the recipient of several bouquets.

Miss Annie Deane of Weymouth, who scored such a success in "H. M. S. Pinafore" when it was presented by the club a few years ago, was even better as Kaisha. She had a fine contralto voice and a clever make-up. Her facial expression was remarkable. She was obliged to recede to several corners and was presented with several bouquets.

Miss Angela McCarthy had a wonderful voice, well suited to the part of Pitt-Sing, sister of Yum-Yum. Her acting was above reproach and her graceful, winning Japanese steps added to her success. She also scored a prime favorite with the audience. Miss Pitt-Sing was the other sister, Peep-Bo and a lovely Peep-Bo she made. Her voice was pleasing and her acting was excellent.

Sidney Crane, the umbrella bearer for the Mikado, carried out his part to perfection. He took some fine high kicks and proved himself interesting to the audience. His master, the Mikado, played by Warren A. Brown, made his entrance as befitting a comic opera king. In his hair was a tall black feather which served to balance a pair of fierce looking moustaches. He was the care-free, gay but forced dancing and catching songs were many of those.

Most distinguished was Peep-Bo as played by John E. Greene. He made the dignity of his many offices very convincing, although he was always ready to take a bribe. Tall, sombre, never smiling, he sang the bass part admirably.

Charles H. Everett, baritone of the Wollaston Congregational church, played the part of Pish-Tush. His part did not call for much acting but what he did do well. His singing was excellent.

Most difficult of all parts is that of Ko-Ko, the executioner. The part was well taken by Herbert W. Smith. He had a fine voice. In his speaking parts he was sometimes inaudible to those in the rear of the hall. He kept the audience laughing when he was on the stage, as he was most of the time.

In what is unquestionably the most difficult and most essential part of the opera Mr. Smith faced a difficult task. There was danger of being too hoisterous. He found the happy medium and was always entertaining and yet always natural. His facial expressions and gestures left nothing to be desired.

In the chorus were: Mrs. George Abbe, Mrs. Carroll E. Bates, Miss Dorothy Brokaw, Miss Edith Chapman, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. Thomas L. Edwards, Miss Marion Edwards, Mrs. Nathan Ellis, Mrs. Frank Gilbert, Mrs. John E. Greene, Miss Marion Harmon, Mrs. Gertrude Hennessey, Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Charles L. Homer, Mrs. Charles W. Hunt, Mrs. William Josephine McCarthy, Miss Florence McDonald, Mrs. J. L. MacDonald, Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., Miss Hattie Mitchell, Miss Dorothy Pack, Miss Ella Packard, Miss Gladys Parlee, Miss Lauree Penman, Mrs. George Pfaffmann, Mrs. Samuel J. Ripley, Miss Annabel Wood, Miss W. H. White, Miss Eleanor Whitmore, Miss Claudia Wilson, S. B. Bates, F. H. Brestly, William F. Cummings, G. B. Curran, Thomas L. Edwards, William Edwards, Ryder Gay, David Hanson, William F. Hodgkinson, C. L. Homer, W. A. Mann, Robert Prouty, E. G. Rhodes, Wilfred O. W. R.

By the reading of the program and the musical treat with buffet lunch were given. Mr. Brannon of the Edison Laboratory gave selections on a new phonograph loaned through the courtesy of Mr. Edison himself.

Hoyle L. Conary of Waltham was the soloist of the evening. He gave an original dialogue "Around the Globe" telling of old characters in the story.

He told of his acquaintance with Will Carleton and gave Carleton's poem "Gone with a Handsome Man" He gave several other selections all which were greatly enjoyed, concluding with Kipling's "If."

President Harry W. Read announced that he expected either Congressman Powers or Judge Murray for the next meeting which will be the second Wednesday of March.

The buffet lunch consisted of ham tongue, and Swiss cheese sandwiches, doughnuts, cheese and coffee.

CLASS OF 1911.

The class of 1911 of Quincy High school will hold a reunion in Colonial hall on the evening of Feb. 20. A short reception will precede the entertainment to be given. Dancing will bring the affair to a close.

The reunion is an annual affair and the arrangements are in charge of Miss Daisy Brooks, Miss Jeanne Arthur, Miss Edna Rose, Paul Blackman, Sidney Crane and Frederick Sutermeister.

This is God's world, and it is not to be swept away from his wise and loving care by the crime of war, nor the calamity of earthquake. Nor yet by the presumption of mad men who are born into chariots of power, and the besotted and the godless, God; all along the way, God, don't worry—Universalist Leader.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET.

All sections of the city were represented at Alpha hall, Tuesday night on the occasion of the fourteenth annual ladies' night of the Board of Trade. In accordance with the custom of the organization the occasion was also ladies' night and a large number of the fair sex attended.

President Edward F. Fegan presided and served as toastmaster at the post prandial exercises. There was a banquet at 6.30 p. m. followed by the banquet at 7 p. m. After the dishes were cleared away the large company proceeded to enjoy the speaking and entertainment provided. The feature of the evening was the collection of slides gathered and presented by John Scott, the genial and progressive representative of the telephone company on the Board of Trade.

The singing by the Pilgrim Quartet was much enjoyed, particularly that of William Gustafson. The other three members of the Quartet were Robert Fitzgerald, first tenor, Everett Glens, second tenor, and Edward MacArthur, baritone.

The speakers were Mayor Chester I. Campbell, Frank W. Gansse of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Hon. Edw. F. Mcweeney, chairman of the Board of Port Directors, and Congressman-elect Richard Olney, 2nd.

Mayor Campbell received a great hand when he arose to speak. As usual, what his honor had to say was brief and to the point. He remarked that it seemed unfair to be called upon at such an early stage in the gathering. He declared that he believed in the Board of Trade, in the work it is accomplishing and has accomplished. The record of the organization, in his opinion, was one of splendid achievement. It is a credit to its wonderful work in Quincy," asserted his honor amid applause.

"The Quincy Board of Trade stands for constructive rather than destructive work. Since I have been mayor the Board of Trade has offered to assist me in many ways. I have been asked to read your presidential address in the march. Next in line were Mrs. and Mrs. C. C. Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dasha, and Mrs. John Nolan, William Nolan and Miss Irene Dasha, Miss Mary Gavin and Mrs. David Burke of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Barrett, J. Aloysius and Miss Carey and 400 others.

The long line receded the hall once and as they commenced the second circle the pages presented Father Owens with a large basket of American Beauty roses. George M. Sheahan, chairman of the reception committee, presented a large bouquet of flowers. Dancing followed and those who did not participate in the reception march were received until midnight.

The evening was replete with novelties and one of the prettiest was the decorations of the hall including 400 land made Killarney roses. The stage was literally a hand of pink and white, behind which the orchestra was concealed. The front of the stage represented a rose garden, hundreds of the paper blossoms giving it a most realistic appearance. Woven in and out among the flowers were ferns and greenery and protecting the arrangement from the large crowd was a fence, the design of which was water circles in pyramid formations.

A large American flag illuminated by several dozen Japanese lantern shades, was the background of the stage. The reception corner was a most inviting one. Over the three heavy chandeliers the clergy of the parish were seated under a canopy which extended five feet from the wall. An intricate electrical arrangement made possible the net work of lights, all of which were covered with pink crepe paper shades and around the side of the hall were streamers of pink and white, toned off with large ornaments of artificial chrysanthemums.

The decorations were made by the young women members of the Catholic club, and are active workers of the parish. The decorating was a big factor in the success of the affair.

RECEPTION TO RECTOR.

A large number attended the reception to Rev. William Grainger, the new rector of Christ church, and Mrs. Grainger in the parish house Thursday evening. Not only was the parish well represented but many from other churches, including several clergymen attended. Rev. and Mrs. Grainger were assisted in receiving by Senior Warden William L. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas and Junior Warden A. L. Barbour and Mrs. Barbour.

The reception began at eight o'clock and continued for two hours. During this time music was furnished by an orchestra consisting of Roscoe R. Ricker, violinist; Miss Virginia Moorehouse, cellist; and Miss Jennie Hocking Hunt, pianist. Solos were rendered by Miss Moorehouse and Mr. Ricker. Light refreshments were served.

The guests were escorted to the receiving line by young men of the parish, who served as ushers. The ushers were: A. Newton, R. E. King, S. B. Bates, Rev. and Henry W. Bout. The committee in charge included: Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. W. F. Torrey, Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mrs. C. E. Haskins and Mrs. H. J. Lawton.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

A fine musical program will be rendered at the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening under the direction of William C. Sleeper. Miss Virginia Hicks, of the Leidenhorst church of Music of Auburndale will assist the newly organized chorus choir.

The musical program was presented by Lift up your Heads, Hopkins—Chorus.

The Day is Ended, Alto Solo, Bartlett—Miss Virginia Hicks.

The Lord is our Leader, Duet, Brackett—Miss Hicks and Mr. Sleeper.

The Heavens Proclaim Him, Beethoven—Chorus.

Offering Anthem, I Am Alpha and Omega, Stainer—Chorus.

Over a dozen friends of Janet Macdonald gathered at her home on Macdonald street Saturday afternoon to help her observe her ninth birthday.

The birthday party was passed in singing, playing games, and dancing. Refreshments were served.

ST. JOHN'S PARISH REUNION.

The annual reunion of members of St. John's parish in Music hall Wednesday evening was the largest affair ever held in the church. Nearly 500 were present and for the first time it was necessary to refuse holders of tickets admittance because of the crowd. Alpha hall was engaged for the overflow.

The occasion was also a reception to Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor, and during the evening about 2000 Catholics of Quincy, mostly his parishioners, were presented to him.

Fr. Owens sat in the receiving corner until midnight and with him was Fr. John J. Casey and Fr. Walter A. Quinnlan, curates of the parish; Fr. John B. Holland of Weymouth; Fr. John P. Coffey, pastor of Sacred Heart church of Atlantic City; Dr. William Lockney of Peoria, Ill., who is visiting in Norfolk Downs. Other priests of the Boston diocese paid their respects to Father Owens during the evening.

Men prominent in the public life of the city were present among them Joseph L. Whitton, president of the council and Councilman Thomas J. McGrath, John D. Smith and Thomas Griffin.

Following the concert the waitresses, 60 young women of the parish, dressed in party dresses and wearing pink hats the shape of tau-machans, gave a drill in which they executed maneuvers of the most intricate nature, trailing the letters of the word "welcome," and bringing to a close their contribution by walking, in company formation, from the opposite corner towards the pastor behind a long pink banner on which was inscribed in 18 inch letters the word "welcome."

The march was under the direction of Miss Mary Abbot, Heaney and Miss Corinne Labrecque. The reception march was formed about 5.30 and was headed by John Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Griffin of 1087 Hancock street, and James McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott of Quincy avenue, both dressed as pages. Former Representative Michael T. and Mrs. Michael T. Sullivan were the first couple in the march. Next in line were Mrs. and Mrs. C. C. Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dasha, and Mrs. John Nolan, William Nolan and Miss Irene Dasha, Miss Mary Gavin and Mrs. David Burke of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Barrett, J. Aloysius and Miss Carey and 400 others.

The long line receded the hall once and as they commenced the second circle the pages presented Father Owens with a large basket of American Beauty roses. George M. Sheahan, chairman of the reception committee, presented a large bouquet of flowers. Dancing followed and those who did not participate in the reception march were received until midnight.

Members of the Riverside club are to be entertained next Wednesday at a Valentine luncheon at the clubhouse on Edison park by the executive board of the club.

Next Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston Woman's club has its annual dramatics at Quincy Music hall. Refreshments will be served for several weeks under the direction of Miss Theodore Luard, and a fine presentation of "The Piper" may be expected. The performance is to be open to the public tickets being on sale by members of the club. There will be special cars from Wollaston and the Downs for the accommodation of those attending the dramatics.

Col. Edward Anderson was the guest of Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter, D. A. R. at the February meeting held at the home of Mrs. Edward E. Jameson Beach street, Wollaston.

Col. Anderson who commanded the 14th Indiana Cavalry during the Civil War, spoke on "The Early Days of the Civil War and the Causes that Brought on that Great Struggle."

His acquaintance with Abraham Lincoln enabled him to tell many personal anecdotes not commonly known. Extremely interesting was the account of the troublous times in Kansas where Col. Anderson went to assist John Brown.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. K. Barber and Mrs. W. F. Jones, served ices and cakes.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Quincy Young Women's club held its annual gentlemen's night in New Colonial hall Tuesday evening. The proceeds will be added to the fund for the establishment of a Recreation House in the Adams Academy building.

The program was divided into two parts, an entertainment and dancing and was enjoyed by a most appreciative audience.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell was one of the special guests of the evening. He was accompanied by several newspapermen.

The matrons were Mrs. Arthur Townsend, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. Frank Emery, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann and Miss Mary E. Gavin.

The Obtinate Family, a playlet, was given by the Misses Lora Churchill, May Knapp, Isabelle Taberner, Hilda Taberner, Ruth Farmer, Ruth Dahl.

"A Husband in Clover" was given by Miss Lydia Dyer and Miss Edith Mullen.

The male parts were taken by the young women and the presentation were high class and complimentary to Mrs. H. Gurney of Wollaston, who coached the productions.

Home made candy was sold during the performance by the ushers who comprised the committee: the Misses Edith Muller, chairman; Hannah Sandberg, Elsie Whitehead, Sadie Berman, Sadie Abrams, Marguerite Hill, Irene Ray, Harriet Waterhouse and Mary Beal.

The evening was brought to a close with dancing, music being furnished by Fred and Irving Hayden.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

The Quincy Young Women's club to show its appreciation of assistance given them in their efforts to add to the fund to equip and maintain a Recreation Room in Adams Academy has decided a novel way to raise about $100 among its members.

The scheme is to have one girl represent a year and be responsible for $1; 12 girls to represent the months and be responsible for 50 cents each making $6; and 52 girls to represent the weeks of the year. Each of the "week" girls will enlist seven others to represent the days at 24 cents for the entire year. The total amount that can be raised in this way will be $43.68.

The returns will be made at the social evening on March 23 which is to be under the direction of Miss Sadie Abrams. The scheme has been approved by the Young Women's club and nearly all of the weeks have been taken by the members.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Universalist Mission Circle meets Monday afternoon.

Charitable Ten Circle of King's Daughters is to meet Monday afternoon with Miss Annie Newcomb of Bigelow street.

The Quincy Day Nursery Association is to busy this week socially having completed arrangements for the young people's Valentine dance at Alpha hall on Saturday afternoon.

The affair will have as matrons Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Child, Mrs. Faxon, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Ripley, Mrs. Sears and Mrs. Charles Alden.

The parliamentary law class of the Quincy Women's club meets Monday afternoon at the clubhouse at half past two. Interest is growing in this class and there is a good attendance at each meeting. The lessons are by Mrs. Electa Sherman and are complimentary to members of the club.

Miss Mary W. Holden, treasurer of the Katharine Crane Memorial club is to entertain the club Tuesday afternoon at her home, Suite 6 in Prescott apartments on Spear street.

Mrs. E. C. Bumpus is leaving next week for Morrisville, N. J., where she is to give a series of art conferences. Mrs. Bumpus was the first president of the Quincy Women's club.

Mrs. Mary Field King of Milton is to speak on the "Work of the International Committee," at the meeting of the Quincy Alliance next Wednesday afternoon in First Church chapel.

New England Wheaton club meets Saturday at 2 P. M. at Hotel Vermont, Boston. Miss Susan Hayes Ward, member of the New York club is to speak on "Keeping a Family Record." There will also be a musical program in charge of Miss Adelaide Proctor. Miss Ward is a well known teacher, lecturer, author and a department editor on the Independent.

Next Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston Woman's club has its annual dramatics at Quincy Music hall. Refreshments will be served for several weeks under the direction of Miss Theodore Luard, and a fine presentation of "The Piper" may be expected. The performance is to be open to the public tickets being on sale by members of the club. There will be special cars from Wollaston and the Downs for the accommodation of those attending the dramatics.

Col. Edward Anderson was the guest of Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter, D. A. R. at the February meeting held at the home of Mrs. Edward E. Jameson Beach street, Wollaston.

Col. Anderson who commanded the 14th Indiana Cavalry during the Civil War, spoke on "The Early Days of the Civil War and the Causes that Brought on that Great Struggle."

His acquaintance with Abraham Lincoln enabled him to tell many personal anecdotes not commonly known. Extremely interesting was the account of the troublous times in Kansas where Col. Anderson went to assist John Brown.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. K. Barber and Mrs. W. F. Jones, served ices and cakes.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Quincy Young Women's club held its annual gentlemen's night in New Colonial hall Tuesday evening. The proceeds will be added to the fund for the establishment of a Recreation House in the Adams Academy building.

The program was divided into two parts, an entertainment and dancing and was enjoyed by a most appreciative audience.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell was one of the special guests of the evening. He was accompanied by several newspapermen.

The matrons were Mrs. Arthur Townsend, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. Frank Emery, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann and Miss Mary E. Gavin.

The Obtinate Family, a playlet, was given by the Misses Lora Churchill, May Knapp, Isabelle Taberner, Hilda Taberner, Ruth Farmer, Ruth Dahl.

"A Husband in Clover" was given by Miss Lydia Dyer and Miss Edith Mullen.

The male parts were taken by the young women and the presentation were high class and complimentary to Mrs. H. Gurney of Wollaston, who coached the productions.

Home made candy was sold during the performance by the ushers who comprised the committee: the Misses Edith Muller, chairman; Hannah Sandberg, Elsie Whitehead, Sadie Berman, Sadie Abrams, Marguerite Hill, Irene Ray, Harriet Waterhouse and Mary Beal.

The evening was brought to a close with dancing, music being furnished by Fred and Irving Hayden.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

The Quincy Young Women's club to show its appreciation of assistance given them in their efforts to add to the fund to equip and maintain a Recreation Room in Adams Academy has decided a novel way to raise about $100 among its members.

The scheme is to have one girl represent a year and be responsible for $1; 12 girls to represent the months and be responsible for 50 cents each making $6; and 52 girls to represent the weeks of the year. Each of the "week" girls will enlist seven others to represent the days

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 8.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1244 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office at Quincy, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1880
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHED BY THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LANDS FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRY MOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. 847-W.
Tel. Fort Hill 591.

JOHN W. McANARNEY

Courtseller at Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
local and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Richard D. Chase & Co.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Bedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

Bedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 176,000.00
Total Assets, 2,176,000.00
Reserve for Policyholders, 9,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 225,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 288,000.00
Total Assets, 9,513,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 176,000.00
Total Assets, 2,176,000.00
Reserve for Policyholders, 9,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 225,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 288,000.00
Total Assets, 9,513,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS

Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burghin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller &
Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
F. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.
Sarell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of
and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.

Allow no one to deceive you in this.
All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Purgatives, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant.
It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic
substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation,
Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels,
assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep.
The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher
In Use For Over 30 Years
The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Richard D. Chase & Co.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Bedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

Bedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 176,000.00
Total Assets, 2,176,000.00
Reserve for Policyholders, 9,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 225,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 288,000.00
Total Assets, 9,513,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 176,000.00
Total Assets, 2,176,000.00
Reserve for Policyholders, 9,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 225,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 288,000.00
Total Assets, 9,513,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS

Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burghin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and So-
licitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller &
Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
F. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.
Sarell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

BE MODERN

in your bath. Be good to yourself. Enjoy your morning plunge in an open plum-bored Porcelain Lined bath tub.

We have them to suit
your pocketbook.

We also do Steam, Hot Water
and Furnace Heating.

GIVE US A CALL

Why wait until Fall to have
your Heater cleaned?

Let us do it now when we can get the repairs quickly and give you prompt attention.

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
5 Maple Street
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 390 Aug. 3-W

WINTERGREEN.

Amos R. Wells.

New England woods are so full of them. And many marvels gather there.
The flaming bush, the soaring pine,
The shining birch, the swaying vine,
But lord of all the garden scene
I rank the lowly wintergreen.

Its glossy little leaves are found
Close creeping on the humble ground.
But all the sweetness of the wood.
Its fragrant quaintness firm and good.
Its charms that dazzle and enchant,
Are centered in the modest plant.

Those thick and lustrous leaves contain
The essence of this dear domain.
Its flavor kindly, pungent, clear.
The homely taste of wintergreen.
Its flower a Puritanic white,
Its berry scarlet to delight.

How sturdily it lifts its head
And shows its glowing green and red!
How through the winter cold and bare
It still is fragrant, fresh, and fair.
And like its own New England, knows
A grace that shines in deepest snows!

ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

I was born at the time of the war between the States, but what year I have never known till recently. My earliest remembrance is being in a foundling institution in Haverhill, Pa. I came to be there I could never find out, for it was, judging from my age, toward the close of the war and when everybody and everything was in a state of commotion. I left the asylum when I must have been about sixteen years old. At any rate, the inmates were not kept there after sixteen, and there was a record on the books in 1863 of a female baby apparently about a year old that was called Betty or Betty or something like that—the first letter was blurred —and I was called Betty. It was assumed that the record pertained to me.

At leaving, being old enough to understand the importance of learning as much as possible about my antecedents, I made every inquiry concerning them, but all I could learn was the above. The clothes in which I was brought to the institution had been preserved, but the only thing left for identification were the letters "H. C." which were carefully en-crostured.

On leaving the asylum I went to serve as nursemaid with a woman in Philadelphia. She and her husband were refined persons and on hearing my story took an interest in me, expressing themselves ready to help me to find my parents.

One day Mr. Sawyer, husband of the woman by whom I was employed, returned after an absence.
He told me that he had been in Haverhill and while there, being interested in my case, had gone to the asylum where I had been brought up to make inquiries concerning me. Being a man of affairs, he was more successful than I had been. He had got from the records the names of persons who were connected with the asylum when I was sent there and had advertised for several of them.
An elderly woman living in the country not far from Haverhill answered the advertisement. Mr. Sawyer learned from her that she was a very pretty woman and that she had at that time a girl baby was brought in by a Union soldier. That was all he could remember, for she had left the institution after the child was received.

I think Mr. Sawyer took more interest in the matter than I, perhaps I was a detective instinct in him that led him to busy himself about it. At any rate his curiosity was aroused and he kept thinking about it much of the time.

"You're a war baby, he" he would say to me. "I have an idea that you got lost somehow during the war.
Maybe your father was a soldier and got killed and a comrade took his little girl and not being in a position to care for her left her at the asylum.
This theory is supported by the fact that about the time you were taken there General Lee invaded Pennsylvania, and every citizen who could carry a gun turned out to oppose him.
We will establish your identity and don't you forget it."

When the war ended, everybody, both north and south, had had enough of the struggle. They had nothing to lose and they were interested in it began to talk about it and write about it and discuss who should have the credit of this and who was to blame for that, and all the prominent Union and Confederate officers who were living found an opportunity to explain their records. As to those who died in the struggle they had nothing to say and were lucky if they didn't have to bear the brunt of blunders committed by those who had lived to tell their stories.

It was about this time, I believe,
that people began to take an interest in the battlefields which now are made national parks. When I was nineteen years old there was a gathering of veterans on the field of Gettysburg, and Mr. Sawyer proposed to his wife, that they make an excursion and visit the field themselves. Mrs. Sawyer could not go without taking her son, Tommy, now four years old, and that involved taking me along to have the care of him while his father and mother were visiting the scenes of the different fights on the battlefield.

So we all went down together on one of the anniversaries of the struggle, and, since Tommy manifested a desire to go about with his father and mother, I had the opportunity to go too.
The veterans we saw moving about in groups locating different scenes of those exciting days of 1863 were not the old men they were today. Many of them had fought as mere boys, and they were then looking middle-aged men.

One Union veteran—he was between thirty-five and forty years old—a friend of Mr. Sawyer, took charge of our party and showed us over the field.

MISS ELIZABETH FAXON.

The many Quincy friends of Miss Elizabeth Faxon, especially those connected with the work of the First Parish church and Sunday school, where she was one of the most enthusiastic workers were shocked to learn of her death at the Commonwealth hospital in Boston.

Miss Faxon had become thoroughly tired out and a week ago decided to go away quietly for a two weeks rest.
Although many of her friends were aware that she had gone away it was not until Saturday morning that she became seriously ill.

Saturday morning Miss Faxon was found by one of the nurses at the hospital in an unconscious condition on the floor of her room, and she remained in that condition until the end of the afternoon when she passed away.
Miss Faxon was a daughter of Francis and Elizabeth Faxon, both of whom have passed away, her mother having died about 9 years ago. She is survived by two brothers, Lawrence Faxon of Wellesley Hills and John Lyman Faxon of Fitchburg.

Miss Faxon has been for several years private secretary to her cousin Henry M. Faxon at his Granite street office.

The funeral was held from the church Tuesday afternoon, where services of a simple nature were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the church.

Arthur W. Hall had charge of the services, who also acted as bearer.
Those who attended were: William C.
Edwards, Eric Patch, Walter C. Nicol,
Winlow Sears, Kenneth Edwards and John R.
Pfaffman, all members of Miss Faxon's first Sunday school class and three of whom are now teachers in the Sunday school.

The services were largely attended, among the many present being the young men who composed Miss Faxon's class up to her last illness. There were many beautiful floral tributes which were tastefully arranged about the altar and included a wreath from her class and a spray from the Sunday school. The burial was at Mt.
Wollaston cemetery.

ANNUAL COFFEE PARTY.

The largest number in the history of St. Mary's church were present
Monday evening at the Annual Coffee Party and Reunion held in St. Joseph's hall. The building was packed to the doors and many had to stay outside and in the basement the first part of the evening. It is estimated that from 1500 to 1800 people attended.

Among those present were Reverend J. P. Cuffe of Atlantic, a former president of the parish, Fr. Duffy, Fr. McCoy, Councilmen Barry and Smith. The stage was beautifully decorated with pine boughs and potted plants and the basement with bunting crepe paper and pine boughs.

The entertainment consisted of many pictures and a concert from eight to ten and dancing from ten to one. The concert was given by local talent and was well received.

Between the songs comic moving pictures were flashed on a screen.
Miss Rosalie DeTemple was the player for the concert and music for the dancing was furnished by Morrissey's five piece orchestra. Modern dancing was prohibited and the old fashioned square dances were enjoyed by both the young and the old. The dance program was made up of eighteen dances and each dance received several encores.

During a lull in the merriment the prizes were drawn and the following were winners:
$20.00 gold piece, Miss Mary Girard.
Ton of coal—James McDonald.
Barrel of flour—Daniel Ford.

The floor was in charge of George Reinhardt, president of the Holy Name society with Martin A. King as assistant. A large corps of aids assisted them.

Weston W. Osborne.
Weston Washburn Osborne, 63 Biglow street, a prominent member of Christ Church died at his home Tuesday evening after a long illness.

Mr. Osborne was born in East Weymouth in 1846, the son of Joseph and Abigail Keith Osborne. He was educated in the public schools of East Bridgewater and also at the English
High school, Boston. Leaving there he went to work for Dexter Bros.
paints and varnishes, 105 Broad street,
Boston, where he was cashier for 30 years. He resigned his position in 1899 and went into the insurance business for himself.

He was married on June 1, 1877 to Maria L. Marsh, daughter of Otis W.
Marsh, of Washington, D. C. He afterward lived in Boston and in 1884 came to Quincy. He lived here until 1898 and went to Wellesley Hills where he remained until 1907. He returned to Quincy and has lived here since.

Mr. Osborne was a member and past master of Delphi Lodge, A. F. and A. M., a charter member of Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar, and was formerly a member of Gethsemane commandery of Newton. He is also a member of Unity Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Unity Lodge, A. O. U. W., both of South Boston.

Mr. Osborne was for many years treasurer of Christ Episcopal church and served as warden and superintendent of its Sunday school. He is survived by his wife, one son William
S. of Newtonville, two daughters,
Florence M., catalogue at the Lynn Public Library and Ethel W., who is connected with the Boston office of the John Hancock Insurance Co.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at Christ church.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

POLLYANNA PICTURES.

Those who went to the Bethany church chapel Feb. 12 afternoon or evening to hear "Pollyanna" were entertained in remarkably good living pictures were "glad," like the heroine of that charming story, that they were able to be there.

The book is rightfully called "The Glad Game," because its heroine is a little girl whose father has taught her to be glad about everything that happens.

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis read the story and as she read, living pictures were shown in a frame on the platform, illustrating the characters and their doings. Mrs. Davis read with appreciation the varied characters, interpreting each with truthfulness to life. Little Pollyanna had the sweet lumpy voice one would want her to have. Aunt Polly the stern, hard voice in the beginning and the tender voice in the end. Dr. Chilton the deep cheery tones. Mrs. Pendleton the weary, discouraged voice of a broken man, and Nancy the brusque, yet tender tones of the faithful servant.

A treat to music lovers was given before the story by Miss Frances Murray who played the piano. She has a beautiful, sure touch and plays as if she really loved it, and therefore with much appreciation of her selections.

Two little boys all in white pulled aside the curtains from the frame.
These little boys were Masters Norman Schulte and Sidney Everett Richards.

The cast was as follows:
Pollyanna—Miss Alice Miller
Miss Polly—Mrs. H. Everett Crane
Nancy—Miss Grace Fisher
Old Tom—Henry Hayward
Timothy—Russell Williams
Mrs. Snow—Mrs. E. E. Miller
John Pendleton—Carl Pierce
Jimmie—Master Edmondson
Ladies—Alders—Miss Addie Parks,
Mrs. A. L. Melcher, Mrs. V. E. Miller,
Mrs. B. A. Willmott, Mrs. H. C. Collins.

Dr. Chilton—Frank W. Crane.
Rev. Paul Ford—Charles Sampson.
Nurse—Mrs. Charles Sampson.
Dr. Mead—A. L. Melcher.
Dr. Warren—William Sidelinger.
Miss Alice Miller made a winsome little Pollyanna and won her way into everyone's heart. Miss Polly was shown by Mrs. H. E. Crane was splendid, first with her hair parted and piled down close to her head and her stern mien and in the end the happy different and tender. Miss Polly's expression as Nancy was good.
All the other characters were just what one would picture them after reading the book.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the church. The chairman of arrangements was Mrs.
E. W. Shapard assisted by Mrs. B. A.
Willmott, president of the society.

JAPANESE WHIST PARTY.

One of the most artistic pieces of decorative work ever seen in this city beautified the home of Mrs. C. A.
Clapp, 66 Merrymount road, Monday evening. The occasion was a Japanese whist party given for the benefit of the Japanese society of the University of the Pacific which was attended by over sixty people including invited guests from Concord, N. H., Worcester,
Lowell, Brookline and other cities.

On entering the guests were met by a Japanese in beautiful costume who politely requested them to go up stairs, where they were met by another Japanese in costume who informed them that a room on the next floor was ready for them where a Japanese lady was in attendance to receive their wraps. Returning to the lower floor the guest was again met by the Japanese attendant who presented each woman with a souvenir for the hair, consisting of small fans and small umbrellas while to the men were presented little Japanese lanterns for the coat lapel. Then each guest was given a score card, upon which was delicately executed a Japanese scene.

At ten o'clock cards were laid aside and a Japanese supper was served. At each table was a hand-painted menu card, upon which in Japanese letters was printed the menu.
Chop suey, chicken salad, hot rolls and butter, coffee.

During the evening Japanese candies were served. Vocal and instrumental music made the guests feel that they were at the time being in another land and it was with reluctance that they took their departure at a late hour. So great was the demand for tickets that the committee will repeat the party Wednesday evening, at which time another opportunity will be afforded to view the decorations.

Much praise for the beautiful work must be given to James B. Schmidt, who conceived and carried out the idea and scheme. The souvenir tickets and menu cards were also samples of his work, the scenes being from Japanese gardens. Much credit is also due to the committee in charge, which included: Mrs. C. A. Clapp, Miss Alfreda Hanson, Miss Mary Blake and James B. Schmidt.

So great was the desire to view the decorations that Mrs. Clapp opened her home to visitors on Sunday and Monday and hundreds called to see it.
The Japanese attendants were William Beattie and J. B. Schmidt.

After the War, What?

Tremont Temple, Boston,
February Sunday Afternoons at 3 o'clock
Free Public Lectures by Jay William Hudson
Professor of Philosophy, University of Missouri
Auspices: Mass. Peace Society.

Feb. 21—America's Message to Europe.
Feb. 28—The Terms of Permanent Peace.
Music at 2.30.
Jan. 30-5w

KITCHEN LINEN SHOWER.

3838 Minnie R. Hardwick of Revere was the recipient of a kitchen linen shower Saturday afternoon in honor of her approaching marriage to Lynman Morrison of Braintree.

A few of her friends were invited to the home of Miss Lela B. Smith of Hobbs, formerly of Granite street this city, to a Valentine party and each one was requested to bring some kitchen linen for Miss Hardwick's surprise.

The decorations, the games, the refreshments and the favors were all in the shape of colored hearts. A Christmas tree covered with colored hearts figured in the decorations and in one of the games. The ice cream was heart shaped, the cakes were hearts with vari-colored frostings and the candy was hearts.

The shower itself was of course the feature of the afternoon and was carried out in a novel way. Miss Reta Carter Smith and her sister, the hostess, brought into the room several huge bundles with the name of a guest on each one. These bundles contained other bundles with other names and were undone and undone by the guests whose name appeared uppermost and in the end every bundle contained Miss Hardwick's name. Everyone present, however found in one of the bundles a red satin heart-shaped box, filled with heart-shaped candy for herself.

When Miss Hardwick opened her bundles she found aprons, dish mops, many clusters and various other useful gifts.

The guests were Miss Hardwick,
Mrs. Robert Hardwick, Miss Ethel
Hershey, Miss Carlena Walker, Miss
Margarette Dixon, Miss Mary, Carl
P. Dobbs and Miss Louise Abernethy of Braintree.

HOUSE WARMING.

St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls Friendly society proved agreeable hostess at the house-warming and reception given by the society Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the Wollaston street house and it was an evening fittingly closing to the social season before Lent.

Mrs. Howard D. Fowler, branch secretary, welcomed the guests and the entertainment began with "The Piper's Pay," a clever lively, little one-act comedy. Some of the characters fell into rather awkward situations but they had only themselves to blame for as Freda said in the play
"While you're dancing the piper is running up a long bill and sooner or later will demand his pay." The cast was:

Mrs. John Burton, Annie Love
Miss Freda Dixon, Gladys Parke
Mrs. Charles Dover, Elsie Whitehead
Miss Evelyn Evans.

Beatrice Nickerson
Margaret Buzzell
Mrs. Herford-Carr, Beatrice Buzz

UNIVERSALIST EVANGELISM.

The Universalist denomination has caught the spirit of the new forward movement of Christianity, and is making a series of efforts to apply its great principles as a working philosophy of the common life. In this connection an interesting statement of its principles in social terms is gaining wide currency. It is as follows: "We believe in the Universal Fatherhood of God! Therefore this world is not a place for making archangels out of a favored few while the rest of the race drifts or drives to ruin, but a place for every human being to go forward and grow upward.

"We believe in the spiritual authority and leadership of His Son Jesus Christ." Therefore we must not only take His name upon our lips but His spirit into our lives and betray of our brothers in treason against Him.

"We believe in the trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God." Therefore we will obey its commandments concerning our duties to others, as well as accept its promises of blessings for ourselves.

"We believe in the certainty of just retribution for sin." Therefore we and those who come after us must suffer for our social sins of commission and omission. We cannot save ourselves unless we save others.

"We believe in the final harmony of all souls with God." Therefore every surviving ignorance, every unrighted wrong, every permitted injustice that delays or arrests the growth of any human soul, delays the destiny of the Universe.

Next July a great national council of the whole church is to be held at Los Angeles, and in connection with it, a series of preaching services in the great cities of the west by leading men of the denomination on their way to California.

In Massachusetts the officers of a state convention are the members of the campaign of Universalism. Franklinton between now and Easter. Weeks of special services are to be held in most of the churches with the common purpose of making a contribution to community life. Such meetings will be held in the Quincy Universalist church March 1, 2 and 3 at 7.45 P. M. with Rev. Charles Conklin, D. D., as the preacher.

OFFICER GOLDEN RESIGNS.

Timothy J. Golden, one of the permanent police force, who has been incapacitated from active duty for a number of years, tendered his resignation as a member of the police force to Mayor Campbell Wednesday. The resignation was accepted.

In his younger days Officer Golden was employed for many years as a clerk in the store of Thomas Gurney at Atlantic. He was appointed a member of the permanent police on April 7, 1902 and during his first year was assigned to duty as wagon man.

The following year he was assigned to night duty at Wollaston and one Saturday night during a scuffle with some disturbers on the late train it is claimed that he received injuries. A short time later he suffered a stroke of paralysis and has been unable since that time to do any active duty although he has always retained his position as a member of the department. His position being filled by one of the reserve force.

The department has every year given him what work was possible and he has done duty at the polling places at elections and during the summer months has done duty on the City of Boston property at Squantum. For the past few weeks he has been doing janitor duty at the police station.

Officer Golden has long desired to be retired on a pension but he did not come under the provisions of the retirement law. Wednesday he visited the office of the mayor and wrote out his resignation. The vacancy thus caused will be filled at the same time the mayor appoints the three new officers authorized by the city council.

COURT TRIERER WOLCOTT.

The fourteenth anniversary of the organization of Court Roger Wolcott No. 33 Foresters of America, was held Tuesday evening in Elliptical hall. There were over 250 present, including guests from Braintree, Weymouth, Brockton and Boston.

The court was organized February 15, 1901, in East Milton by James O'Dowd, William J. Hebert, Peter J. Barry and Daniel Ford, well known residents of West Quincy. In 1905 the court moved its headquarters to West Quincy where it now is. 124 meetings are held in Elliptical hall. The membership has now reached 225. The present chief ranger is William C. Martell. James O'Dowd was the first chief ranger and is still prominent in the court. William J. Hebert is past chief ranger and is now the financial secretary. Daniel Ford is also a past chief ranger and is the present treasurer. Peter J. Barry is also past chief ranger and is now grand senior woodward.

The entertainment consisted of the exemplification of the degrees by the degree team, which was a beautiful sight and was much enjoyed by the guests. The program was given by William O'Dowd, Peter J. Barry, Daniel Ford, and William Hebert who gave brief accounts of the workings of the organization since its formation. William C. Martell spoke on the present day workings of the court and James Conway, chief ranger of Court John Adams brought the greetings of his court. Songs were rendered by Philip Savard, George Hastings, Parker White and Andrew Pierce. Refreshments were served. During the evening the death of William A. McPherson, a well known member of the court, was announced and all present stood as a silent token of respect.

LENTE SERMONS.

At the Universalist church, Sunday services, 3 P. M., the Rev. Merrill C. Ward announced the following sermons for Lent on fundamental matters of faith, as follows:

- Feb. 21—"The God Whom We Worship."
- Feb. 28—"The Bible We Believe In."
- March 7—"The Hell We Shun."
- March 21—"The Church We Unite With."
- March 28—"The Saviour We Follow."
- April 4—"The Heaven We Hope For."

BRIEFS

Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road is among the shut-ins by illness.

Charles Cuthbert Wrigley has gone to Bermuda for two weeks vacation.

Mrs. John Foster of Winthrop, Me., is the guest of her sister Mrs. Mabel, a guest of Francis court.

Thomas C. Hewson of Newcomb place is entertaining his brother, Capt. John Hewson who has just returned from Europe.

A hearing on the matter of a new bridge over the Neponset river between Quincy and Neponset will be held at the state house March 4.

"Dick" Kaufman the popular street car conductor returned home Monday from the Brookline hospital where he underwent a serious operation.

Hector Parker who has been visiting in the city the past month returned to his home in Woburn on Monday.

Mr. and John Perkins and family of Euclid avenue have moved to Brooklyn, New York Mr. Perkins has accepted a position in the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Donovan who have been temporarily making their home with Waldo Emery of North Weymouth have moved to Quincy.

Master James Kennedy will be one of the star dancers at the Barnard Memorial exercises which will be held in Mechanics Building, Boston, Feb. 22.

In the legislature Monday the bill increasing the salaries of the commissioners of Norfolk county from $1200 to $1400 a year was passed to be engrossed.

Michael Michaelson, 10 Hillside street, employed as a quarryman at the quarry of J. S. Swingle on the South Common, West Quincy, was badly crushed about the legs Tuesday when a heavy rock rolled over on him.

Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell of Bennington, Vermont is the guest of Mrs. Edward E. Miller of Higlow street coming down for the opera Mikado and planning to stay until after the Quincy Women's club anniversary.

A private exhibit which included three illustrated lectures was held under the auspices of the lecture committee of the Bird Helpers. It took place at the home of Mr. James Young Saturday evening. The three speakers were Philip Young, Marnett Able, and Trescott Able.

A Valentine party was held at the home of Miss Martha Pynny Friday Feb. 12. The evening opened with a few songs by the members of the Bluebird Sewing Circle Girls. Music was enjoyed and games were played. The committee in charge were Mrs. T. Penttila and Mrs. W. F. Pynny.

"The Arrival of Kitty," the three act comedy presented with such success by the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church will be given by the Y. P. R. U. of the Canton Unitarian church some time in March. Mrs. A. Isabella Davis, the coach of the play given here Jan. 29, will be the coach for the Canton production.

Richard Crane of the tennis team of the Class of 1917, Harvard, is spending his vacation with his parents, City Clerk and Mrs. Emery I. Crane. Donald, his older brother, of Colgate University is also home, having completed his course, a few weeks ahead. It is simply the matter of a degree now.

Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade attended the midwinter reunion of the Isles of Shoals Summer Meetings, held Saturday at the Second church, Boston and contributed to the enjoyment of others attending by rendering several solos. She attended the meetings last summer being of the quartet furnishing the music for the meetings.

William J. Day, was tendered a dinner and dinner in honor of his elevation as associate justice of South Boston Tuesday night, which was largely attended. The speakers were the most prominent men in the public life of Boston. Among those who attended were George Richard Simmons of the E. J. Murphy pharmacy and Russell Sullivan of the Granite Shoe store.

Quite a delegation from Quincy commandery, Knights Templar, attended the annual inspection of St. Omer Commandery of Dorchester Monday night. They included Commander John Morgan, Generalissimo Otis B. Oakman, Past Commander Walter E. Piper and Sir Knights Arthur Bryant, Harry Tresson, and Harry B. Piper, Messrs. Morgan, Oakman and Piper were on the staff of the inspecting officer.

Mrs. Howard Rogers entertained a number of her neighbors at her home in Hancock street Tuesday evening. Auction bridge was the diversion of the evening which was greatly enjoyed by the three tables present. At the conclusion of the evening's play light refreshments were served by the hostess. The souvenirs for the best scores were awarded to Mrs. William B. Kemp and Mrs. Franklin P. Horton.

There was a large attendance of Ad Fellows at the meeting of Mt. Wollaston lodge Tuesday evening when the second degree was exemplified on several candidates. The work was performed in a manner well called for many words of commendation. It was performed by the second degree staff of Puritan lodge of Braintree. During the work there was music by the orchestra of John Hancock lodge of Wollaston and the Warren lodge quartet of Boston.

The committee appointed to consider the advisability of a new chapel for Bethany church held a conference at the church Tuesday evening and before the business session enjoyed a supper prepared by Mrs. H. E. Crane, president of the Bethany Women's Union Mrs. Crane was assisted in serving by Miss Florence Pratt, Miss Christina Booth and Miss Susie Tyler. Rev. Mr. Willmont, pastor of the church was a guest. No definite action was taken.

George W. Miller of Quincy and Frederick L. Green, convicted of conspiracy to defame Medical Examiner George Burgess Magrath of Boston, were sentenced to 15 months in the House of Correction by Chief Justice Aiken in the Superior Criminal court of Suffolk county Feb. 12. Green was also convicted of larceny of money from the body of Francis X. O'Brien Appeals were entered and an execution of the sentences were stayed pending a hearing before the full bench.

BRIEFS

The Quincy Tennis club will hold a dance on Thursday evening Feb. 26.

Miss Mildred Weston, overseer of the poor, was the guest Tuesday of Miss Burt, overseer of the poor at Taunton for the past twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Groce who have made their home on Allyn street for several years are moving gradually in their spacious new home on Fairmount way. Presidents hill, and hope to be settled by March first.

Two more cases of scarlet fever were reported Thursday in the Cranch School District. This makes a total of six cases this week. Miss Anne Swithin and Mabel Cook both of Glendale road, are the two cases reported Thursday.

Eight tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly visit tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores of the evening were made by Fred A. Drake and Warren H. Ridenour. Light refreshments were served after the tournament.

Asa Allan Eaton, 35 Newcomb place, a joiner at the Fore River shipyard, and Sarah Eunice Strickland of Boston were married at Boston Tuesday and will make their home here. The ceremony was performed by Fr. William B. Finigan.

At the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate court Wednesday the will of Minnie A. Leavitt was allowed. Administrations were granted on the estates of Catherine F. Morgan, John M. O'Brien and Margaret A. McPherson of Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, announced the engagement of their daughter Mary to Mr. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, New Jersey. Mr. Bannister is a graduate of Harvard class of 1909 and of the Harvard Law school 1912 and is now engaged in the practice of law in New York City.

Ten tables were in play at the matinee whist of the George L. Gill Associates in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon. The souveniers were won by Mrs. H. Tenney, L. O. Brotherton, Mrs. H. B. Tenney, Miss M. Lizzie Fernald, Mrs. Martha Jones, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. C. L. Lewis. The consolation went to Mrs. Mary Jones.

In the superior court at Dedham Wednesday a verdict for $161 was returned in the case of John J. Fitzgerald of Quincy against the Elevated railroad for personal injuries received when a car of the defendant company collided with the plaintiff's milk wagon. Fitzgerald sued for $3,000. Charles J. McGilvray was for the plaintiff Russell A. Sears and Paul R. Blackburn for defendants.

Maple lodge continued its bowling and bean bag matches after its meeting in Protection hall Wednesday evening. Miss M. Lizzie Fernald, in charge of the former, has held the lead three consecutive sessions. The series closes next month and the prizes will then be awarded. Mrs. Annie I. Smith and Mrs. Annie T. Morrison had charge of the refreshments.

Frank H. Pope of Leominster, former state auditor, who succeeded E. Gerry Brown of Brockton as supervisor of small loan agencies spoke on "State Finance" before a large gathering of members of Quincy council, K. of C. in Colonial hall Thursday evening. Mr. Pope took the place of Fred Mansfield, former state treasurer, who was obliged to cancel a speaking engagement for the first time in his life on account of illness.

City Solicitor W. S. Pinkham, City Engineer E. C. Sargent and Dock Commissioner F. F. Crane attended the hearing before the Port of Boston directors Thursday and spoke in favor of the petition of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners for authority to build a bridge over Black's creek. This is the bridge which the Park Commissioners desire to build over the creek as a continuation of the boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancock street.

In compliance with the resolution adopted by the city council last Monday evening that the Mayor arrange for a conference with the chairman of the finance committee, chairman of the committee on public buildings and the school committee to discuss school matters, the mayor has arranged with the chairman of the school board for a conference. It will be held Tuesday evening in the rooms of the school committee.

An important amendment to the by laws of Quincy Commandery, K. T., will come up for action at the stated convocation next Monday evening. The work of the evening will be the Order of the Temple. The annual ladies' night of the Commandery will be held in Alpha and Union halls, Friday evening, Feb. 26. The program will include a banquet to be served in Union hall at 6.30 an entertainment in Alpha hall at 8 o'clock to be followed at 9.30 o'clock by dancing.

With Memorial Day only a little more than three months away business has not been as brisk as usual at this time of the year. Of course the winter months are usually quiet and few shipments are made from November to March. In other years the manufacturers at this time of the year had a book full of orders for March 1 delivery. There is a lot of Western work to be cut this spring but the manufacturers have been unable to get the granite as the Western quarries do not operate during the winter.

A particularly happy day is looked forward to next Tuesday by members of the Quincy Women's club, it being the tenth anniversary of the club. There is to be open house at the club-house in the afternoon with music, reception and brief addresses, and in the evening a reception by the club and music, also a presentation to the city of a memorial gift which will be received by Mayor Campbell and chairman Mackay of the school committee.

Mayor Campbell received a letter from a law firm in St. John, N. B., Friday morning making inquiry about two sons, James Ready, who died in that city in March 1912. The letter stated that the late Mr. Ready left an estate in which the two brothers were interested and any information as to their whereabouts would be thankfully received. The two men about whom information is desired are James H. Ready aged 55 years who left St. John two years ago and James F. Ready who left St. John ten years ago.

BRIEFS

Headmaster E. L. Collins of High school and Messrs. Mansur, Roache, Paulsen, Thomson and French will spend the March vacation at French's Pond, N. Y.

Henry Gardner Pratt of 16 Edwards street, observed the 85th anniversary of his birth Wednesday, neighbors and friends being invited to his home where they enjoyed a turkey supper in his honor.

The Y. P. R. U. of the Swedish Congregational Church will observe Washington's Birthday with a turkey supper at six o'clock on Monday evening. The committee in charge is Miss Ruth Eckstrand, Miss Olga Johnson and Paul Palmgren.

Consequences and other games which do not violate the neutrality of the United States were played after the regular meeting of the George L. Gill Rebekahs in Odd Fellows hall Thursday night. They were under the direction of Mrs. Sadie M. Walker, Mrs. Marie Richardson and Mrs. Annie Pushee.

The central station auto chemical was called on a still alarm at 12.55 P. M. Friday for a lively grass fire between Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the pine grove on the Adams farm. The fire made a big blaze and was rapidly eating its way toward the pine grove when the apparatus arrived. It required half an hour of hard work to extinguish it.

Donald P. Crane, a son of City Clerk Emory L. Crane has accepted a position in the Keene, N. H., national bank, at which institution he began his duties on Wednesday. Mr. Crane has been attending Colgate college, but completed his course at mid-year. He will be employed in the bank until June when he goes back to college to graduate.

WEST QUINCY

The members of the Nonpareil Social club entertained their young women friends in their clubrooms at Brewster corner Sunday evening. There were 25 couples present, many of them from Dorchester.

The many friends of Miss Ann Schatzel of Braintree who formerly lived on Willard street will be pleased to hear that she is convalescing from a serious attack of pneumonia.

Ruth, the 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murphy of Copeland street, is confined to her home by a severe attack of diphtheria.

The friends of Daniel Shea of Town Hill street are glad to hear that he is recovering rapidly from a serious attack of pneumonia. Mr. Shea expects to return to work soon.

William Hodge of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hodge of Town Hill street.

The Nonpareil Social club is making arrangements for the opening of the club's summer cottage at Glen Echo lake.

The Nonpareil Social club located on Copeland street will shortly move to their new headquarters on Granite street.

The home of Mrs. Eddie Da Rue on Barry street, West Quincy, was the scene of a touching family reunion on the occasion of Mrs. Mario Baldwin's arrival from Venice, Italy. Mrs. Baldwin greeted for the first time in ten years her husband Mario and her daughter Lena and her son Archie. The proprietor of a fruit store at Brewer's corner.

The yard of Lavette Granite Company on Copeland street presents a busy sight at the present time. Several large pieces of granite have been received this week to be sawed and polished. The machine for sawing granite is one of the two new pieces of the yard. The yard is run under the direction of Joseph B. Grosman.

The Chickatawbut Social club held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Theodore Minahan on Rustic place. After a short business meeting, games and music were enjoyed until a late hour. Jerome Reinhardt, the president, rendered several solos. The money raised for the club has been changed from Friday to Thursday for the rest of the Lenten season.

A verdict of $156.41 in favor of the plaintiff has been returned by Judge Avery in the case of Kulma Bros. against Joseph Walker. The suit was for $833.33 for extras claimed to have been furnished in a contract of the plaintiff in the erection of a building for the defendant.

Christopher Daley of Smith street is enjoying a few weeks vacation. He is in poor health.

Timothy Morrison of Wilson street has accepted a position with the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Albert Norling of Chicago is spending a few weeks with his father on Wilson street.

Miss Amy Medlyn is spending a few days with her mother on Town Hill street.

Archille Baldwin, proprietor of the fruit store at Brewer's corner is confined to his home with a serious attack of the grip.

Alexis Eleck of New York is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. James B. Eleck of Copeland street. He had charge of a show yard in New York of Eleck & Sons, and came home during the dull season. He will return to New York the middle of March. He reports weather conditions in New York are against the trade.

QUINCY POINT

The M. E. T. sewing club of Quincy Point met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. John Silva on River street. The first hour was devoted to sewing after which a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Silva. A social hour followed the luncheon.

SQUAMTUN

Eric Dahlquist, 10, fell down a flight of stairs Saturday evening at Richmond Memorial hall and broke a bone in his left arm. Dr. Bruce was called and ordered the child taken to the Quincy hospital as the fracture was a serious one. Mr. and Mrs. William Spargo and Mrs. John B. Nelson took the child to the hospital in Mr. Spargo's automobile. The boy is reported as resting comfortably.

The home of Mrs. Eva Eklof, 3 Emory street, Roxbury, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening when Miss Hannah Philipsson, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Philipsson of Squamton, was united in marriage to Alopes the son of Mrs. John B. Nelson. The ceremony was performed by Pastor Johanson of the Swedish church of Roxbury performed the ceremony.

SOUTH QUINCY

Miss May Birnie of South Quincy was the guest of Park Officer and Mrs. Joseph McTiernan at the Metropolitan Park Police Ball held Monday evening in Boston.

Mrs. Charles Spear is seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on Franklin street.

Helen B. Craig, the one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Craig of 108 Federal avenue who died shortly after she was taken to the contagious hospital at Brighton suffering from diphtheria, was held from the parents' home Friday, Feb. 12. Services were held in Mt. Wollaston cemetery by Rev. C. M. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church.

The uniform degree staff of the A. O. H. division of East Dedham conducted a class initiation in Hibernian hall, South Quincy, for 50 candidates for membership in the various divisions of the county.

Mrs. Augustine LeVine of Dorchester is visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret Gillis on Granite street, South Quincy. The business of the late John L. Miller is being carried on by his sons. Byron has charge of the local yard and Tupper is the road agent in charge of the New York yard.

Valdo Galligan of 5 Independence avenue, has been elected a member of the Massachusetts Home Furnishers association. Mr. Galligan is one of the most active furniture men of the city. He has been associated with the Henry L. Kincadeo Co. for the past five years.

Daniel Sullivan of South Quincy recently observed her twentieth birthday. She was elected a member of the position with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

The Presbyterian Manse on Quincy street will shortly be occupied by John Collins and family of Pleasant street. George Dunham, the local manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., is ill at his home on School street.

Henry Erick, formerly of Quincy, who is now engaged in the automobile business in Dorchester is visiting relatives and friends in South Quincy.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Sunday evening at seven o'clock Rev. William B. Ayres will lecture at the Norfolk Downs church on "Why does God permit the nations to war?" This series of lectures is calling out large audiences.

Miss Ella M. Whitehead of Kenner street observed her twentieth birthday Tuesday evening, entertaining a party of young friends. Games and music passed an enjoyable evening. The hostess served iced cake and Miss Whitehead was presented with several remembrances of the day including a ring with an opal setting.

Miss Susanna E. Ross of Fall River of the Union hospital staff is having a severe attack of the grip at the home of her mother Mrs. Emma De Forrest Ross of Phillips street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Price of 32 Billings road, Norfolk Downs leave for New York today to spend a few days with friends.

Mr. Edwin Wallace a well known resident of Norfolk Downs passed away Wednesday afternoon at his home 167 Billings road, aged 55 years. Mr. Wallace was a carpenter by occupation and leaves a widow and several children.

Mrs. Hugh Stockwell of Charles town, is the guest of Mrs. H. K. Ellis 36 Warwick street for a few days before leaving for her new home in Orange, Florida.

Everett Campbell of 50 Beach street was arraigned in court Tuesday morning for larceny of $42 from James C. Mitchell, a Wollaston grocer. It was alleged that Campbell who was employed as a clerk for Mitchell, collected accounts for which he failed to account. The fact of the larceny was brought out when Mitchell attempted to collect from parties who had paid the Campbell boy. The court found Campbell guilty and imposed a sentence of six months in the house of correction.

The women's guild of the Park and Downs church met Tuesday afternoon and listened to a talk on Belgium by Mrs. E. Anna Brown. The members enjoyed an exhibition of photographs showing the condition of the people of Belgium at the present time. Letters were also read from Dr. Van Dyke, United States minister to Holland, describing the destitute condition of the people of Belgium as a result of the war. Each woman in attendance at the meeting brought a children's garment which will later be forwarded to the stricken country. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis Bates of East Weymouth have issued cards to the marriage reception of their daughter Blanche Alma to ex-Councilman Harry Gardner Sudley of Quincy for Wednesday evening March 10. The party will be held at the Episcopal church at East Weymouth, from 8 to 10 o'clock. They will make their home at the corner of Billings road and Davis street, Wollaston Park.

WANT BREAKWATERS.

The committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the legislature will give a hearing March 1 on the petition of Mayor Campbell to authorize the directors of the Port of Boston to build such breakwaters, retaining walls, sea walls or other structures in the City of Quincy as may be necessary for the protection from encroachment by the sea of the shores of the Houghs Neck and to expend for this purpose a sum not exceeding $10,000. The work however shall not commence until the owner of the shore where the sea wall is to be built shall release to the commonwealth all claims for damages. The hearing will be attended by Mayor Campbell, the city engineer, city solicitor and dock commissioner.

TIMOTHY F. SULLIVAN.

Timothy F. Sullivan, a well known resident of Atlantic, died Monday at the Boston City Hospital from traumatic meningitis, following a fracture of the skull, the result of an accidental fall down a flight of stairs in Boston last week.

The deceased was the son of Timothy and the late Marie F. Sullivan and was in his 30th year. His funeral took place from his father's residence, 50 Botolph street, Atlantic on Wednesday morning. A requiem high mass was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

He survived by his father, two sisters, Mary and Helen, and five brothers, Edward, Gerald, William, Joseph and Arthur.

WOLLASTON

Miss Ethel M. Pfaffmann of Worcester who came for the play and opera last week of the Quincy Women's club is continuing her visit over the week end being the guest of her aunts, the Misses Pfaffmann of Clay street.

Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock will preach and administer the rite of confirmation at the 10.30 o'clock service at St. Chrysostom's church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Roland MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston has been entertaining this week Mrs. Ida Brigham of Lynn, who was also her guest at the Wollaston Women's club play Tuesday.

Mrs. Francis C. Lowell president of the Massachusetts branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the board of Missions is to speak Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in the assembly room of the parish house to the Women's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church.

Mrs. David L. Jewell, chairman of the Missionary committee has sent invitations to Christ church guild and Emmanuel church guild, Braintree to hear Mrs. Lowell.

Miss Ethel Young and Miss Dorothy Taylor have gone to Shirley, N. H., for over the week end and holiday, to be guests of Mrs. Edward Bartlett.

The Wollaston Men's Class meets Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion, subject, "The Death of Eli and His Sons," prelude: "High priced banquet while so many are out of work and starving." Chorus of men and a hearty welcome for all. Men not engaged elsewhere are urged to attend and join this strong and growing class.

Miss Bertha N. Polk of Wollaston is the guest of her sister Miss Mildred Polk at Bridgewater Normal school. Miss Bertha Polk was a former student of the school.

Clarence Cassidy who is in school in New York is visiting his parents at home. He is a Cassidy of Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Harry Thomas of Wollaston has been visiting friends in North Abington, formerly her home.

Friends of Mrs. Annie T. Thompson will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her home on Beal street having had the misfortune to fall on the ice injuring her back and hip.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church will hold Feb. 12 at the home of Mrs. Carroll E. Bates. It was a sort of get together and get better acquainted meeting and the afternoon proved to be one of enjoyment to the forty or more women present. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

James F. Costello M. D., of Cambridge Hospital staff who has been at the family home on Wollaston avenue for some time suffering from a severe attack of the grip is able to take exercise on the piazza.

The friends of Wallace Bennett of 171 Arlington street will be pleased to know that he is recovering from his recent operation at the Quincy City hospital.

The Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor of the Wollaston Baptist church gave a reception Friday Feb. 12 in the chapel at the church to the honorary members. During the evening there were piano solos by Miss May Critchley, solo readings by William E. Bullock and readings by Miss Annie Fleiger. Games were played and light refreshments were served.

Miss Rose Anderson of Chester street, Wollaston, is visiting her home in South Ryegate, Vermont. Miss Anderson will return to Wollaston when she has completely recovered from the operation which she underwent recently.

Mr. Roy Given of Dorchester was married on Tuesday evening to Miss Helen Fairbanks of West Somerville. Mr. Given formerly lived in Wollaston Park and graduated from the Quincy High school. The young people were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

MONTECLAIR

Mrs. Engler C. widow of Carl A. Allard, died Wednesday at the home of her son, Carl C. Allard at 156 Elliot avenue, Montclair after a short illness. Mrs. Allard was 75 years of age. Since the death of her husband she has made her home with her son. Mr. Allard was a carpenter by occupation and leaves a widow and several children.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at

The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Rhunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Curran,
Branchfield & Martens,
Branchfield & Martens,
Peter L. Litchfield,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

PROBATE COURT.

Judge Flint held probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy, Feb. 10 and transacted the following business:

WILLS ALLOWED

Of Murto Gallivan late of Braintree. Daniel J. Gallivan, executor. Bond $5,000.

Of Samuel S. Winslow late of Stoughton. Rogena A. Winslow executrix. Bond $4,500.

Of Alexander Mundie late of Quincy. Heen Mundie executrix. Bond $10,000.

Of Thomas Curtis late of Quincy. Thomas W. Curtis, executor.

Of John Hyde late of Norwood. Albert Pales executor. Bond $200.

Of George W. Foster late of Brookline. Edward S. Foster executor. Bond $30,000.

Of Mary L. Stone late of Milton. Frederick M. Stone executor. Bond $50,000.

ADMINISTRATIONS

Patrick B. McGonigle on estate of Hannah Morse late of Avon. Bond $5,000.

Emily T. Turner on estate of Levi H. Turner late of Quincy. Bond $5,000.

Abbie Ethel Glidden on estate of Ruth A. Pomeroy late of Weymouth. Bond $500.

George B. Crafts on estate of Mary B. Carter late of Milton. Bond $300.

Fannie B. Fish on estate of George Ianna B. Sarger late of Quincy. Bond $6,000.

George A. Briggs on estate of Abner B. Briggs late of Canton. Bond $1,000.

Eugene H. Hamilton on estate of Lewis H. Bartlett late of Brookline. Bond $10,000.

George H. Mann on estate of Julia A. Mann late of Sharon. Bond $3,000.

Arthur W. Warriner on estate of Daphne S. Naramore late of Sharon. Bond $4,000.

George R. Chippendale on estate of Joseph Chippendale late of Quincy. Bond $1,000.

Frederick M. Clark on estate of Jessie M. Durant late of Weymouth. Bond $1,000.

Lillian E. Hayden on estate of William E. Hayden late of Quincy. Bond $2,500.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED

Third of L. Althe Talbot administratrix of estate of Abraham Bromade late of Stoughton for $446.25.

First and second of Mary A. Joyce administratrix of estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy for $111.

First, second and third of the Old Colony Trust Co., trustees of will of James A. Boddy late of Brookline for $253.50.

First and final of Joseph L. Clough executor of will of Lucy T. Brainard late of Sharon for $20,718.67.

First and final of Peter Morton administratrix of estate of Thomas Mitchell late of Quincy for $1,029.

MISCELLANEOUS

Sarah J. Eddy administratrix of estate of Charles Eddy late of Stoughton was granted permission to mortgage real estate to the amount of $800.

Byron B. Johnson of Waltham was authorized to expend the sum of $125 for purpose of burial of Charlotte Dickinson and the erection of a marker on the grave.

Maria L. Gardner was appointed executor of Harold S. and Arthur H. Gardner, minors of Weymouth. Bond $200.

An assignment was ordered of the estate of Martha W. Pratt late of Weymouth to pay debts of the deceased.

Carl A. Lathrop of Braintree was appointed to make a partition of certain estate for the benefit of the heirs.

A distribution was ordered of the estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy.

Margaret S. Chippendale was appointed guardian of Grace C. Mary C. Margaret H. and Daniel J. Chippendale, minors of Quincy. Bond $1,000.

Q. H. S. HONOR LIST.

1915—Thomas Barstow, Edna Gray, Jennie Kerner, William MacMahon, Edith Murray, Margaret Park, Beatrice Rogers, Marian Simpson.

1914—Paul Brown, Warren Crane, Mildred Harrison, Emma Kendall, Edward Lihander, Hilton Mart, Annie Schlenker, Florence Wetmore, Eunice Leach.

1917—Noemi Abiatt, Alice Charlesworth, Harry Diamond, Hildegarde Ducey, Reginald Faulkner, Katherine Gesmer, Grace Gooding, Ruth Higgins, Russell C. Johnson, Mary McCue, Henry Peterson, Isaac Walnopaas, Priscilla White, Isabelle Wagnon.

1918—Elsie Broughton, Helena Buckley, Roselyn Burgess, Henry Carlson, Madeline Coulson, David Gesmer, Flavia Gustafson, Edwin Hech, Esther Jackson, Frank Julius, Marjorie Leach, Muriel Matlack, Teresa Morrell, Aubrey Nicholson, Mabel Roache, Charles Stewart, Lillian Walters, Mary Waterman, Royal Weymouth, Charles T. Williams.

COL. ANDERSON SPEAKER.

There was a large attendance Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Young People's Religious union of the First church to hear the address on Lincoln by Col. Edward Anderson. In addition to the members of the society there were many others present. Col. Anderson gave an exceedingly interesting talk on Lincoln, relating many personal reminiscences, also speaking on the life and character of Lincoln in Indiana and Illinois and his own personal meetings with Lincoln. He also spoke of the famous debates between Lincoln and Douglas and of Lincoln's abhorrence of slavery, following the scenes which he had witnessed in the slave markets in New Orleans.

CITY COUNCIL.

Although the mayor did not forward his budget to the city council Monday night that of the School Committee was forwarded. The school committee asks this year for the sum of $43,500 as follows:

Administration $6,500
Instruction 156,385
Text Books 4,750
Stationery 6,500
Operation of plant 23,125
Maintenance 250
Miscellaneous 3,200
Evening schools 2,650

Added to this is the state aided industrial school as follows:

Evening classes $1,550
Day classes 10,625

Provisional requirement for machine shops' department in case funds are available $2,400

The expenditures of the department in 1914 were as follows:

Administration $6,082.93
Instruction 147,599.94
Text books 3,962.46
Stationery 6,219.50
Operation of plant 22,275.98
Maintenance 193.14
Miscellaneous 2,517.29
Evening schools 2,662.25

Referred to the finance committee. The School Committee also asked that the receipts from articles made by the industrial school, that were sold, be placed to the credit of the industrial school. Referred to finance committee.

A large amount of new business was offered, which included street repairs, acceptance of new streets, and repairing money for the rebuilding of the fire alarm and police signal system, etc.

John F. Cain and George N. Nordell were appointed special constables. Confirmed.

The fire hazard commission called attention to the need of passing an ordinance relative to fire proof roofs for buildings. Referred to ordinance committee.

The city auditor forwarded his annual report of the receipts and expenditures for the year 1914. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Directors of the Port of Boston gave notice of a hearing Feb. 18, on building a bridge by the Metropolitan Park Commissioners over Black's creek. To legislative committee.

The school committee called attention to the advisability of favoring the passage of House Bill 670 relative to expenditures for school funds.

Public hearings were ordered for March 1, on petition for gasoline line, in the following locations:

Permission was granted the Jewish Congregational society to have children appear at an entertainment Feb. 28.

Petitions were received for the acceptance of Bellevue road and Willow street, that the lot at 8 Beach street be acquired and made part of the street, that East street and Forest avenue be accepted. Petitions received for street lights on north side of streets.

The orders for fire alarm boxes on Ocean street and Faxon road and for a fire hose at Squantum were rejected.

The committee on police and fire department reported an amendment to the order amending the police ordinance. The amendment is now stands provides that the officers of the police force shall rank as follows: Captain, inspector, lieutenant and sergeant. The salary of the captain is to be $1,200, inspector $1,250, lieutenant $1,200 and sergeant $1,150, this part to take effect in January 1915. Order passed.

The fire committee reported an order for $75 for a fire alarm box on Waterston avenue. To finance committee.

The police committee reported an order for three additional permanent policemen. Passed.

Councilman Ross offered an order for $1500 for rebuilding part of the police signal system. The joint committee on finance and police.

Councilman Richards offered an order appropriating $2,000 for the expenses of the machine gun squad. To finance committee.

Councilman Williams offered an order for $15,000 for rebuilding the fire alarm system. To fire committee.

Councilman Craig offered an order for a committee of three to confer with the street railway relative to better car service for the Force River workers. The legislative committee were appointed.

Councilman Yule offered an order for a committee relative to the automatic reduction of gas in Quincy. The legislative committee were appointed.

Councilman Nelson offered an order for $2,000 for rebuilding Atlantic street. To street committee.

Councilman Slade offered an order for $7,000 to rebuild Rock Island road. To street committee.

Councilman Ferguson offered an order for $300 for a gravel sidewalk and curbing on Pleasant street. To street committee.

Councilman Griffin offered a resolve requesting the mayor to arrange for a conference between the mayor, chairman of the finance committee, chairman of the public school buildings committee, president of the council and the school committee on school matters. Adopted.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolve requesting of the city engineer the grades of all streets crossing the railroad tracks and also the grade of the same streets as proposed by the grade crossing commission. Also, a resolve for the legislative committee to confer with the mayor, city solicitor, city engineer and Planning Board relative to the proposed new bridge over the Neponset river. Both resolutions were adopted.

Councilman O'Dowd offered an order that the street railway be requested to abandon its line of poles on the west side of Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets and attach its wires to the poles of the Electric Light Co. Referred to Street Committee.

A large number of orders for new street lights were offered and referred to the executive.

The order retiring Mark E. Hanson lieutenant of the police department, on a pension was passed.

Adjourned at 8:42 P. M.

ADAMS BUILDING FIRE.

The fire department made another good stop Sunday morning when it checked what gave promise of being another bad fire in the Adams building. It was about 11:45 A. M. Sunday when one of the occupants of the building detected a strong odor of smoke in the building. About the same time a pedestrian passing along Hancock street in front of the old emery saw smoke coming from the building. He rushed to Box 26 and sounded the alarm. This is one of the danger boxes of the city and brought a large battery of apparatus, which included not only that from the central station but the apparatus from Wollaston, Atlantic and Quincy Point.

The fire seemed to be in the store of the Adams Market; owned by R. E. Foy & Co. One of Mr. Foy's employees happened to be near at hand and quickly opened the outer door for the firemen. Entering here the fire was found to be on the ceiling about half way down the store. It was just eating through the ceiling and the sparks were dropping to the floor. While one chemical stream was carried in here and firemen with hooks pulled down the sheathing letting the hot coals fall on the floor, other firemen quickly extinguished the latter with the chemical stream. Two large rubber blankets were also carried into the store and spread over the counters.

Lines of hose were carried to the upper floors by the rear windows as well as by the stairway but Chief Billings refrained from turning the water on this preventing a possible large water damage. Chemical streams from several pieces of the apparatus were carried into the building and with the hoses fire was extinguished. Aside from burning about the ceiling of Foy's store and the closest on the second floor there was no damage by fire although the entire upper part of the building was well filled with smoke. Not a drop of water was used and this also prevented a loss. Chief Billings estimates the damage caused by the fire at about $500.

It is interesting to note that the first Sunday was within a few hours of the anniversary of the most serious of the series of fires that have occurred in the Adams Building during the past year. The fire of a year ago started in the middle of the night on the top floor of the southerly end of the building, in the rooms occupied by a newly married couple.

A little later in the year fire started in the rooms of the Mt. Wollaston bank in the middle of the night. This is the fire that the night telephone operator discovered. The line leading to the bank rooms kept ringing and as he could get no response she thought something was wrong and telephoned police headquarters. An officer was sent to the building and looking through the window discovered the fire. Although considerable damage was done the quick witted telephone operator prevented a bad fire. This was also told to wires.

It was but a little later in the spring that a fire was discovered one Sunday noon on the extreme easterly end of the building. At this fire the apparatus responded to a still alarm and it was checked before much damage was done. Wires were also said to be responsible for this fire.

Shortly after this it was understood that the entire building was reviewed.

LAST OF MICMACS.

Dennis Meuse of Milton, one of the few surviving members of the Micmacs of Indians, passed away to the happy hunting ground Saturday night. His death was directly due to an abscess on the neck, he is survived by his squaw and three children, the oldest being a 17 year old boy, named for his father.

Dennis Meuse is probably one of the best known characters on the South Shore. He went to Milton many years ago and pitched his tent near the puritan spring, on the old trail through the Blue Hill Parkway. He had been here but a short time when he returned to Nova Scotia and claimed as his bride the daughter of the aged chieftain of the Micmac tribe.

Dennis in boyhood grew up in the Roman Catholic faith and for years has been a constant attendant of St. Mary's church. The sight of himself being trailed by his wife and she in turn by their children, on their way to late mass day after day was witnessed by the people of West Quincy.

VALENTINE PARTY.

The Valentine party given by the boys and girls of the Sunday school of the First church of Squantum Saturday evening in Richards hall was a great success. A large number of children were present with their parents.

The hall was attractively decorated with red and white crepe paper streamers. Red and white hearts were suspended from streamers and formed a border around the wall of the hall. On the platform at one end of the hall was a white tent and for a small sum Madam Valentine told fortunes. The fortune teller was impersonated by Mrs. Benjamin Goldbranson. She was dressed in white crepe paper covered with red hearts and cupid, and wore a big picture hat.

A dainty lunch consisting of heart shaped cookies, cake, coffee, chocolate tea was served through the evening by the following: Mrs. Herman Bergmans, Mrs. Hackerson, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. John Mardon, Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. S. Purcell.

Games were enjoyed, these being in charge of Mrs. W. Spargo.

Mrs. C. E. Carlson and Mrs. B. Goldbranson did the decorating.

Mrs. Carlson had in charge of the party and much credit is due her for the success.

ALEXANDER MICHAEL.

The funeral of Alexander Michael held Tuesday was held Friday Feb. 12, from the home of his mother, 23 Columbia avenue.

It was largely attended showing the high esteem in which he was held by his many friends. The Rev. Clarence Campbell officiated. Clam MacGregor No. 5, of which the deceased was a member, held services at the home. There was a large delegation present from that society. Burial was at Mount Wollaston cemetery.

The bearers were Charles Clark, Alexander Smith, Alexander Moffe, William Rennie, Peter Morton, John Hutchinson. There was a wealth of beautiful floral pieces.

QUINCY YACHT CLUB.

An important meeting of the executive committee of the Quincy Yacht club was held Friday, Feb. 12 at which time dates for the season's races and social events were decided upon. The club house will open for the season on Saturday April 17 and remain open until Saturday Oct. 30. The opening smoker will be held on Wednesday evening May 19, and the annual cup night on Wednesday Sept. 8. It was also voted that this year women should be invited to the cup night celebration.

Club races will be held every Saturday during the season from May 29, to Sept. 4, inclusive, also on Labor Day. The date for the annual open race can not be fixed until the Yacht Racing Union has made up its schedule.

The social events of the club will commence on Tuesday evening June 15, and hope will be held every Tuesday evening from that date to Sept. 14. On Thursday evenings from July 8, to Sept. 6 inclusive whist parties will be held at the club house.

The annual Ladies' day celebration will be on Wednesday, July 21, and the annual Ladies' night on Wednesday Aug. 25.

The sum of $1,000 was appropriated for the use of the house committee for the season.

Ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden, Crane, Ira Whittemore and Eugene R. Stone were appointed a committee on the matter of the nuisance of the Moon Island sewer.

With the outfit of this sewer as it is presented, it has become, it is claimed a menace to public health and a public nuisance to yachtsmen and the public in general who visit the shores of Quincy bay.

It is not infrequent to find the shores along Squantum Wollaston beach and Houghs Neck covered with refuse matter from the sewer.

The committee voted to send a letter to every yacht club in the state asking their assistance in making a vigorous protest in regard to the present outlet to the sewer and to use their influence to have the outlet closed. The letter will be sent to the local and state boards of health as well as to the city council and Metropolitan sewage commissioners.

LINCOLN DAY.

Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, and John J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps jointly observed Lincoln's Day in G. A. R. hall Friday, Feb. 12. Preceding exercises a supper was served to an attendance of over 150 members and friends.

During the intermission of the tableaux program there were selections by Lincoln by Bert Reed, violin selections by David Weinhouse; sketch from Uncle Tom's Cabin by Miss Ella Packard and S. Reed; piano selections by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, past president of the organization.

Past Commander Marston of Post 88 G. A. R., made the address of the evening in which he spoke in reminiscence of the days of the martyred president.

During the meeting of the tent it was voted to affiliate with the G. A. R. Relief Association. The delegates were Mrs. Mae F. Berry and Miss Ella M. Packard.

Mrs. Grignon, president of the tent announced the following advisory board: Mark Hanson, Francis P. Lous, George Phillips, William French, Harry Ford and Walter M. Packard.

CASE DISMISSED.

In the superior court at Dedham Feb. 12 Judge Adams dismissed a bill brought by Charles H. Wilson, a Quincy lawyer, who is the administrator of his father's estate, against his step-mother, seeking to have her ordered to transfer to him five shares of the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co., which his father had given her shortly before he died. It appears that the late Charles Wilson made no will but that he did transfer to his step-mother the stock in question, and it was this that his son and administrator desired transferred back to the estate.

Mrs. Wilson, who was a well known dealer in granite paving blocks died April 9, 1913 leaving an estate valued at about $50,000. In April 1908 he married the defendant, his first wife having died about a year previous and the stock in question was the largest single item in his property.

The judge finds the marriage was not a mercenary one, though no doubt the ability of Charles Wilson to support a wife and provide for her, even in case of his death, was not overlooked. The court also says the son was well cared for by his step-mother.

The court further says the father did not wish to make will and was content to have the law dispose of what he left. The stock in question was the largest single item of his property. Judge Wait said after the transfer of the shares to Mrs. Wilson she put them in her husband's safe and applied half the dividends before his death to obligations of his.

THALIA CLUB SOCIAL.

The first social of the High school year was held at the club gym Friday Feb. 12. The Thalia Club entertained the Boys' Debating club and a few others. Games were played until ten o'clock, then refreshments were served, consisting of cocoa, sandwiches and candy. The committee in charge were Mary Shine, Beatrice Rodgers and Mildred Harrison. Miss McCarty and Miss Brooks were in charge of the games.

A new game called the Circulating Library was introduced. Headmaster Collins and Mrs. Collins, Miss Howe and Miss Thayer were the invited guests. Westly Browne won the prize for forfeits, and Margaret Park won the prize for the best winner.

GIVEN BRONZE MEDAL.

Rev. Stephen C. Lang, Arthur B. Foster, Stewart T. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

Mrs. Lang, Arthur B. Foster and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31, have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and Thursday there arrived in Quincy a letter from the society.

GIVE "THE PIPER."

The second annual dramatic program of the Wollaston Woman's club was given Tuesday afternoon in Quincy Music hall, before a large audience which included, not only club members and guests from the home city but also large delegations from Boston, Milton and Abington.

The drama chosen was "The Piper" The prize play written by America's leading woman poet, Josephine Preston Peabody (Mrs. Lionel Marks). It was first produced on the evening of July 28th, 1910, at the Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon by a notable company, and in the following January had its first performance in America at The New Theatre, New York with Miss Edith Wynne Mathison in the leading role.

It is a play of great poetic feeling and power and the Wollaston club is proud to have presented its excellent presentation of so fine a piece of dramatic literature.

Miss Theodora Luard was in charge of the play, and the beautiful settings and the happy blending of color in the costume bore witness to her artistic skill. Miss Luard had the assistance of Mrs. Herbert J. Gurnea as stage director and coach, and the smoothness of the performance, the clever ensemble work of the populace and the children, and the effective tableaux gave an additional proof of the latter's well-known ability in this line.

The argument of the play is as follows: The Cheate-Devil of the Island has a few days after the Piper has rid the town of rats. Three strolling players (The Piper; Michael and Cheate-Devil in disguise) have performed a miracle play. The Burgomaster Jacobus, refuses to pay the Piper, claiming the patron saint has charmed the rats away. Thereupon the Piper, by his playing draws the children after him to the mountains. Michael stays behind having fallen in love with Barbara.

The Piper and children are seen in the "Hollow Hill." The children tell of their dreams. Cheate-Devil comes in with goodies and news that the Cheate-Devil has been declared that Barbara shall be sent to a convent. The Piper returns, meets Michael, who implores him to save Barbara. Veronika, the mother of Jan searches for her little lame boy.

Barbara and Michael are happily reunited. The Piper gives up the children to their parents in Hamelin and goes away to continue his work for the good of the world.

The strolling players were—The Piper, Miss Theodora A. Luard; Michael the Sword-Eater, Mrs. Arthur Whitman; Cheate-Devil, Mrs. Aylmer Hatch.

Men and women of Hamelin—Jacobus the Burgomaster, Mrs. H. N. Thomas; Kurt the cobbler, Mrs. Fleming; Peter the cobbler, Muriel May Badger; Hans the butcher, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield; Axel the smith, Mrs. John C. Merrill; Peter, the Sacristan, Marion Thomas; Anselin a young priest, Marion Hardy; Old Claus a miser, Mrs. C. Ernest Carr; Town clerk, Elsie Broughton; Veronika the wife of Kurt, Mrs. William J. Coby; Barbara, daughter of Jacobus, Mrs. L. W. Newell; wife of Hans the butcher, Mrs. Walter C. Brady; wife of Axel the smith, Mrs. Vernon H. Brokaw; Old Ursula, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell; Martin's wife, Mrs. M. G. Berry.

Children—Jan, Carolyn H. Lewis; Hansel, Mrs. Charles E. Swett; Isie, Miriam Brown.

Others in the cast—Burghers and children of Hamelin.

The scenes were—Act I. The Market-place in Hamelin; Act II. Scene one, Inside the "Hollow Hill" scene two, The cross ways; Act III. The Cross-ways; Act IV. The market-place in Hamelin.

Upon Miss Luard as The Piper fell the great burden of the play, the part being a long and difficult one. Her conception was clear, consistent and well-sustained. Her scenes with the children were given with lightness and delicacy, while in the prayer before the wayside shrine, at the close of the third act she reached a high degree of emotional power.

Mrs. Arthur Whitman was a striking figure as Michael the Sword-Eater. Her spirited acting and the beauty of her well-trained voice gave distinction to the character and her love scenes with pretty Barbara, the Burgomaster's daughter brought well merited applause.

Barbara as acted by Mrs. L. W. Newell was a dainty, winsome, maiden, and the exquisite picture she made as she woke from the spell that had been laid upon her by the Piper will long remain with those who saw it.

Mrs. Coby made Veronika a tender and sympathetic figure. Her lines were read most sympathetically.

Jacobus, the talkative Burgomaster was played with excellent judgment by Mrs. H. N. Thomas. Mrs. Fleming was handsome, keen and hard as the villain of the play—Kurt the Syndic.

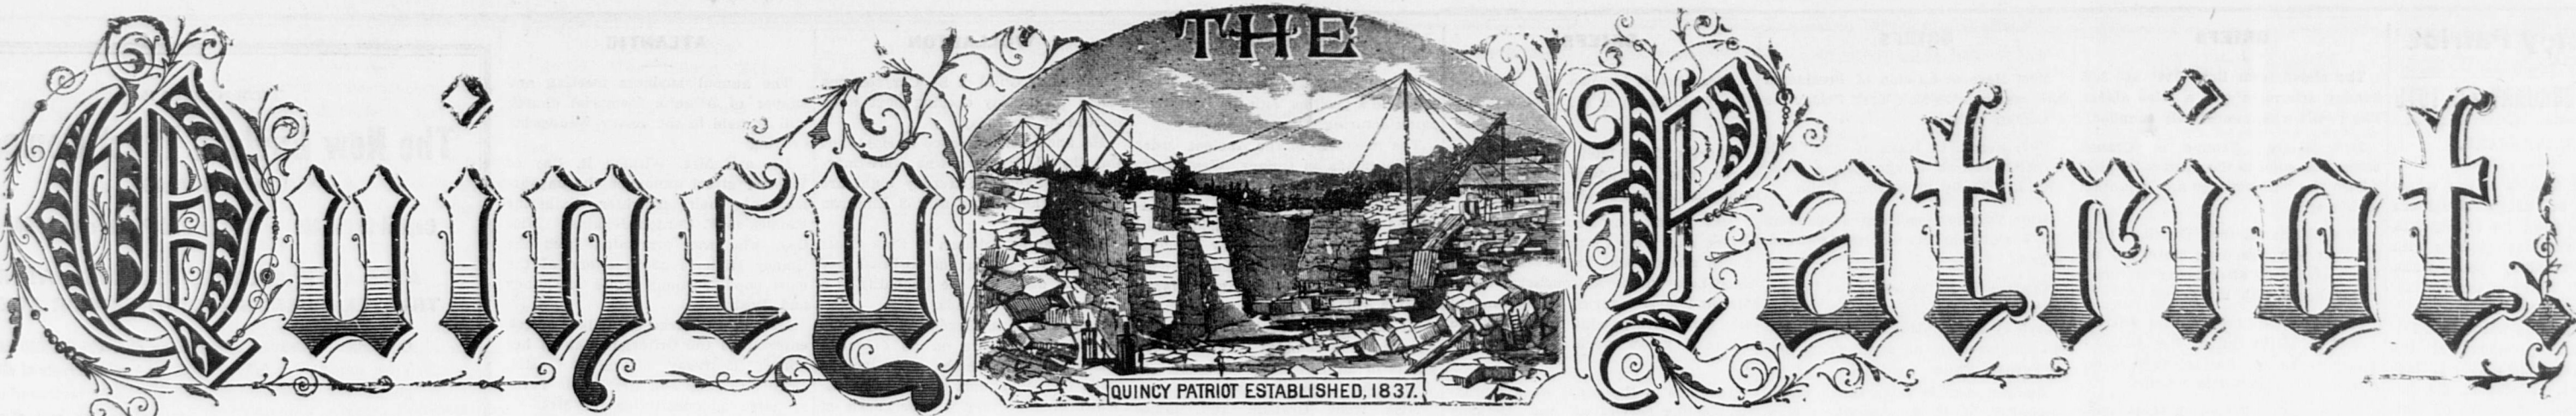

Mrs. Aylmer Hatch as the gentle young girl Veronika added a touch of humor that was appreciated.

Mrs. Theodora Litchfield, Merrill, Carr, Brady, Brokaw, Berry and Blaisdell, and Misses Badger, Hardy, Thomas and Patterson acted with spirit and intelligence in the scene in the market place and were very effective in the bewildered dance of the second act.

The children were delightfully natural and unconscious of their audience and added a novel and charming feature to the play. The lively Isie and Hansel of Miss Breen and Mrs. Sweet made excellent foils for the pathetic little Jan, well played by Miss Carr.

The music between the acts and incidental to the play was under the able direction of Miss Florence Olney. The chorus of Nuns was sung by members of the choral class of the club.

The committee in charge wishes to express their thanks to Thomas J. Flynn & Co. for the loan of the statue

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 9.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNINGS BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
if paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LANDS FOR SALE

MERRY MOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

JOHN W. McANARNEY

Counselor At-Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe and Mutual offices
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses paid in 94 Years, $132,931,553.48

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1827

Edham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

EDDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915

Amount at Risk, $9,201,721.16
Cash Assets, 645,704.62
Total Assets, $9,847,425.78
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 74,045.05
Amount of Cash Surplus, $9,773,380.73
Total Assets, $9,847,425.78
Total Liabilities, 74,045.05
Total Available Assets, $9,773,380.73
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent.; on three-year policies, 50 per cent.; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEIDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915

Amount at Risk, $2,863,917.57
Cash Assets, 645,704.62
Total Assets, $3,509,622.19
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 26,665.61
Amount of Cash Surplus, $3,482,956.58
Total Assets, $3,509,622.19
Total Liabilities, 26,665.61
Total Available Assets, $3,482,956.58
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent.; on three-year policies, 50 per cent.; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 10 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer
DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Treasurer
William A. Muller, Attorney
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street Railway Co.
John F. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington-Wild Co.
Sarel J. Willis, Bice Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-Fifth.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson In Use For Over Thirty Years CASTORIA

900 DROPS
ALCOHOL 5 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Infants
Simulating the Food and Regulating
the Stomach and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness
and Rest. Contains neither
Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Perfect Remedy for Constipation,
Sour Stomach, Worms,
Worms, Convulsions, Feverish
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Patented in U.S. and Foreign Countries.
AT 16 months old
35 Doses - 35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act of 1906.
Exact Copy of Wrapper.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset.
Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

BE MODERN

in your bath. Be good to yourself. Enjoy your morning plunge in an open plumbing Porcelain Lined bath.

We have them to suit your pocketbook.

We also do Steam, Hot Water and Furnace Heating.

GIVE US A CALL

Why wait until Fall to have your Heater cleaned?
Let us do it now when we can get the repairs quickly and give you prompt attention.

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
5 Maple Street
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 390 Aug. 8-14

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Quincy Women's Club Tenth Anniversary

A birthday is, or should be, a happy occasion and the tenth milestone of the Quincy Women's Club on Tuesday was a particularly happy one, bringing together at the clubhouse present and past members and many old friends.

In the afternoon the club kept open house. The club colors, gold and white were used in the decorations, yellow jonquils everywhere giving a brightness and springlike atmosphere to the clubhouse. Each guest was presented with a jonquil, and the ushers wore yellow and white badges.

An orchestra composed of Miss Josephine Durrell, violinist, Miss Marion Moorhouse, cellist and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, pianist played during the reception.

In the reception room standing in front of a bank of palms the officers of the club received from two until three o'clock in the line being: Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president; Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, first vice; Mrs. Hattie E. Turner, second vice; Mrs. George L. Badger, clerk; Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, treasurer; Mrs. Frank F. Prescott, auditor; also Mrs. Claude Gilson, Wellesley vice president of the State Federation; Miss Elizabeth Johnson, godmother of the club and Mrs. Charles A. Spear, a charter and also the oldest member of the Club, each of whom carried a bunch of violets, a gift of the club.

The ushers were: Mrs. Charles R. Safford, chairman assisted by Mrs. William E. Alden, Mrs. Herbert Albee, Mrs. Zevas S. Arnold, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Clarence Burgh, Mrs. Frederick S. Boyden, Mrs. Frederick L. Cheever, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. William H. Doble, Mrs. Samuel W. Ellis, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Thomas Fenno, Mrs. Otto A. Hayward, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John D. Mackay, Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Miss Edith Randall, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Mrs. Ida P. Ward, Mrs. Emily C. Wilde and Mrs. Jennie B. Worster.

Following the reception the president called the assembly to order for a brief business session it being the regular club meeting day. In her greeting to present and past members the president spoke feelingly of those who passed out of the club during the ten years, death having taken 26 members and a beloved president Mrs. George W. Morton.

Announcement was made of a gift to the club by Sue Rice of a book containing photographs of all the club presidents, so made that it could be added to as there was need from time to time.

Letters were read from Mrs. Mary C. Wade of Chicago, Mrs. Percy C. Holman of Kingston, Miss M. Flora Underwood of Salem and Mrs. Florence Pelelier Pope of New York regretting their absence.

The treasurer gave a resume of the finances of the ten years showing a large amount of money received and expended, the report calling out applause. As showing the work of visiting nursing carried on by the club since its organization Mrs. N. S. Hunting chairman of the present committee read the January report of the nurse.

The president graciously spoke of Mrs. Spear, the club's oldest member who was 92 years old, the day being the 73rd anniversary of her wedding. Mrs. Spear is young in years being interested in all good works as well as the woman movement. She responded in a few words telling how much she enjoyed the club and its associations.

The president carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses a gift from the music committee of the State Federation of which she is a member.

A short program to follow the business opened with a song by Miss Ruth Lloyd of Hartford, Conn., accompanied at the piano by William E. Weston. Miss Lloyd's rich and sympathetic voice gave much pleasure, especially her closing group of songs ending with "A Perfect Day."

Mrs. Gilson for the State Federation was the first speaker and was very happy in her remarks and said it must be a happy day for the club members as the club must have grown beyond even their expectations and become an influence and power in the community. She spoke of the memorial gift the club was to give to the city in the establishment of a school nurse and told of the benefit it would be to the city.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh was club historian and gave a brief but telling history of the ten milestones passed by the club. She said she was going back to her Mother Goose as follows: "This is the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built. This is the Club that lives in the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built."

"Once upon a time, in the beginning ten years ago, Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett, became godfather of this club commencing the gift of the use of this house for a home, and the godmother was Miss Elizabeth Johnson who arranged means of subsistence. The Home Science Association was to merge with the new club and its assembly and May festival were to help carry on Educational and Civic betterment work. Mrs. W. E. Alden and Mrs. H. M. Willard were asked to be sponsors and Mrs. J. W. Sanborn, Mrs. George S. Saville and the present speaker were its fostering mothers, who with the sponsors, the godfather and godmother planned for a Visiting Nurse which should be the charge of the infant club and give it a worthy motive for existence. But the club was really never an infant but sprung into existence 200 strong, then 250 and is now 400. The club has undertaken and accomplished much as briefly outlined by Mrs. Marsh and she was roundly applauded.

Miss Johnson introduced as the godmother of the club spoke briefly of her pleasure in being with the club and of her continued interest in all its accomplishments. She told how a few women met in a store in Boston and talked over a club and later in the Quincy depot and still later the large meeting in Bethany chapel.

The program closed with singing the club hymn written by Mrs. Irene Chipman Tirrell. Former officers of the club were seated on the platform.

An informal reception brought the afternoon to a close. Guests were invited to inspect the clubhouse, especially the beautiful new marble drinking fountain in the rear room presented by the 1913-1914 Education committee.

The Hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Walter E. Burke served coffee and frappe, the purveyors being two former presidents Mrs. Everett C. Burman and Mrs. Ellen W. Shepard. Mrs. E. Granville Pratt served the frappe. Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick had the decorations in charge.

The birthday observance continued in the evening a reception being held at the clubhouse from eight until nine o'clock. Mrs. Frank A. Emery chairman of the committee was assisted in presenting the guests by Mrs. Walter E. Burke served coffee and frappe, the purveyors being two former presidents Mrs. Everett C. Burman and Mrs. Ellen W. Shepard. Mrs. E. Granville Pratt served the frappe. Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick had the decorations in charge.

The past presidents were in the receiving line. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Everett C. Burman, Mrs. Herbert L. Turner and Mrs. Ellen W. Shepard. There was music by an orchestra made up of Max Pinkham, Herbert Packard and William E. Weston, which enlivened the reception.

When the club had assembled for the brief program to follow the reception the president extended the cordials of welcome to the guests. "You have already received the cordials of welcome from the club members, but I want to extend to you, the freedom of our Club home. It is yours, this evening, to enjoy as you will. It has my pleasant duty, during the two years of my service, to greet this platform on different occasions, the husbands and guests of the club members. This day has been an eventful one fraught with feelings of sadness as well as happiness for with the joy of greeting friends and clapping hands with former members has mingled the memory of many who have stood side by side with us in the ranks, but who are with us no more. Each passing year has taken its toll. One loved president is gone and 26 active members have passed on during the ten years. All honor to their memory!

A company which tested the capacity of our house gathered here this afternoon and we had the pleasure of entertaining guests from the State Federation and from sister clubs, as well as many former members of our own club.

Our oldest charter member, Mrs. Charles A. Spear has honored us with her presence in our receiving line. Today is the 73rd anniversary of her wedding day and Mrs. Spear has passed her 92nd birthday.

The ten years of our existence have been reviewed and the list of our achievements, of which we are justly proud, have been recited. We may have done some things which we ought not to have done, but I feel sure that we have left undone none of those things which we should have done, for according to the testimony of our good historian in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence. Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you. Our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc. and of course your good history in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises 6:24	6:24	6:24	6:24	6:24	6:24	6:24
Sets 4:52	4:52	4:52	4:52	4:52	4:52	4:52	4:52
Moons	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Mercury	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Venus	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Mars	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Jupiter	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Saturn	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Uranus	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Neptune	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81
Pluto	1.61	2.31	3.01	3.71	4.41	5.11	5.81

THE GAS REDUCTION.

Credit should be accorded Mayor Campbell, Senator Langelier and Mr. LaBrecque, chairman of the Public Lighting Committee of the Board of Trade for their efforts in behalf of less expensive gas in Quincy. As a result of the arguments which they presented the Massachusetts Consolidated Gas Companies, of which the Citizens Gas Light Co. is a subsidiary, have promised a ten cent reduction if the companies are able to pay a six per cent dividend at the close of the present fiscal year, June 30. Credit should also be accorded the company for meeting the Quincy delegation more than half way.

The company presented facts and figures apparently conclusive to anyone who held delusions that the company was earning big dividends. The local company paid no dividends for the first four years. The average dividend for eight years has been two per cent. It is stated, indicating that for the past four years the average has been four per cent.

The better average earning which appears likely in the future the company has consented to share with the consumer. This is the right attitude for a public service company to take and the gas company is to be commended.

CITIZENS OF QUINCY.

In a brief address which he gave to the High School Alumni association last December President of the Council Joseph L. Whiton, who was then acting as mayor, deplored the tendency to subsidize Quincy's dependence on little communities, all plying against each other and none for the good of the city as a whole. The Mayor reported the speech at length and commented editorially upon it at the time. Upon other occasions this paper has editorially expressed its agreement with Mr. Whiton's contention.

To the various improvement associations of different sections we wish all the success in the world. They can be, and are, powers for good composed of public spirited men, who, we believe, have the good of the city at heart. But there is sometimes a tendency to work for the interest of one section without any regard for the city as a whole.

This is wholly wrong. If Quincy is to be made a better place in which to live, the citizens, no matter in what geographical section they happen to live, must co-operate. They are citizens of Quincy, rather than of West Quincy, South Quincy, Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Wollaston, Norfolk Downs or Atlantic.

Can anybody inform us just what subtle connection there is between the coming of spring and the desire of young America to play marbles. Although the ice is not yet off the sidewalks and the calendar says that springtime has not yet officially arrived, we may be sure that it is on the way when the small boys begin to play marbles. It is as sure a sign as the bursting of the pussywills from their buds and just as reliable.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

A large and appreciative audience gathered Wednesday evening in the Quincy School hall at an entertainment given by the Parent-Teachers Association of Atlantic. A pleasing program was presented as follows:

Orchestral selections, White Trio Vocal selections, Mrs. S. J. Ripley and company.

T. A. Manning and Byron Miller. Fancy dances, James Kennedy and a few of his pupils.

Garland drill, "Sixteen young ladies One-act play, "On account of the lobster," with the following cast:

Mr. Langdon, Dwight Garway. His wife, Collina Brown. Reginald Gay. Maid, Nettie Coombe.

The selections by the Trio were very pleasing and heartily enjoyed. Mrs. Ripley, who was formerly a resident of Atlantic, sang with much feeling and expression. The novel and artistic number by Messrs. Manning and Miller kept the audience spell bound. Mr. Miller sang two vocal selections, one suggestive of an old New England homestead, and the second of picturesque Ireland. During the singing Mr. Manning with rapid and dexterous strokes painted in oil the two beautiful pictures the beauty of which was well enhanced by artistic lighting. The cases were well placed and supported framed pieces of glass 4x5 feet when the pictures were completed at the end of each song, the audience showed their appreciation by hearty applause.

Master James Kennedy, who gave an exhibition of finger dancing, deserved much praise for the dainty and graceful dances in costume. The first number "The dance of joy" was particularly pleasing. Miss Annie Kennedy, Miss Thelma Keay and another little miss, showing much grace and ease as they accompanied their teacher, who seemed the picture of motion. Little Ruth Wetmore was fascinating in the Sailor's Hornpipe, and Margaret Reardon was quite captivating in the Highland Fling. The little tots received much applause. The Garland drill was given by sixteen young girls in pretty pink gowns wearing gracefully worn of pink and blue.

The concluding number was well given. Mr. Langdon, the husband who had eaten too much lobster and suffered thereby with a headache, acted well his part, while the devoted wife was very sweet and attractive. Mr. Piddler proved most amusing and his love affairs with the pretty maid equally interesting.

Miss Mabel Lovejoy drilled the girls and coached the play. Miss Helen Hunt and Miss Marion Lettency were the accompanists.

MRS. MARY DEEHAN.

Mrs. Mary Deehan, wife of Cornelius Deehan, died at Elmira, N. Y. Tuesday. Her body was taken to Richmond, Me., where her funeral was held Thursday. Burial was at Portland, Me.

The deceased was the mother of George and Charles Deehan, both of Quincy street.

POLICE SHAFTEP.

"Your work is not a pleasure jaunt. You are put there for a purpose, and citizens expect you to do that service." Thus spoke Mayor Campbell to the members of the police department at roll call Wednesday night. The officers were lined up as usual at 7 o'clock before Capt. McKay who briefly introduced Mayor Campbell. The occasion was the announcing of the appointment of the new permanent officers, Joseph P. Sweeney, William J. Hebert, Nils Dahlberg, and Michael P. Canavan, as announced in Wednesday's Ledger. The Mayor also announced the appointment of the following reserve officers: George E. Ogle, Edward J. Martell, Joseph R. O'Neill, Thomas J. Fallon and George P. Hollinshead. These men are taken from the civil service lists.

It was also the occasion for the department to get the most thorough shaking up that it has had in years. Practically all of the day as well as the night officers have had their routes changed. An officer no longer assigned to beat in the same ward in which his home is located but has been transferred to a route in some other section of the city.

In announcing the new appointments the Mayor addressed the patrolmen saying:

Your duties gentlemen are to protect the interests of the citizens of this city. In accepting your appointments it is reasonable to suppose that you did so with your eyes wide open and a full appreciation of all the responsibilities connected with the same. The responsibilities are large, but having accepted them as you have it is obligatory on your part to fulfill them to the best of your ability. You gentlemen were appointed by my predecessors because it was believed you had that ability, therefore I urge you not to allow it to be said that you have betrayed that trust that has been confided in you by your appointments.

The entire police department has been in an unfortunate position the past year. Wholly innocent or friendly to be absent for some months, and that coupled with various other unfortunate circumstances has placed your department in rather an unfair position before the public. With this situation it is even more imperative that you gentlemen should be watchful in carrying for the interests of the city.

I concede gentlemen, that many unjust and unwarranted criticisms are heaped upon the heads of officials and the officers of the police department, but gentlemen just so long as I am the Mayor, no officer or official will receive censure from the executive department for unjust criticism, but on the other hand, no officer or official will be excused for unjust criticism. I shall always be glad to make note of any special work or act of meritorious nature done by an officer and give full credit for the same.

Your task is not an easy one, many of the routes are long and uninteresting, but so long as they exist we must have them. Look for your routes, long conversations with citizens on social, political or other matters not connected with your duties, will not be tolerated. Calling a box and boarding a car to reach the next box must cease. Overlooking cases of riotous drunkenness because of personal acquaintance is equally intolerable. You must stop, and I charge every one of you that your oath to properly perform your duty, whether to friend or foe, must be lived up to, or action will be taken to remedy the evil.

I have personally covered many of the districts patrolled by you gentlemen, the past few weeks. I have seen many of you in action. I regret to say that I have seen some of you inactive, leading an endue length in mail at call boxes, in stores, on cars, conversing with women, etc. Your work is not a pleasure jaunt, you are out there for a purpose, the citizens expect you to do that service. Any case of drunkenness by an officer will not be tolerated. Calling a box and boarding a car to reach the next box must cease. Overlooking cases of riotous drunkenness because of personal acquaintance is equally intolerable. You must stop, and I charge every one of you that your oath to properly perform your duty, whether to friend or foe, must be lived up to, or action will be taken to remedy the evil.

Immediately following the Mayor's little talk Capt. McKay read off the changes in the routes of the patrolmen, the past few weeks. I have seen many of you in action. I regret to say that I have seen some of you inactive, leading an endue length in mail at call boxes, in stores, on cars, conversing with women, etc. Your work is not a pleasure jaunt, you are out there for a purpose, the citizens expect you to do that service. Any case of drunkenness by an officer will not be tolerated. Calling a box and boarding a car to reach the next box must cease. Overlooking cases of riotous drunkenness because of personal acquaintance is equally intolerable. You must stop, and I charge every one of you that your oath to properly perform your duty, whether to friend or foe, must be lived up to, or action will be taken to remedy the evil.

DIVISION 5 MEET.

The regular meeting of Division 5 Ancient Order of Hibernians was held Wednesday night at Franklin hall, South Quincy. Final arrangements were made for the annual concert and select dates last evening. According to the delegate from the Bay State Yacht Club of Revere, that club also may hold an open regatta this season.

Instead of giving a championship pennant and medal for the championship winners of 1915, the new unit will award a blue, cork-of-war pennant to the championship winner, a red pennant to the second boat and a white pennant to the third. There will be awarded also for each race small square blue, red and white flags for first, second and third places.

MRS. PETER JOSEPHINE.

Mrs. Hannora Burke Josephine, wife of Peter Josephine, died at her home on Water street Tuesday evening after a long illness. She was in her 60th year.

Mrs. Josephine was well known in this city. She was born here at the President Lincoln was assassinated, April 14, 1864. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Burke of Hancock street, who is in her 70th year, survives her. Her father, William Burke was one of the first to enlist with Colonel Cass of the 9th Regt. and served throughout the Civil War.

Mrs. Josephine is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. E. Roy and Mrs. Mary Marrell, one son, Raymond, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Burke and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson.

The funeral took place on Friday morning a high mass of requiem being celebrated at St. John's church at nine o'clock.

GIVEN GAS RANGE.

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. August Carlson, 72 Cranch street, Saturday evening. They were presented with a large gas range. Mr. Thorvald Johnson made the presentation speech and acted as toastmaster. A committee of three, Mrs. C. Erikson, Mrs. P. Svenson, Mrs. Everson were in charge and a fine collation was served. Afterward singing and games were enjoyed till a late hour.

DAY ROUTES.

No. 1, West Quincy, Edward J. Curtin.
No. 2, South Quincy, John P. Duffy.
No. 3, Quincy Point, Edward Johnson.
No. 4, Bigelow street, Patrick A. Milford.
No. 5, City Square, James W. Murray.
No. 6, Wollaston, Jeremiah Hinchon.
No. 7, Atlantic, Charles T. Crooker.
No. 8, Houghs Neck, Michael Donovan.

NIGHT ROUTES.

No. 1, West Quincy, Nils Dahlberg.
No. 2, Brewer's corner, Alexander Black.
No. 3, Plains South Quincy, Daniel J. Ford.
No. 4, South Quincy, Thomas A. Malone.
No. 5, Last Half Quincy Point, William J. Hebert.
No. 6, Quincy Point, Jeremiah Dhoover.
No. 7, Washington street, Claus A. Broberg.
No. 8, Bigelow street, Daniel H. Doran.
No. 9, City Square, last half H. E. Corbett.
No. 10, City Square, D. L. Farrell.
No. 11, Butler road, M. P. Canavan.
No. 12, Adams street, Jeremiah Dhoover.
No. 13, Wollaston Hill, John J. Avery.
No. 14, Wollaston Plains, John J. Duane.
No. 15, Wollaston Park, Henry W. Thurn.
No. 16, Norfolk Downs, Joseph P. Sweeney.
No. 17, Barry's Corner, Joseph E. Reilly.
No. 18, Atlantic, J. McNamara.
No. 19, Houghs Neck, Daniel Shea.
No. 20, George P. Phillips.
No. 21, Charles Olson.
No. 22, George A. Cahill, James H. Whelan.

YACHT RACING UNION.

A number of important matters of interest to yachtsmen were acted upon at the evening meeting of the Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts at the American house. One of these important matters was fixing the schedule for open races counting for the Y. R. U. of M. championships. In these it is noted that the dates of racing under the auspices of the Quincy Yacht Club are as follows: Wollaston Yacht club July 3, Quincy Yacht club July 31, Quincy Yacht club August 17. The race for the Bermuda cup now held by the Squantum yacht club will be held under the auspices of that club on Labor day, Sept.

Instead of having the squadron run from Bass Point to Marblehead, as has been the custom in the last few years to open mid-summer week at Marblehead, the racing yachts that follow the circuit this year will make a run to Gloucester Sunday, Aug. 15, and will allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

By doing this mid-summer week at Gloucester Sunday, Aug. 15, and will allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

A second squadron run from Marblehead to Hull Sunday, Aug. 15, and will hold the annual rendezvous from Hull to City Point Sunday, Sept. 12.

All the active clubs of the bay, except the Cottage Park Yacht Club, will have at least one open regatta next summer, although the Columbia, Jeffries, Lynn and Muskegette did not allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

By doing this mid-summer week at Gloucester Sunday, Aug. 15, and will allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

A second squadron run from Marblehead to Hull Sunday, Aug. 15, and will hold the annual rendezvous from Hull to City Point Sunday, Sept. 12.

All the active clubs of the bay, except the Cottage Park Yacht Club, will have at least one open regatta next summer, although the Columbia, Jeffries, Lynn and Muskegette did not allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

A second squadron run from Marblehead to Hull Sunday, Aug. 15, and will hold the annual rendezvous from Hull to City Point Sunday, Sept. 12.

All the active clubs of the bay, except the Cottage Park Yacht Club, will have at least one open regatta next summer, although the Columbia, Jeffries, Lynn and Muskegette did not allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

EXALTED RULER LARKIN.

Edward D. Larkin, esteemed leader of Quincy lodge of Elks, was unanimously nominated exalted ruler Tuesday evening to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

Mr. Larkin is one of the most popular young men of the city and is the son of Mrs. Annie E. Larkin of 929 Hancock street. All candidates are unopposed for reelection.

Dr. James H. Maloney, esteemed leader of the Quincy lodge of Elks, was elected to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the business meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon announcement was made of the State Federation meeting at Somerville on Friday and members were urged to attend and keep in touch with the broader club work.

In place of the debate announced in the year book for 1915, there would be instead an art lecture by Mrs. Bumpus. It would also be the annual meeting and the biennial election of officers. The polls would be open at 2 P. M. The ballot was read by Mrs. Arnold chairman of the nominating committee.

A vote of thanks was extended to the present and past presidents of the club.

A full report of the club anniversary meetings will be found elsewhere.

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Women's Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Spooner on Revere road. At the business session, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George E. Spooner. Secretary, Mrs. Ida J. Crane. Treasurer, Mrs. George Sprague. Auditing Committee, Mrs. Isabelle Southern, Mrs. Mary Oxford and Mrs. Marjorie Arnold.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which the hosts served refreshments.

BOOK CLUB MEETS.

The Wollaston Book club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. Luke Hutchinson of North Central avenue. An interesting literary program was presented and dainty souvenirs, the work of the hosts, were won by Mrs. William E. Howard and Mrs. E. Pence Mitchell. A consolation prize was given Mrs. Percy Clapp.

At five o'clock the guests adjourned to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. The room was strikingly decorated with potted plants, jonquils and violets. The center of the table represented a Japanese garden, and at each place was a bouquet of violets. The beauty of the scene was further enhanced by the soft light of many candles.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 10 at the home of Mrs. E. Pence Mitchell of Belmont street.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Civic Improvements was the subject of a most enthusiastic meeting held by the Atlantic Improvement association. The meeting, which took place Thursday evening at Atlantic Music hall, was more than a meeting of the Atlantic association, it was a joint meeting of the associations of Atlantic, Norfolk Downs, Squantum and Montclair, and was largely attended. Each person wore a tag on which was written his name and the Association to which he belonged.

CHARLES H. GRINDLE.

Ex-Councilman Charles H. Grindle, long a well known resident of South Quincy, passed away at his home 55 Pleasant street, Wednesday, after an illness of more than a year, in his 74th year. Mr. Grindle was a granite blancher by occupation, although for the last part of his business life he had been engaged in manufacturing grates, with an office on Brook street.

Mr. Grindle was born in Penobscot, Me., in 1839 and received his education in the public schools of his native town. In 1870 he removed to Pichburg, where he remained several years coming to Quincy in 1880.

After locating in Quincy Mr. Grindle took an active part in the political affairs of the city, state and nation and for many years was an active worker on local level. He represented Ward Three in the city council of 1883 but declined a re-election the following year. He was again sent to the council of 1885. While serving as a member of the council he was a constant attendant at committee and council meetings. He was deeply interested in anything that would improve conditions in his own ward, although he also looked carefully after the welfare of the whole city.

CLUB MUSICALE.

Two hundred guests attended the musicale given by the Squantum Women's club in the hall of the New England Women's club Boylston street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. It was the most pretentious affair ever given by the Squantum Women's club and proved a great success. The special artist was Ethel Frank, the well known mezzo soprano soloist, who for a number of years has made her summer home in Squantum. Miss Frank was in excellent voice. Her technique was wonderful and the warmth of expression in her great variety of selections, demonstrated that she is an accomplished and talented singer. She was assisted by Miss Gertrude Morrison, reader. Miss Morrison, who is familiar to Boston audiences, proved herself a brilliant entertainer. Her selections were well chosen.

EXALTED RULER LARKIN.

Edward D. Larkin, esteemed leader of Quincy lodge of Elks, was unanimously nominated exalted ruler Tuesday evening to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

Mr. Larkin is one of the most popular young men of the city and is the son of Mrs. Annie E. Larkin of 929 Hancock street. All candidates are unopposed for reelection.

Dr. James H. Maloney, esteemed leader of the Quincy lodge of Elks, was elected to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the business meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon announcement was made of the State Federation meeting at Somerville on Friday and members were urged to attend and keep in touch with the broader club work.

In place of the debate announced in the year book for 1915, there would be instead an art lecture by Mrs. Bumpus. It would also be the annual meeting and the biennial election of officers. The polls would be open at 2 P. M. The ballot was read by Mrs. Arnold chairman of the nominating committee.

A vote of thanks was extended to the present and past presidents of the club.

A full report of the club anniversary meetings will be found elsewhere.

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Women's Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Spooner on Revere road. At the business session, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George E. Spooner. Secretary, Mrs. Ida J. Crane. Treasurer, Mrs. George Sprague. Auditing Committee, Mrs. Isabelle Southern, Mrs. Mary Oxford and Mrs. Marjorie Arnold.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which the hosts served refreshments.

BOOK CLUB MEETS.

The Wollaston Book club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. Luke Hutchinson of North Central avenue. An interesting literary program was presented and dainty souvenirs, the work of the hosts, were won by Mrs. William E. Howard and Mrs. E. Pence Mitchell. A consolation prize was given Mrs. Percy Clapp.

BICYCLE CLUB.

The Bicycle club of South Quincy held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday in Cien MacGregor hall. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the winter tournament in Cribbage and "63".

The winners in cribbage were: Welcomes Blake, first; Francis Morrison, second; David Miller, Entertainer.

The prizes in "63" were awarded to Thomas Douglas, first; James Watson, second; William McIntosh, third.

On March 24 the club will listen to a talk on political economy by Francis Morrison.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

At the regular meeting of the Women's Guild held in the assembly room of the parish church of St. Chrysostom's church Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Francis C. Lowell gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on "General Auxiliary work."

The meeting was largely attended by parishioners and guests, members of Christ church guild and Emmanuel church guild, Braintree.

Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, president, introduced Mrs. Lowell, president of the Massachusetts branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.

Mrs. Lowell said the auxiliary is an extension of the work Christ came to do. Mrs. Lowell spoke of the "quilt day" held each year. At Wollaston during a Diocesan conference an illustration was given to show one of the meetings of the Board of Missions the officers and chairman of the Auxiliary taking the parts of Dr. Lloyd and other members. Mrs. Lowell's description of it threw light on their great work in Cuba, Brazil, Mexico, Alaska, China and among the Indians, colored people and "Mountain Whites." The mission study classes make one familiar with the problems which the Board is trying to help its missionaries solve, to create in the parish a centre of missionary inspiration on that they will voluntarily offer prayers, service and money.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday March 5 at the home of Mrs. Henry Hatfield 100 North Central avenue. Mrs. John Benson, will speak on "Rescue work."

The March meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association will be held Monday afternoon at half past two at the Women's clubhouse, Presidents hill.

The annual meeting for the hearing of yearly reports and election of officers of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution is to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George T. Magee, Hancock street.

Miss Mary W. Holden of The Prescott apartments, Spear street is to be a hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club.

CLUB MUSICALE.

Two hundred guests attended the musicale given by the Squantum Women's club in the hall of the New England Women's club Boylston street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. It was the most pretentious affair ever given by the Squantum Women's club and proved a great success. The special artist was Ethel Frank, the well known mezzo soprano soloist, who for a number of years has made her summer home in Squantum. Miss Frank was in excellent voice. Her technique was wonderful and the warmth of expression in her great variety of selections, demonstrated that she is an accomplished and talented singer. She was assisted by Miss Gertrude Morrison, reader. Miss Morrison, who is familiar to Boston audiences, proved herself a brilliant entertainer. Her selections were well chosen.

EXALTED RULER LARKIN.

Edward D. Larkin, esteemed leader of Quincy lodge of Elks, was unanimously nominated exalted ruler Tuesday evening to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

Mr. Larkin is one of the most popular young men of the city and is the son of Mrs. Annie E. Larkin of 929 Hancock street. All candidates are unopposed for reelection.

Dr. James H. Maloney, esteemed leader of the Quincy lodge of Elks, was elected to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the business meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon announcement was made of the State Federation meeting at Somerville on Friday and members were urged to attend and keep in touch with the broader club work.

In place of the debate announced in the year book for 1915, there would be instead an art lecture by Mrs. Bumpus. It would also be the annual meeting and the biennial election of officers. The polls would be open at 2 P. M. The ballot was read by Mrs. Arnold chairman of the nominating committee.

A vote of thanks was extended to the present and past presidents of the club.

A full report of the club anniversary meetings will be found elsewhere.

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Women's Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Spooner on Revere road. At the business session, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George E. Spooner. Secretary, Mrs. Ida J. Crane. Treasurer, Mrs. George Sprague. Auditing Committee, Mrs. Isabelle Southern, Mrs. Mary Oxford and Mrs. Marjorie Arnold.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which the hosts served refreshments.

BOOK CLUB MEETS.

The Wollaston Book club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. Luke Hutchinson of North Central avenue. An interesting literary program was presented and dainty souvenirs, the work of the hosts, were won by Mrs. William E. Howard and Mrs. E. Pence Mitchell. A consolation prize was given Mrs. Percy Clapp.

BICYCLE CLUB.

The Bicycle club of South Quincy held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday in Cien MacGregor hall. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the winter tournament in Cribbage and "63".

The winners in cribbage were: Welcomes Blake, first; Francis Morrison, second; David Miller, Entertainer.

The prizes in "63" were awarded to Thomas Douglas, first; James Watson, second; William McIntosh, third.

On March 24 the club will listen to a talk on political economy by Francis Morrison.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

At the regular meeting of the Women's Guild held in the assembly room of the parish church of St. Chrysostom's church Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Francis C. Lowell gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on "General Auxiliary work."

The meeting was largely attended by parishioners and guests, members of Christ church guild and Emmanuel church guild, Braintree.

Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, president, introduced Mrs. Lowell, president of the Massachusetts branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.

Mrs. Lowell said the auxiliary is an extension of the work Christ came to do. Mrs. Lowell spoke of the "quilt day" held each year. At Wollaston during a Diocesan conference an illustration was given to show one of the meetings of the Board of Missions the officers and chairman of the Auxiliary taking the parts of Dr. Lloyd and other members. Mrs. Lowell's description of it threw light on their great work in Cuba, Brazil, Mexico, Alaska, China and among the Indians, colored people and "Mountain Whites." The mission study classes make one familiar with the problems which the Board is trying to help its missionaries solve, to create in the parish a centre of missionary inspiration on that they will voluntarily offer prayers, service and money.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday March 5 at the home of Mrs. Henry Hatfield 100 North Central avenue. Mrs. John Benson, will speak on "Rescue work."

The March meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association will be held Monday afternoon at half past two at the Women's clubhouse, Presidents hill.

The annual meeting for the hearing of yearly reports and election of officers of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution is to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George T. Magee, Hancock street.

Miss Mary W. Holden of The Prescott apartments, Spear street is to be a hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club.

CLUB MUSICALE.

Two hundred guests attended the musicale given by the Squantum Women's club in the hall of the New England Women's club Boylston street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. It was the most pretentious affair ever given by the Squantum Women's club and proved a great success. The special artist was Ethel Frank, the well known mezzo soprano soloist, who for a number of years has made her summer home in Squantum. Miss Frank was in excellent voice. Her technique was wonderful and the warmth of expression in her great variety of selections, demonstrated that she is an accomplished and talented singer. She was assisted by Miss Gertrude Morrison, reader. Miss Morrison, who is familiar to Boston audiences, proved herself a brilliant entertainer. Her selections were well chosen.

EXALTED RULER LARKIN.

Edward D. Larkin, esteemed leader of Quincy lodge of Elks, was unanimously nominated exalted ruler Tuesday evening to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

Mr. Larkin is one of the most popular young men of the city and is the son of Mrs. Annie E. Larkin of 929 Hancock street. All candidates are unopposed for reelection.

Dr. James H. Maloney, esteemed leader of the Quincy lodge of Elks, was elected to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection, despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the business meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon announcement was made of the State Federation meeting at Somerville on Friday and members were urged to attend and keep in touch with the broader club work.

In place of the debate announced in the year book for 1915, there would be instead an art lecture by Mrs. Bumpus. It would also be the annual meeting and the biennial election of officers. The polls would be open at 2 P. M. The ballot was read by Mrs. Arnold chairman of the nominating committee.

A vote of thanks was extended to the present and past presidents of the club.

A full report of the club anniversary meetings will be found elsewhere.

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Women's Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Spooner on Revere road. At the business session, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George E. Spooner. Secretary, Mrs. Ida J. Crane. Treasurer, Mrs. George Sprague. Auditing Committee, Mrs. Isabelle Southern, Mrs. Mary Oxford and Mrs. Marjorie Arnold.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which the hosts served refreshments.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kirtland,
H. P. O'Brien,
C. P. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Curran,
Branchfield & Martens,
Branchfield & Martens,
Peter L. Litchfield,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
South Terminal Station,
Quincy,
Quincy,
City Square,
Quincy,
Quincy Depot,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Atlantic,
Atlantic,
Quincy Adams,
West Quincy,
West Quincy,
East Milton,
Boston.

FIRE MEN BUSY.

The fire department put in a busy evening Feb. 19 being called out on two bell alarms. The first alarm sounded at 7:33 and was from Box 42. This was for a fire in a coach on the corner of Water and Granite streets. The coach was located in the photographic studio. No time was lost in throwing the coach out of the window. The loss will not exceed $50.

The alarm from Box 119 at 8:40 called the department to a fire at Rock Island which made a blaze that seemed an illumination that could be seen for miles, giving the impression that a conflagration was in progress. The fire was in the summer cottage of Mrs. Edith A. Haynes, 250 Massachusetts avenue, Boston. Mrs. Haynes was at the cottage Friday and it was supposed that she built a fire to warm the building and that the blaze in some way started from this.

The house of Mrs. Haynes was completely destroyed and the adjoining house of Lawrence Murphy of the Boston Water Works department also took fire but was not much damaged.

W. W. OSBORNE.

The funeral of Weston W. Osborne was held Friday Feb. 19, at 2:30 o'clock from Christ Episcopal church with which he had for many years been closely identified. The services were conducted by Rev. William Grainger, with music by the vestal choir. Incidentally representing the first funeral of Rev. Mr. Grainger since he became rector of Christ church.

The services were largely attended, and included delegations from Adelphi lodge of Masons of South Boston of which the deceased was a past master as well as delegations from St. Stephen's Royal Arch chapter and Quincy Commandery Knights Templar, Unit Lodge 1, O. O. F. of South Boston, and Unit Lodge A. O. U. W. of South Boston. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes as did the officers of Christ church and many personal friends.

The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, the bearers being Walter Deacon, representing the officers of the church, Abbott L. Melcher, a neighbor and close personal friend, Mrs. B. O. O'Brien, representing St. Stephen's Chapter and Quincy Commandery, and Mr. Sanford, Mr. Wood, Mr. Brackett representing the South Boston lodges.

SQUANTUM CHURCH.

An enjoyable entertainment was given February 19 in the auditorium of the First church of Squantum under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. Jonquills and potted plants were used as decorations in the main hall and in the ladies parlor where refreshments were served to the talent. Yellow crepe paper streamers and bouquets of jonquills on the tables and mantles made the room very attractive.

The program consisted of violin solos by Mrs. Joseph Thorley accompanied by Miss Hazel Ward, at the piano; an orchestra of four violins played by Mrs. Thorley, Marjorie Thorley, Pauline Elliot, Mr. Morse and cornet by Charles Bowditch; readings by Miss Adelaide Parrott; piano solos by Mr. Lundberg; vocal solos by Miss Josephine Davidson; whistling solos by Joseph Uppingham accompanied by Joseph Uppingham, were finely rendered and greatly enjoyed by the audience. Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, and coffee were served in the Richards hall.

Mrs. Richardson, president of the ladies aid, was assisted by Mrs. Joseph Uppingham, Mrs. S. Harris, Mrs. William Spargo, Mrs. J. R. Nelson, as ushers; Mrs. John Marden, Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. Lingen, Mrs. Gregory as servers; Mrs. J. R. Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppingham, Mrs. James Currie, Mrs. Matthew McGrain as decorators.

MALCOLM-MCKENZIE.

Chester Malcolm, a popular young man of West Quincy, was married Feb. 19th to Miss Belle McKennie of North Weymouth, by the Rev. Wm. Grainger at the rectory of Christ Episcopal church.

The best man was Arthur Allen of Dorchester and the bridesmaid was Miss Jennie Malcolm, sister of the groom.

Mr. Malcolm is the son of Mrs. Bess Dunn of 15 Hill street. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKennie and is very well known in Weymouth and Braintree.

After a short trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm will live in North Weymouth.

AT CHRIST CHURCH.

Special Lenten services are to be held at Christ church as follows: Wednesday mornings at ten o'clock Holy communion; Thursday afternoons at half past three for women; Friday afternoons at four for children; Friday evening at quarter of eight Lenten and address.

The rector, Rev. William Grainger, proposes to give sermons and addresses as follows:

Thursday—The Gospel Story.

Children's service—Stories from Genesis.

Friday—Seven English Hymn Writers.

Sunday A. M.—Five Reasons for being a Churchman.

Sunday P. M.—Some Old Testament Characters.

A BAD FIRE.

Merrily singing "It's a long way to Tipperary" 200 children and 500 adults filed safely out of Music hall Monday afternoon when the building was discovered to be on fire. One boy started to shout "fire" but before he could repeat his cry he was shoved forcibly through the door. The remainder of the audience not knowing what had happened fled out through the main entrance and through the fire escapes on the west side of the building.

The fire was in the basement of Remick Bros. store who occupy the entire first floor of the Music hall block. Their stock in trade was damaged upwards of $20,000 and the building damaged $6,000.

The afternoon performance had not been long in progress when some of the performers back of the stage noticed smoke coming up. They fled without stopping to investigate. John Fortner rushed to the front and shouting "Everybody sing Tipperary." He began to play the air on the piano. At the same time Patrick and Joe Erwin who were back of the stage rushed out and with John Erwin threw open the doors leading to the fire escape and opened wide the doors of the main entrance and forming the audience in three lines marched them out. In less than three minutes the hall was entirely emptied. One boy saw the smoke and shouted "fire" but before he could repeat his cry John Erwin grabbed him and forced him through the door.

Many firemen were overcome by the thick black smoke which filled the basement and for some time prevented them getting inside the basement and at the seat of the fire. Early in the fire John Minahan of Auto 1, taken out of the rear entrance to the basement. He had been overcome by the smoke and was unconscious. He was laid on a platform and the pulmotor brought into use. Dr. W. H. Blanchard of the Red Cross hospital at the Fore River assisted the pulmotor assisted by Officers Cahill and Whelan and after the fire fighter had been revived he was taken to his home in the police auto.

An hour later Paul Avery of Combination 2, Quincy Point, collapsed. He had been partly overcome several times but as soon as he had somewhat revived, returned to work. The pulmotor was applied but it was cold and Dr. Reardon who was at the scene ordered Avery removed to the City Hospital.

Murdoch McDonald of Auto 1 was overcome and after partly recovering was led home by a friend, William B. Gerry and William Creedon of Auto 2, were also so much overcome that they had to give up duty and went to the central station. Chief Billings was almost overcome several times but stuck to his post and after breathing a little fresh air immediately returned to work. Others who were overcome, but returned to work were John C. Gallagher of Combination 2 at Quincy Point, Edward Barry of Auto 1, William Ericson of Combination 1, Cornelius O'Connell of Auto 2, Fred L. Lander 2, John Desmond of Auto 1, William H. Sands of Hose 2, Maurice Creamer of Auto 1, William Carroll of Auto 1, Fireman Metcalf of the West Quincy apparatus got a crack on the leg with a nozzle which had been during the remainder of the fire he did not give up.

Some of the men overcome although advised to give up and go to the station refused to do so. At one time it was reported that two men were in the basement. Chief Billings sent a squad of men to the rescue. Just at this time however William B. Gerry and William Creedon crawled out and toppled over. After being revived they went to the central station.

It was the hardest kind of a fire to fight. All of the fire was in the basement and the only way to get at it was through the main hall. There was among a lot of old paper which had been bundled and then piled up in one part of the basement. It was this burning paper that caused the smoke. Edward A. Damon, the engineer of the building was the first to discover the fire. He saw smoke coming through the walls into the engine room and immediately took the engine to the central fire station. He then ran to Box 23, the danger box, which was sounded at 1:35. Half an hour later a general alarm was sounded bringing all of the apparatus of the city with the exception of Houghs Neck. Capt. McKay and Inspector Goodhue responded with the patrol wagon and pulmotor and a squad of officers. The street was immediately roped off to keep back the large crowd.

At no time did the fire get to the street floor but the main store was so filled with a black stifling smoke that it was impossible for a man to remain inside the room. Dr. Blanchard of the Fore River Red Cross hospital was one of those early on the scene and he brought with him the self-rescuing appliances, such as are used at the Fore River fire station, and a portable vessel where a fire starts. This apparatus is hung about the neck and has a small tank of oxygen attached. The mouth piece is placed over the mouth and nose and as long as the oxygen lasts a man can remain in a room of the thickest kind of smoke. These enabled the firemen to enter the basement and then they began to throw out the bundles of old paper and the fire was under control. The recall sounded at 5:30 P. M.

HULLMAN MUSTERED IN.

Arthur B. Hullman, assistant court officer, officially became the largest man in the state militia on Washington's birthday when he was mustered into the M-G Co., 6th Regt. M. V. M. during Gov. Walsh's reception at the State House. Four others, Henry M. Purnall, Joseph R. French, John A. Purcell and William Childs were also sworn in. The oath was administered by Capt. Gilson, Co. B. of Pittsburg, in the presence of Col. Warren E. Sweetser, 6th Regt., and Lieut. George M. Downes in charge of organizing the company.

Others now in the service are Frank M. Chubbuck, Dr. John H. Anderson, Francis R. Sullivan, Alfred N. LaBrecque, Terence McManus, William C. Hoad, Robert A. Mullaney, Lieut. Sidney C. Hardwick, attached to the surgeons staff, 5th Regt. M. V. M. will examine more candidates in Alpha hall this evening.

YE OLSEN DAYS.

How many can remember the beginning of the Public Library in Quincy? A few of us met somewhere about half a century ago, around at the different houses and discussed the establishment of a public library.

Among our number was Mr. Greenough who lived on the place now owned by Harry L. Rice on Adams street, I think Mr. Greenough built the house. He was chief spokesman of the movement, as he was one of the trustees of the Boston Public Library and knew all about the "Modus Operandi."

Others of our number were the late James Edwards, Edwin W. Marsh, Cotton Center Johnson and others, whose names I fail to remember and none of whom are living so far as I know.

After the movement was well organized, a library was established in what was known as the old brick building on Hancock street, opposite the bakery on Hancock street. When Mr. Crane furnished the funds for a new library, now known as the Thomas Crane Public Library the books were moved there.

I suppose there must be a few living who remember old Doctor Woodward, who bought all that tract of land known as the Greenleaf estate, on which Daniel Greenleaf a bachelor lived and before him the Quineys; a large territory extending in the north-easterly direction to Black's creek and also to the estate of John Quincy Adams, on Merrymount.

I went to school about 30 years ago with the intention of purchasing house and land bordering said Adams estate and the extreme northerly end of Greenleaf street but his reply was "I wouldn't sell that house and land for its weight in gold. That is the watch dog to keep John Quincy Adams from gaining an entrance to Greenleaf street from his estate." I endeavored to get him to have him unite with me to lay out and build that road, and he refused to give a cent towards it, hence he will never gain an entrance anywhere on that side of his estate as long as I live nor any of my descendants. Hence he was obliged to go on out near the Mt. Wollaston cemetery, a round-about way to reach his father's (Hon. C. F. Adams) residence.

"Paddy Hollow" was a prominent location in early days, located in the region of Kincaid's furniture store, near the town brook as it passed across Hancock street. Pantons' house was located there and nearly by oneself until several days when Frank Williams' tannery and further up the street near the junction of Franklin and School streets in early days was the Tiger engine house, and when the Tiger and Niagara engine companies met and tried to overthrow the others in pumping into it here were exciting times not only for the boys but the men.

On the Tiger engine house was a dining of a fire scene and the sculptured head of a tiger, artistically fashioned, by old master Seaver, who taught in the old stone school house in South Quincy the sign was held in great reverence by the boys of that period.

The old fellow was rather severe in his discipline when he got mad. You could see him pass down the aisle with a switch in his hand gritting his teeth. You didn't know whether he was coming for you, until he reached the victim and laid the switch on the yelling fellow's back, or whispering or something of the sort. That was the method then of school discipline. Some times he would send a boy up into the Common to cut a bunch of switches. An up-to-date boy would, with his knife cut in almost invisible gash in the stick of the teacher's dismay there he was as effective as he desired; but quite to the satisfaction of the boy whipped.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN'S CLUB.

John A. O'Keefe, fire prevention commissioner of the Metropolitan district, delivered an interesting lecture on fire prevention and elimination of the fire hazard, at the monthly meeting of the Wollaston Congregational Men's club, Tuesday evening.

The speaker was treated to a novel introduction by Mayor Campbell, president of the club. President Campbell stated that he did not feel equal to introducing such a distinguished speaker but would call on the mayor of the city to do the honors.

President Campbell then sat down and up rose Mayor Campbell who delivered a burlesque political speech and fittingly introduced the speaker.

Com. O'Keefe proved himself a sworn enemy of the wooden shingle, which he declared to be mainly responsible for the disastrous spreading of fires. "These act in two ways," he said, "The fire finds its way through the roof and the hot air carries the burning shingles for miles. If these light on the house tops they find great food in dry curled up wooden shingles."

The loss at Chelsea might have been greatly cut down and that of Salem might have been kept within its first $100,000 loss, had it not been for the wooden shingle. As it was burning shingles were carried four miles across the harbor and started eight or ten incipient fires in Marblehead.

I am working hard to have incorporated in the ordinance of every town and city in the metropolitan district regulations providing that on all new constructions or major repairs non combustible roof covering or fire resisting shingles be used."

Commissioner O'Keefe declared that for a dollar more per square many kinds of fire resisting shingles and roof coverings could be had. Causes of fires from negligence were taken up; such as smoking in bed, careless disposal of cigarettes and children playing with matches.

"The careless use of gasoline in the home and garage was mentioned and the use of substitutes, whenever possible, was urged. The speaker told of many constructive measures for fire prevention now being set in operation."

In conclusion Commissioner O'Keefe, paid a high tribute to the efficiency of Chief Billings of this city. "Chief Billings," he said, "has taken interest in problem after problem and until two years ago when they met at Manila, where Miss Schnell was visiting her sister, Mrs. Carleton Fraser, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Manila. She returned just before the outbreak of the European War. The marriage was performed at Mt. Pleasant, Feb. 6, and the couple left immediately for San Francisco from which they sailed last Saturday."

The marriage of Miss Schnell and Mr. Moir was anticipated in the early fall of this year.

Mr. Moir resigned from his government position last July and was in Germany when the war broke out and he reached here after long delays and expected to devote himself to business.

Late in January he was asked to reconsider his resignation and he returned a favorable answer on his promotion to first assistant of the bureau.

Miss Schnell immediately resigned her position as a teacher in the Muscatine High school and prepared for her wedding. She has taught in the State College at Ames as an assistant and in the University of Iowa at Iowa City and while at Wesleyan was elected to Oita Phi, the honorary society at the college, election to which is by the faculty.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas has issued the following building permits this week:

Leroy S. Hinxman, dwelling, East Elm avenue.

H. L. Eldridge, garage, Royal street.

Mary E. Sullivan, dwelling, Charles street.

M. S. Kellher, garage, Oak street.

George Lamprose, alteration, Revere road.

Oriental Fossati, dwelling, Kendrick avenue.

A. R. Wells, cottage, Pawsey street.

John Horzant, dwelling, Shoreham road.

S. H. Littlefield, dwelling and garage, Ocean street.

A. E. Stephenson dwelling, Freeman street.

Hymen Katz, dwelling, Walnut street.

W. L. Jefferson, dwelling, Hamilton street.

Mary A. Buckley, dwelling, Bayfield road.

George W. Glover, garage, Green street.

Mildred D. Richmond, dwelling, Payette street.

W. B. Grant, dwelling, Freeman street.

CHRIST CHURCH.

An adjourned meeting of Christ church parish was held Tuesday evening at the parish house. The meeting was called to straighten out a technicality in a loan the parish is to make.

Following the parish meeting there was a meeting of the vestry of the church. At this meeting a meeting of the men was arranged for next Monday evening. The object of the meeting is to enable the new rector to meet all of the men together.

Committees were appointed on the church, vestry, grounds and finance as follows: Church, William H. Deacon, Roy Prout, S. A. Moyle, W. E. Burke.

Parish House and Parish, W. S. Torrey, Archibald McLeod, W. G. Spargo, Music, William L. Thomas, H. C. Halliwell, Charles M. Chase.

Finance, Albert L. Barbour, William L. Thomas, Charles E. Haskins, Charles L. Hammond, Byron C. Miller.

Preliminary steps were taken for improvements of the parish house and grounds.

The office of first assistant to the commissioner of public works, instituted a year ago by Mayor Miller in order to get rid of Michael B. Shea, the general foreman of the street department has in turn been abolished by Mayor Campbell and the office of General Foreman has again been established. Michael E. Shea has been appointed, his appointment to take effect March 1.

Mr. Shea was first appointed under Finance, Albert L. Barbour, William L. Thomas, Charles E. Haskins, Charles L. Hammond, Byron C. Miller.

When Mayor Miller came into office he requested Foreman Shea to resign but the latter refused point blank. In order to get rid of him Mayor Miller abolished the office.

THE BROWNIE BALL.

"The Brownie Ball" or Vivian's Adventures in Wonderland" was successfully repeated Friday Feb. 19 in Wollaston school hall by the 250 children of the Massachusetts Fields school before a capacity audience, which left only standing room and not much of that.

The action ran most smoothly and both principals and chorus excelled their performance of the night before. A number of the principals were recipients of floral tributes.

During intermission several delightful violin solos were played by Miss Marion Baker accompanied by Miss Baker. Preceding the performance an instrumental overture was played by Charles E. Decker.

Candy was sold at intermission by a group of young women in costume consisting of Dorothy Joyce, Suzanne Sweeney, May Kappeler, Ella Aberg, Doris Browne, Edith Marr, Mabel Routine and Florence Hall.

In charge of the candy were: Mrs. S. J. Ripley, Mrs. A. V. Bassett, Mrs. Charles A. Richardson, Mrs. Albert Slay, Mrs. George Broadbent, Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Edward Chapman. The ushers, principally teachers of the school were: Misses Grace Spinney, Lillian Waterhouse, Annie L. Blacklock, Marjorie Miller, Olive Moody, Blanche Morris, Jennie Kennedy and Alice Moody.

On the general committee were: Mrs. Halley M. Fowler, assistant to the director, Mrs. Charles E. Decker and Mrs. F. N. Danforth, costumes; Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Florence Gammons and Miss Annie Bennett, stage assistants.

MOIR-SCHNELL.

Frederick Moir, son of Mrs. Alexander Moir of 419 Hancock street, who graduated at Harvard in 1909 with a "magna cum laude" and has since been in the civil service bureau of the Philippines, and his bride, Helen Schnell of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio are spending their honeymoon by sailing to their new home in Manila, P. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Moir were strangers until two years ago when they met at Manila, where Miss Schnell was visiting her sister, Mrs. Carleton Fraser, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Manila. She returned just before the outbreak of the European War. The marriage was performed at Mt. Pleasant, Feb. 6, and the couple left immediately for San Francisco from which they sailed last Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Schnell and Mr. Moir was anticipated in the early fall of this year.

Mr. Moir resigned from his government position last July and was in Germany when the war broke out and he reached here after long delays and expected to devote himself to business.

Late in January he was asked to reconsider his resignation and he returned a favorable answer on his promotion to first assistant of the bureau.

Miss Schnell immediately resigned her position as a teacher in the Muscatine High school and prepared for her wedding. She has taught in the State College at Ames as an assistant and in the University of Iowa at Iowa City and while at Wesleyan was elected to Oita Phi, the honorary society at the college, election to which is by the faculty.

LEGISLATURE PASSES BILLS.

Two of the important Quincy matters before the legislature this year have been passed and have been signed by the Governor. This year in the legislature these matters are known as special acts. The first of these to pass is known as Chapter 29, and allows the city to appropriate a sum not exceeding $100,000 in any one year for the city hospital.

The second act is an amendment to the charter and is known as chapter 32. This provides that in case of a vacancy in the membership of the city council, after a majority of the members thereof have taken oath, that the vacancy may be filled by the majority members of the council. It also provides that if a vacancy occur in the office of the mayor after having taken the oath of office, the president of the city council shall assume the duties of the office.

This is taken to mean that when the president of the council assumes the duties of the office of mayor that his membership in the city council shall cease and that the council will fill this vacancy in the manner provided, and then elect a new president.

Another act which is of more or less interest to Quincy is that which allows cities and towns to appropriate money for the celebration of holidays. This act also allows cities and towns to appropriate a sum not exceeding one fifth of one per cent of its valuation in the year the appropriation is made for providing suitable quarters for the grand army. The act also allows cities and towns to appropriate money for armories.

Q. H. S. REUNION.

The reading of the statistics of the class of 1911 of Quincy High school, quotations of members and the characteristic songs applied to them, as printed in the graduation number of the Golden Rod of that year was a pleasant feature for 25 couples who attended the first reunion, Saturday evening in Colonial hall.

Miss Clara Thompson, teacher of mathematics at High school and Miss Margaret Lennon, secretary to Headmaster, were the only ones of the class who were present. Both received a warm welcome from those present.

Washington birthday favors were distributed and all joined in singing popular songs of the day, after which there was a confetti battle when dozens of paper balls were thrown through the class of cold tissue which filled the hall. A great portion of the evening was devoted to dancing, music being furnished by Samuel Sears.

During a short meeting it was voted to have the reunion committee permanent appointees and to hold the affair at the hotel. The committee was Paul Blackmar, Miss Dalsey Brooks, Sydney Crane, Miss Edna Rose, Miss Jean Arthur, Millard Chapman.

ENGAGEMENT TEA.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street gave a tea Sunday afternoon to their daughter, Miss Mary M. Faxon, whose engagement to Lemuel Bannister of New York was announced Saturday.

The tea was from four to six and during those hours Miss Faxon and Mr. Bannister were the recipients of the hearty good wishes and congratulations of scores of relatives and friends. Mrs. Faxon assisted them in receiving.

A profusion of lovely flowers filled the rooms, roses, pinks, violets, orchids, and lilies of the valley. The tables from which coffee, tea and ice cream were served, were also beautifully adorned. The servers were Mrs. Joseph Morrison of Exeter, N. H., Miss Clarence Doble, Miss Constance Sears, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth of Bronx, N. Y., and Miss Eleanor Drinker.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely Vegetable. Safe.

GRANITE LODGE.

Granite lodge, Sons of St. George, held its 29th annual concert and ball in Music hall February 19 with a large attendance. The guests of the evening included the English born and their sons and daughters of Quincy and vicinity.

The concert program consisted of a minstrel show and professional performers. The minstrels were Matt Fay, Adolph Restelli, George Davey and Charles Vanner. Their repertoire included the popular song hits of the day, parodies and up-to-the-minute jokes.

The grand march, which opened the second half of the program, was headed by President and Mrs. Edward J. Warrington. Jr. There were 70 couples in line. A buffet luncheon was served until 2:30 when the party came to a close.

The floor director was Stanley Collins and the assistant floor director was J. Ernest Collins. The aids were William Dunstan, John Tate, Charles S. Ripley and Edward J. Warrington, Jr. The reception committee was Thomas J. Smith, chairman, John Tate, Edward J. Warrington, Jr., J. Ernest Collins, Stanley Collins, Chas. Vanner, George Dixon, John Tate, William Dunstan and Frank Bulmer.

MEETINGS.

On Sunday afternoon will be held the first of a series of men's meetings in the Kincaid Theatre. The speaker will be Ora Samuel Gray who was born on a farm in northern Vermont and lived for a good many years. He worked for his education and therefore appreciates the value of honest toil.

For the past ten years he has been lecturing to large audiences. In connection with his lectures he has found time to travel to thousands of men at Y. M. C. A. men's meetings. He has been at the Indianapolis and Baltimore associations. His subject will be "Will the Old Ship Stand the Storm." From three to thirty-three the Wollaston Cadet Band will render a concert.

On Sunday, March 7, Austen T. Kempton of Cambridge will give a Drama Talk on "Lost and Found." Mr. Kempton has gained wide reputation in the giving of his drama talks and is now making a deep impression upon his hearers. The band will play another concert.

Fred L. Willis, for many years General Secretary of the Worcester Association, will be the speaker. At the third meeting. The speaker for the last meeting will be announced later.

WEI PING CHEU, SPEAKER.

A good sized audience listened to the inspiring address on China by Wei Ping Cheu of Boston University at the Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday morning. Mr. Cheu is a speaker of pleasing personality and while there is a deep and sincere earnestness about all that he says and does his wit and humor are contagious.

What great advance he inquired can a few missionaries make among so many millions of people when the proportionate amount of sin and vice are shipped into China at the same time. China has made a noble effort to rid her country of its greatest curse, opium, and succeeding, yet what lasting good effects can result when Christian nations are sending cigarettes and liquor into China.

Mr. Cheu gave several good reasons why the Chinese people should show an antagonistic spirit toward Christianity and then told of the great changes which have come to China since 1900 and said that the Chinese people have their eyes on the United States and are ready to imitate anything we do.

Mr. Cheu is an Americanized Chinese. He was born in Peking of Christian parents, first attending a Chinese school and then a Mission school. He was graduated from Peking University with highest honors. He came to America and graduated from Wesleyan University with the degree of master of arts. He is now completing his course at Boston University school of Theology.

The attendance at the Sunday school broke all previous records. Mr. Cheu addressed the Sunday school dressed in native costume.

At the evening service Mr. Stevick of the Quincy High school recently preached an interesting sermon based on the 29th Psalm.

George Washington isn't the only person who celebrates his birthday on February 22. Master John Holmes young son of John Holmes of Bellevue road celebrated his sixth birthday by inviting fifty of his young playmates to his home from two to five o'clock.

Appropriate games were played. The children played an original game of pinning little flags to a flagstaff while blindfolded. The winners of the prizes in this game were—first, Joseph Uppingham, Jr., second, Miss Marjorie Marden.

At 5 o'clock a luncheon was served in the dining room. This room was handsomely decorated with red, white and blue crepe paper streamers. The place cards were little George Washington hatchets. Each child had a souvenir appropriate to the day. In the center of a huge birthday cake with six candles as the children marched into the dining room an American flag was unfurled and the children saluted it and sang "America" to the accompaniment of the cornet played by Charles Bowditch.

Master John was the recipient of many pretty gifts including neckties, books, boxes of candy and money. The children present were Hazel Olson, Ethel Morse, Richard Nelson, Joseph Uppingham, Jr., Hazel Mason, Doris Sumner, Ingvald Haknesen, Earling Haknesen, Ruth Holmes, Mildred Lindgren, Evelyn Lindgren, John Olson, Harold Mason, Marj

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1915

CITY FINANCES.

The statement of the city auditor showing the general receipts of the city up to March 1, is given below and is compared with the years 1912 and 1914. It will be noticed by this report that there is a large increase in tax receipts and a good sized increase in receipts for water. In fact the only item that shows a loss over last year is sewer receipts. The statement is as follows:

WATER
1915	$46,320.44
1914	38,202.74
1913	39,669.56
TAXES
1915	$100,563.90
1914	86,872.76
1913	75,614.44
SEWER ASSESS.
1915	$1,004.94
1914	1,757.09
1913	1,848.02
PARTICULAR SEWER
1915	$1,226.67
1914	2,291.44
1913	1,255.87
The debt statement on March 1, was as follows:
1912 Net Valuation	$34,822,530.00
1913 Net Valuation	36,596,045.00
1914 Net Valuation	40,668,240.00
Total debt statement on March 1, was as follows:
3 years average $37,862-
272.00 at 2 1/2 per cent	$934,056.80
Debt January 1st	593,735.14
Total debt statement on March 1, was as follows:
Debt January 1st	$340,821.66
20,900.00
Bond issued to date
	$771,221.66
	9,700.00
	$780,921.66
The total city debt January 1 was $2,110,535.64 divided as follows:
Municipal	$550,735.64
Playground	18,000.00
Street Imp.	62,800.00
Sewer	628,500.00
Water	686,500.00
Refunding	120,000.00
Total $2,110,535.64
Of this $206,000 has been paid on the municipal debt; $4,000 on the Street Improvement debt; $4,000 on the sewer debt; and $10,000 on the water debt leaving the total debt on March 1, $2,071,535.64 divided as follows. It might be stated that the municipal debt added since January 1, amounted to $2,700.
Municipal	$672,535.64
Playground	18,000.00
Street Imp.	59,800.00
Sewer	624,500.00
Water	676,500.00
Refunding	120,000.00
Total $2,071,535.64

LIFE LONG FRIEND.

Rev. Daniel Monroe Wilson, who officiated at the funeral of Mrs. Mary F. Spear was a life long friend of Mrs. Spear, and was deeply affected by her death. During their younger days Rev. Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Spear were residents of what was then known as Washington Village, South Boston, and were school mates. The friendship formed then has always been continued. During the services he spoke of those early days and was visibly affected, and several times being on the verge of breaking down.

Of Mrs. Spear's classmates at that time there are but four now living and two of these, besides Rev. Mr. Wilson, were at the services. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers which almost hid the casket from view. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery. Mrs. Spear is survived by a husband, a son and daughter, Horace E. Spear and Miss Lotie B. Spear.

MARTINSON-JENSEN.

Alex John Martinson, a mariner in the service of Uncle Sam, and assigned to service aboard the revenue cutter Gresham, came to Quincy Thursday and claimed Judith P. Jensen, an 18 year old girl, of 51 Arthur street as his bride.

The ceremony was performed by Henry L. Crane, city clerk and was witnessed by several of the young women clerks of the building.

The groom filed his intention Thursday morning and Judge Avery set aside the five day law so he could return immediately to his ship. At the end of his enlistment he will join his bride and they will make their home here.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH.

At the morning service the annual collection for the work of the American Unitarian Association will be taken.

The Minister's preparatory class for the study of the five fundamentals of spiritual Christianity meets in the church after the morning service. All younger and older persons, not yet members of the church, are invited to enter this class and to affiliate themselves with the church at Easter.

The Young People's Religious Union will be held at 6.30 o'clock, a half hour earlier than usual, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Samuel J. Ripley, Miss.

At the special Lenten service at 7.30 o'clock Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge, minister of the Third Congregational Society in Cambridge, will be the preacher and Leslie E. Woodworth, tenor of Boston, the soloist. The public is cordially invited to attend these special Lenten services for the deepening of the moral and religious life.

PIE SOCIAL HERE.

Rebekah Lodge Tests It at Meeting.

The Pie Socials have been introduced to Quincy.

This long established New England game, always a stranger to our historic city, was given a vigorous test by the members of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge in O. O. F. hall Thursday evening.

The pies went to Miss Edna Burke. Mrs. Harry Tirrell, Mrs. Sadie M. Wood, Miss L. Dodge, Mrs. Mary L. Jones and others.

They were chosen because they had a flag in their possession when the march stopped, after a three minutes march. More than a score participated in the festive.

The social followed the regular meeting at which one application was received.

BRIEFS

The annual meeting of the First Parish church will be held Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Hazel Livingston of Glendale road is spending a week in Vermont during the school vacation.

Mayor Campbell has sent the name of Francis Abelle, Jr., to the state bureau as inspector of animals at Quincy.

Miss Helen Bishop of Elm street is spending the week with friends in Newport, R. I.

Martin McConnell of Wakefield is the guest of his brother James McConnell.

George E. Thomas the inspector of buildings is confined to his bed with a bad cold.

William Nieldhart of Baltimore is a guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Loud of Washington street.

James Faircloth of Phillips street and Robert Callahan of Bigelow street have accepted positions in the Metropolitan Park Reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Ricker moved this week from the Ricker home on Whitney road into apartments on Park lane.

Mrs. Lillian N. Ross of Oldtown, Maine, was in town for a few days this week the guest of Miss M. Lizzie Farnall and other friends. Mrs. Ross formerly lived in South Quincy.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church met Sunday afternoon at 4.15; E. B. Spooner, leader. There will be a talk on the "Camp Fire Girls" by Miss Florence Smith.

Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Presidents hill is still in Washington, D. C., where she was with Mr. Smith for a visit to her son Raymond who is in school there. Mr. Smith was away only a few days.

At the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange Thursday, Frank Fessenden Crane, Quincy dock and water front commissioner was elected as one of the executive board.

Cards have been received from Percy Conrad, formerly of Quincy Point, now of Valejo, Cal. Mr. Conrad is planning to take in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Lyons S. Richards came out Sunday from Boston, where he is passing the winter at Hotel Brunswick, to attend services at the First Parish church to see a few of his old time friends.

Mrs. John Foster of Winthrop, Me., who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Mabel Keene of Francis court for the past few weeks returned home Monday.

Caleb Howard of Quincy was one of the committee who called on Mayor Curley of Boston relative to the establishment of a hotel de Gink in that city.

Quarantine matters were discussed at the meeting of the Doctors' club at the City Hospital Saturday evening. Walter H. Buchan, chairman of the Board of Health and Dr. Harold Diehl were the speakers and a member of the club was present.

After a few weeks in office Clifford W. Hill, who was appointed by Mayor Campbell as purchasing agent has tendered his resignation. The resignation came in a letter to the mayor Thursday and was immediately accepted.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met Saturday afternoon with Miss Mary M. Faxon of Adams street, six members being present. Miss Catherine Saville was awarded a silver grass serving basket for having the highest score. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John R. Prouty of Edgewood road.

Howard Thayer, a conductor of the day State St. Ry., who was struck and knocked down by the auto of F. Meirs at Barry's corner Sunday afternoon and received slight injuries to his leg, will not be able to report for work for several days. He is under the care of Dr. Whitehouse.

Neopa Lodge 511 of N. E. O. P. initiated ten candidates at its last meeting with a degree team from Fidelity Lodge of Brockton, which did fine work. After the degree work members and visitors enjoyed a fine supper which was followed by dancing, singing and bowling all of which made up an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Joseph L. Whitton, mother of President Whitton of the city council, was the victim of a sneak thief while shopping in Boston Saturday afternoon. The thief opened a bag which she carried in her hand and took her pocketbook containing a dollar or two in money, a railroad ticket and some store coins. A gold wrist watch that was in the bottom of the bag was not taken.

The program at the meeting of the Young People's Religious Union at the First Parish church Sunday afternoon was a most interesting one, and was greatly enjoyed by the large number present. It took the form of a drama on the "Life of Washington" by Charles H. Johnson, and was illustrated by a number of stereotyped views. Following the address there was a social hour.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. widow of John Pope, and a long resident of Quincy, died Sunday at the home for aged people on Buckley street, where she has been her home for several years. Mrs. Pope who was in her 80th year resided for many years on Elm street with her brother Asa A. Pope, a well known veteran fireman and Grand Army member. Her death was due largely to infirmities of advancing age.

William Donovan, the local real estate man, who has recently joined the ranks of the autoists has his first experience in driving a motor car. When his machine skidded on the Furnace Brook parkway, near Dayton street and slid over a slight embankment. One of the headlights was slightly damaged and a fender was bent. Mr. Donovan was accompanied by C. F. Gould. Mr. Donovan not a bit dismayed by his experience, is operating again this afternoon.

A meeting of the transportation committee of the Board of Trade was held Saturday evening to talk over what changes are desired to be made in the spring timetable of the railroad which is no longer made up. The committee is preparing a schedule of trains desired which will be submitted to the railroad later. The committee ask that any person having in mind desirable changes communicate with them. Another meeting of the committee will be held next week.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Dora Gahan died suddenly at her home at 47 Chestnut street, on Thursday afternoon, a few hours after she became ill. Death was probably due to heart disease. She was in her 70th year and is survived by her family.

William Crocker of New York city formerly of Quincy, is visiting friends in Quincy. Mr. Crocker was at one time a conductor on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. and was well known throughout the Old Colony division.

Mrs. Eva Crawley who was seriously hurt a few weeks ago in an elevator in the Blake building, Boston, which fell several stories, is still confined to her home at 4 Moffett street, Houghton Neck.

At a whist party given Tuesday afternoon in Protection hall by Mrs. Sarah C. Williams the high scorers were Mrs. H. Berman, Miss M. Lizzie Farnall, Mrs. H. Spear, Mrs. Mary Thomas and Mrs. R. Hughes.

The concert and ball of Division 5 A. O. H. which was originally to take place on April 16th has been changed to April 14th owing to a conflict in dates. The division has also formed a dramatic club.

Edward Richardson, a well known veteran Grand Army man, still remains seriously ill at his home. He is in almost a helpless condition and is obliged to have a nurse with him at all times.

The prizes at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday night were captured by Amos L. Litchfield and John W. Walsh. A clam chowder was served after the tournament.

At the annual meeting of the State Association of City Solicitors at the American house Boston, Thursday, Walter S. Pinkham, city solicitor of Quincy was elected one of the executive board. Albert P. Whitton, town counsel of Weymouth presided and was re-elected as president.

The state examiner of parties receiving state and military aid, completed his examination Tuesday. These examinations are held every two years. It is expected that the city may take steps at an early date to examine persons receiving soldiers relief.

The time for filing applications for permits to transport liquor and for license to collect junk expires first Monday in April, and the next meeting of the council will probably see the usual large number of these applications filed.

The members of the city council were presented with complimentary sandwiches and the automobile show which opens in Mechanics building, Boston today, by Mayor Campbell, the manager of the show. It is probable that Quincy will be well represented at the show during the week.

The social committee of the Christian Endeavor society of the Calvary Baptist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. McDonald. During the business session arrangements were made for a social on Friday, March 19. An attractive program is to be prepared and a collection will be served at its close.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bennett who have recently made their home on Warren avenue, Wollaston, have purchased a lot of land on Dimmock street Presidents hill and are contemplating building this spring. The lot is between the Howland and Swallow places and back of the new home of the Joseph B. Groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kenny of Minneapolis, Minn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barry of Glendale road. Mrs. Kenny before her marriage was Miss Nellie Dugan of East Milton and was the night operator at the Quincy Telephone exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Groves, who is running the garage in Minneapolis, was reported among insurance men Friday morning that the losses by the fire in the Music hall block on the afternoon of Feb. 22 had been adjusted. The exact amount awarded was not given out but it was understood that $300 was allowed for loss on the building and $12,000 for the loss to Remick Bros. stock.

The last of the series of Evangelical meetings held here has been held this week at the Universalist church closed with the meeting of Wednesday evening. The speakers were Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor of the church and Rev. Charles Conklin. The meeting was well attended as have been all of the meetings this week and considerable enthusiasm has been aroused.

A. F. Bromley secretary of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. who is running the club here, called to accept a similar position with another association, declines to either affirm or deny the rumor. Mr. Bromley has been secretary of the local association the past four years. He is popular throughout the city and his entire services here has been successful.

Mayor Campbell manager of the automobile show which opens in Boston today, states that Thursday March 11, will be Mayor's day at the show and that invitations to be present at the auto show have been sent to the members of the Mayor's club of the state. Friday, March 12, will be Governor's day at which invitations will be extended to the governors of all New England states.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Phillips, celebrated their 47th marriage anniversary Sunday at their home on Union street by a family party which took the form of a reunion of their children and grandchildren. Mr. Phillips, is well known in Grand Army circles, being a Past Commander of Paul Revere Post. In his younger days he followed the occupation of a submarine diver.

The men of the Christ Episcopal church, ordered Rev. William Gray, rector, an informal reception in the parish house on Monday evening. There was a good attendance. An impromptu entertainment program was rendered and included monologues by C. E. Haskins and Erastus Osgood. There was also singing by the men. A jollification is planned for the Post-Lenten season.

Henry C. Parson, who succeeded Edward Mulready as deputy superintendent of probation, was the guest of Probation officer Francis J. Fahey at the district court on Wednesday evening. Mr. Parson called to see Mr. Fahey's domestic relations system in effect. Under this system wives granted separate maintenance by the court call Wednesday evening to receive the money paid the officer by their husbands.

Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone. Secretary Hall of the Board of Trade, and City Solicitor Pinkham attended the hearing before the legislative committee on Education at the state house Thursday and registered in favor of the bill known as the mill tax bill.

This bill is one that is enacted will aid in the support of the schools of Quincy. It provides that the state shall add to the state tax 1-2 mill per $1000, said amount to be divided among the cities and towns of the commonwealth to help out the support of the schools.

The idea is that the cities and towns like Quincy will benefit by the bill while rich towns with a small tax rate will not benefit to such an extent.

BRIEFS

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Evans of 54 Coppin street were sorry to hear she is mourning the loss of her sister who died in Boston.

Paul J. Lyons the popular clerk at E. H. Doble's grocery store has accepted a position at the freight station of the West Quincy station.

Miss Chloe Ripley of Cross street has returned from an extended visit to Maine.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society held its regular meeting Monday evening. The society is making plans to hold an entertainment in the near future. The debating club committee will report on the advisability of such a club at the next meeting.

A petition is being signed at West Quincy to be presented to the Bank Commissioner relative to the establishment of a co-operative bank in West Quincy. The movement has met with the approval of the people especially the younger class and the Italian residents. The movement suggested several years ago failed to receive the proper encouragement and was dropped for the time. At the last meeting of the Board of Improvement society the matter was again discussed and the result was the circulation of the petition. The matter will again be taken up at the next meeting of the Improvement society.

Thomas Dierf, of Nelson street, West Quincy, has accepted a position with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

A happy birthday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Richards 216 Centre street in honor of Lafayette Samuel Sears at the piano, Hon. Russell A. Sears, visited, Fred Schenckelberger and Miss Nina Lacey cello. While a greater part of the fifty or more present preferred dancing to bridge, there were several tables who enjoyed a few rubbers of bridge. The evening was one of pleasure to all.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Merritt was held Feb. 26 at her late home in Avon. Mrs. Merritt was a former resident of South Quincy having resided on Granite street for a number of years. About twenty years ago she went to Avon but has been a regular visitor to the city ever since. She was over eighty years of age. She is survived by one son and two daughters and a sister Mrs. Mary Simmons of Willard street. Her son John was in an explosion in a local quarry a number of years ago and has been blind ever since.

The funeral of Charles H. Grindell was held Saturday afternoon from his late home on Pleasant street. The services were conducted by Rev. P. S. Nelson, of the West Quincy M. E. church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends including a delegation from Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows and delegates from the Masonic lodge with which he was affiliated. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

In response to many requests the C. E. society of the First Presbyterian church has consented to repeat the performance of the play "Lucia's Lovers" on Wednesday evening March 10 in the lecture room of the church. This play was a decided success at the previous performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Booth of Bradford street, South Quincy are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a baby girl Saturday night.

The Independent Companions of America held their regular meeting in Franklin hall South Quincy. This is the first meeting the society has held in that hall. Meetings will be held there every first and third Tuesday hereafter. Several candidates were initiated and after the meeting a whist party was enjoyed.

Mrs. Joseph B. Groves of Federal avenue took part in the recital given in Faxon hall, Boston Tuesday evening under the direction of Dorothy Francis Diamond. Mrs. Groves was liberally applauded and responded to several encores. She was presented with several bouquets of flowers from the audience which included many Quincy people.

Inspector Goodhue Wednesday recovered four bush hammers in Boston pawnshops that had been stolen from the granite yards of the Christie Granite Co. and from the yard of Cole and Cole. The former yard was burglarized March 1 and that of Cole and Cole Feb. 24.

The alarm from Box 325 at 9.55 A. A. Thursday was for a grass fire in the rear of the German Selzer plant on Franklin street. There was really no danger but some of the neighbors become frightened and rang in the alarm.

Mrs. Susannah, widow of Daniel J. Breeding, and one of the oldest residents of Quincy passed away Sunday at her home 35 Jackson street, aged 80 years. In her younger days Mrs. Breeding lived in South Quincy where her husband was employed as a gardener. Mrs. Breeding was more familiarly known among her many friends as "Granny". Her husband died a number of years ago. Mrs. Breeding leaves one daughter, Susie, the wife of Charles H. Hersey.

Dorothy Quincy Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, which recently voted to hold its future meetings in Franklin hall, will meet there for the first time next Wednesday evening. An informal program has been arranged by a committee consisting of Miss Vera Burke, Mrs. Mary Cryhan, John Dougherty, Helen Connor and Michael T. Griffin.

Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone. Secretary Hall of the Board of Trade, and City Solicitor Pinkham attended the hearing before the legislative committee on Education at the state house Thursday and registered in favor of the bill known as the mill tax bill.

This bill is one that is enacted will aid in the support of the schools of Quincy. It provides that the state shall add to the state tax 1-2 mill per $1000, said amount to be divided among the cities and towns of the commonwealth to help out the support of the schools.

The idea is that the cities and towns like Quincy will benefit by the bill while rich towns with a small tax rate will not benefit to such an extent.

WEST QUINCY

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Evans of 54 Coppin street were sorry to hear she is mourning the loss of her sister who died in Boston.

Paul J. Lyons the popular clerk at E. H. Doble's grocery store has accepted a position at the freight station of the West Quincy station.

Miss Chloe Ripley of Cross street has returned from an extended visit to Maine.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society held its regular meeting Monday evening. The society is making plans to hold an entertainment in the near future. The debating club committee will report on the advisability of such a club at the next meeting.

A petition is being signed at West Quincy to be presented to the Bank Commissioner relative to the establishment of a co-operative bank in West Quincy. The movement has met with the approval of the people especially the younger class and the Italian residents. The movement suggested several years ago failed to receive the proper encouragement and was dropped for the time. At the last meeting of the Board of Improvement society the matter was again discussed and the result was the circulation of the petition. The matter will again be taken up at the next meeting of the Improvement society.

Thomas Dierf, of Nelson street, West Quincy, has accepted a position with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

A happy birthday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Richards 216 Centre street in honor of Lafayette Samuel Sears at the piano, Hon. Russell A. Sears, visited, Fred Schenckelberger and Miss Nina Lacey cello. While a greater part of the fifty or more present preferred dancing to bridge, there were several tables who enjoyed a few rubbers of bridge. The evening was one of pleasure to all.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Merritt was held Feb. 26 at her late home in Avon. Mrs. Merritt was a former resident of South Quincy having resided on Granite street for a number of years. About twenty years ago she went to Avon but has been a regular visitor to the city ever since. She was over eighty years of age. She is survived by one son and two daughters and a sister Mrs. Mary Simmons of Willard street. Her son John was in an explosion in a local quarry a number of years ago and has been blind ever since.

The funeral of Charles H. Grindell was held Saturday afternoon from his late home on Pleasant street. The services were conducted by Rev. P. S. Nelson, of the West Quincy M. E. church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends including a delegation from Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows and delegates from the Masonic lodge with which he was affiliated. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

In response to many requests the C. E. society of the First Presbyterian church has consented to repeat the performance of the play "Lucia's Lovers" on Wednesday evening March 10 in the lecture room of the church. This play was a decided success at the previous performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Booth of Bradford street, South Quincy are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a baby girl Saturday night.

The Independent Companions of America held their regular meeting in Franklin hall South Quincy. This is the first meeting the society has held in that hall. Meetings will be held there every first and third Tuesday hereafter. Several candidates were initiated and after the meeting a whist party was enjoyed.

Mrs. Joseph B. Groves of Federal avenue took part in the recital given in Faxon hall, Boston Tuesday evening under the direction of Dorothy Francis Diamond. Mrs. Groves was liberally applauded and responded to several encores. She was presented with several bouquets of flowers from the audience which included many Quincy people.

Inspector Goodhue Wednesday recovered four bush hammers in Boston pawnshops that had been stolen from the granite yards of the Christie Granite Co. and from the yard of Cole and Cole. The former yard was burglarized March 1 and that of Cole and Cole Feb. 24.

The alarm from Box 325 at 9.55 A. A. Thursday was for a grass fire in the rear of the German Selzer plant on Franklin street. There was really no danger but some of the neighbors become frightened and rang in the alarm.

Mrs. Susannah, widow of Daniel J. Breeding, and one of the oldest residents of Quincy passed away Sunday at her home 35 Jackson street, aged 80 years. In her younger days Mrs. Breeding lived in South Quincy where her husband was employed as a gardener. Mrs. Breeding was more familiarly known among her many friends as "Granny". Her husband died a number of years ago. Mrs. Breeding leaves one daughter, Susie, the wife of Charles H. Hersey.

Dorothy Quincy Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, which recently voted to hold its future meetings in Franklin hall, will meet there for the first time next Wednesday evening. An informal program has been arranged by a committee consisting of Miss Vera Burke, Mrs. Mary Cryhan, John Dougherty, Helen Connor and Michael T. Griffin.

Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone. Secretary Hall of the Board of Trade, and City Solicitor Pinkham attended the hearing before the legislative committee on Education at the state house Thursday and registered in favor of the bill known as the mill tax bill.

This bill is one that is enacted will aid in the support of the schools of Quincy. It provides that the state shall add to the state tax 1-2 mill per $1000, said amount to be divided among the cities and towns of the commonwealth to help out the support of the schools.

The idea is that the cities and towns like Quincy will benefit by the bill while rich towns with a small tax rate will not benefit to such an extent.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston and Mrs. Harry N. Thomas of Wollaston avenue are to represent the Wollaston Woman's club at the Abington Woman's club, President's day, March 11.

Mrs. E. H. Blake of Abington is the guest of her son E. Wilson Blake of Suffolk street.

Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston, returned this week from Chicago.

Mrs. Vernon Sherman Brokaw of South Central avenue is in New York city for a visit.

Fred A. Kelley of Beale street, buyer of leather for the Sears, Roebuck Co. of Chicago is confined to his home with throat trouble.

Mrs. Jeannie M. Follett of Park street is to be the soloist at a musicale to be given at the home of Mrs. Everett Perry in Rockland, next week.

The Walther Men's Class will meet Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion, subject, "Saul anointed King", prelude, "Why Not Sectarian Appropriations?" Great choruses of men, warm discussion, a hearty welcome. All men not in other similar classes urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clough-Leigh have returned to Wollaston after a stay in Indiana at the country home of the latter's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Alton C. Marshall.

Arthur Lee, headmaster of the Madison high school is to be the speaker Monday night at the meeting in Wollaston school hall of the Parent-Teachers association. His subject will be, "The German Elementary and Secondary Schools Compared with our own—An Exchange Teacher's View."

John Norris of Quincy and Miss Margaret Knight, daughter of Mr. C. Knight and the late Dr. Joseph Knight of Chittenden, were married Saturday evening at the residence of Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the Wollaston Unitarian church. They were attended by Mr. Joseph Fletcher and Miss Nellie Norris.

Edwin Twichell, a long time resident of Wollaston, died at his home on Highland avenue Sunday in his 80th year. In his younger days Mr. Twichell was employed as a bookkeeper but he has not been engaged in business for a number of years. He was a man of quiet disposition and preferred his own home when business hours were over. He was a deep reader both religious and secular and was particularly well informed on current events. The funeral was held Tuesday from his late home. The services were attended by many neighbors and friends. The services were of a simple nature and were conducted by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, of the Wollaston Methodist church. The reading of the Psalms, and of the poem "Crossing the bar" and prayer. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Dennis J. Norton was held from the home of his sister Mrs. John Roberts, 22 West Squantum street, Monday morning.

Miss Helen Howard of Wollaston is the widow of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Howard of West Bridge street.

Mrs. Atwood of Taylor street, Wollaston had a fall in her home recently, breaking her arm above the elbow.

Myron Lane won the Testament of the year, George M. Bailey of the Wollaston Methodist church, the boy or girl who had succeeded in getting the largest number of people to read the tract on "How to Help the Minister." Myron reported having secured thirty-four people to do so.

Work on the new Masonic Temple at Wollaston is going on apace. There was a large hold up in the construction of the building early in the year but inspection by a state expert found nothing wrong and things are going along smoothly now.

It is understood that the legislative committee on railroads will give a hearing March 10 on the petition of the associations at Wollaston and Amesbury for a subway beneath the railroad tracks at these stations.

Mrs. Eugene F. DeNormandie of Highland avenue opened her home Wednesday afternoon for a whist party in aid of the Woman's alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church. Straight whist, bridge and auction were played and the afternoon was a most enjoyable one. A general auction, the souvenir for the best score, was awarded to Mrs. V. E. Emery. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

President Miss Edith Randall of the Equal Suffrage League of Quincy addressed the members of the Wollaston league at the home of Mrs. Howard C. Hinkley, 19 Prospect street, Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance.

The funeral of ex-Tax Collector A. Lincoln Baker was held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence. The services were of a simple nature in accordance with the wish of the family. They were conducted by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, of the Wollaston Congregational church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

INFORMAL THEATRE PARTY.

Miss Alice McMillan, Miss Elizabeth Holbrook, Miss Marian Edwards, Miss Mary McMillan, Miss Marian Miller, Miss Laurence Phelps, Miss Evelyn Porter, were delightful entertained at an informal theatre party, Tuesday by Miss Claudia Wilson at her home on Bigelow street. The home of Miss Wilson was prettily decorated in honor of the event the color scheme being yellow, green and white, the table decorations including clusters of yellow and white. The favors were pretty place cards and baskets of nuts.

FIRST PARISH CLUB.

The speaker for the March meeting of the First Parish club will be Clarence W. Barron, proprietor of the Boston News Bureau, who has recently returned from Europe and who will talk on the condition of Europe and what will come after the war. Mr. Barron has written a number of magazine articles on the European war and his address should be an unusually interesting one.

WOODWARD INSTITUTE.

An especially attractive program has been arranged for the observance of Founder's day at the Woodward Institute, Friday evening March 12. There is to be a musical program under the direction of John D. Buckingham, musical director of the school followed by scenes from colonial life, the characters being taken by the students.

ATLANTIC

Members of the Dianthus club of Atlantic gave a very enjoyable gentlemen's night at the home of Mrs. Frank Folkins, 34 Walker street Thursday evening, a pretty feature of which was a decorated basket of souvenirs. The blue ribbons attached for the ladies and pink for the men afforded much fun. Members of the club are Mrs. Julia Rogers, president, Mrs. Percy Rogers, Mrs. Herbert Whitney, Mrs. Frank Folkins, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Frank Merritt, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Alton Stevens, Mrs. Chester Fuller, Mrs. Samuel Philbrook, Mrs. Annie Hadfield and Mrs. Burton Pray.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of 34 Ridge road, Waverly, visited the former's parents on Prospect street this week. Mr. Brown is a former resident of Atlantic having lived here until his marriage a few months ago and he is well known in this section.

Mrs. Brooks of Prospect street is spending a few days in Worcester.

E. A. Barber returned to Atlantic Tuesday evening after a five months' business trip through the United States and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drury of Fitchburg are guests of the latter's brother, George Sherwin of Olive street.

Mrs. Lulu Pendleton of Lakewood, R. I. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Davidson of Newbury avenue.

Mrs. Robert Harding of Botolph street is spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Coyle Allen of Worcester.

Edwin French of Hollis avenue is confined to his home with the grip.

Miss Marion Letteney of Webster street is spending the week end with friends in Salem.

Mrs. M. I. Atkins of Walker place is spending a few days with relatives in Fitchburg.

The Ladies Benevolent Society of the Atlantic Memorial church is to give the drama, "Higbee of Harvard," the last of this month with Mrs. A. H. Hall as chairman.

Mrs. David Hamilton of Faxon road has been seriously ill is rapidly improving.

Mrs. John La Tour of Sagamore street is the guest of relatives in Meriden, Conn.

Miss Addie Smith of Milbury is the guest of her nephew, Welcome G. Young of Prospect street, Atlantic.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Harswell, Maine, is visiting Miss Eldeine M. Young of Prospect street, Atlantic.

Mrs. F. W. Hooper of Haverhill is a week end guest of her sister Mrs. Welcome G. Young of Prospect street.

Henry L. Leet of the North Quincy Catholic club appeared at the Monday evening concert of the Holy Name society of St. Anne's parish of Neponset, as mandolin soloist. Judge Sheehan of Boston was the speaker.

Miss Agnes Kenneburgh of Atlantic is entertaining her cousin, Miss Agnes Fowler Lovell.

QUINCY POINT

Mrs. Charlotte Dorley and her daughter Mrs. John A. Silva of River street, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Pits of Concord, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Mary Jones held a whist party at her home on River street under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps on Monday afternoon. The winners were Mrs. George Spooner, Mrs. Forrest Hayden and Mrs. Ella Hayden.

Miss Carrie I. Newcomb, a former resident of Quincy Point, died at her home on Bryant avenue Wednesday in her 52nd year. Miss Newcomb was a native of this city and the daughter of the late Everett Newcomb of Quincy Point.

The many friends of James H. Lally who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. of Southern place is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. John who fractured his leg some weeks ago will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and expects to be able to return home at an early date.

Josephine, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Full	Sea	Mo.
ALMANAC	6.13	5.40	2.20	3.00
Sat., Mar. 6	6.13	5.41	2.15	3.00
Sunday	7.01	6.11	2.15	3.00
Monday	8.09	6.42	2.15	3.00
Tuesday	9.08	6.43	2.15	3.00
Wednesday	10.06	6.44	2.15	3.00
Thursday	11.04	6.45	2.15	3.00
Friday	12.03	6.47	2.15	3.00

Last Quarter March 8, 7:28 A. M.

A SPLENDID SUGGESTION.

The New England Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Committee has issued a "Notice to Property Owners" which is well worth considering. It is a practical suggestion for aiding the condition of the unemployed and is approved by the Massachusetts State Executive Committee on Unemployment. The committee does ask that property owners start now on the spring cleaning, painting and repairing which they usually leave until later, and by so doing not only help to relieve the lamentable condition of the unemployed but also do a good service to themselves.

The circular which the committee has prepared reads as follows:

May 2 to 8, 1915, is to be Clean Up and Paint Up Week in New England this year. This is the week when our Municipal and Town Departments collect and remove fire, Old Rubbish, Paper and Refuse Matter put out by housekeepers.

Remember this week really marks the finish, not the beginning of the Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign.

Experience last Spring shows that much cleaning up and painting up was delayed until early summer, and in many cases never attempted at all because of inaction on the part of the property owner.

Men are plenty now, and will be glad to work at reasonable wages, so why not commence at once to put your property in order?

Among the kinds of work which could well be done at this time the committee suggests:

Inside cleaning of all kinds in Houses, Stores or Factories.

Inside Painting of all kinds.

Clean up and Whitening cellars, warehouses, etc.

Renovate and make inside repairs to Tenement Property.

Tear down and remove old dilapidated buildings.

Paint Store Fronts. A clear day with snow on the ground is the best time for this, on account of freedom from dust.

Re-paint store signs.

If a thaw comes, clean up back yard, straighten up the place.

In conclusion the committee urges employers to engage their help from regular sources, asking that preference be given to men who have families or who have been out of work for a long time.

In securing men, and women, too, for work of this nature, the Federal Employment Bureau at city hall should be consulted. The bureau will be glad to co-operate. A telephone call to Quincy 1041-W will do the business.

THE 63rd CONGRESS.

Congress has adjourned. The country needed the rest no less than the legislators and it is a cause for jubilation that the congress will not be there until the next session at least until fall. In length of service the session has been a notable one and the 63rd Congress has other claims to distinction. Whether or not we chance to agree with the Democratic platform of 1912 we must at least admit that the congress was not just brought its labors to a close has been faithful in its enactment of the platform promises.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED.

Miss Marion G. Connolly celebrated her second birthday Thursday by receiving many friends from 2 to 5 o'clock. The reception was held at her home on 55 Willard street. Little Marion was the recipient of many pretty gifts. Although very small the children marched to the dining room led by Miss Marion to the table where the cake was served.

A beautiful lunch was served by Miss Marion assisted by the Misses Gertrude and Marion Fraser, Ellen Sandison, Mary Connolly and Mrs. Moran.

Among the many of Marion's friends that were present were: Miss Helen Kellogg, Louise McGraw, Helen Kellogg, Margaret Johnson, Helen Kellogg, Gertrude Johnson, John Morrison, John Riley, Joseph Riley, Francis Smith, George Moran, Arthur Cockey and their parents. Her friends left after spending a pleasant afternoon wishing her many happy returns of the day.

PROBATE COURT.

Judge Flint, presiding at the Norfolk probate court at Dedham Wednesday allowed the wills of Stephen S. Price of Weymouth; Jane Evans of Quincy, John Dever, Quincy and William A. McKean, Braintree.

Administrations were granted on the estates of Louise B. Meyers, Braintree; Patrick H. Hannon, Braintree; George Stetson Weymouth; Catherine A. Mischler, Quincy; Ethel Colby, Weymouth; Annie M. Gwynn, Quincy; Antoinette M. Page, Weymouth.

WOLLASTON GLEE CLUB.

The Wollaston Glee club offers special attractions for the Spring concert Monday evening March 22nd at the school hall, Beale street. The club always presents a most attractive program of Men's choruses to its patrons in itself a concert of great merit, it, however has made a practice of giving its friends more than they expect by adding to its own music, vocal selections by the best talent available.

This season is high water mark in the musical work of the organization and in the assisting soloists also. Mrs. Cara Sapin, contralto of the Boston Opera company delighted a large audience at the first concert in January. For the Spring concert the soloist is to be Miss Evelyn Scotney, prima donna of the Boston Opera company, and the most popular soprano on the American concert platform today.

Mr. and Mrs. Scotney is to sing arias and two groups of songs. Music lovers and students are planning to attend this concert, the musical event of the year in Quincy.

NOT MANY FIRE TRAPS.

Quincy, in general, is not filled with fire traps as the fire department of the fire department who interviewed at fire headquarters but there are a few old buildings which lack the open construction of the modern ones. The fire department has been successful in having the occupants cooperate in fire prevention and they have been successful in having a degree.

The business section, according to the chief, is in some places, a menace, not the constant patrol of the streets by wide awake police and the alert citizens who make a practice of watching for fires when they are out at late hours almost ensures the prompt discovery of fires as soon as they break out.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

Large buildings in Boston are now equipped in this fashion. The system is a substitute of the old system which held water at all times, the pipes of which were covered with wax which would melt on account of the extreme heat from a fire. This system, according to Chief Billings, was not used in Quincy. It consisted of a series of perforated pipes attached to a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

The fire department is contemplating the value of recommending the installation of fire sprinklers in some blocks in the city which are used for storage of goods and building purposes, according to Chief Billings, and suggesting that a committee be organized to see that a coupling on the outside of the building.

BOARD OF TRADE.

It was 11:20 before an adjournment was reached at the meeting of the Board of Trade Wednesday evening.

A number of complaints were made as to street car service and other matters. The exciting feature of the evening was the speech of Harry G. Clark of Montreal.

Then introduced Mr. Clark said that he represented the Montreal Improvement association and that some months ago his committee had got in touch with other associations to start an agitation for lower gas.

When the bill for 75 cent gas was put in, Senator Langille asked if we wanted it and we replied "go to it, Louis," said speaker. "LaBrecque receives all the credit, when he had nothing to do with it, for the movement started in the improvement associations. Our associations are going on record as not standing by that report. The bill for 75 cent gas had nothing to do with it. We have now dropped our efforts and we do not have to abide by that committee where the mayor was the goat. If we do not get a reduction we will not ask any self appointed committee to get it for us."

The speaker then turned his attention to the Electric Light Co. In July 1913 the Gas and Electric Light Commission was petitioned for a reduction in the price of electricity in Quincy by the Board of Trade. Two days later it was found that the petition was illegally drawn and had to be rejected. A new petition was drawn and sent to the commission. The commission had a hearing but Mr. Faxon was in Europe. It was thought advisable to postpone the hearing until he returned.

"Then the matter dropped, and as far as we are concerned, the matter is closed. I do not want to say that there is anything crooked, but there is something rotten in Denmark. LaBrecque may close up this matter for the Board of Trade but not for the Quincy Improvement associations. It is our business to make an appeal to the public. We have got a club behind us and if we do not get a reduction we will tread on the tail of the lightning companies. There is no reason why you can not get anything you want if you are willing to pay for it. All you have to do is to go after it in earnest. You can talk all you please about making Quincy a busier city but if you do not do something to bring manufactures to Quincy you are useless. The looks of the Board of Trade are tied. Look at the valuable water from you have and you are not doing anything with it. We are all tied down here in Quincy. We ask you to join with us and hold up in this matter. We are going to get a reduction in gas and electricity."

In reply Mr. LaBrecque said: "There is no question but what we get something out of the present situation that it is nothing but an illusion and we are going to get a reduction in electricity. I am not looking for personal glory. I resent the idea of having a man who has been a resident of Quincy but a year and a half coming here to lecture on electricity. We can not get anything but such circus stunts. His tactics will not give us a reduction in the price of electricity. We have a promise on gas and if we do not get it we will fight. We are going after a reduction in the business-like way and we will get results."

The Board voted that it would be glad to co-operate with Mr. Clark's committee.

Andrew Milne Jr. asked about the public dock and said that if the mayor, president of the council did not care to take it up the board should.

A. L. Whitman for the banquet committee said it had been a success and everybody had a good time. The committee had gone into the hole for $500 dollars, however, because members had not brought their tickets. A letter was read from Supt. Conway of the street railway stating that on account of the financial situation and the fact that there were two grade crossings, it was not practicable to build a track from East Milton to the center of the city.

The half dozen ushers and others employed were not aware the drill was to be held to secure the official time. Had they known such was the case it is probable they would have clipped another second from the mark.

The signal for the drill was blown on a whistle by Capt. Wardwell, manager of the theatre. He said he had timed holiday audiences leaving and found that the theatre had been emptied of a capacity house within four minutes at the close of a recent holiday performance.

QUINCY LODGE OF MOOSE.

A regular meeting of Quincy lodge of Moose was held Tuesday evening at which time nominations of officers were made. A whisky party followed, prizes for the best scores being awarded to William A. Egan, Treasurer, John E. Brown, Secretary, and John J. Niska. The officers nominated were as follows:

Dictator, W. F. Carman and W. B. Norrie.

Vice Dictator, Robert T. Foye and Neil A. McDonald.

President, Clifton L. Matland.

Treasurer, John E. Brown.

Inside Guard-Martin E. Anderson and John E. Edgren.

Outside Guard, William J. Buckley.

Trustee, 3 years, Joseph Halter and Burr O. Nichols.

Delegate to convention, William B. Norrie.

OVERSEER'S IMPRESSIONS.

A Patriot reporter asked Miss Huston, the overseer of the poor, what her impression was of the work her being in charge of.

Miss Huston is quite frank to admit that she has learned that to be a successful overseer one must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

COMEDY PRESENTED.

The vestry of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church was crowded to capacity Wednesday evening.

A number of complaints were made as to street car service and other matters. The exciting feature of the evening was the speech of Harry G. Clark of Montreal.

Then introduced Mr. Clark said that he represented the Montreal Improvement association and that some months ago his committee had got in touch with other associations to start an agitation for lower gas.

When the bill for 75 cent gas was put in, Senator Langille asked if we wanted it and we replied "go to it, Louis," said speaker. "LaBrecque receives all the credit, when he had nothing to do with it, for the movement started in the improvement associations. Our associations are going on record as not standing by that report. The bill for 75 cent gas had nothing to do with it. We have now dropped our efforts and we do not have to abide by that committee where the mayor was the goat. If we do not get a reduction we will not ask any self appointed committee to get it for us."

The speaker then turned his attention to the Electric Light Co. In July 1913 the Gas and Electric Light Commission was petitioned for a reduction in the price of electricity in Quincy by the Board of Trade. Two days later it was found that the petition was illegally drawn and had to be rejected. A new petition was drawn and sent to the commission. The commission had a hearing but Mr. Faxon was in Europe. It was thought advisable to postpone the hearing until he returned.

"Then the matter dropped, and as far as we are concerned, the matter is closed. I do not want to say that there is anything crooked, but there is something rotten in Denmark. LaBrecque may close up this matter for the Board of Trade but not for the Quincy Improvement associations. It is our business to make an appeal to the public. We have got a club behind us and if we do not get a reduction we will tread on the tail of the lightning companies. There is no reason why you can not get anything you want if you are willing to pay for it. All you have to do is to go after it in earnest. You can talk all you please about making Quincy a busier city but if you do not do something to bring manufactures to Quincy you are useless. The looks of the Board of Trade are tied. Look at the valuable water from you have and you are not doing anything with it. We are all tied down here in Quincy. We ask you to join with us and hold up in this matter. We are going to get a reduction in gas and electricity."

In reply Mr. LaBrecque said: "There is no question but what we get something out of the present situation that it is nothing but an illusion and we are going to get a reduction in electricity. I am not looking for personal glory. I resent the idea of having a man who has been a resident of Quincy but a year and a half coming here to lecture on electricity. We can not get anything but such circus stunts. His tactics will not give us a reduction in the price of electricity. We have a promise on gas and if we do not get it we will fight. We are going after a reduction in the business-like way and we will get results."

The Board voted that it would be glad to co-operate with Mr. Clark's committee.

Andrew Milne Jr. asked about the public dock and said that if the mayor, president of the council did not care to take it up the board should.

A. L. Whitman for the banquet committee said it had been a success and everybody had a good time. The committee had gone into the hole for $500 dollars, however, because members had not brought their tickets. A letter was read from Supt. Conway of the street railway stating that on account of the financial situation and the fact that there were two grade crossings, it was not practicable to build a track from East Milton to the center of the city.

The half dozen ushers and others employed were not aware the drill was to be held to secure the official time. Had they known such was the case it is probable they would have clipped another second from the mark.

The signal for the drill was blown on a whistle by Capt. Wardwell, manager of the theatre. He said he had timed holiday audiences leaving and found that the theatre had been emptied of a capacity house within four minutes at the close of a recent holiday performance.

QUINCY LODGE OF MOOSE.

A regular meeting of Quincy lodge of Moose was held Tuesday evening at which time nominations of officers were made. A whisky party followed, prizes for the best scores being awarded to William A. Egan, Treasurer, John E. Brown, Secretary, and John J. Niska. The officers nominated were as follows:

Dictator, W. F. Carman and W. B. Norrie.

Vice Dictator, Robert T. Foye and Neil A. McDonald.

President, Clifton L. Matland.

Treasurer, John E. Brown.

Inside Guard-Martin E. Anderson and John E. Edgren.

Outside Guard, William J. Buckley.

Trustee, 3 years, Joseph Halter and Burr O. Nichols.

Delegate to convention, William B. Norrie.

OVERSEER'S IMPRESSIONS.

A Patriot reporter asked Miss Huston, the overseer of the poor, what her impression was of the work her being in charge of.

Miss Huston is quite frank to admit that she has learned that to be a successful overseer one must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

The overseer of the poor must have a knowledge of human nature quite different from that of a casual observer. The problems presented each day to the overseer of the poor are almost always different from the problems of the overseer of the poor.

NEW NEPONSET BRIDGE.

Mayor Campbell, City Solicitor Pinkman and City Engineer Sargent represented Quincy at the hearing before the legislative committee on roads and bridges at the state house Tuesday at the hearing on the bills providing for a new bridge between Quincy and Neponset to take the place of the present structure.

The town of Neponset was represented by Chairman John F. Merrill of the County Commissioners. The street railway was represented and Milton and some of the towns along the south shore were also represented as Neponset. There are two bills under consideration, one presented by the Neponset Improvement Association, and the other, they provide for a structure to cost $350,000. Quincy's objection to the bills was the apportionment provided in the bill for paying for them.

The bill provides that the City of Boston pay 40 per cent, Quincy 15 per cent, Norfolk County 15 per cent, Plymouth county 5 per cent, the street railway 15 per cent, and the Commonwealth 10 per cent.

What the City of Quincy desires is that the bridge shall be built by the Neponset Improvement Association and that a greater part of the expense shall be borne by the cities and towns in the metropolitan district in a similar manner as the Wellington bridge was paid for.

Quincy argues that the bridge will be used by persons coming outside the limits of the City of Quincy. For instance especially in the summer seasons thousands of automobiles from all over the Metropolitan district go to and from the South Shore, and in addition, that the bridge will be used by persons coming to and from the city, especially from Plymouth county which under the apportionment provided in the bill pays but 5 per cent. In reality the bridge would be used much more by the residents of Plymouth county than by those of Quincy.

This is the only objection which Quincy has to the bill as it is realized that the present bridge is an antiquated affair, out of repair and to a certain extent dangerous, having been more or less weakened by fires that have burnt the lower part of the bridge.

The annual supper reunion and business meeting of Memorial Congregational church was held Wednesday evening at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. There was a good attendance of members. Routine business only was transacted.

Next Monday afternoon the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday afternoon

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
H. P. Kirtledge,
J. P. O'Brien,
J. C. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. L. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shank's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Branches & Martens,
Branches & Martens Norfolk Downs
Peter L. Litchfield,
H. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammar,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

CITY CHARTERS HEARING.

The report of the recess committee on city charters was the subject Tuesday before the legislative committee on cities. The committee reported four model charters and recommends that every city in the commonwealth be given an opportunity at the next state election to select any of the plans outlined.

No one from Quincy appeared at the hearing for it was not generally known that one was to be held. The city council however at its meeting Monday evening passed an order requesting the legislative committee on cities to give a public hearing in Quincy on the subject.

At the hearing Tuesday Mayor Hamlin of Everett appeared in favor of the recommendations and City Solicitor Vaughn of Worcester was in sympathy with the major part of the report but criticized the methods outlined for taking land for public purposes.

Henry Sterling stated that the work of the committee would result in more "home rule" for cities and should remove a multitude of inconsequential local affairs from the legislature.

The only opposition to the recommendations of the recess committee was voiced by Senator Ben of Cambridge, who said that if this matter is referred to cities there will be a charter fight in every city of the state every year. Some factions will always be trying to agitate some change in the form of city government just to live up to the election and there will be no end of political unrest in city affairs.

OFFICIAL VISITATION.

Three supreme and nine grand officers of C. F. of A. officially visited Circle Daughters Viking in Elecia hall, Tuesday evening. It was the first time in the history of the order in the state that so many superior officers gathered at one lodge.

Supreme Chief Companion Mrs. Julia McCarthy of Boston was accompanied by Supreme Supervisor of Laws Mrs. Evelyn Sawyer, Past Grand Chief Companion Mrs. Doran of Pittsfield and Mrs. Crittendon of Boston.

The grand officers conducted the class initiation on 19 candidates. The exclamation was under the direction of Grand Chief Companion Mrs. Farley of Peabody, Sub Chief Companion, Mrs. Hodge of Munson, Grand Right Guard, Mrs. Davis of Boston, Grand Marshal, Mrs. McGarry of Revere, Grand Left Guide Miss Harvey of Lynn, Grand Inner Guard, Mrs. Cromwell of Boston, and Grand Trustee, Mrs. Glashen of Boston.

During her remarks Mrs. McCarthy spoke of her institution of the circle and said it was the strongest and most progressive one in the state. There were also remarks by the other officers.

The board of officers of Avonia circle of Weymouth were present during the evening and witnessed the entire exclamation.

Arrangements were completed for the whist party and dance to be given in Elecia hall on March 20.

NEWSBOYS REORGANIZED.

"Waxties" were on the streets of Quincy after 6.30 Tuesday evening for all the boys were at the Y. M. C. A. attending the re-organization meeting of the Quincy Newsboys' club.

All the big fellows were there, Forbush, McNell, Polovsky, past members of the Boston Newsboys' Union and Carl Leander, the Saturday Evening Post king.

John McNell was re-elected president and Otto Boetcher was chosen vice president. Other officers chosen were:

Secretary—Roger Forbush.
Treasurer—Gabriel Nathan.
Financial Secretary—Thomas Ferguson.

Trustees—Carl Leander, Martin Gibson.
Director—David Polovsky.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Edward Riley.
Prosecuting officer—Ellis Backman.

Honorary Members—A. N. LaBrecque, Quincy Telegram, W. Howard Mills, Quincy Daily Ledger, and the Quincy Evening Post.

Ushers—John Queenan, Irving Call, Campaign Managers—David Ramsey, Albin Mattson.

Advertising Chairman—Carl Leander.
Pianist—Alfred Boetcher.

It was "some" meeting from start to finish and so much enthusiasm was generated by the young Americans they voted to hold a mass meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the afternoon of March 14 to boost the organization.

A. N. LaBrecque of the Telegram will be the speaker. Ventura Oriola was voted the happiest boy in the gathering.

W. Howard Mills, advertising manager of the Ledger was the speaker of the evening. He spoke on news and on how to bulletins for prospective readers. He deplored the fact that so little real salesmanship was used by the boys.

FIRES TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The alarm from box 272 at 341 Tuesday afternoon was for a slight fire on the roof of the boat house of William Gavah at the foot of Edison street. It seems that a fire had been built in a small stove in the upper part of the building and that sparks from this set fire to the roof. The fire was confined to a few shingles.

The central station auto chemical was called out on a telephone alarm at 2.20 Tuesday afternoon for a grass fire on Independence avenue near the residence of John Q. A. Field.

CITY COUNCIL.

The main matter of business at Monday night's meeting of the city council was the budget which was forwarded by the Mayor. The budget will be found in full elsewhere in this issue with the amounts appropriated last year. There was no discussion on the communication which was referred to the finance committee.

There were a large number of orders offered for various matters. These included the following:

An order for $40,000 for sewer extensions. To Water committee.

An order for $20,000 for water extension. To Water committee.

An order for $10,500 for paving a part of Smith street.

An order for $3,000 for rebuilding Nelson street and extending it to Copeland street. To Street committee.

An order for $4,000 for rebuilding Hall place. To Street committee.

An order for $5,500 for rebuilding Common street from Suomi road to Adams street. To Street committee.

Among the other orders offered were:

To accept Taber street as a public way. To city. To Street committee.

That police signal boxes be located near the corner of Independence and Federal avenues. Referred to executive.

Requesting the Mayor to have plans prepared for a brick school building at Norfolk Downs. Adopted.

To change the grade of Palmer street, for a cinder sidewalk on Palmer street and that the street be closed. To Street committee.

An order establishing a Planning Board ordinance. To Ordinance committee.

Appropriating $200 for rebuilding the culvert over Town Brook on Centre street. To committee on Streets.

For a granolithic sidewalk on Copeland street between Furnace Brook parkway and the Hose house. To Street committee.

Appropriating $450 for a gravel sidewalk on Jackson street. To Street committee.

That West Squantum street be closed between Montclair avenue and Hancock street. To Street committee.

In addition to this there were a large number of orders for street lights in various parts of the city which were referred to the executive.

Among the petitions received was one for the acceptance of Vassall street.

For a granolithic sidewalk on Billings road.

That Rochester street be accepted as a public way of the city.

All of the above referred to the Street committee.

Petitions for minor licenses were referred to the License committee.

The Telephone Co. was granted a relocation for poles on Warren avenue.

Orders were adopted granting licenses to keep and sell gasoline.

Councilman McGrath offered an order to the effect that as the citizens of Quincy are interested in the new city charters formulated by the legislative committee on cities that the city council request the committee to give a public hearing in the City of Quincy before it makes its report to the legislature. The resolution was adopted.

Late in the evening Councilman Richards presented a petition asking permission to establish a machine gun squad in Quincy and also a de-munition order.

In reply to a question as to the cost the city solicitor said that the first cost would be about $2,000 of which amount $900 would be for rent. This sum however would be returned to the city at the end of the year, so that the cost would be about $1,000 for the first year. After that the annual cost of the city would be from $200 to $300.

The petition was referred to the joint committee on finance and legislative matters.

Councilman McGrath offered an order that a public hearing be given on the matter of establishing a military company in Quincy at the next meeting, March 15. Adopted.

Councilman Yale offered a resolution to the effect that the city council place itself on record as being in favor of a reduction in the price of electricity in Quincy.

A public hearing was held on the petition of the Electric Light Co. for a location of poles on Saville street and later an order offering granting the location which was referred to the Street committee.

Under the calendar the order granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Hancock street was passed.

Adjourned at 8.38.

APPEAR BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Houghs Neck property owners appeared before the committee on Metropolitan affairs Monday in favor of the petition of Mayor Campbell asking that the Port Directors of Boston be directed to spend $100,000 upon a sea wall at Houghs Neck.

The proposed wall to be built along the shore front of Houghs Neck which is now being continually washed away by the tides.

The speakers on the petition included Senator Louis F. R. Langelier, Representative Edward J. Sandberg, Ex-Representative Peter T. Falcit, Walter S. Pinkham, E. C. Sargent, City Engineer of Quincy; Frank H. Crane, Water Front Commissioner.

The petition of Senator Sanford Bates for an appropriation of $500,000 for the Old Colony boulevard from a point in Dorchester, near Columbia road, to be Quincy Shore reservation was urged by the petitioner.

FRACTURED WRIST.

Mrs. Annie O'Brien, 31 Gay street, suffered a fracture of the left wrist in a fall in City Square Saturday evening.

Mrs. O'Brien was stepping onto the Granite street sidewalk in front of the Emanuel Candy Kitchen when she tripped and fell. The fall was seen by Fred D. Williams. She went to her assistance and brought her to the E. J. Murphy pharmacy where she faint.

Dr. W. E. Blanchard found a Colles fracture of the radial bone. Mrs. O'Brien made no complaints while the splints were being adjusted and was smiling as she left the pharmacy for home.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

New Hats—Neck—Color Combinations—Death Of The "Stitch"—The New Silhouette.

Hats of silk, satin and panne velvet are very smartly endorsed for the present wear here, and those that have a touch of straw in their make up will be useful for a long time to come. Small turban shapes are rather in the lead, but sailors and a little round crowned Derby shape run them a close second.

Contrasting color notes are the salient feature in most of the new hats, and this is obtained in a great variety of ways. The spotting of the tremendously popular sailor tie, that circles so many of the crowns, ending with the characteristic floating ends that Jackies wear in a braid, fashion which the girls closely follow.

Small dahlias of vivid colorings are prime favorites for hat garniture, grapes and diminutive fruits are also popular, and a melange of color is the usual thing, rather than any single tone.

AN ADVANCE MODEL.

An advance model pretty and practical, was a small turban, the crown of black satin, the brim of glided straw in green, and blue mixture. Right at the front standing out above the crown was a disk shape ornament of knife plated silk and net. Except for the sailor tie this was the sole and sufficient ornament.

A Derby of satiny split straw tipped at a rather rakish angle, had no other trimming than a loose strap of its own material and one of the double ended jet pins that are so fashionably perched askew at any desired point on the crowns of the various small shapes which are nearly or quite brimless as well as on wide brimmed sailor types.

COLOR COMBINATIONS.

One notices a tendency to combine putty shades with navy blue, in many of the late dress creations. Often this takes the form of a blue silk and navy blue dress, and blue and white developed in putty color, or the blue will appear in the sleeves and blouse.

Green is similarly employed for contrast but is not so good with putty as with black. One sees quite a bit of peacock blue as a trimming contrast, and narrow fancy ribbons in this shade with red and other vivid tints in their pattern are used, brand fashion, hats and waists, with attractive results. Navy blue and very dark purple is a peculiarly French combination and dashes of coral pink bring out the lines in otherwise tame looking white suits and blouses.

THE NEW SILHOUETTE.

Trig and natty is the new fashionable silhouette, with not a trace left of the "stitch" of a year ago. However loose the dress may hang below, it is fitted at the bust, and the figure held erect in true military fashion, with a well-modelled corset.

There is nothing stiff or awkward in the fashionable pose, quite the contrary and a pretty girl looks her best in the new Spring models.

NET DRESSES.

Net dresses of the old time flounced sort, the edges of the flounce bound with silk or satin or trimmed with bead edgings silk quillings etc. are very much liked and are an excellent investment for the woman who wants to get the utmost wear from her fancy frock. For a mourning dress toilet few selections are as satisfactory. The flounces are rather smartest cut straight and gathered, in overlapping style. The number to a skirt depending on the height and taste of the wearer.

Accorded pleated dresses of three or five tiers are very good to wear, and while the fact that the high collared plain net gamp is once more worn by nearly everyone is good news to practical women who like their easy adjustment and becoming freshness.

Lucy Carter.

New York, Feb. 25, 1915.

The trustees of Thayer Academy Braintree, have appealed to the superior court of Norfolk county to compel the town of Braintree to return to them the sum of $27,000 paid the town last year as taxes on school property.

For many years. They claim that the tax collector forced them to pay under protest and that the town has refused their petition to abate the taxes.

Among the members of the Quincy Women's Club members are to have the pleasure of having the club's first president for the entertainer of the afternoon Mrs. E. C. Bumpus, who will speak on "Noted Women of Noted Eras." Mrs. Bumpus has been giving art conferences this season most successfully in New York and vicinity having a large patronage. She has a fine collection of pictures in illustration of her subject which adds to the interest.

The meeting will also be the annual for the semi-annual election of officers the following names being presented:

President—Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham.
1st Vice—Mrs. George L. Badger.
2nd Vice—Mrs. William E. Alden.
3rd Vice—Mrs. S. Hunting.
4th Vice—Mrs. William F. Cummings.
5th Vice—Mrs. Ernest L. Collins.
6th Vice—Mrs. L. C. Hewson.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, Jr.
Miss Eliza Sheehan.
Auditor—Mrs. Thomas Fenno.
Mrs. J. W. Sanborn.

The polls will be open at two o'clock so that members may deposit their names for the election of the entertainment of the afternoon.

The work of the school nurse demonstrates every day the need of her services and the wisdom of the club in giving so generously of their money to establish a nurse in the public schools of the city, illustrating that "it is better to give than to receive." Instead of presenting themselves with a gift to mark their tenth anniversary the club with its customary generosity and wish to benefit others looked about and thought the matter over and decided a school nurse was almost a necessity. No member worked harder in raising the money for the flag pole for the birthplace of President John Adams where it has its headquarters, and ways of raising money to buy the same were discussed. It was thought that a series of silver teas at the Adams birthplace during May might be a pleasing way to raise a part of the amount. The club was further to discuss the matter up for further discussion at the April meeting which would be held at the old house.

During the social hour the hostesses served tea and home made cake and confections, being assisted by Mrs. William Chapman at the tea and Misses Lucie Hamman and Lauree Penniman serving.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

The March meeting of the King's Daughters was held in Bethany Chapel Tuesday evening with Mrs. V. E. Miller presiding. After the regular business of the association, the King's Daughters quartet sang after which the Camp Fire Girls gave a demonstration of their work. Members of the Chickatawbut, Quossett, Passonagessit and Wampatuck Camp Fires and three Guardians participated in a ceremonial which was beautiful and impressive. The girls wore their Indian costumes of khaki, made Indian fashion and their head bands and strings of honor beads. After the meeting light refreshments were served.

BLACK CREEK BRIDGE.

Gov. Walsh has approved the bill authorizing the Metropolitan park commission to construct and maintain a bridge over Black's creek for the extension of Furnace Brook Parkway. The bill took effect upon its passage.

The plans for the bridge have been approved by the board of park commissioners and they have been submitted to the navy department for its approval. No opposition on their part is contemplated. The bill follows:

The Metropolitan Park Commission is hereby authorized to construct and maintain a bridge without a draw over Black's creek, so called, in the town of Quincy, between the Furnace Brook Parkway and to provide for the construction and maintenance of said parkway from Quincy shore reservation to Hancock street in said city as authorized by Chapter 699 of the Acts of 1912.

CHALLENGE FOR QUINCY CUP.

The Corinthian Yacht club has challenged the Boston Yacht club for the Quincy cup and the annual series, the best known in Eastern yachting circles, seem practically assured.

The Quincy Yacht club may be represented by Charles Francis Adams Sprig and it is possible that the cup may be brought back here. The Boston Yacht club, holder of the cup, will in all probability be represented by the Ellen of C. P. Curtis, Jr. which won the trophy.

Herbert Seely is preparing his Mingo which flies the flag of the Eastern Yacht club, for the series. The Manchester club will be represented by Guy Lowell's Cima and the Corinthian by Mrs. Guy Lowell's Amie.

The Corinthian challenge is the first of the kind in the history of the club, and the other clubs is anticipated.

TO LAUNCH SUBMARINE.

Preparations are being made to launch two more submarine boats, the River Shippard. Construction is complete and the boats are being launched. The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

(Continued from Page Three.)

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club members are to have the pleasure of having the club's first president for the entertainer of the afternoon Mrs. E. C. Bumpus, who will speak on "Noted Women of Noted Eras." Mrs. Bumpus has been giving art conferences this season most successfully in New York and vicinity having a large patronage. She has a fine collection of pictures in illustration of her subject which adds to the interest.

The meeting will also be the annual for the semi-annual election of officers the following names being presented:

President—Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham.
1st Vice—Mrs. George L. Badger.
2nd Vice—Mrs. William E. Alden.
3rd Vice—Mrs. S. Hunting.
4th Vice—Mrs. William F. Cummings.
5th Vice—Mrs. Ernest L. Collins.
6th Vice—Mrs. L. C. Hewson.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, Jr.
Miss Eliza Sheehan.
Auditor—Mrs. Thomas Fenno.
Mrs. J. W. Sanborn.

The polls will be open at two o'clock so that members may deposit their names for the election of the entertainment of the afternoon.

The work of the school nurse demonstrates every day the need of her services and the wisdom of the club in giving so generously of their money to establish a nurse in the public schools of the city, illustrating that "it is better to give than to receive." Instead of presenting themselves with a gift to mark their tenth anniversary the club with its customary generosity and wish to benefit others looked about and thought the matter over and decided a school nurse was almost a necessity. No member worked harder in raising the money for the flag pole for the birthplace of President John Adams where it has its headquarters, and ways of raising money to buy the same were discussed. It was thought that a series of silver teas at the Adams birthplace during May might be a pleasing way to raise a part of the amount. The club was further to discuss the matter up for further discussion at the April meeting which would be held at the old house.

During the social hour the hostesses served tea and home made cake and confections, being assisted by Mrs. William Chapman at the tea and Misses Lucie Hamman and Lauree Penniman serving.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

The March meeting of the King's Daughters was held in Bethany Chapel Tuesday evening with Mrs. V. E. Miller presiding. After the regular business of the association, the King's Daughters quartet sang after which the Camp Fire Girls gave a demonstration of their work. Members of the Chickatawbut, Quossett, Passonagessit and Wampatuck Camp Fires and three Guardians participated in a ceremonial which was beautiful and impressive. The girls wore their Indian costumes of khaki, made Indian fashion and their head bands and strings of honor beads. After the meeting light refreshments were served.

BLACK CREEK BRIDGE.

Gov. Walsh has approved the bill authorizing the Metropolitan park commission to construct and maintain a bridge over Black's creek for the extension of Furnace Brook Parkway. The bill took effect upon its passage.

The plans for the bridge have been approved by the board of park commissioners and they have been submitted to the navy department for its approval. No opposition on their part is contemplated. The bill follows:

The Metropolitan Park Commission is hereby authorized to construct and maintain a bridge without a draw over Black's creek, so called, in the town of Quincy, between the Furnace Brook Parkway and to provide for the construction and maintenance of said parkway from Quincy shore reservation to Hancock street in said city as authorized by Chapter 699 of the Acts of 1912.

CHALLENGE FOR QUINCY CUP.

The Corinthian Yacht club has challenged the Boston Yacht club for the Quincy cup and the annual series, the best known in Eastern yachting circles, seem practically assured.

The Quincy Yacht club may be represented by Charles Francis Adams Sprig and it is possible that the cup may be brought back here. The Boston Yacht club, holder of the cup, will in all probability be represented by the Ellen of C. P. Curtis, Jr. which won the trophy.

Herbert Seely is preparing his Mingo which flies the flag of the Eastern Yacht club, for the series. The Manchester club will be represented by Guy Lowell's Cima and the Corinthian by Mrs. Guy Lowell's Amie.

The Corinthian challenge is the first of the kind in the history of the club, and the other clubs is anticipated.

TO LAUNCH SUBMARINE.

Preparations are being made to launch two more submarine boats, the River Shippard. Construction is complete and the boats are being launched. The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

The boats are being launched on the 14th and 15th of the month.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT.

The Quincy Choral society scored a signal success at its ninth concert held in Quincy Music hall, Tuesday evening, when "Gallia" and "Stabat Mater" were produced.

Not only was Gounod's shorter composition excellently rendered but the longer oratorio of Rossini was faithfully produced with all its contrasts and shading of tone in a manner which proved eminently satisfying.

The chorus work was especially praiseworthy and the effects in the crescendo portions, augmented by soloists and orchestra, were truly inspiring. It is to be regretted that the orchestra lacked sufficient power to balance the magnificent strength of the voices.

The soloists were individually and collectively in excellent part, showing to advantage not only in single voice but also in the chorus and semi chorus portions.

Throughout the program soloists and orchestra alike showed sympathy with and adaptability to the guidance of the director. Conductor George S. Dunham deserves credit for the standard of excellence to which he has brought the choral work of the society.

The society was assisted by Mrs. Lida Shaw Littlefield, soprano; Mrs. Arthur Hackett, tenor; William Elliot, bass; Miss Florence G. Olney, accompanist; the chorus and the Philharmonic orchestra, of Brockton.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1915

MEN'S CLUBS OF WOLLASTON.

Lieutenant Governor Grafton D. Cushing addressed a representative body of Wollaston men, comprising the men's clubs of the community, at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the Wollaston Baptist church under the auspices of the Men's Assembly.

The speaker was late in arriving on account of the celebrations in South Boston but on his appearance was given an enthusiastic reception. A program of organ music by Mrs. George Drew and the singing of "America" preceded the address.

Mr. Cushing spoke in the interests of a bill to amend the state constitution regarding the present system of taxation in Massachusetts. He referred to the bill in question as the only practicable solution in sight that stood a show of being accepted by the legislature and eventually by the people.

"Last year" said Mr. Cushing, "it swept through both branches of the legislature and was adopted. If it goes through this year it will be submitted to you. If you accept it, it will simply act as a clearing ground to let the legislature get to work."

"A representative commission will be needed to devise some general system of taxation. This will be submitted to the legislature. It will probably be rejected but it will be thoroughly discussed in every city and town and given the most searching scrutiny. Eventually some system will be accepted."

"The bases has got to be the collection of all taxes on intangibles by the state and its later proportionate distribution to the cities and towns, while the local assessors still continue to levy on real estate."

"Today no one thinks of making a declaration if he has any property. He would be assessed for the next 50 per cent of his income and that amount would be confiscatory."

"We do not collect this and don't expect to collect it. The great mass of intangible personality isn't taxed. On account of the exorbitant tax people have had to buy non-taxable securities."

"As a result Massachusetts has been flooded with more or less useless investments into which investors have been obliged to put their money when they couldn't avoid making a declaration."

"Last year when Governor Walsh recommended compulsory returns, millions of dollars left the state. They're moving. We are coming to a time that is critical and this is being recognized by the business world."

"We are carrying on an immoral system by not allowing the people to declare their property. It is essential for us to get at the vast amount of intangible personal property."

"The larger body of citizens are perfectly willing to pay a fair tax. They are absolutely unable to do under the present system."

President Charles W. Bailey of the Men's Assembly was in charge and Mayor Campbell occupied a seat upon the platform. At the supper of the assembly, which preceded the public meeting, Mayor Campbell spoke briefly concerning the work at city hall.

He related several humorous anecdotes in a days work and took occasion to point out the beneficial civic work that men's clubs of the nature of the one he was addressing, could do. Improvement associations, he said, were likely to go off at a tangent.

"We are going to give you an economical government," he said. "Instead of building new roads we are going to develop what we have. After that is done, if there is any money left, we will start the new road program."

"Conditions are poor, except on the 'velvet streets' here in Wollaston. I've often over Grand View avenue a few nights ago and it wasn't my fault that I didn't break a spring."

One of the "velvet streets" talked about in the last campaign. As president of the Congregational club the Mayor thanked the assembly for the invitation extended and said that at an early date his club would reciprocate.

At the supper St. Patrick's day decorations were in evidence. On the tables were Irish and American flags while each diner donned a paper cap with a large shamrock ornament. Green napkins were also provided.

A roast turkey supper, topped off with plum pudding, was served by the young ladies of the church who were also appropriately attired. "Tipperary" and other songs were joined in with great zest.

ANNUAL VISITATION.

The grand officers of the Knights and Ladies of Honor made their annual visitation to Maple Lodge in Protection hall Wednesday evening. There were nearly 1000 present, including delegations from Iowa lodge of Maplewood, Unity of Boston, United of Cambridge, Golden Star of Lynn, Evening Star of Somerville and Slisby of Brockton.

Heading the list of distinguished visitors was Grand Protector Mrs. Evie L. Hicks of Somerville, and accompanying her was Grand Vice Protector Henry E. Steeve of Somerville, Grand Chaplain Mrs. Agnes E. Fletcher of Quincy, Grand Secretary Samuel Hathaway of Boston, Grand Treasurer Charles H. Deane of Dorchester, Grand Guide Manfred Lawler of Maplewood, Grand Sentinel Mrs. Charlotte McIlugh of Somerville, Grand Past Protector Mrs. Mabel E. Williams of Saugus. District Deputy Grand Protector Mrs. C. E. Prescott of Somerville was also present.

Mrs. Bertha H. McGurdy presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Annie F. McCarty, who is in New Jersey. One candidate was initiated to membership. There were speeches by the guests and best wishes extended by members of the visiting delegations.

An informal entertainment followed the business meeting under the direction of a committee consisting of Miss M. Lillie Farnall, Mrs. Nellie M. Cate and Mrs. Rose A. Reid. Games were played and small American flags were distributed as well as shamrock emblems. A collation was served. The program came to a close with the dancing of a Virginia reel by all of those present and the singing of America.

BRIEFS

John Drumgold of Glendale road, left Tuesday for a six months sojourn in Phoenix, Arizona.

Miss Jessie Pratt of Coddington street has been visiting her cousin, Miss Edith Whiting of Bridgewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Goodhue were the guests of Miss Rose Morrissey of Euclid avenue the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bassett and son Walter of Bridgewater have been visiting friends in Quincy.

Miss M. Lillie Taber of Spear street leaves Monday to make her home in Roxbury.

John Foley of 647 Sea street was slightly injured at Atlantic Tuesday morning when he was thrown from a team drawn by a runaway horse.

The several cases of hog cholera, discovered here last week, have been under the observation of veterinarians who now feel the danger of an epidemic has passed.

Inspector of Buildings, George E. Thomas who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with an attack of the grip returned to his desk at City Hall Wednesday.

George O. Langley of Washington street went to Somersworth, N. H. Wednesday to attend the funeral of his only brother who died suddenly on Sunday.

The scout cruiser "Des Moines" built at the Fore River yards in Quincy, now in Mexican waters, has been ordered by Sec. Daniels to take aboard any Americans or other foreigners seeking safety.

Wednesday afternoon the central station auto went to Whitwell street at 3.15 to extinguish a grass fire near the City Hospital and at 6.05 the chief went to South Walnut street to extinguish a bonfire.

Little Barbara Gallant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gallant on Monday celebrated her first birthday by a party at her home on Harrington avenue. A number of small guests were present.

George Tanner who has charge of the Kincaide theatre, fell Tuesday and suffered a dislocation of several small bones in his wrist. He is wearing a plaster cast and will be unable to devote himself to his duties for at least three weeks.

Lysander S. Richards and daughter Miss Eleanor Richards who have been visiting the winter in Boston at the Brunswick, have returned to their Marshfield Hills home for the spring and summer.

Mrs. Herbert Walker of Northampton has been the guest this week of Mrs. Robert Welsh of Guild street, and has enjoyed meeting many of the friends she made during her residence here a few years ago.

The members of the Quincy yacht club were the guests Tuesday evening of Col. Henry L. Kincaide at the Kincaide theatre. The club members occupied seats in the centre of the auditorium and freely applauded the various acts.

Some high scores were made Tuesday afternoon at the whist party held by Mrs. Sarah C. P. Freethy having 71 to her credit. Others with good records were Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. A. F. Baker and Mrs. Annie Pratt.

All the evening trade classes close this week after the most successful season that has yet been held. More trades have been secured, the attendance has been larger and the interest better sustained. It is hoped that next week the work for women may be developed to a greater degree than was the case this year.

The Quincy branch of the Salvation Army has begun a campaign to liquidate the debt on the local building at 150 Granite street. The debt is $5000. Ensign Ilnus Fritz, officer in charge, is sending collectors about the city with facts and figures seeking to prove the worth of what the organization has done in Quincy and what it intends to do in the future.

A German club is to be formed at the local High School in the near future, the club's membership is to be limited to 25 pupils. Not a word of English is to be spoken at the club and even the lectures being given in German. Frederick Rasmussen is to give the first lecture. The club is under the leadership of Miss Zeller, the High School German teacher.

If the bill relative to "jitney busses" becomes a law it will oblige the proprietor of the contrivance which ran between the Quincy depot and Houghs Neck last summer in opposition to street cars if he wishes to do so this year to obtain a permit from the city authorities and then file a bond of $2000 for each bus operated. The bill was reported in the legislature Wednesday.

A bill was reported in the Senate Tuesday to direct the Metropolitan Park Commission to expend $350,000 for a new Neponset Bridge between Boston and Quincy and to proportion the cost between the two cities. Mayor Campbell is the president, the plan this year cuts out the morning parade, which was a fizzle last year, and also cuts out part of the sports, but does provide for entertainments for the children and a display of fireworks in the evening.

A fire which threatened the whole of the Metropolitan Park Reservation was discovered Sunday morning racing near the Brainline line on Willard street. The men who are employed in the Reservation were summoned to fight the fire and worked late into the evening before they had the flames under control. The fire covered several acres and the flames could be seen for miles around.

At the meeting of the Granite City Club Saturday night one new member was admitted and a committee was appointed to bring in a list of officers to be voted for at the annual meeting in April. Plans were made for the annual banquet of the club which will be held Thursday evening, April 8, at the New American house, Boston. The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and will be followed by a vandynde show in the dining room at the hotel.

One of the biggest things that has been offered the men of Quincy in a long time is the class in salesmanship. One of the members of the class was so interested that he was very anxious that the matter be again brought to the attention of the men of Quincy. The association wants to extend this invitation to any man in the city to attend the next session of the class to see what he thinks of the work. He is under no obligation whatever to join. The next session will be held on Monday at 7.30 sharp.

BRIEFS

James Connors of Branch street is confined to his home with a serious attack of indigestion.

Joseph Connors of Malden street has just returned from a short business trip to Baltimore.

Miss Nellie Desmond of Quincy avenue is confined to her home with a very serious attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Rosella Wardwell of Miller Stile road who has been at the Carney hospital for a surgical operation has returned home.

The semi-annual dance of the Finnish Workmen's association was held in the hall on Arthur street Thursday evening.

A baby daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Keene of Francis Court Saturday morning. The parents have named the child "Phyllis."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Howes announce the engagement of their daughter Irene Adele, to Mr. Myron R. Stebbins of Wollaston.

Miss Caroline Newcomb, who formerly lived on Newcomb street, is convalescent at the private hospital of Mrs. Lydia Beaulieu on Buckley street.

Charles Bartlett of New Jersey made a flying trip to Quincy over Sunday being called here on business. He formerly resided on Edward street.

Edward A. Gishmore, of Quincy, hero of Vera Cruz, and the youngest holder of a Congressional medal in the country, is instructing the members of Co. 11, C. A. C. in semaphore flag signal practice.

Mayor Campbell is to address the Rotary club of Portland, Me., at Portland, Friday, March 26 and on Tuesday April 20, if affairs of the city permit, will address the Cleveland Motor club at Cleveland, O.

Mrs. S. B. Sodergren, mother of Ex-Councilman E. E. Sodergren of Quincy died March 12 at her home 9 Pearson avenue, Somerville, after a brief illness. Burial was in the family lot at Mt. Auburn cemetery on Sunday.

Cardinal O'Connell has transferred Fr. Patrick A. Sharkey from St. Mary's parish at Ayer to Sacred Heart parish at Middleboro. Father Ayer was a curate at St. John's parish, this city, for some months.

The will of Preston P. Kittredge of Quincy was admitted to probate at the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate court Wednesday. Administrations were granted on the estates of John Quincy Adams, Andrew J. Morris and Thomas L. Pratt of Quincy.

The winter club, composed of well known Swedish residents of the city, held the first of its annual series of dancing parties in Elicia hall Saturday evening. Among the large number who attended were men prominent in the public life of the city.

The ritual work and entertaining for Lodge Skandia, Vasa Orden, will probably be by the choral society which several of the members expect to organize. The suggestion was made several weeks ago and received lodge approval at a meeting in Protection hall, Thursday night.

Mrs. William Kemp entertained a bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her home on Allyn street. The winners for the best scores were awarded to Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. McKenney and Mrs. Snow. Light refreshments were served. The favors were appropriate to St. Patrick's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haven Dearing of Braintree have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter Florence Agnes Dearing to Ralph Nelson Doble, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble of Quincy, for Tuesday evening, April 6. The ceremony will take place at the First Congregational church, Braintree.

Capt. Neil Olson, a master mariner, had started Saturday to join his ship, scheduled to sail on that day, when news came of the death of his six year old son Charles Leonard Olson, at his home on Dyrast street and he hastened back. The boy had been sick for some time. The other twin brother died a year ago.

George Barry, the "Little Commodore" of the Colonial league, will again play with Taunton. He returned his signed contract Saturday. George is one of the most promising catchers in the game. He is the son of Michael Barry of the Central Fire station, a prominent athlete some years ago.

In view of the many reports in the daily newspapers about the work of the submarines, the submarine tied up to the tauter near Sheppard's dock wharf Thursday afternoon and evening attracted considerable attention. It was one of those recently launched at the Fore River yards which had been out on a trial run.

According to the announcement coming from the July Fourth celebration committee, Mayor Campbell is the president, the plan this year cuts out the morning parade, which was a fizzle last year, and also cuts out part of the sports, but does provide for entertainments for the children and a display of fireworks in the evening.

A fire which threatened the whole of the Metropolitan Park Reservation was discovered Sunday morning racing near the Brainline line on Willard street. The men who are employed in the Reservation were summoned to fight the fire and worked late into the evening before they had the flames under control. The fire covered several acres and the flames could be seen for miles around.

At the meeting of the Granite City Club Saturday night one new member was admitted and a committee was appointed to bring in a list of officers to be voted for at the annual meeting in April. Plans were made for the annual banquet of the club which will be held Thursday evening, April 8, at the New American house, Boston. The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and will be followed by a vandynde show in the dining room at the hotel.

One of the biggest things that has been offered the men of Quincy in a long time is the class in salesmanship. One of the members of the class was so interested that he was very anxious that the matter be again brought to the attention of the men of Quincy. The association wants to extend this invitation to any man in the city to attend the next session of the class to see what he thinks of the work. He is under no obligation whatever to join. The next session will be held on Monday at 7.30 sharp.

BRIEFS

Sergt. John T. Larkin of the Quincy police was taken to the Quincy Hospital Friday morning suffering from pneumonia.

There was quite a little excitement posted the Patriot office Thursday evening when the awning over the department store annex took fire.

Mrs. Howard E. Erick of Hancock street is giving a tea Sunday afternoon to a few friends in honor of Mrs. Lew Atkins who recently came to Quincy to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Tupper who have been on the Pacific coast during the winter are expected home the latter part of the month.

The grip which has become quite prevalent during the past few weeks has struck city hall and several of the officials and clerks have been attacked.

A mass peace meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Quincy Women's Club April 18 in the First Parish church, with Dr. Jay Hudson of the University of Minnesota as the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew M. Atkins who have made their home on Thayer street since coming to Quincy a few months ago, have moved to President Hill into the cottage recently built at the corner of Goffe and Saville street.

Among those from Quincy, who have registered at the Massachusetts building at the Panama Pacific Exposition in California are Henry Parker of Allyn street, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Tupper who were married last year, and T. T. Davidson of 63 Gay street.

The committee on gas and electric lights of the Board of Trade has been visiting the different cities of the commonwealth inquiring as to the rates for electric lights in those cities and as to service. Last week the committee visited Lynn this afternoon Worcester. When the committee has gathered all the information desired a conference will be held with the Quincy Electric Light Co.

Arthur Wentworth, who has been rolling with the W. L. Douglas team of the Retail Shoe League of Boston for the last three years, captured a beautiful silver cup Wednesday at the Littlefield alley. Wentworth won the cup in a roll of 21 men of the 200 class of the league. His total was 323 13 pins better than his nearest competitor. The annual banquet of the league will be at the Nova cafe on April 7.

The last of the men's meetings in the Kincaide theatre will be held Sunday at 8.30 o'clock. Every seat in the house should be filled to hear David Ranney of New York City. For many years Ranney was a crook on the Bowery. Alexander Irvine was able to get hold of him and was the means used to help in the change of his kind of life. Mr. Ranney is termed the Jerry McAuley of today. There will be music by a male quartette.

William Belanger of California avenue and John Hicks of Robertson street left Tuesday evening for Montreal.

Mrs. Annie G. Grignon of Independent avenue left Sunday on a few weeks visit to her brother in New Jersey.

George Morris, of Oxford, Maine, has returned to his home after spending two weeks with his sister, Mrs. David Cromond of 109 Intervale street, South Quincy.

The 136th fire alarm, of the month was sounded at 7.41 Thursday morning from Box 28 for a slight fire on the roof of the stone sheds of Long & Saunders, off Penn street, adjoining the railroad tracks. The fire was caused by sparks from a passing locomotive alighting on the roof. The blaze was quickly extinguished and the loss was trifling.

Herd No. 1 Breveling Order of Buffaloes, held their regular meeting in Franklin hall. The meeting was called to order at 7.30 P. M. to allow for the whist party immediately after the meeting. Over 20 tables were in use and the sewing machine which was the big prize was won by Mrs. Thomas Newcomb of Water street.

The Mens club of the Water Street Presbyterian church is busy making preparations for the banquet which will be served next Wednesday evening in the chapel at the church. The banquet will be served at 7 o'clock and will be followed by a speaking of Michael Barry of the Central Fire station, a prominent athlete some years ago.

Charles A. Ross of Independent avenue is confined to her home with a severe cold.

The Loyals Ladies of Clan MacGregor, O. S. C., will have an opportunity after its meeting next Tuesday evening to witness the presentation of the drama "Our Church Fair" which was so ably presented at the Water Street Presbyterian church early this week. It will be given by the same cast.

Division No. 1, A. O. H., held its regular meeting in Franklin hall, South Quincy, Thursday evening. The committee appointed to cooperate with Division 5, A. O. H., in the annual ball on April 14th reported and the report was accepted. It was announced that there would be a meeting of the committee on Sunday at 10 A. M. in Franklin hall.

Anna Louise Horrican, the two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Horrican of 102 Independence avenue died at the Homeopathic hospital at Brighton where she was a scarlet fever patient. The little girl developed pneumonia which caused her death. Her body was brought to Quincy Friday and taken to St. Mary's cemetery at Randolph today for burial.

To a Quincy boy, John J. Nolan Jr., aged 15, of Hamilton N. Y. has fallen the honor of being chosen president and he will give one of the five orations which will comprise the program of Commencement Exercises next June. It has followed an unusual list of honors, which attest to his ability as leader as well as his great popularity with the students. He has also been chosen president of Masque & Triangle, chairman of Senior Governing Board, varsity football squad, vice president Readers and critics club, Manager Class Hockey, Pan Hellenic council Senior Class Program committee Winter Carnival committee, vice president of the newly formed New England club.

Mrs. J. E. Poland of Norfolk Downs left Wednesday on a visit to friends at Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Eden Hardy of 28 Wollaston avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Louise, to Professor Cyril Durrant Locke of Lockport, Nova Scotia and Merceburg, Pennsylvania.

The body of Mrs. Abbie D. Whitcomb, was taken to Isleboro, Me., today for burial following funeral services at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Coombs of 192 Derby street. William B. Ayres of the Park and Downs church officiated at the services. Mrs. Whitcomb died on Wednesday.

The Standish male quartet of Boston repeated its success of a year ago at a concert, held Tuesday evening in the Wollaston Congregational church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society.

Composing the quartet were W. C. Mooney, first tenor; Otto E. Lewis, second tenor; R. L. Van Buskirk, baritone; W. H. Corliss, basso.

In addition to the musical program a number of readings, humorous and otherwise were given by Mr. Van Buskirk which found great favor and were loudly applauded. The fact that Mr. Van Buskirk is a brother of Henry P. Van Buskirk, a prominent member of the church, gave added interest to the performance.

During the evening candy was sold by the Misses Lucy Waite, Elizabeth Jones, Pauline Randall, Lucy Falconer, Anna Schroeder and Dorothy Taylor. The following were ushers: Eugene Smith, Alfred Clough and Chas. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Poland of Norfolk Downs left Wednesday on a visit to friends at Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Eden Hardy of 28 Wollaston avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Louise, to Professor Cyril Durrant Locke of Lockport, Nova Scotia and Merceburg, Pennsylvania.

The body of Mrs. Abbie D. Whitcomb, was taken to Isleboro, Me., today for burial following funeral services at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Coombs of 192 Derby street. William B. Ayres of the Park and Downs church officiated at the services. Mrs. Whitcomb died on Wednesday.

WEST QUINCY

The postponed business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the Hall Place M. E. vestry Monday evening at 7.45.

Dillon Bronson, D. E. district superintendent conducted a short session of the conference at 10 A. M. Sunday at the Hall Place M. E. church, at which the pastor, Rev. P. S. Neldon, asked to be released.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Mary's Holy Name society was held Sunday afternoon in the church. Six hundred members were present. The spiritual director Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy gave a brief lecture on "The Church, the Mother and Guardian of Liberty." After the lecture Fr. Duffy sang the Benediction assisted by the whole society. At the morning masses a large number of the members received their monthly communion.

Rev. Percy S. Neldon, pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church is preparing to return to the west where he was connected with religious work previous to his assignment to the Quincy church.

Miss Elizabeth Elock of Common street is the guest of Mrs. Mrs. John McTearnan of Milford, Mass.

Lewis Hains of Rosindale spent the week end as the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Owens of Willard street.

George P. Burke of Concord spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Burke of Doble street.

Mrs. Joseph McTearnan of Common street, wife of Joseph McTearnan of the Metropolitan Park police, entertained a few friends at her home Sunday evening in honor of her birthday.

The return of Frank Goldwater to be foreman at the E. H. Doble store will be welcomed by his many friends in the section. Mr. Goldwater is for many years manager of the store. About five years ago he left this city and went to Taunton where he was engaged in the poultry food business.

The St. Mary's Holy Name society will receive holy communion Sunday at the eight o'clock mass. This will be done in accord with the degree of Pope Benedict to observe Peace Sunday in all Catholic churches on that day.

Mrs. James O'Brien of Brook road was removed Tuesday to the Quincy Hospital where she is reported as resting comfortably.

Rev. Hugh F. Blunt of Braintree will be the lecturer and soloist at the Irish concert to be given by St. Mary's Guild in St. Joseph's hall, Sunday evening.

Fr. Thomas H. McCoy, pastor of St. Mary's parish, delivered an eloquent sermon Sunday at St. Patrick's church, Ireland before the Women's sodality at the church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mary Simmons of West street is confined to her home by a severe cold.

William Belanger of California avenue and John Hicks of Robertson street left Tuesday evening for Montreal.

Mrs. John O. Sullivan of Copeland street, West Quincy is confined to her home with the grip.

Arthur Rogers, a well known barber who conducted a shop at the top of Fort Square, was found dead at his home on Dorr street Wednesday afternoon. Death was probably due to heart failure. He is survived by the widow and two children and by several brothers and sisters. His brothers are Joseph, Gideon, Isaac and Frank of this city. Mr. Rogers is well known in and about Quincy square, having worked for his mother-in-law, Mrs. Doble, at the corner of the railroad tracks.

The alarm from box at 10.01 A. M. Thursday was for a slight fire on the outside of the building near the corner of Copeland street and Furnace avenue, occupied by Peter Dolan. It appears that a tin of hot coal ashes was thrown near the building causing it to take fire. The damage was very slight.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Burke of Common street have announced the engagement of their daughter Margaret Teresa to Mr. John Edward McNamara of Haverhill. Mr. McNamara is secretary to his father, Postmaster McNamara of this city.

Pneumonia caused the death of Salvatore, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Coletti of 212 Common street, whose funeral was held Thursday afternoon. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The death of the child followed a short illness.

America's favorite prima donna, Evelyn Scoutney of the Boston Opera Company, Music students should avail themselves of such an opportunity to study the method and technique of so renowned an artist. All club members have tickets.

QUINCY POINT

Ex-councilman and Mrs. William Howard Flynn of Edison street welcomed a little daughter Sunday, the second daughter.

Henry Brown and family of Washington street and Miss Nellie Hough of Washington street entertained Miss Elizabeth Finnegan of Lowell and George Lynch of New York, formerly of Dorchester, over the week end. Mr. Lynch is stage manager of the traveling salesman in the first act.

Rev. Henry E. Dunnack of Augusta, Me., brother of James Dunnack of 97 Edison Park, this city, has been appointed Maine state librarian. Mr. Dunnack is a graduate of Bowdoin college and is a member of the Augusta, Me., Board of Education.

Miss Edith Middleton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willis J. Middleton, left today for the New England hospital at Roxbury to train to be a nurse.

Aubrey R. Keith, after several months absence in Texas has returned. His friends have given him a royal welcome.

Mrs. Charlotte Dorley of River street has returned from a visit to Concord, New Hampshire, where she was the guest of her brother, Jeremiah Pitts.

The Sunday School class of Miss Florence Thayer of the Washington Street Congregational church, which has been known during the winter months as the "Daisy club," met at the home of Miss Mary Angus 53 at the back street, Tuesday night. The club meets once every two weeks at the home of one of the members and there have been many pleasant evenings spent. Miss Thayer has shown great interest in the little ones under her charge. The following young ladies were present: Elsie Carter, Annie Scott, Myrtle Parker, Isabel Smith, Mable Davis, Eva Jones, Mable Wester, Mary Angus, and Miss Thayer. Cocoa and cakes were served, and altogether a most pleasant evening was spent. The members of the class are all expected to be at their respective homes at nine o'clock.

Quite a crowd of Fore River workmen left for Canada this week to help put the finishing touches on some submarines which the English government are building there.

The general impression about city hall is that some one was trying "to put one over" on the mayor when they started the story that he would probably not be a candidate for reelection and election.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. J. E. Poland of Norfolk Downs left Wednesday on a visit to friends at Lowell.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Arthur B. Hillman of Winthrop avenue is entertaining a house party of fourteen over the week end, guests who come to attend the Brown.

Mrs. Arthur B. Hillman who went over to New York with her sister Mrs. George H. Nowlan of Wollville Nova Scotia, has returned to her home on Old Colony avenue.

A parents and teachers meeting of St. Chrysostoms Sunday school is to be held Wednesday evening in the parish house. Rev. Carleton P. Mills who was rector of the church for three years will be the principal speaker. There will be music appropriate to the season and simple

The Quinoy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri
ALMANAC	Rises 5.45	Falls 3.50	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Sat	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Sunday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Monday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Tuesday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Wednesday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Thursday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45
Friday	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45	5.45

First Quarter, March 23, 5:48 P.M.

Surely the ministers who exchanged pulpits Sunday have the right idea. These men are all working for the kingdom of Christ on earth and they are setting a good example by their practical illustration of the existence among them of Christian fellowship.

A yearly appropriation of $5000 by a city of 25,000 people to an institution which is doing the good work of the Quinoy City Hospital is little enough. We are glad to see Councilman Smith's motion to reduce the amount to $4000 was defeated by the city council.

The Allegheny Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church at a meeting in Pittsburgh recently adopted a resolution providing that every pastor of that denomination in this country must be paid at least $10,000 a year and be provided with a parsonage. There appears to be a feeling that even clergymen should have a remuneration sufficient to permit them at least a decent living.

PASS THE APPROPRIATION.

The city council should not hesitate to appropriate the money necessary to start a machine gun squad in Quinoy. The amount required is small, the returns likely to accrue to the city are not small. Although conscious that extreme peace advocates are likely to decry our attitude and to assert that the city is not a company of the national guard here help along the development of a martial spirit we believe that the coming of such a company would be a good thing for Quinoy.

As Col. Sweetzer pointed out at the public hearing Monday night the duration and loss of life in the American Civil War were largely due to the fact that the Northern army consisted of brave but untrained soldiers. While not advocating an elaborate system of war preparation or a huge army we do believe that it is only common sense to train a citizen soldiery for the hour which may come. And this is but one of the advantages. A great benefit to be derived from such a company will be derived by the men who enlist, who should gain greatly in moral as well as physical strength. The training of the machine gun squad would mean nothing else but the habit of obedience they will have gained a valuable thing.

A FITCH BROMLEY.

We regret that A. Fitch Bromley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has felt impelled to tender his resignation. We have heard from one source that we have heard from one source that Mr. Bromley has been speaking in approval of him. The office which he has filled the last four years and a half is an important and difficult one. Mr. Bromley has filled it with distinction and what he has accomplished among the young men of Quinoy will not be forgotten. Whatsoever he has not divulged his plans. Whatsoever we may be we are sure we speak for the citizens of Quinoy when we tender him the city's best wishes for continued success.

DAY CELEBRATED.

Div. 17, A. O. H., fittingly celebrated St. Patrick's day with an Irish concert and entertainment in Poland hall Atlantic, Wednesday evening. "Glorious St. Patrick," was rendered by the little girls choir, all of whom were dressed in white and wore green sashes. For an encore, they sang "Come back to Erin."

Rev. Fr. John Cuffe, delivered an address on "Future Ireland," which was rendered by Peter M. Colligan. Little Margaret Reardon danced a hilarious tango. Margaret is only nine years old and her dancing proved a feature of the evening.

Edwin Shea, president of Div. 17, told of great work accomplished by his predecessor in office Michael McNally and then presented him with a beautiful memento. Mr. McNally, although taken greatly by surprise, thanked the members of the division and told them that he would still continue to do his best for them.

Edward J. Fegan was then introduced as the principal speaker of the evening. He took as his subject "Ireland, Irishmen, and their effect on the World." Solos were then sung by George Kane, and Miss Catherine Dyan.

Refreshments were then served and dancing was enjoyed until midnight. Music being furnished by a Glee orchestra consisting of Miss Rosalie Doyle, pianist, Margaret White, violinist, and Florence White, bass violinist.

MEMORIES OF ERIN.

A rare treat was given to the residents of West Quinoy who attended a lecture given in St. Marys hall Wednesday under the auspices of Div. 4, A. O. H.

The lecture was given by James T. Barrett of Cambridge who recently returned from Ireland after an extended trip in which he took views of Ireland that is today. Eyes of the older people present were dimmed when scenes familiar to them were flashed on the screen. The speaker was ably assisted by Miss Nellie Reardon and Joseph Morrisette who sang several Irish songs.

The guests of the evening were Father Thomas R. McCoy, Father William J. Duffy of St. Mary's church John J. Donahue, president of Div. 5, Mary Little president of Div. 23 Ladies Auxiliary A. O. H.

The speaker was introduced by Edward Finn president of Div. 4. The ushers were Dennis Ford, Thomas Golden Dennis Denehy and Lawrence Kelley. The committee in charge of the affair was Bernard Griffin, Thomas Connor, Dennis Ford, Daniel Leary, Arthur Murphy and Edward Finn.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS MEET.

An Anti-Suffrage meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Mary Tisdale, of the Miller Stille Inn Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance. Mrs. B. L. Robinson of Cambridge, vice president of the Public Interests League, was the speaker.

Mrs. Robinson stated that the best Anti-Suffrage argument was the conditions in Suffrage states, and proceeded to tell something of conditions in Colorado and Nevada. In Nevada one of the first acts of the legislature after women got the vote was to enact the loose divorce laws which had made Reno a national scandal.

Now the Colorado legislature has voted to do away with the children's court and have children come before the adults court an amazingly backward step.

In most states a man cannot sell or mortgage his real estate without his wife's consent. In Colorado a man may sell the home over his family's head without his wife's knowledge. "Your husband can sell everything he has while you are here," was said to a Colorado woman visiting in one of the Eastern states. "Maybe you won't have any home when you go back; that has happened to more than one Colorado woman." Taxes are enormous in Colorado and what do the people get in return?

We hear much about the wonderful municipal housekeeping which will follow when women get the vote; but a writer in the Colorado Springs Gazette of Feb. 22, 1914, protesting against an increase in the city's very high taxes, says: "We build and repair our own sidewalks; we pay to have our ashes hauled away. The streets, save those on which the cars run, were not watered last summer. If we wish any police protection, we have to hire a night watchman. It is only ourselves we have lived here have we seen a policeman pass the house."

"We have spent most of our lives in a large Eastern city where taxes were high, but where all the above things were provided by the city. Most of us like to get some return for our money. It is from this city down completely. It is from this state which Judge Lindsey says has made a science of corrupting its public men—that Massachusetts suffragists hire women to come to tell them that they need the vote in order to catch up with Colorado!"

SHEEHAN-WALSH.

Miss Helen Walsh, a prominent resident of the Brewer's Corner section of South Quinoy, and Charles F. Sheehan of Weymouth were married Saturday March 13th. The ceremony was performed by Fr. McElroy at St. John's Rectory on Gay street.

The news of the marriage came as a distinct surprise to the friends of both the bride and groom, only the immediate families being aware of the plans for the wedding.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan went to the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walsh of Kidder street, where an informal reception was held, they then left for their new home in Weymouth.

Miss Walsh was a very prominent and well-known singer having taken many prominent parts in concerts in different parts of Quinoy and vicinity. Mr. Sheehan is a shoe worker by trade and is very well known in Weymouth and Braintree where he has lived the greater part of his life.

NO SEA WALL.

State House, Boston, March 17. Seldom is the defeat of a measure on the floor of the house of representatives so spectacular as that of Representative Sandberg's bill for a state appropriation of $10,000 to build a sea wall at Houghs Neck. Representative Sandberg very ingeniously talked the measure through the House but at the last moment Representative Washburn of Worcester doubted the presence of a quorum and it was found that a quorum was not present. That nullified the previous vote on the matter and the bill was defeated.

At each plate was an appropriate place card, but basket and cards cut in the form of a shamrock were read by each one in turn.

After lunch thimbles were again on the table and the sewing was accomplished for the hostess. Those present were Mrs. Frank M. Spicer, Mrs. Albert H. Hall, Mrs. David Hamilton, Mrs. Alva T. Beede, Mrs. George Gruchy, Mrs. Everett Clark, John Burke, Mrs. Rodney Swan, Mrs. John Lilley, Mrs. Chas. Lydall and Mrs. Wm. Hersey.

PLAY WELL ACTED.

There was a large attendance Wednesday evening at the Quinoy High school play given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The program for the entertainment included the presentation of the two act drama "Our Church Fair."

The characters which were personated by the members of the ladies aid society were well taken. Special mention should be made of the work of Mrs. Marr who took the part of Mrs. Jackson, the president of the society. This part was however prevented her from being present. Mrs. Marr came to the rescue and although she had but a few days in which to prepare herself for the part she was almost letter perfect and received warm applause.

Others in the cast were Mrs. D. Dawson, as Mrs. Roberts, who wants to be president; Mrs. E. Collins as Mrs. Jones, who is a giddy, fond of novels; Mrs. J. M. McKay as Mrs. Brett, on the dinner committee; Mrs. C. Clark as Mrs. Lewis, the ministers wife; Mrs. A. Bishop as Mrs. Lawson plump; Mrs. D. Muckle as Mrs. Brown, anxious to get new church attendants; Mrs. L. Timney as Mrs. Addison, very inquisitive; Mrs. F. Hayden as Mrs. Ridgely, sensitive; Mrs. A. Scott as Mrs. Otis, on the dinner committee; Mrs. L. Campbell as Mrs. Thompson, decidedly cold; and Mrs. A. Munde as Mrs. Drew, just married.

In addition to the drama there were piano solos by Mrs. Robert Flockhart and vocal solos by Mr. McGee. Home made aprons and candy were on sale.

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL.

Mayor Campbell received a notice from the state, that the City of Quinoy has failed to comply with the law which provides that cities and towns of more than 10,000 inhabitants shall establish tuberculosis dispensaries and that it would be required to do so before July 1. Failure to comply with this order means prosecution.

The mayor said that he understood that there was an order before the council calling for an appropriation for a contagious hospital and that previously he had called the attention of the planning board to the matter and that the board was considering it. He further said that he would probably call the attention of the city council to the order.

The matter of a contagious hospital in Quinoy is not a new one. It was during the administration of Mayor Stone that the Board of Health took action on this matter and went so far as to have plans prepared. These at first did not meet with the approval of the State Board of Health but after making some minor changes they were approved. These plans call for practically two hospitals, although connected. One of these is for contagious diseases and the other for tuberculosis cases.

The contagious part of the hospital provides for practically eight rooms containing twenty-four beds. On one side are four rooms for women and on the other four for men. The rooms or wards are arranged so that on each side are two rooms containing three beds and one room containing one bed.

For the tuberculosis part there are 18 beds for women and 18 for men. These are arranged so that there are four rooms of seven beds each, one room of three beds and one room of one bed on each side.

This site hospital it was agreed would take care of Quinoy for many years. The estimated cost to build the hospital was $35,000. At that time the State Board of Health was pressing the city to do something about the matter and to the city council. Owing to the stress of the financial conditions of the city, however, nothing was done and it has been held before the committee ever since.

When the council of 1914 adjourned this was one of the matters that they referred to the city council of this year, where it is now pending before that committee.

Informally during the first of the present year, the matter of an appropriation for a contagious hospital was considered as one of the matters for which an appropriation must be made. However, the present time, however, the financial committee has been so busy with the appropriation order and other pressing matters that it has not taken it up, but doubtless will do so at an early date.

While the matter was being agitated two years ago the Board of Health had a public hearing on the matter and there was some opposition expressed at that time. One of the arguments was that there was already a tuberculosis camp at Mt. Pleasant. Since that time however, this hospital has been given up. The existing law the city now has to take care of tuberculosis patients and this entails quite a sum of money as there are patients from this city in most of the tuberculosis camps of the state.

Just how long the state will give the city to comply with the law is not known, although it is stated that if action has not been taken by July 1, that the matter would be given to the attorney general. It is probable however if by that time the city council has passed an appropriation for the hospital nothing more will be heard from it.

THIMBLE PARTY.

Mrs. William G. Hersey gave a Thimble party Tuesday and an all day sewing was enjoyed.

At 12:30 a chafing dish luncheon was served by the hostess consisting of chicken patties, potato salad, cold meat, rolls, nuts, olives, cheese, crack-cakes, coffee and candy and raspberry jelly with whipped cream.

The dining room was a surprise to all in its pretty decorations of red. The table was daintily spread for eleven, with a centerpiece of green carnations and small crepe paper flags.

At each plate was an appropriate place card, but basket and cards cut in the form of a shamrock were read by each one in turn.

After lunch thimbles were again on the table and the sewing was accomplished for the hostess. Those present were Mrs. Frank M. Spicer, Mrs. Albert H. Hall, Mrs. David Hamilton, Mrs. Alva T. Beede, Mrs. George Gruchy, Mrs. Everett Clark, John Burke, Mrs. Rodney Swan, Mrs. John Lilley, Mrs. Chas. Lydall and Mrs. Wm. Hersey.

PLAY WELL ACTED.

There was a large attendance Wednesday evening at the Quinoy High school play given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The program for the entertainment included the presentation of the two act drama "Our Church Fair."

The characters which were personated by the members of the ladies aid society were well taken. Special mention should be made of the work of Mrs. Marr who took the part of Mrs. Jackson, the president of the society. This part was however prevented her from being present. Mrs. Marr came to the rescue and although she had but a few days in which to prepare herself for the part she was almost letter perfect and received warm applause.

Others in the cast were Mrs. D. Dawson, as Mrs. Roberts, who wants to be president; Mrs. E. Collins as Mrs. Jones, who is a giddy, fond of novels; Mrs. J. M. McKay as Mrs. Brett, on the dinner committee; Mrs. C. Clark as Mrs. Lewis, the ministers wife; Mrs. A. Bishop as Mrs. Lawson plump; Mrs. D. Muckle as Mrs. Brown, anxious to get new church attendants; Mrs. L. Timney as Mrs. Addison, very inquisitive; Mrs. F. Hayden as Mrs. Ridgely, sensitive; Mrs. A. Scott as Mrs. Otis, on the dinner committee; Mrs. L. Campbell as Mrs. Thompson, decidedly cold; and Mrs. A. Munde as Mrs. Drew, just married.

In addition to the drama there were piano solos by Mrs. Robert Flockhart and vocal solos by Mr. McGee. Home made aprons and candy were on sale.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED.

Mrs. Ellen Chase, who was born in Ireland 75 years ago and never observed the anniversary of her birth was tendered a party on St. Patrick's day by friends at the private hospital of Mrs. Lydia Beaulieu on Buckley street.

Eight old ladies who also live there and whose ages together total 655 years were the special guests of the day. The event was the second they attended this week, having joined in a quiet observance of the 75th anniversary of Mrs. Maria Stoddard on Tuesday.

The oldest present was Mrs. Rosanna Drake who is in her 92nd year and the youngest was Mrs. Emma G. Sole who will observe her 62nd anniversary in June. Mrs. Drake contributed to the program by reciting the 23rd psalm.

Mrs. Chase has been an inmate at the hospital for a year, going there from the Quinoy home where she had lived for 25 years.

City officials five years ago learned she was a soldier's widow and through their efforts she was given the pension she now receives. The hospital is Mrs. Chase is the mother of two daughters, one of whom lives in the West. She had been adopted into another family when a baby and didn't know her mother was alive until five years ago. She came here to test but Mrs. Chase preferred to stay in Quinoy where she had many friends.

When she lived at the City Home people noticed Mrs. Chase growing more feeble day by day and inquired as to the cause. The doctor tested her and found she was born in Ireland 75 years ago but didn't know the month or day and had never celebrated such an occasion.

When this became known Mrs. Beaulieu decided she would have a party and at the suggestion of a maid at the hospital St. Patrick's Day was chosen as a tribute to her birthday.

Mrs. Chase was one of the happiest in the gathering. She fondled the birthday cards sent her and time and again had her cheeks in the bouquet of roses and sweet peas sent her by the members of the Holy Poly club of City hall girls.

ST. PATRICK'S PARTY.

Green was much in evidence at the St. Patrick's party given by Miss Jeanne French at her home on Brook street Wednesday evening. Various green decorations were about the rooms and strips of green crepe paper were fastened to the chandeliers to the corners of the rooms.

The young people gathered at about eight o'clock and games were enjoyed for a short time, after which boxes containing favors were auctioned off by A. Johnson. The boxes contained marshmallows, danced and sang until about eleven o'clock when refreshments consisting of sherbet, cookies, cake and candy were served.

Among those present were the Misses Jean Arthur, Ouida Keay, Knapp, Dana Phillips, Phyllis Smith, Martha Burch, Lora Churchill, Isabel Taberner, Ruth Buckley, Helen Burch, Hilda Taberner, Mabel Shoecraft, Phoebe Buckley, Marjorie Young, Mabel Johnson, Collina Brown, Gretchen Young, Hazel Davidson, Agnes Kinniburgh, Susie Moffat, Knapp, Dana Phillips, Phyllis Smith, and Jessie French, Mrs. C. A. Stearns, Mrs. L. S. Smith and the Messrs Leslie Arthur, Glenn Arthur, Dwight Gearwar, Arthur Hall, Alvin Johnson, William Cole, Frank Doring, Alvin Mitchell, James Butler, Gordon Tucker, Thomas Wilkinson, Ralph Knapp, Dana Phillips, Herman Keay, Harold Hill, Henry Welch, Herbert Bartoll, Alan Johnson and Edwin French.

WANT STABLE PERMIT.

The Board of Health gave a hearing Tuesday evening on the petition of Fred E. Bergfors for permission to erect a table for five horses on West road. Mr. Bergfors is to conduct an oil business and it is understood that he intends to build three lots to park his property. Mr. Bergfors former assessor Eric G. Bergfors, with whippet cream.

The dining room was a surprise to all in its pretty decorations of red. The table was daintily spread for eleven, with a centerpiece of green carnations and small crepe paper flags.

At each plate was an appropriate place card, but basket and cards cut in the form of a shamrock were read by each one in turn.

After lunch thimbles were again on the table and the sewing was accomplished for the hostess. Those present were Mrs. Frank M. Spicer, Mrs. Albert H. Hall, Mrs. David Hamilton, Mrs. Alva T. Beede, Mrs. George Gruchy, Mrs. Everett Clark, John Burke, Mrs. Rodney Swan, Mrs. John Lilley, Mrs. Chas. Lydall and Mrs. Wm. Hersey.

PLAY WELL ACTED.

There was a large attendance Wednesday evening at the Quinoy High school play given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The program for the entertainment included the presentation of the two act drama "Our Church Fair."

The characters which were personated by the members of the ladies aid society were well taken. Special mention should be made of the work of Mrs. Marr who took the part of Mrs. Jackson, the president of the society. This part was however prevented her from being present. Mrs. Marr came to the rescue and although she had but a few days in which to prepare herself for the part she was almost letter perfect and received warm applause.

Others in the cast were Mrs. D. Dawson, as Mrs. Roberts, who wants to be president; Mrs. E. Collins as Mrs. Jones, who is a giddy, fond of novels; Mrs. J. M. McKay as Mrs. Brett, on the dinner committee; Mrs. C. Clark as Mrs. Lewis, the ministers wife; Mrs. A. Bishop as Mrs. Lawson plump; Mrs. D. Muckle as Mrs. Brown, anxious to get new church attendants; Mrs. L. Timney as Mrs. Addison, very inquisitive; Mrs. F. Hayden as Mrs. Ridgely, sensitive; Mrs. A. Scott as Mrs. Otis, on the dinner committee; Mrs. L. Campbell as Mrs. Thompson, decidedly cold; and Mrs. A. Munde as Mrs. Drew, just married.

In addition to the drama there were piano solos by Mrs. Robert Flockhart and vocal solos by Mr. McGee. Home made aprons and candy were on sale.

HIT BY TROLLEY.

The wagon of Louis Cutler of Water street, Quincy Adams, was struck by a car on Pond street, Braintree, near Farm river bridge Tuesday evening. The wagon was driven by Cutler and was thrown to the street but not seriously injured. The horse ran away but was captured a short distance from the scene of the accident.

The passengers shaken on the car, were somewhat shaken up as a result of the prompt application of the brakes by the motorman when he saw a collision was inevitable.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Members of the Quinoy Women's club may be prepared at next Tuesday afternoon meeting of the club to receive and pay for their copy of the anniversary poem written by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney which has been printed in leaflet form ready for distribution.

The regular weekly sewing meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Stephen's will be held Wednesday in the parish house beginning at ten o'clock. Following the noon luncheon a missionary meeting will be held at half past two after which there will be a reading from Dr. Faunce's book "Social Aspects of Foreign Missions."

The Women's Guild of Christ church is to meet Thursday morning at ten o'clock. The basket lunch will be a Dutch but hot coffee will be served. The Guild is preparing to send a barrel of clothing to South Carolina to St. Marys school at Columbia and especially those in the West. The Guild is also working to help various church fairs at distant points.

The Mission circle of the Universalist church met in the ladies parlour Monday afternoon. President Mrs. Thomas Addison presided. The next meeting will be April 12.

Mrs. E. S. Tead of Atlantic discussed "The Opportunity of Mothers" before the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary Friday March 12th. The devotional exercises preceding the meeting were under the direction of Mrs. Wm. A. Williams. A social hour followed during which there were vocal selections by Miss Ruth Packard accompanied by Mrs. N. G. Nickerson. Refreshments were served.

A well attended meeting of the Quinoy club was held at the Quinoy Club on Wednesday evening. The program included a social hour followed during which there were vocal selections by Miss Ruth Packard accompanied by Mrs. N. G. Nickerson. Refreshments were served.

The club voted to give $125 dollars to a permanent club scholarship for some worthy Quinoy woman. This amount to be given yearly, $100 was also voted for the Associated Charities and $100 for the visiting nurse.

It is hoped all who can, will attend the meeting March 29 in the Methodist vestry when Mrs. Miller of the Fileno Co. gives a talk on "How to Dress Economically." Attend and take your friends.

Mrs. Adams reported $30 realized by the sale of candy at the club dramas. This committee has not only provided for needy families but has cared for the sick and suffering in the city.

The meeting place of next year was then spoken of and left upon the table as a matter to be decided later. Miss Gertrude Allen of Quinoy then sang in a very charming manner three solos, accompanied by Miss Olney.

Mrs. Ropes introduced Arthur Kachel, a student of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He would be hard to find a more delightful story to read and it would surely be much more difficult to find a reader of greater ability. Mr. Kachel is an artist and needless to say all spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

PI ETA SHOW.

"Robin the Robber," this year's musical comedy offered by the Pi Eta society of Harvard university, will be presented in Quinoy Music hall on the evening of March 25. The local production is presented under the direction of the Quinoy Tennis club. The comedy was written by Paul Blackman '15 of this city. There are a large number of patrons, including:

Mrs. George W. Ahele, Mrs. Edward Ahele, Mrs. Wm. G. Gallagher, Mr. Avery, Mrs. Albert E. Avery, Mrs. Percy E. Barbour, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. Francis V. Barstow, Mrs. William R. Bateman, Mrs. Percy E. Bennett, Mrs. Caroline A. Bill, Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Paul H. Blackman, Mrs. Frederick H. Brown, Mrs. George H. Brown, Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, Miss Charlotte Burgess, Mrs. Clarence Bargin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. William Cooper, Mrs. Emery L. Crane, Mrs. Thomas B. Davenport, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, Mrs. Wm. H. Dolan, Mrs. George H. Drake, Mrs. Horace H. Drinkwater, Mrs. Samuel W. Ellsworth, Mrs. Nivon E. Elmer, Mrs. Frank A. Emery, Mrs. J. Henry Emery, Mrs. Joseph Evans, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Henry E. Frick, Mrs. Richard R. Freeman, Mrs. Wm. H. Gilman, Mrs. George H. Gilson, Mrs. Luther W. Glover, Mrs. Joseph B. Groce, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall, Mrs. George F. Hall, Mrs. Joseph H. Hall, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Sidney C. Hardwick, Mrs. Henry H. Holden, Mrs. Charles L. Holden, Mrs. Charles A. Howland, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting.

Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John H. Johnson, Mrs. Frederick E. Jones, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Mrs. Theophilus King, Mrs. Wm. H. Lacey, Mrs. George H. Lacey, Mrs. Carlton C. Lane, Mrs. George C. Lane, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. Ralph N. Lovell, Mrs. Russell C. Low, Miss Maude N. McFarlane, Mrs. Alva Morrison, Mrs. C. Lee Morrison, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Mrs. John J. Nolan, Mrs. Wm. H. O'Brien, Mrs. Walter M. Packard, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. James F. Paige, Mrs. Albert M. Parker, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee, Mrs. George E. Pfaffman, Mrs. Alvan H. Pierce, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. Joseph W. Pown, Mrs. Charles A. Price, Mrs. J. W. E. Prouty, Mrs. Alfred H. Ricker, Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Mrs. Elmer Ricker, Mrs. James A. Rice.

Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs. Walter L. Sargent, Mrs. Russell A. Sears, Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick, Mrs. Joseph A. Sheahan, Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, Mrs. Wm. H. Shoppard, Mrs. Wm. R. Sheppard, Mrs. Fred Simpson, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith, Mrs. Harry A. Stevens, Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow, Mrs. Edmond G. Thayer, Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, Mrs. Gordon B. Trowbridge, Mrs. Frank H. Walsh, Mrs. Robert Warren, Mrs. Joseph L. Whiton, Mrs. Ira M. Whitmore.

CHARLES J. BROWN.

The funeral of Charles J. Brown was held from his home at 11 Grant street Monday afternoon. Rev. Thomas Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church officiated. Burial was at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Marshfield. The deceased was in his 49th year and died at the Brigham hospital, Boston Friday night, a few hours after a long illness. He returned to Quinoy by returned from Panama where he was an engineer. He leaves a widow.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

The Quinoy Women's Club is to hold its annual children's party at the Quinoy Club on Saturday afternoon, March 27. Club members may send their children and those members having no children may send a child, who will be admitted on presentation of the mother's, or friends visiting card. A child may take a guest by paying 25 cents for the ticket. The entertainment will begin at 2 o'clock and will be somewhat different in character from those given in recent years. Miss Randall will tell about the children of foreign lands and there will be a short, varied program in the interval between the stories.

Refreshments will be served and the afternoon's program will conclude with dancing and games.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Young Women's club plans for its open night on March 24 in the Quinoy Club building. The subject of which has been given them for recreation purposes, are rapidly materializing and at a meeting at High school Wednesday evening a partial list of guests was completed.

They will include Mayor Campbell, Miss Edith Towle of Brookline, an actress, and several of the Young Women's club, the supervisors of the Adams Temple and School fund who granted the use of the building and William Sayward, a well known reader.

The Federation of Women's clubs have been invited and will probably be officially represented by their officers. Miss Minnie Packard, president and presided and the regular classes were held after the meeting. It was announced that the sewing class could be greatly assisted if presented with a sewing machine.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Park and Downs church was filled Tuesday, for the regular meeting of the Wollaston Woman's club. The president Mrs. Ropes made several announcements, among them being the gentlemen's night on Friday evening in the Wollaston School hall. When Albert L. Sanier will give a stereopticon lecture on "In the High Places of South America." It is hoped that all members with their husbands will be present.

The attention of the club was called to the Wollaston School hall, which is in the Harvard Stadium June 4. The orchestra of the Metropolitan opera House as well as many of the world-famous artists will make the performance one of the notable events of musical circles.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office, Quincy,
Brewer & Co., Quincy,
H. P. O'Brien, City Square,
C. P. Carlson, 20 Hancock St.,
L. A. Cook, near Quincy Depot,
H. H. Smith, Quincy Point,
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point,
Shank's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic,
Brasch & Martens, Atlantic,
Brasch & Martens Norfolk Downs,
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams,
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
Edward P. Dohan, West Quincy,
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner,
J. J. Hammers, East Milton,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

CRANCH SCHOOL ASSO.

The policy of the public schools must be "full steam ahead," according to John D. Mackay, Chairman of the School Committee, who was the speaker at the meeting of the Parents and Teachers' association of the Cranch School Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance.

Before the address there was a business meeting and musical selections were given by pupils from the Adams Evening school. Rev. A. M. Thompson presided and introduced the speaker. A dainty collation was served by the teachers at the close.

After citing some facts and figures to show the magnitude of the work in which the schools of Quincy are engaged and what it cost Mr. Mackay said that the needs were increasing and consequently there was an increase in responsibility. He stated that it would take 16 poll taxes to educate a pupil for one year.

"It will be even harder for the coming generation to get along in the world than it is for us," said the speaker, "and their mental equipment must be better in order that they may hold their own in the battle of life. With a good education one is practically insured against coming to want, and that is more than can be said about the man who owns houses and lands, stocks and bonds; for those things easily leave one, but mental training, once acquired, is a permanent possession. You ought to strive to give your boy and girl the best in education."

"As a matter of patriotic duty, also, the schools must be kept going at the highest degree of efficiency. The perpetuity of the Republic depends largely upon the maintenance of a high degree of popular intelligence, and the same may be said concerning our municipalities. The ignorant man and the demagogue can be controlled only by the educated man. He must hold the balance true. The duty of the taxpayer is to continue to be liberal with the schools, so that the citizen of tomorrow may have his due, and enjoy the benefits of decent government."

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following building permits have been issued this week:
Herbert S. Cummings, auto house, Freeman street.
Charles G. Broberg, poultry house, Delford street.
August Williams, blacksmith shop, Quarry street.
Olaf P. Lindberg, dwelling, Furnace Brookway.
Hassan E. Wright, block of 4 stores, East Howard street.
W. L. Jackson, Son & Co., garage, Brooks avenue.
Herbert Gerrior & Co., stone sheds, Garfield street.
Peter M. Vayatte, garage, Beebe road.
L. J. Hayford, alteration, East Quantum street.
Emily C. Thibodeau, dwelling, Germania avenue.
Bert Hilliard, Sea street.
J. H. Broughton, dwelling, Greenwood avenue.
Caroline G. Diamond, dwelling, Sterling street.
S. C. Hicks, repair shop, Robertson street.
W. R. Lofgren, dwelling, Revere road.
Norman Pemberton, alteration, Deale street.
August Cedergren, dwelling, Kilby street.
Edwin Kitteridge, poultry house, Graham street.
H. W. Hatfield, dwelling, Taylor street.
E. H. Gawertz, alteration, Lincoln avenue.
Harry D. King, garage, Thornton street.
William A. Robb, garage, Briggs street.
Mery E. Larkin, removal, Freeman street.

BONFIRES PROHIBITED.

Saturday Deputy Murphy of the fire hazard commissioner's office came to Quincy and after consulting with Chief Billings, it was determined to begin at once a strict enforcement of the rule prohibiting the building of bon fires.

It is perhaps not generally understood, but no person is permitted to build a bon fire without permission from the Chief Engineer of the Fire department. The rule provides that no bon fire shall be built within 100 feet of a dwelling house, except upon ploughed land and not within two hundred feet from wood or timber land without a permit from the Chief Engineer. This rule is a general one and includes the city departments as well as private citizens.

Often times the street department men have raked up dead leaves in the streets and then burnt them in the street gutters. This is now prohibited. If the place is within 100 feet of a dwelling, or within 200 feet of wood or timber land.

Chief Billings has notified the police department to enforce this rule to the letter and from now on violators will be brought into court. Chief Billings said that this was no idle threat, but that the first party caught building a bon fire would be haled into court.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Quincy Branch Advertiser Letters, March 1915.
Mrs. E. Bath, Mrs. Grace Pearl, William Caden, Mr. Cherry, Mrs. E. M. Cook, H. G. Fairfield, Harry Gamber, Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom, James McDonald, Miss Nora Nelson, Mrs. Helen A. Nixon, Miss Diane Pinkowsky, Mrs. Susan Power, A. Stenter, Oskar Svensson.

CITY COUNCIL.

A lively debate on amendments to the annual appropriation order, as reported by the finance committee, proposed by Councilman Smith, furnished the material for a lively debate of the order at Monday night's meeting of the city council. Several councilmen took part in the debate after which the amendments as proposed by Councilman Smith were rejected. An amendment proposed by President Whitton, who called Councilman O'Dowd to the chair, increasing the amount for the July Fourth celebration to $1,000 was accepted.

The budget, which was finally ordered to a second reading, calls for an appropriation of $580,207.00, instead of $583,007.00 as recommended by the mayor.

Another interesting matter was a public hearing on the petition for approval to establish a local fire department in Quincy. Col. Sweetser, who was in charge of the fire department, called Councilman O'Dowd to the chair, increasing the amount for the July Fourth celebration to $1,000 was accepted.

The finance committee reported the annual appropriation order. The order as reported showed but few changes from the amounts set forth in the estimates of the mayor. The changes made by the committee were as follows:

The item for the commission of public works the item of "$1,000 for clerk" is cut out and the item for "other expenses" is cut from $550 to $450. The item for "other expenses" of the registrars is cut from $2,000 to $1,900. The item for "care of city hall buildings" is cut from $12,000 to $11,000. The item for "other expenses" of the building inspector is cut from $700 to $550.

The item for "other expenses" of the Board of Health is cut from $1,500 to $1,300. The item for the Planning Board is $250. The item for "July Fourth celebration" is cut from $1,000 to $600 and the proviso added "one hundred dollars to be expended in each ward for children's entertainment."

This makes the grand total $579,807. Instead of $583,007.00, a difference of $3,200.

The cut of $1,000 in the commission of public works, is the amount that was to be the salary of the purchasing agent, or clerk.

After the report of the committee had been accepted Councilman Smith offered the following amendments:

First by adding the following paragraph: That neither the amounts nor any portion of amounts herein designated as "other expenses" shall be expended for any purpose similar to that for which an appropriation is herein made. That the amount of $5,000 for the city hospital be stricken out and the figures $4,000 be substituted. That the item for the celebration of the Fourth of July be stricken out.

In support of his motion Councilman Smith said that the first amendment aimed at what was considered an abuse. The idea was that the budget contained certain items for pay of clerks and what he desired was that no part of the item "other expenses" should be used to pay clerks for extra work. He had found by consulting the pay roll that clerks had received a regular salary as clerks and that they had received further compensation which had been charged to miscellaneous.

If there is to be any salary paid to a clerk it should be charged to clerk and not to miscellaneous as had been done in the past. "I want to call things by their right name," he declared.

As to the city hospital he objected to the increase. He believed that the city was paying for matters which had been charged to it which should not have been.

As to the July 4th celebration to divide a small amount into different wards meant no celebration at all. "If we are to have a celebration in which all were interested that is different. The money should be expended in a lump and not divided."

Councilman Beaman said: "It is impossible for any department to say it is to be used for one purpose or another. It is to be used for the boss and we should not be his hands. I believe that he will follow the city council and that there would be no more of this kind of work this year. The trouble was that it was simply a matter of bookkeeping."

"The sum of $5,000 is small enough for the hospital. As for $600 for July 4th, when used in the center it was all right. If there is to be money appropriated for a grand celebration that is one thing but if it is to be a small amount I do not see how we can have much of a celebration. The money expended for July 4th is a good thing if it teaches patriotism and keeps people at home."

Councilman Richards said that as for the first amendment that had been stricken out in the finance committee and it had been agreed to leave the matter to the mayor. As for the $5,000 for the hospital the extra $1,000 seemed necessary.

Councilman O'Dowd was then called to the chair and President Whitton asking the floor spoke at length on all three amendments. He said:

"It is hard to explain these other expenses without using a hammer. My experience down stairs was that it is absolutely impossible to specify the amount. Its up to the mayor how the miscellaneous shall be expended. He can spend it where he pleases. If the mayor is obliged to sit in his office with his hands tied he cannot get out to see the city. I believe that it would be better for the city to give the mayor a lump sum and let him use his judgment. We would get better results. I doubt the legality of the proposed amendment. I do not believe the council can tie the mayor's hands."

"As for the city hospital the institution has grown and grown and the appropriation is the same as it has been for years. There may have been some laxity in other years and city may not have got what belonged to it but by the system put into operation this year I believe that the city will get every cent of the $5,000. It will not pay bills that go out to other places without getting a return from that place. The hospital is doing a great good for all."

"As for the amount for July 4th if ever $1,000 was well expended it is here. I had rather do away with the police on July Fourth than not have a celebration. It takes about $2,000 to have a celebration and this year the times are so hard that the amount could not be collected. It is proposed to cut out the parade and most of the sports and to have entertainments for the children and fireworks in the evening. Has not the money been well expended in other years. No fires and not an arrest for drunkenness. People must be entertained. Do not tie the mayor's hands. If we are afraid of him the limit up, but I hope to give him the full length of the rope. I hope the budget will go through as recommended by the mayor."

Councilman Smith asked if the president could explain how it would tie the mayor's hands.

Councilman Whitton replied: "Take the assessors, for instance. It would be impossible to pay clerks for extra time."

Councilman Fuller said that last year it had cost Atlantic about $1,000 for its celebration and the $600 mentioned will not go far.

Councilman McDonald thought it a good budget. "I do not think it possible to put in items under 'other expenses.' If we tie the mayor's hands it will be bad. I oppose the amendment."

Councilman Smith asked how it would tie the mayor's hands to which Councilman McDonald replied "There is no sense in having a censor law to expel a budget is all right."

Councilman McGrath said: "The mayor promised the committee that there would be no charging salaries to miscellaneous this year in the light of that that I do not see the necessity of the motion. As for the July 4th amount as expended last year it was useless. In the morning there was a trades parade in which we saw 'get your shoes tapped at Jones' and in another case a hen man from Braintree picked the feathers from hens all through the parade and these feathers were scattered all over the streets and required a week's work by the street department to clean them up. We should begin at the bottom, to cultivate patriotism and that is with the children. The $600 is all we can afford this year."

Councilman Griffin called for a division of the question. Councilman Smith, "In spite of what the mayor said the same thing as last year is being done. A clerk is receiving a salary as clerk and another amount which is charged to miscellaneous." He then asked the city auditor if it was not a fact that last week a certain clerk received a sum as clerk and an extra amount charged to something else. "The city auditor replied in the affirmative."

Councilman McGrath said: "If this is so we had better stop right here and straighten things out." The amendment proposed by Councilman Smith was then put to a vote and rejected by a vote of 3 yes and 15 no.

By a rising vote the council rejected the proposition to cut the amount for the hospital from $5,000 to $4,000. On the amendment relating to July 4th Councilman Whitton moved to amend the amendment by striking out the words "$100 to be expended in each ward to children's entertainment" and substitute the figures "600 and 600."

This was voted on a rising vote of 15 yes and 3 no. The order was then ordered to a second reading.

Communications were received from the mayor appointing Paul M. Lyons a public weigher, and F. W. Hollis and John Apperton specific constables. Confirmed.

The electric light company was granted a relocation of poles on Chubbuck street and a hearing ordered on a petition for a pole location on Mechanic street.

Petitions were received as follows: For child's to appear on the stage at Houghs Neck, which was granted. To extend the sewer on Granite street to executive. To accept part of Butler road as a public street, to build a part of Billings road, to accept Lincoln street, to accept V. to build Arthur street, all of which were referred to the street committee.

Many applications for minor licenses were received and referred to the license committee.

Hassan Ali applied for a pool table license but was given leave to withdraw. He was convicted in court yesterday on charges of gaming on the Lord's day and keeping a gaming nuisance.

The ordinance committee reported the Planning Board ordinance which was passed. The finance committee reported their transfer of the receipts from sewer house connections to the order for that purpose. Order passed.

The finance committee recommended that the city council call the attention of the mayor to the large amounts that are being expended for the up-keep of the city automobiles. A large amount of new business was offered as follows:

Amending the Hawkers and Peddlers ordinance by increasing the fee for the license from $2 to $4. Other new business offered was $1,500 for a granite sidewalk on Washington and Hancock streets about the First church; $350 for a granite sidewalk on Walker street; $800 to rebuild Avon way; $500 to rebuild Willard street from the parkway to the railroad depot; to accept Lowe street and Glenwood way; $1,500 to rebuild Monroe road to old Greenwood avenue all of which were referred to the street committee.

On an order offered by Councilman Smith the pool room licenses granted Victor Ruska and Carl Lehto were revoked. These men were convicted in court last week.

An order for lights at Squantum was referred to the executive. Councilman Smith offered orders granting gasoline permits which were adopted.

Adjourned at 10.30 P. M.

SALE FIRE ARMS.

Teachers and parents are to be informed of the law regulating the sale of fire arms to children if the plan of Probation Officer Francis J. Fahy materializes. Copies of Chapter 199, section 92 of the acts of 1909 are to be mailed to the former and read to the pupils so they will know its intention. The chapter follows:

"Whoever sells or furnishes to a minor under the age of 15 years, any firearms, air guns, or other dangerous weapons shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 for each offense; but instructors and teachers may furnish military weapons to pupils for instruction and drill."

FIRST PARISH CLUB.

Members of the First Parish club were treated to an illuminating discussion of the causes of the present European war at the meeting of the club Tuesday night when they were addressed by Clarence W. Barron, publisher of the Boston News Bureau, whose book "The Audacious War" was most read. His subject was "The War and Afterward."

The club met as usual at 6 o'clock for a half hour social session dinner served at 6.30. There was an unusually large number present and at almost the last minute it was found necessary to prepare another table. In fact the attendance was the largest the club has had this season. Seated at the head table aside from the speaker and Rev. A. L. Hudson, the president of the club, were Clarence Barron, Charles C. Heath, Henry M. Paxon, L. Huron, U. S. N. Hon. Russell A. Sears, William A. Bradford and John L. Hamilton.

"It is our business to study the war and its useful lessons," said the speaker. "Germany is now at war with seven nations and soon will be at war with ten nations. One of the lessons for us in the United States is first the defence of diplomacy. We should strengthen our diplomatic corps. Out of this war will come a larger citizenship and Christianity in which we must take a part. The map is not to be changed so much for Germany will remain, but the first terms that will be demanded for the peace will have to be an international relationship between nations. When Italy and Rumania join in and push it up to Austria then will be the time which the allies are waiting for and it depends on Germany how long the war will last and the war may end before the snow flies."

These were some of the salient points brought out by Mr. Barron in his most interesting talk. He spoke for over an hour and a half, talking rapidly and in a manner showing that he was thoroughly conversant with his subject.

In opening Mr. Barron said that he was no public speaker but claimed sometimes to be a writer. Especially, however, he was a farmer in Cohasset. He said that he had studied this question in connection with business, that he had found the best way to get correct inside information was not to go to those on the inner circle who knew but to get outside friends who had information first hand which was correct. He then told of his trip to Europe, taken on the spur of the moment, to learn inside facts. When he arrived in London he found all of the people he knew in diplomatic service were there and he soon gathered what he sought for. He said that Italy could not get so far as it has now. That were difficult to harmonize.

He then spoke briefly of what the different nations wanted and said the climax came with the murder of the Austrian prince by the Serbians. "Serbia was willing to make any amends and meet all amends but was not permitted for the German speaker, a man who dominated Austria, wanted war."

He then spoke of the South Eastern treaty of peace which was all ready to sign when Austria called it off by notifying all nations in the treaty that it was not satisfactory to her. "Austria knew that Serbia would comply with its ultimatum but that was not what she wanted."

"Under the treaty between Russia and Germany, Russia had great difficulty in meeting its exchanges and had notified Germany that at the expiration of that treaty a different one would be asked. Germany, however, said it would not be asked."

"After the war with Japan, Russia discovered that there was much graft among the officers of the army and navy. Thirty-eight per cent. of them were dismissed and for the past 10 years Russia has been developing a military base."

"Germany knew Russia's weakness. She also knew the weakness of France and believed that she would be easy to conquer. It was said last year that Germany could not afford to go to war. Yet she was preparing for war but none knew this but the Kaiser. Germany also believed that she knew the weakness of the British Empire. She believed that she was waiting for a chance to break away from Great Britain. That Australia would grasp the opportunity and that Ireland was ready to break away. Germany, however, judged other nations by herself. Looking at India Germany said 'Ha, Ha, India is ready to throw off the English yoke. The United States will take Canada for itself and Australia will be for itself. She thought that Great Britain would decay and fall to pieces but she has found out her mistake. The trouble was that Germany was judging other nations by herself."

"Bismark saw the advantage of having neighbors who were prosperous and that this meant Germany's success. How much different was that idea from that of the present ruler."

Mr. Barron then told how every penny was gathered up by Germany and that everything was stamped 'Made in Germany.' "It appeared that Germany had no such thought. The Kaiser had an idea that his great navy would be ready in two years but he misjudged Great Britain and that is where his diplomacy failed. Germany can not appreciate the conditions of another country. Germany has made no terms with Austria. The Kaiser blocked every proposal for peace and forced the war."

"In Russia everything was in the control of Germany. The people are now awakened to the fact. The people of these countries have no conception of the commercial and financial status of Europe. This war can not be settled in a day. England can equip the world with rifles but lacks the wood for the stock which she must import. Out of this war is coming the unity of nations. The first demand for peace is that Germany must get out of Belgium. What the different nations will get when the war is over is now being discussed."

"If Germany triumphs in this war we must look after our tariff. We can never have peace except as we have peace in Quincy by a police force. Take away the police force and you have no peace. What we need in the United States is a discipline in education. Our people should learn to be self sustaining. It is too late now to build warships. Enough war ships could not be constructed in twenty years."

"The present militarism must be crushed. When Austria is cowed we may expect to see war end at any time. I should not be surprised if it ended before next winter. The United States must not be brought into this war. We have nothing to go to war with. One thing we must have is a little more ginger in Washington. We need a little more red hair there. It is useless to say let the Mexicans settle their own trouble, the United States must settle it as it did in Cuba. We have not entered a protest against the violation of a treaty which we signed."

"The German people do not know anything about what is behind the situation other than the demands of the government. The German takes no interest in his government. He does not know anything about his government. One of the worst things Germany has done is the way she has treated Belgium and Austria. Her great friendship for her."

"At the close of the address the speaker was given a rising vote of thanks. It was voted to appoint a committee to prepare a list of officers to be voted for at the next meeting, at which the speaker will be Senator John W. Weeks."

QUINCY SCHOOL ASSO.
The regular meeting of the Parents Teachers' association of Quincy school was held in the assembly hall Tuesday evening.

The meeting was called to order by President W. F. Cummings. After a few introductory remarks Mr. Sampson principal of the school was called upon to report upon the financial result of the last entertainment which was to provide funds for the current expenses of the association. His report proved that the entertainment from financial standpoint was eminently successful.

Several committees rendered reports and a nominating committee was appointed to report at the next meeting, which is the annual one and which will be held the third Tuesday in May. The committee is Byron C. Liberty, chairman, Mrs. Eugene J. Hayford, and Joseph Updell.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. George M. Bailey of Wollaston. His subject was: "A plus b equals X."

He said: "A (the parents) plus b (the teacher) equals X (the unknown quantity that is in the boy, or in other words, his possibilities for the future. These possibilities are largely influenced by the combined teaching of parents and teachers whose highest aim should be to build individual character in the boys and girls."

Music was furnished by pupils of the sixth grade under direction of the Principal E. E. Sampson.

FOUNDER'S DAY.

Could the portrait of Dr. Ebenezer Woodward, on the wall back of the platform, have come to life and could have looked down upon the assemblage that had gathered in Woodward hall March 12th to do honor to the founder of the 24th anniversary of his birth. Dr. Woodward, his countenance must have assumed a look of gratification, as he saw his desire, as expressed in his will, being fulfilled, for directly in front were gathered the girl students of the school, in all the freshness of their youth.

The back part of the assembly hall was given up to the parents and friends of the school, and their number was only limited by the capacity of the hall.

The program although not a lengthy one was one of exceeding interest. It opened with a procession, during which the students marched in and took the seats arranged for them directly in front of the platform. The first part of the program included music under the direction of John D. Buckingham, the numbers being "My Bonnie Balmie" an old Hebridean air, "Waltz, 'Birds of Spring' and 'Ave Maria.' The closing number was a piano solo, Polonaise E major, by Miss Amy Fallon, '12."

Part two, included a series of pantomime tableaux, of scenes from colonial life. Scene one was "Puritans Going to Church." The story was told by Grace Laing, '18, and as she recited the story, the curtain was pulled back disclosing a group of sturdy Puritans going to church, the men with their guns under their arms and their wives in long dresses.

The women were impersonated by Gertrude Bums, Marion Nicoll, '15, Hannah Landberg, '15, Florence Anderson, '16, Beatrice Brown, '16, Evelyn Macfarland, '16, Marie Poland, '16, Helen Thompson, '17, Reba Osgood, '18, and Lillian Schenkelberger, '18.

Scene two was "The Red Man's Welcome," and was given in two parts. Mrs. Part one was introduced by Mary McKenzie, '18. It showed an Indian camp. At the left was a wigwam with its guard, while at the right were two Puritans approaching with their peace offering of beads. The Indian chieftain in pantomime to the words spoken by Miss McKenzie, he knew his welcome and escorted the Puritans to the wigwam, where seated in a circle the pile of peace was passed.

Scene three showed the Puritans seated in front of the wigwam, when there entered ten Indian squaws, who executed an Indian peace dance, which ended with the well known Indian war whoop as they danced off the platform.

Those to take part in the first scene were Marguerite Hunter, '15, Emma Kelley, '15, Marian Hunter, '15, Helen Miller, '15, Mabel Dorning, '15, Catherine Griffin, '16, Dorothy Sprague, '17, and Alice O'Connell, '18. In scene two were Gertrude Callahan, '15, Julia Coyle, '15, Alice McDonald, '15, Annie Callahan, '16, Beatrice Lamont, '17, Edna Mine, '17, Marion Blaine, '18, Mary Chouinard, '18, Alice O'Connell, '18, and Helen Swanson, '18.

The next tableau represented the courtship of Miles Standish. Pantomime one was "John Alden's Mission" and was introduced by Alice Powers, '16. The curtain being pulled aside disclosed Governor Miles Standish sitting back and forth, while seated at a table writing in John Alden's diary. Pantomime Miles makes known his love for Priscilla and although himself in love with Priscilla for friendship's sake John goes on his mission to plead for Miles.

The second pantomime shows Priscilla at the spinning wheel and while busy with her thoughts, John Alden enters and makes known his mission. Priscilla rises and smiles coyly at the introducer says "Why don't you speak for yourself John." Of course John takes the hint.

Gertrude Bullock, '15, impersonated Miles Standish, Marie Poland, '16, John Alden, and Lillian Schenkelberger, '18, Priscilla.

The story of Dorothy Quincy was followed by Margaret MacLeod, '16. The scene showed Dorothy seated sewing in one of the rooms of the Quincy mansion. She hears footsteps and rises as John Hancock enters. His welcome is a warm one, but while pleading his cause the approach of the red coats is announced. John Hancock quickly escapes as the two red coats enter and are told by Dorothy to search where they will. Of course their search is fruitless and they take their departure. John Hancock enters shortly after and this time Dorothy places her hand and hand in his keeping.

Those in the tableau were Anna Weston, '15, Elvira Beckman, '15, Katherine Horgan, '15, Dorothy Hall, '17, and Mabel Jacobson, '17.

The last tableau on the program was "The Colonial Minuet" introduced by Doris Peterson, '18. Those who executed the dance were Anna Dighton, '15, Doris Frazier, '15, Helen Meun, '15, Edith Blakely, '16, Isabel Pease, '16, Maria Schenkelberger, '17, and Ruth Rovant, '17. This scene was a remarkably pretty one and finely executed.

The last scene, which was however not on the printed program, showed in one group all those that had taken part in the several tableaux.

It is hardly necessary to add that the various numbers were warmly received and that the evening entertainment was a most delightful one.

EXCHANGE OF PULPITS.

The second annual exchange of pulpits among the ministers of Quincy took place Sunday. The exchanges:

First Parish, Rev. Stephen C. Lang. Bethany, Rev. William B. Sayre. Union chapel, Houghs Neck, Rev. B. A. Willmott.

Washington Street Congregational, Rev. A. L. Hudson. Wollaston Unitarian, Rev. Merrill C. Ward.

Universalist, Rev. Carl G. Horst. First Presbyterian, Rev. D. M. McLeod.

United Presbyterian, Rev. Clarence E. Campbell. Wollaston Congregational, Rev. Thomas W. Davison.

Atlantic Memorial, Rev. I. W. Sneath. Wollaston Baptist, Rev. George W. Bailey.

Wollaston Methodist, Rev. Joseph Walther.

ALUMINUM SHOWER.

Mrs. Margaret M. Bisson Lenson, wife of Chief Yeoman R. H. Lenson of the U. S. S. Birmingham now cruising off the Isle de Cuba, was tendered an aluminum shower by 46 young women of the commercial department of the N. E. & T. Co., at her home on Gay street Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenson were quietly married some months ago, when the Birmingham was undergoing repairs at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Mrs. Lenson will leave the employ of the company in April and will make her home either at Newport, R. I., or Norfolk, Va., one of which will be designated the home port of the ship.

Mrs. Lenson's return from Boston was delayed by several young women who took her to dinner. They accepted her invitation to spend an evening in Quincy and when they reached her home it was in the possession of her friends.

The surprise was complete and included in the shower of a quantity of aluminum was a beautiful cut glass vase, filled with five dozen jonquils. Attached to each flower with blue ribbon, the telephone colors, were cards on which were written the names of the guests.

The formalities over, an evening of riotous fun commenced. All kinds of games were played and there was an impromptu musical entertainment, speeches and other pleasantries. Refreshments were served.

The guests were present from all parts of metropolitan Boston, including Cambridge, Malden, Somerville, South and East Boston, Quincy, Back Bay.

The affair was planned and given under the direction of Miss Anna Howard of Orient Heights and Miss Irene Graham of Quincy. Among those present were:

The Misses Mabel Allen, Irene Benson, Ethel Blaine, Maria Bliss, Anna Brundage, Myrtle Brundage, Florence Buckley, Lucy Barker, Marie Burns, May Dunn, Blanche Dempsey, Annie Drinan, Rose Drinan, Anna Fleming, Katherine Foley, Agnes Fyfe, Frances Gibbs, Mary Gordon, Irene Graham, Pearl Hammond, Anna Harwood, Grace Haskell, Beatrice Hensy, Grace Hunt, Margaret King, Rose La Terza, Margaret Little, Annette Long, Lillian Long, Louise Long, Mildred Marr, Winnie McHugh, Lillie McIntyre, Louise McLaughlin, Muriel Moore, Marion North, Frances Pick, Josephine Roach, Margaret Sheehan, Elizabeth Strachan, Ella Strandberg, May Sullivan, Bessie Sutherland, and Mr. and Mrs. Minahan and daughter.

TO ENFORCE LAW.

Surveyor of the port Maynard, announces that the law governing equipment of yachts with life-saving devices will be more strictly enforced the coming year than ever before by the government inspectors. A campaign of education is to be started on the night of March 17, when Surveyor Maynard and Capt. Charles R. Tucker of the custom guards will outline their plans before the Boston Yacht club. It is the intention of the surveyor to speak before all yacht clubs of the state in order that the law may be more fully understood and to prevent the vexatious delays to yachtmen of having their boats searched when they are out on a pleasure cruise.

CLAN ATTEND FUNERAL.

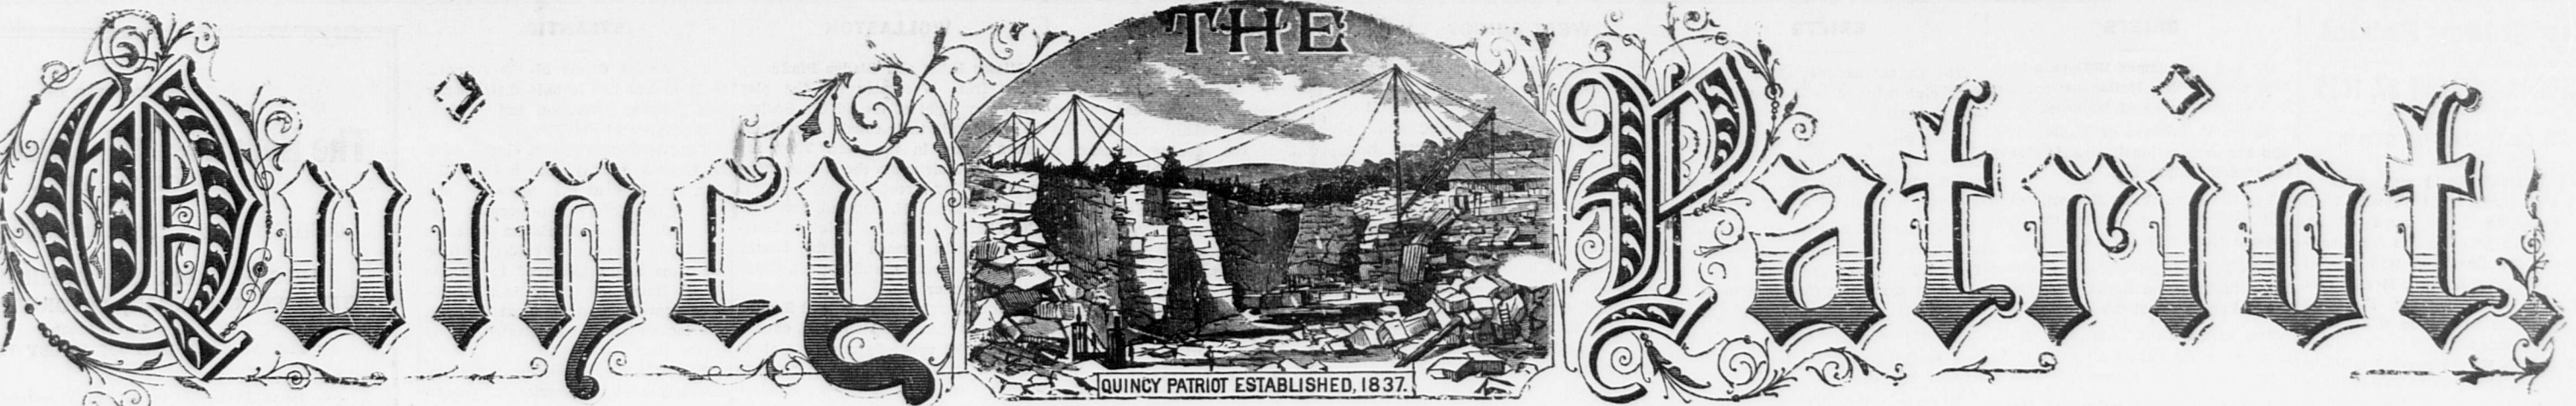

Members of Clan MacKenzie of Worcester attended the funeral of Alexander C. Morris, a clansman, and well known baker at Wollaston, which was held from his home at Belmont street Sunday afternoon, and escorted the remains to Cedar Grove cemetery, Boston, where they were conducted to their final resting place.

The services at the home were conducted by Rev. Thomas Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church in the presence of many relatives and friends. The deceased has made his home in Wollaston for some years. He was the proprietor of a bakery on Brooks street.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

The Pilgrim Union Circuit of the Boston District Epworth Leagues held their annual meeting in the first Methodist Episcopal church of Dorchester Monday evening. Supper was served at half past six after which the business meeting was held. The election of officers was held and among these officers Raymond Cassidy of the Wollaston league was elected third vice-president of the circuit. The banner for the best attendance at the devotional meetings, business meetings and circuit meetings was awarded to Barham Memorial church of South Boston. Representatives were present from the Atlantic Hall Place and Wollaston Epworth Leagues.

MANY PLANS.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 13.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED.)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 439.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHED BY THE

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly. Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LANDS FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

JOHN W. McANARNEY

Counselor At-Law
Room 1, Durgin & Morrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
No. 70, 72 City Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital, $5,000,000.00
Net Surplus, 6,999,389.89

Surplus for Policyholders, $11,960,389.89
Reserve for Re-insurance, 9,650,727.77

Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 725,599.94
Reserve for Other Claims, 798,232.74

Total Assets, $27,481,230.24

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,501,722.10
Cash Assets, 170,000.00

Total Assets, including
re-insurance, 74,054.05

Amount of Cash Surplus, $10,946,389.89
Contingent Assets, 141,931.33

Total Available Assets, 217,592.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 60 per cent; on three-year policies
50 per cent; on one-year policies 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Pres. R. Mansfield, Dedham;
Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel
Gannett, Milton; Charles W. Faxon, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Soladay,
Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew
H. Roddison, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $29,053,937.57
Cash Assets, 644,730.67

Total Assets, including
re-insurance, 296,680.61

Amount of Cash Surplus, $28,409,206.90
Contingent Assets, 141,931.33

Total Available Assets, 1,039,247.42

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 60 per cent; on three-year policies
50 per cent; on one-year policies 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Pres. R. Mansfield, Dedham;
Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel
Gannett, Milton; Charles W. Faxon, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Soladay,
Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew
H. Roddison, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, - 18 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burdick, Treas. Quincy Savings
Bank

W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
J. F. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.

Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks

Louis K. Leggett, Pres. United Drug
Company

Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.

Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor.

William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Day State Street
Railway Co.

John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.

Sarvil J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank

We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

CASTORIA
900 DROPS
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT
A Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating
the Stomach and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerful ness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Beware of cheap imitations.
Aperient Remedy for Constipation,
Wind, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea,
Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Facts: Signature of
Dr. J. C. F. FARRINGTON
NEW YORK
6 months old
35 DROPS - 35 CENTS
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. F. FARRINGTON
In Use
For Over
Thirty Years
CASTORIA

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.
A New Floor
"Adds
A Lot"
to The Home
Lay our 3/4 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Neponset, Boston
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Get Out OF YOUR HOME
your office, your store, or your factory, all the antiquated, foul smelling, disease-breeding Plumbing, and—
Then Get In
modern, sanitary, open Plumbing, that, in the end, will be worth all its cost and more.
Let us furnish you an estimate
on the work
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
5 Maple Street
Quincy
Drain Pipe S-Trent for Cleaning Drains
TRY IT, $1.00 per can

New National Anthem
Composed by a Quincy Man
"O, Land of Mine"
Charles L. H. Wagner
25 cents Postpaid
PARAMOUNT MUSIC CO.
16 La Grange St.,
Boston, Mass.
Mention Patriot.

ANYTIME SPRINGTIME.

Any old time is springtime, if you're willing to help it along.
Any old day is a holiday if you'll furnish the laughter and song.
The birds can't be singing always, and the blossoms can't bloom without rest.
But there's hope in there, light, and the sky seems bright for the fellow that's done his best.

Any old time is winter, if you're willing to see it that way.
The frost in the heart is the frost that chills till the world is dull and gray.
You may shiver by day and be shivering still as you turn to a restless moult.

MESSAGE FROM MARJORIE

Farrington turned from the bookcase with a little gesture of annoyance. His Shakespeare, of all volumes! How stupid of Thomas to have let out his books without his knowledge or consent! Only last week he had missed his favorite, marked copy of Rochechouart. Presley had nabbed that.

But this was a little too much, especially in view of the fact that "Hamlet" was playing that night and there were a couple of passages he felt he must run over.

He crossed the room impatiently and punched the call bell. It was answered at once by the redoubtable valet.

"It seems still more of my books are missing. Thomas. I am afraid you have been careless. I can't locate that red calf edition of Shakespeare anywhere."

"You left orders, sir—begging your pardon—to accommodate any of the young gentlemen?"

"When I rushed out to Europe, eh?"
A whimsical smile made his transient passage across. Farrington's scowling face. "Very well. I presume you are right. I was a bit upset, I remember. You may go."

But as the man started toward the door he called him back.

"By the way, are there any bookstores hereabouts?"

"No first-class ones, sir."

"Any—first-class neighbors?"

"A few, sir."

"Good! Scrimmage around and find me a Shakespeare before night and I'll—"

But Thomas had already disappeared.

Marjorie Hayward was just coming out of the front door when Farrington's man stepped up on the veranda. His request surprised her a little, but she was very glad, indeed, to be able to accommodate him.

She had a copy of Shakespeare somewhere, she said, an old, battered one, but his "master" was welcome to the use of it, certainly. And with this information she went back into the library to search for it.

What sort of people were they anyhow, the new neighbors who had just moved in the day before and were already beginning to borrow people's books? She wondered good naturedly.

At last she came across the rusty little volume, stuffed to overflowing with old letters, clippings and scraps of memoranda.

She held it up and shook them out in a shower, a swarm of memories suddenly aroused by the long buried sight of certain familiar bits of writing, pressed flowers crumbling to atoms, yet vaguely redolent still of a dear dead past.

With a smothered sigh she caught herself back sharply from the foolish reflections and returned to the door with the book. Thomas thanked her elaborately and hastened away. Marjorie waited till he had passed up the stone walk of the house next door.
Then she buttoned up her coat and walked down the gravel path to the gate.

Farrington took the volume eagerly turning the yellowed leaves with deft fingers till he should come to "Hamlet." But suddenly he paused his eyes narrowed curiously and his heart gave a startled jump. A brief exclamation, "The Merry Wives of Windsoor," caught his attention. "Ask me no reason why I love you, for though love use reason for his precision, he admits him not for his counselor."

The passage was heavily underscored and below it were scribbled corroborations the initials "M. H."
"W. F." They were Mrs. and Mr.
Marjorie Hayward! The name sent his thoughts tumbling tumultuously back over the past; sent the blood tingling even to his eyelids. How many years—nearly ten—since he had called that name! Yet how many days, indeed, had it been absent from his heart?

The minutes flew by as he sat there wrapped in meditation. At last he began to slip the leaves absently between his fingers, when they abruptly came in contact with something alien.

He glanced closer, almost indifferently, and started again as his gaze rested stupidly upon an envelope stuck to one of the pages and addressed in full to himself—addressed in Marjorie Hayward's clear, resolute characters half a score of years ago, when they had both lived in the same little western town.

Without a second thought as to whether he should or should not open it Farrington deliberately tore the letter from its inclosure and read:

Dear Walter—I have been thinking things over, and, after all, you must be right. I made the mistake, and I am willing to acknowledge it. We love each other too much, do we not, to let a silly quarrel separate us for life. Come to me tonight. I shall be waiting for you. MARJORIE.

For an indeterminate space Walter Farrington sat half-stunned. What had happened? What could it mean?
Had she changed her mind about sending the letter, or had there been some oversight, some carelessness, in the posting?

And Marjorie herself, where was she, and would it be that she who less than a block away at this minute Perhaps she was married! Had fate chosen this ironical opportunity to thrust an added misery into his bitter memories?

Farrington was not a man to hem and haw. He thought quickly, and he acted with proportionate dispatch.
He took out his watch. It was almost 8. In 15 minutes he was ringing the doorbell next door.

But he was destined to disappointment. Miss Hayward had gone to "Hamlet." Farrington hurried down the avenue that led to the playhouse.
Luckily his ticket was to be called for at the box office. It was a good seat and commanded a sweeping view of the audience.

After the first act their eyes met—locked—across the sea of faces in the orchestra. The girl paled flushed and paled again. Then her eyes fell from the deep, ardent gaze riveted upon her.

After the play Farrington stationed himself at the door, but Marjorie left by a back entrance, and he went home from the deep, ardent gaze riveted upon her.

He graduated from Harvard college
in 1886 and served for many years as an overseer of that institution. Honorary degrees of L. L. D. were conferred upon him in 1885 by Harvard
in 1907 by Washington and Lee College
and in 1909 by Princeton.

He served throughout the Civil
War as a colonel in the 1st Mass.
Cavalry and at the close of the war
breveted a brigadier general. During his lifetime he was written among other books "Three Episodes of Massachusetts History," in which special mention is made of Quincy and the early Plymouth Colony.

He was always, while here, an active member of the First Parish church.

Mr. Adams also gave the city
Merrymount Park, one of the largest parks ever given to a municipality for park and recreation purposes.

Of late years he has devoted himself extensively to historical research
and at his death was president of the Massachusetts Historical society.

He was also a member of the Loyal Legion, an organization composed of commodious Civil war officers.

Mr. Adams was admitted to the bar
in 1858 and became a practicing lawyer that year. In Nov. 8, 1865 he married Mary Ogden.

After the Civil War he became identified with railway interests and
was elected president of the Union Pacific Railway in 1881. In 1889 he was appointed a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Massachusetts.

His writings included "Chapters on
Erie and Other Essays," "Railroads,
Their Origins and Problems," "Notes
on Railway Accidents," "Massachusetts, Its Historians and History";
"The History of Massachusetts,"
"History of Life of Charles Francis Adams," biography of Richard
Henry Dana, "A College Fete,"
"Lee at Appomattox and Other Papers," and "Three Phi Beta Kappa
addresses."

Men prominent in national life were present Tuesday afternoon at the funeral services held at 2 o'clock
in the historic First Parish church
and were conducted by the Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the church. The services were simple in extreme, in accordance with an expressed wish of the family.

As the casket was brought into the church the sunshine streamed between the pillars and the flagpole on city hall opposite, with its flag at half mast, cast its shadow on the stone portico.

The casket was almost buried beneath a wealth of beautiful flowers,
upon it rested a beautiful spray of Easter lilies and a large wreath. At the head of the casket was a pillow
tied with blue and old gold ribbon sent by the Massachusetts Historical society. Surrounding this were large wreaths of roses and violets, being remembrances sent by the City of Quincy, the Loyal Legion and loving friends. In front of the altar were also great quantities of beautiful flowers while beneath the busts of Presidents John Adams and John
Quincy Adams, ancestors of the distinguished American were hung beautiful wreaths.

William Ellis Weston presided at
the organ and as the honorary bearers, who preceded the casket, came into the church and down the centre
aisle, he played Handel's "Largo."

During the services the quartette
choir composed of Mrs. James H.
Slade, soprano, Miss Angelina Mc-
Carthy, contralto, Herbert Kearns,
senior and Tracy R. Engle, bass, sang
"Hark, Hark My Soul" and "How Blest the Righteous When He Dies,"
the latter hymn was that sung at the funeral of the illustrious father of the deceased.

At the conclusion of the short service the body was taken to Mt. Wellston cemetery where the committal service was conducted by Rev. Mr.
Hudson. As the body was borne out of the church the organ played Handel's "Dead March from Saul."

The ushers at the church were
Charles F. Adams, 2d, and Arthur
Adams, nephews of the deceased,
Robert Homans, F. Lathrop Ames, A.
Wadsworth Longfellow, Edmund D.
Codman, Charles A. Price and Henry M. Faxon.

The honorary bearers were George
Duncan, Moorfield Story, Maj. Henry
L. Higginson, Francis L. Higginson,
Col. Charles F. Morse, Col. Charles L.
Pierson, James F. Rhodes and Wellington C. Ford.

Among those who attended were:
Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Hon. John D. Long, Pres. A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard college, Hon. Chester L.
Campbell, mayor of Quincy, Hon.
John O. Hall, Emory L. Crane, secretary of Quincy Historical society,
Hon. Josiah Quincy, Fred B. Rice, Dr.
John A. Gordon, Rev. James De Normandie, Hon. Samuel McCall, Hon.
Louis A. Frothingham, Rev. Edward Norton, Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon.

The Employees' Benefit Association, organized by and for the benefit of employees at the Fore River shipyard closed its fiscal year on March 31 with a surplus of $6,073.43. In addition to this there were outstanding checks of $440.18 not cashed, bringing the amount on deposit to the credit of the association up to $6,513.61. The disbursements for the year to employees who became beneficiaries through sickness or accident were $12,621.82.
The receipts for year were $12,785.59.

SHOWS A SURPLUS.

The Quincy Patriot, established in 1837,
is now showing a surplus of $12,785.59.
The Quincy Patriot, established in 1837,
is now showing a surplus of $12,785.59.

MANY CASES OF MEASLES.

The new measles cards of the Board of Health were used for the first time Monday. It is the first time that the Board of Health has placed cards on houses giving warning that there was a patient ill there with the measles. This disease has been quite prevalent and it was said at the office of the Board of Health Monday that there were now fifty cases in the city. They are not confined to any particular ward but are scattered all over the city.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED 1837.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams, a distinguished historian and prominent lawyer member of the noted Adams family of Quincy died at his winter home in Washington, D. C., Saturday after a week's illness.

Mr. Adams was the son of Charles Francis Adams, ambassador to the court of St. James during the Civil War, grandson of President John Quincy Adams and great grandson of President John Adams. He was the uncle of former Mayor Charles Francis Adams, 2d, of this city and Arthur Adams. He leaves two brothers,
Henry Adams of Washington and Brooks Adams of Quincy and one sister,
Mrs. Henry P. Quincy of Dedham.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams was born in Quincy in May, 1835, and lived here until 1882 when he moved to Lincoln.

His home on Presidents Hill, as a young man he was active in the affairs of the town of Quincy and was especially interested in school affairs, serving for many years as a member of the school board.

He graduated from Harvard college
in 1856 and served for many years as an overseer of that institution. Honorary degrees of L. L. D. were conferred upon him in 1885 by Harvard
in 1907 by Washington and Lee College
and in 1909 by Princeton.

He served throughout the Civil
War as a colonel in the 1st Mass.
Cavalry and at the close of the war
breveted a brigadier general. During his lifetime he was written among
other books "Three Episodes of Massachusetts History," in which special mention is made of Quincy and the early Plymouth Colony.

He was always, while here, an active member of the First Parish church.

Mr. Adams also gave the city
Merrymount Park, one of the largest parks ever given to a municipality for
park and recreation purposes.

Of late years he has devoted himself extensively to historical research
and at his death was president of the Massachusetts Historical society.

He was also a member of the Loyal Legion, an organization composed of commodious Civil war officers.

Mr. Adams was admitted to the bar
in 1858 and became a practicing lawyer that year. In Nov. 8, 1865 he married Mary Ogden.

After the Civil War he became identified with railway interests and
was elected president of the Union Pacific Railway in 1881. In 1889 he was appointed a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Massachusetts.

His writings included "Chapters on
Erie and Other Essays," "Railroads,
Their Origins and Problems," "Notes
on Railway Accidents," "Massachusetts, Its Historians and History";
"The History of Massachusetts,"
"History of Life of Charles Francis
Adams," biography of Richard
Henry Dana, "A College Fete,"
"Lee at Appomattox and Other Papers," and "Three Phi Beta Kappa
addresses."

Men prominent in national life
were present Tuesday afternoon at the funeral services held at 2 o'clock
in the historic First Parish church
and were conducted by the Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the church. The services were simple in extreme, in accordance with an expressed wish of the family.

As the casket was brought into the church the sunshine streamed between the pillars and the flagpole on city hall opposite, with its flag at half mast, cast its shadow on the
stone portico.

The casket was almost buried beneath a wealth of beautiful flowers,
upon it rested a beautiful spray of Easter lilies and a large wreath. At the head of the casket was a pillow
tied with blue and old gold ribbon
sent by the Massachusetts Historical society. Surrounding this were large wreaths of roses and violets, being remembrances sent by the City of Quincy, the Loyal Legion and loving friends. In front of the altar were also great quantities of beautiful flowers while beneath the busts of
Presidents John Adams and John
Quincy Adams, ancestors of the distinguished American were hung beautiful wreaths.

William Ellis Weston presided at
the organ and as the honorary bearers, who preceded the casket, came into the church and down the centre
aisle, he played Handel's "Largo."

During the services the quartette
choir composed of Mrs. James H.
Slade, soprano, Miss Angelina Mc-
Carthy, contralto, Herbert Kearns,
senior and Tracy R. Engle, bass, sang
"Hark, Hark My Soul" and "How Blest the Righteous When He Dies,"
the latter hymn was that sung at the funeral of the illustrious father of
the deceased.

At the conclusion of the short service the body was taken to Mt. Wel-

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

The Woman's Guild met at 10 o'clock Wednesday in the Guild room of St. Chrysostom's parish house for a sewing meeting. Luncheon was served by Mrs. George J. Poch, Mrs. Alfred J. Fox and Mrs. Eleanor F. Drew and the same committee will serve next Wednesday.

At 2:30 P. M. the regular mission meeting of the Guild was called to order by the president, Mrs. Daniel C. Miller. The secretary and treasurer, Miss Anne Cline read the usual reports.

Several gifts have been recorded; a sofa for the Guild room from Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bean, a chiffonier from Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Hallett and Mrs. Landry; two glass plates for the kitchen from Mrs. Herbert H. Albee; a clock for Assembly hall from Mrs. Herbert F. Price, hemstitched curtains for Guild room from Mrs. John H. Walter; curtain rods from Mrs. Horace W. Richmond, put up by Mr. Walter; a waste paper basket from Mrs. Alice J. Bulfinch; a cutting table and a curtain for parish house upon which lantern slides may be thrown from Frank E. Cleveland.

Mrs. Herbert L. Packard gave a report of the Auxiliary meeting of Feb. 17 which included an interesting sketch of the "Nu To Pao" or Woman's Messenger, published in China by Miss Laura M. White, who is a pioneer in this field, starting the magazine three years ago and is now spending a furlough year in America.

Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, gave an excellent report of the Auxiliary meeting held March 17 which included an interesting letter from Rev. Mr. Shaver of La Gloria, Cuba, also one from Bishop Ave of Mexico City who wrote vividly describing the horrors they are compelled to endure.

Mrs. Steenstra's reading at each meeting of "The social aspects of foreign missions" by Dr. Faunce of Brown University is not only richly worth while but intensely interesting.

MUCH BUILDING.

That building is booming in Quincy as has been noted several times in the Patriot will be borne out by a visit to the Wollaston Park and Atlantic district. In this section at the present time there are upwards of 25 dwelling houses in the process of building.

Again on Hancock street near the corner of Beale street ground had been broken by S. T. Wyman for a large store. Several lots have recently been sold on the old Faxon estate on Beale street and Lora C. Merrill has commenced active work in altering the old stable on the lot into a tenement house. It is also said that Cushing street will be extended from Beale street to Woodbine street which will furnish access to property in this vicinity upon which it is expected building will soon commence.

It is also said that Mrs. Frances Schroeder is about to commence work on the erection of an $35,000 house in the vicinity of Hancock and Beale streets.

Coming up to the centre it is understood that Henry M. Faxon is to erect a block of stores on the west side of Hancock street between the Music hall block and the Kincade theatre, and that he contemplates cutting a street through from Hancock street so as to open up the property in the rear between Hancock street and the railroad tracks.

Mr. Faxon is also erecting several houses on Miller Stile road, near the Miller Stile Inn, and also contemplates the erection of two dwellings on Whitwell street near the corner of Granite street.

There is also some new building at West Quincy but not as much as in the northern part of the city. At Quincy Point there is a little doing and that part of the city known as the Penn's hill district toward Braintree is building up very fast.

Down on Fowler street between Adams street and Beale street Henry L. Kincade has erected four dwellings on the westerly side of Newport avenue. These houses it is understood were built for investment and not for rental. They are medium size houses, attractive and situated on high ground.

Some idea of what is being done on the new building line may be had when it is known that thus far this year the water department of the city has made 56 new connections with dwellings.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS MEETING.

A first annual meeting and conference by the Massachusetts Anti-Tuberculosis League is to be held Thursday April 1 from 10:30 to 1 and 2:30 to 4:30 P. M. at the Twentieth Century Club, 3 Joy street, Boston. The public is invited to attend. The program will be as follows:

10:30—Introductory remarks by the president, Vincent Y. Bowditch, M. D., "What the Anti-Tuberculosis Organizations can do to Help the State Department of Health," Commissioner of Health, "The Situation in regard to the New Tuberculosis Hospitals," John B. Hayes, 2nd, M. D., trustee of Hospitals for Consumptives; "Local Tuberculosis Dispensaries," Walter G. Phippen, M. D., Salem, followed by discussion.

12:30—Reports of treasurer and secretary, election of officers and executive committee.

2:30—"Reporting Cases of Tuberculosis," Walter P. Bowers, M. D., Clinton; "Tuberculosis Associations as Health Educators," Michael M. Davis, Jr., director Boston Dispensary; "The Responsibility and Opportunity of the Teacher in Preventing Tuberculosis," Thomas P. Harrington, M. D., director of School Hygiene, Boston; "Medical Inspection of School Children," Francis L. Dunham, M. D., Brookline, and discussion led by Mrs. William H. Lathrop, Newtonville; "Some Observations of the Anti-Tuberculosis Work in This State," Miss Amy F. Acton, chief inspector of incorporated Charities, State Board of Charity.

HEAR FROM EXAMS.

The mail Wednesday contained the findings of the Civil Service examination of the recent examinations for promotion to Lieutenant and sergeant of the police department. Not available. Sergt. Bishop got $8.32 in his examination for promotion and Patrolman Milford $4.99 for the sergeant's position.

BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald have been visiting Mrs. McDonald's mother, Mrs. Caleb Thayer of Holbrook.

Robert T. Johnson of Maple street who has been seriously sick, is slowly but steadily improving.

The Kathryn Crane Memorial club will hold its annual sale this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Miss Lydia Djerf of Nelson street has returned from Bryn Mawr where she had made an extended visit.

The barn on the Charles A. Howland estate on Adams street is being altered over into a house.

A delegation of members of Maple Lodge, K. L. of H., visited the Cambridge lodge Wednesday evening. They were royally received.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Prouty of Edgemoor road are entertaining Mr. Prouty's mother, whose summer home is in Scituate.

Mrs. Octavia Thompson, mother of Councilman William P. Thompson of Whitney road, has returned from a visit to Bath, Maine.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Calvary Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Cotrell of Elm place.

Mr. and Mrs. John Warner of Hancock street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole, nee Morrison of Glendale road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tupper MacQuarrie of Putnam street extension, are spending the week end in Leonister.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Tupper, nee Nightingale, who were married last December and who have been on the Pacific coast on their honeymoon, returned to Quincy Thursday night.

Mrs. S. I. Wood, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Blanchard of Trenton, New Jersey, has returned to Quincy.

Brice, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Andrews of Euclid avenue, is confined to his home by an attack of the measles.

Fire Hazard Commissioner J. A. O'Keefe will speak on fire prevention at the next meeting of the Board of Trade Thursday evening, April 8. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the Granite Manufacturers association.

The members of the M-G Co. appeared at drill in Union hall for the first time Monday evening in their new olive drab uniforms. There were 20 so equipped and a number of others prospective candidates.

The members of the Kathryn Crane Memorial club held an informal dancing party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory L. Crane on Whitney road. The young people had an enjoyable evening.

The mass of crocuses at the home of Mrs. N. B. Purnall on Washington street are attracting attention. These hangers of spring all bloom early as they are in a sheltered sunny location and well cared for.

Mayor Burbank of Brockton paid a visit to Quincy Tuesday. He made a short call on Mayor Campbell, after which he visited the scavenger plant of the Board of Health in company with Inspector Taylor.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met this evening. Misses Catherine and Margaret Johnson are to be the hostesses. It is to be a gentlemen's night and will be held in Union hall.

A party is to be held this afternoon at the clubhouse from 3 until 5 o'clock for children of members of the Quincy Women's club. The Dorothy Dix children will be the entertainers and there will be refreshments and dancing.

Mrs. Alice M. Carr of Thayer street and daughter who are in Honolulu visiting sister Mrs. Campbell, are returning to this country until early summer owing to the ill health of Miss Carr who is at present unable to take the sea trip.

Many attended the matinee whist of the George L. Gill Associates in Odd Fellows hall, Thursday. The winners of souvenirs were Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. B. Magnus, Mrs. G. V. White, Mrs. Julia Driscoll, Mrs. E. Gates and Mrs. Annie Pratt.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores were made by Samuel T. MacQuarrie and Fred Drake. Ice cream and cake was served after the tournament.

At the whist party held Monday night in I. O. O. F. hall by Mt. Wollaston lodge eighteen tables were in play and the following were high scorers: Mrs. D. L. Williams, Mrs. Sadie Wood, John J. Poch, J. M. M. C. C. Lewis, C. W. Halton and Ben Emanuel.

The Superintendent of Schools has been notified that Fire Commissioner O'Keefe of the Fire Department district will soon come to Quincy to inspect the school buildings, the exits therefrom and the means of giving fire signals and carrying out fire drills.

At a meeting of the grammar masters Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Diehl of the Board of Health explained the new rules of his department. As there have been some changes from the rules existing last year, his explanation was of considerable interest.

John Adams aerle, Fraternal Order of Eagles, elected Herbert Barker to the office of chaplain to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank W. Lynch at its meeting in Electa hall Wednesday evening. Mr. Barker was installed by Past Worthington President Frank J. Duffy with George Mitchell of the degree staff as assistant.

A very pleasant entertainment was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Potter, at her home 21 Grant street, the guests numbering 21 in all. The musical programme was faithfully carried out by Linwood Murphy, Braintree, and William Fay of Quincy who gave an interesting program in songs and music. Tonics, ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

Jerome Reinhalter who is trying out for the High school baseball squad is playing the game of his life. When a grammar school he played with the champion Willard team when they won the cup offered by the late Mayor Shattuck. He was the catcher and the home run was the game for the Willards. His many followers predict that he will shine with the High school second basemen this year.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

BRIEFS.

The annual banquet of the Granite City club will be held Thursday evening, April 8.

Good Friday evening at 7:45 P. M. there will be a service at the Universalist church, followed by communion and roll call of members.

Mrs. Herbert Lawton of Presidents hill is leaving Quincy next week for California where she will be the guest of her sister for three months.

Mrs. H. Gerriah Smith of Presidents hill who has been in New York and Washington for a few weeks returned Thursday.

Margaret Winslow, the infant daughter of Robert and Margaret Winslow of 55 Summer street died Friday morning. The little girl was born five weeks ago.

Rev. Charles B. Ames former assistant pastor of the Fire Parish church is to speak Sunday afternoon at the 4:30 service of the Young People's Religious Union, subject "Minor Parts in the Human Drama."

Sergt. John T. Larkin was taken to his home Sunday from the Quincy City Hospital where he had been a patient for several days. Sergt. Larkin was taken there when threatened with pneumonia. He is doing unusually well and it is thought he will be able to resume the desk at police headquarters before many days.

Capt. McKay of the police department inaugurated a new scheme in the management of automobiles coming to city hall Thursday. The custom has been for automobiles to drive up to city hall and leave their cars standing parallel with the street. The result has been that when a number of cars are left standing the street is blocked up.

The first grand dance of the young men of the Finnish Temperance society was held Saturday evening in Finland hall on Nelson street. Over fifty couples were in attendance. The floor was in charge of S. Salminen assisted by T. Hukilla and A. Kantak. Music was by the Quincy National Band. Dancing was enjoyed until 11:30 P. M. This dance was the first of a series of dances to be given by this newly organized club.

Circle Daughters of Viking held a whist and dancing party in Electa hall Saturday night and entertained a large number. There were 30 tables in the play and the souvenirs were awarded to E. R. Spargo, John J. Poch, G. Sundstrom, Mrs. A. Gullikson, Mrs. E. Sandberg and Mrs. Ellen Anderson. The committee was in charge of Mrs. Oscar Almqvist. The music for dancing was by an orchestra.

A romance of the business world culminated Friday morning when Elmer Harriman Warren of 17 Webster street, Atlantic and Grace May McNutt of New York, asked Judge Avery of the District Court to exempt them from the provisions of the five day law relative to marriages. Judge Avery granted the request and the couple were married shortly after the first parish church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, pastor of the church. There were no attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren went to Atlantic after the ceremony where they received the congratulations of Mrs. Warren, mother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren are both representative of business houses and became acquainted during business trips. The bride represented a New York firm and the groom a Boston firm.

They left Friday night on their wedding trip after which they will take possession of their new home.

END SEASON WITH BANQUET.

The bowling season of the Quincy lodge of Elks closed Thursday night with a banquet at Clark's hotel, Boston. The season prizes were awarded after the 35 percent disposed of an inviting menu.

Past Exalted Ruler, John Hildebrand, captain of the submarine team of the league, was toastmaster of the evening and Dr. J. Maloney, president of the league, headed the long list of speakers.

"Gov. John Walsh, the local pharmacist, was the male soloist of the evening. He was loudly applauded at the close of "Where the River Shanon Flows" and responded with "Solomon Levy" for an encore. During the evening Edna Crowley, a metropolitan cabaret singer, entertained the present, Edward Bullock was pianist.

The league trophy was presented Exalted Ruler, Edward Larkin, captain of the team which finished in first place. The members were presented with a silver card case.

Three loving cups were awarded "Jacks" Joyce, high average man of the league, received one, Charles Hanson, holder of the league record total of 334, got another and it was announced that the third was for Dr. J. P. Murphy, who was awarded the high single mark and who was not present.

TO INVESTIGATE FIRE.

Inspector Kimball of the state police, who has been investigating the fire in the Dr. Welch block of a week ago will hold an inquest on the fire at the central fire station Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Summons were placed in the hands of Capt. McKay of the police department Thursday night and were served Friday morning. The inquest will be conducted by Inspector Kimball.

EVENING SCHOOL.

It is planned to have brief public exercises at the close of the term of the Adams evening school next month. The School Committee and the Mayor will be invited to be present and speak and the evening school certificates will be publicly awarded. A number of those in attendance have made such progress that their "illiterate" labor certificates will now be cancelled and a certificate of literacy given.

DIED IN FRANCE.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

Edward Mantell Stone, a prominent Milton man, died at the military hospital in Romilly, France, Feb. 25, according to correspondence received here today.

Stone went abroad in 1912 on a pleasure trip and was in France when war broke out. Last August he enlisted in the Foreign Legion.

WEST QUINCY.

Miss Elizabeth Wallace of Centre street who underwent an operation on her throat at the Quincy Hospital Monday is at home and doing well.

Philip T. Sullivan of West street is constructing three tenement houses at Readville.

Ave Maria Council, K. of C., held the regular bi-monthly meeting Monday evening. The entertainment committee reported that plans were being completed for the fifth annual ball of the council to be held in St. Mary's hall, April 14.

Mrs. Agnes Hines of Weymouth is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Daley of Smith street.

Miss Eva King of Kennebunk Me. is spending a few weeks as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Boutin of Bunker Hill avenue.

The regular Lenten services were held Wednesday evening in St. Mary's church. The services consisted of the recitation of the rosary by Fr. Duffy and a most eloquent sermon on "The Means of Salvation" by Rev. William J. Twoibich of St. Mark's church, Dorchester. The sermon was followed by benediction.

Henry Gorman, a former well known ball player of West and South Quincy who is now employed at Newport News, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gorman of 298 Granite street.

Miss Mary Timmons, a well known resident of West Quincy, died at the home of Mrs. Henry Coram of West street Thursday evening after a short illness. Miss Timmons was seventy-four years of age and has resided in the west Quincy for the past two years. She was a faithful member of St. Mary's church and despite her age was a regular attendant at all the services which meant a walk of about two miles. Miss Timmons is survived by a brother who resides in Allston.

HANCOCK STREET WORK.

Active work will be commenced in a few days rebuilding Hancock street between Granite and School streets. The preliminary work was commenced late last fall but was obliged to be postponed on account of the winter weather until this spring. The new street line on the easterly side however has been established and the curbing set, and the gas company is now at work laying its new main through the street.

The street railway company is also about ready to begin work changing its tracks to the new location granted it by the city council. When completed the street will be the only one in the city constructed in what is known as first class construction.

The paving will be set on concrete base and the top will also be gravelled and concrete so that when completed the street will be level. This is an improvement that was a hobby with the late William T. Shea and when under his administration the first steps toward the rebuilding of the street were undertaken by the taking of the land necessary for the widening the ex-mayor said that he felt satisfied in going out of office he had seen started the most important piece of work the city had ever undertaken.

Another improvement which he desired was the cutting of a street from Hancock street to the land between this street and the railroad tracks and which seems likely to be consummated. If the reported plans of Mr. Faxon are carried out.

IDLE TALK.

A general impression prevails throughout the city that the publication of rumors relative to shipment of parts of engine of war from the Fore River shipyard to Montreal where they are assembled is an attempt to create a "tempest in a tea pot."

That the local company is completing a foreign contract is no secret to Secretary Bryan and it is thought that the rumor for an investigation of the last rumor by Sec. Daniels of the Navy is merely a matter of form.

New equipment to handle the incoming business has been installed and there is an urgent need of ship ways. Other equipment which has been set up already is now being completed at Fore River includes three large travelling cranes with motors for running them by electricity and three gantries, another type of crane, for handling materials and minor parts.

It may be said that, in view of the idle showing which he is making and present with the Fore River plant, Mr. Schwab is greatly pleased and he is having figures prepared for still more important and more expensive enlargements and improvements at the shipyard.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending March 24, 263 Palmer, L. F. Willow street. 1838-W. Locke, A. G. 51 Marlboro street.

718-W. Lincoln, T. W. Jr., 618 Washington street. 1125-W. Cox, G. W. 113 Atlantic street. 1299-3, Dargun, H. E., 240 Everett street. 2258-W. Hamilton Harry D., 319 Atlantic street.

1107-W. Broun, John J., 42 Standish road. 1126-W. Lambros, Geo., 1369 Hancock street. 1147-W. Todd, Charles L., 54 Ellington road. 1159-W. Hooper, Mary L., Miss, 9 Culmead street.

1847-W. Hiscoc, W. A., 254 Billings road. 2034-W. Mitchell, Volney, 26 Billings street. 881-W. Shaughnessy, J. J., Mrs. 18 Pierce street. 1149-W. English, A. E., Mrs. 273 Newport avenue. 1171-W. Wright Marcus S., 28 Stewart street. 2213-W. O'Hara, Margaret E., 9 Thayer street. 564-R. Campbell, Chas., 62 Brook road.

ASSISTANT ASSESSORS.

The following assistant assessors were appointed by Mayor Campbell this morning.

Ward One, Francis M. Curtis. Ward Two, William Prime. Ward Three, Leo J. McMaster. Ward Four, Louis K. Badger. Ward Five, Robert E. Conins. Ward Six, Percival A. Hall.

The assistant assessors will begin their work on Monday morning, March 29, and will have the month of April in which to complete their work.

The submarine L-1 now under construction at the Fore River shipyard for the United States government is about completed and it is probable that it will be launched on March 31. The ceremony will be private.

LAW ENFORCED.

Glen Arthur, 18 years, of 139 Hollis avenue and one of the High school athletes, was in court Thursday charged with setting a fire without a permit. He was fined $5 and placed on probation until July 31.

Arthur was the first taken into court for violation of the new fire hazard law. Patrolman Hollingshead, the complainant, testified that Arthur burnt rubbish in the yard of his home two feet from the rear steps.

VIOLATED PROBATION.

The wholesale arrests of all who have violated their probation has been ordered by Judge Avery at the request of Probation Officer Francis J. Fahy.

Mr. Fahy made application for default warrants Thursday for upwards of 60 men who have failed to comply with the provisions of their probation.

It is probable that when the men are arraigned court will order the probation decrees vacated and impose the original sentence.

LAW ENFORCED.

Glen Arthur, 18 years, of 139 Hollis avenue and one of the High school athletes, was in court Thursday charged with setting a fire without a permit. He was fined $5 and placed on probation until July 31.

SOUTH QUINCY.

The Ladies Endeavor society of the Calvary Baptist church held a social gathering at the church on Franklin street Friday evening. The program of the evening included a series of games after which light refreshments were served.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, pastor of the Water Street Presbyterian church, will preach at the Lenten service Thursday evening at St. Chrysostom's church.

A song service is to be held Sunday evening at the Wollaston M. E. church with special music by a chorus choir assisted by Miss Hazel Foley, soprano soloist, from the Lutherheim school of Music. There will be an address by the pastor Rev. G. M. Bailey on "A plain message from the Master."

The Wollaston Glee club's concert comes next Monday evening at School hall on Beale street with Mrs. Scott as assisting artist. Two members of the club appear as soloists, S. B. Bates sings the baritone solo in "Lockhart" a work to be given by the club and E. W. Clark takes the tenor solos in two numbers in the program.

Benjamin Bird, father of James W. Bird of 212 Arlington street, Wollaston, died at Derry, N. H., March 18, in his 90th year. Mr. Bird was for many years a resident of Dorchester and was a member of the Dorchester High school in that district. He was a member of Union Lodge of Masons of Uphams corner and Dorchester chapter of Royal Arch Masons.

Charles Houghton of Clay street is ill at his home.

The Ladies society of the Wollaston Congregational church met in the vestry of the church Wednesday for an all day sewing session. At noon a lunch was served, which was in charge of Mrs. Hathaway and Mrs. Emberton. In the afternoon a short business session was held which was followed by a food sale. There was a good attendance.

The Women's alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank A. Page on Grand View avenue. The entire afternoon was given up to sewing for the hospital and for the Belgians.

Samuel Johnson, 33 years, of 84 Farrington street, while doing carpenter work on the roof of the Unitarian church at Wollaston Thursday morning, fell from the roof to the ground a distance of 25 feet and suffered a fracture of the left leg.

John G. Whitman, superintendent of the water department, was thrown from his auto early Thursday when it collided with a delivery truck of the Drake Cake Co., at Beale and Suffolk streets. He escaped without injury.

The Wollaston Parent-Teachers association is planning to give a series of entertainments in the school hall for the purpose of supporting the Fore River shipyard which is conducted in the school building.

Mrs. Robert D. Smith wife of Robert D. Smith of 237 Highland avenue is a pneumonia patient at the Quincy City Hospital. His mother, Mrs. Smith of Goddard street is ill at his home.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. Clifton H. Young of West Elm avenue spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. Charles H. Wilkins of Watertown.

George F. Bailey of Gloucester came up Wednesday for a visit with her daughter Mrs. Arthur Stanley of Elm avenue.

Miss Alice Goodspeed 7th grade teacher in the Mass. Fields school, is still confined to the house with rheumatism.

Mrs. M. and Mrs. H. Landry of 27 Warwick street were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Landry of Hingham over Sunday.

Miss Violet Walker 37 Francesca avenue, Somerville, has been the guest of Miss Marion Hallett over the week end.

Mrs. William F. Hallett and daughter, Mrs. Kathryn have returned to their home in Centerville, after spending a week with Mrs. J. W. Hallett of 28 Warwick street.

Mrs. Emily McLaughlin and four children have returned to Vermont, after several weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Coy of 15 Lunt street, Norfolk Downs.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

Among the books lately added to the library are three very helpful ones on the art of selling. The first, "Salesmanship and business ethics" by James Samuel Knox, is one which is filled with good general advice not only for the salesman and others engaged in business, but also for anyone seeking to develop his personality in the best possible way. Each paragraph in this book is separated from the others in such a way as to make it stand out, and on whichever page the eye rests, one will be sure to find some very terse and comprehensive statement of wise advice. This is not necessary to read the book through to get a great deal of help from it.

The second book is "Human nature in selling goods," by James H. Collins. This begins by showing what the salesmanship of to-day is, and goes on to explain some of the difficulties which the salesman will meet, and also gives instructions as to how to meet and overcome them.

The last of the three is "Salesmanship for women," by Adelaide Benedict-Roche, which is "a complete analysis of the fundamental principles of sales principles as womanhood should apply them." The aim of this book as stated by the author is to supply the deficiency in books "specifically applicable to woman's selling problems." In it she seeks to show that women are especially qualified for this work and to tell them what requirements are most needed in this field.

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT.

Ex-Councilman George E. Adams has been appointed by District Attorney Albert P. Barker as assistant attorney. Mr. Adams has been an assistant to the district attorney for the past four or five years and is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. The bill which provided for another assistant district attorney for Plymouth and Norfolk counties has recently passed the legislature, and it was in conformity with the provisions of this act that Mr. Adams was appointed. Mr. Adams has been presented by Gov. Walsh with the quill with which the bill was signed.

STATE CENSUS.

The census enumerators who were to have started taking the state census April 1, received a letter Friday morning from Charles F. Getzeny director of the Bureau of Statistics notifying them that a question had arisen as to the constitutionality of that portion of the Census Act which provides that the census be taken April 1st.

